COUNCIL WILL NOT YIELD TO THREATS.

Will Elect Mayor for Full Term—Grand Jury to Investigate Earl.

Desperate Members of the Recall Set Seek to Promote Cause of Alexander by Intimidation — Menace Councilmen Who Do Not Take Their Orders With the Recall—Friends of George A. Smith Think He Will Be Chosen Mayor on Monday.

THE fierce use of the bludgeon by the recall bosses was a sensational feature of the mayoralty developments yesterday. It having been generally agreed by the ablest lawyers that under the provisions of the charter the City Council must proceed to elect a Mayor for the entire unexpired term of Harper, thus vacating the recall, the Earl-Lissner forces furiously besieged the Councilmen with threats of recalling them unless they would agree to vote for George Alexander on Monday. But their high-handed bulldozing [illegible] indignation and caused a reaction against them.

The feeling against the recall syndicate grew in intensity yesterday. It is not possible that they can control the Council, which is showing every symptom of independence. It is predicted that the Council will on Monday elect a Mayor for the full term, and that the recall election will be null. Dr. Walter Lindley, George A. Smith, W. D. Stephens, Lee C. Gates and dark horses are talked of. The result is far from being assured, although friends of Smith claim five votes out of the nine for him.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks yesterday asked the Superior Court judges to call a special grand jury to investigate the evidence against former Mayor Harper and other city officials, and the conduct of E. T. Earl. The judges ordered a new panel and one of the first things it will do will be to look into the charge that Earl, according to his own statement, committed a penal offense in agreeing with Harper to conceal incriminating testimony against the then Mayor, instead of submitting it to the District Attorney, if Harper would call off his libel suits and resign.

A meeting in Highland Park, last evening, called originally for the purpose of promoting recall threats against Councilman Dromgold, was captured by Dromgold's friends. The recall bosses were backed over the bank.

At the request of Dist.-Atty. Fredericks a special grand jury will be impaneled early next week to investigate the charges of [illegible] on the part of Mayor Harper, former Chief Edward Kern, Chief Broadhead and others of the police force. The grand jury will also inquire whether there has been any felony compounded by those alleged to have known the acts of malfeasance and who held them as a club to drive the Mayor and Kern out of office.

On his own initiative yesterday afternoon Capt. Fredericks sent the following communication to Judge James:

LOS ANGELES, March 13, 1909—Hon. W. O. James, Presiding Judge Superior Court—Sir: I hereby respectfully request that you call a special session of the grand jury to meet at once. Respectfully,

J. D. FREDERICKS,
District Attorney.

On receipt of this request Judge James consulted nine other judges of the Superior bench and they agreed that the request should be acceded to. Judge James said last night:

"A request was received by me from Mr. Fredericks and I have consulted nine other judges. The request will be granted."

This means that tomorrow Judge James will direct the drawing of a special grand jury to take up the charges and this work will be done as speedily as possible. It is likely that before the week is ended the new grand jury will be at work delving into the evidence. The District Attorney has not yet announced the course of procedure. This will be decided on early in the week.

Capt. Fredericks said last night that the grand jury will be composed of entirely new men and that his reason for asking it was the startling disclosures concerning the municipal administration.

"I take it that the accusations were based on evidence that was not presented to the grand jury that so thoroughly, patiently and laboriously investigated everything during the past five months. The situation seems to justify investigation."

The calling of a special grand jury will open the way for a full investigation of the revelations that succeeded the report of the regular grand jury which adjourned last month and which found no indictments against any of the city officials. Since that time E. T. Earl, boss of the recall bosses, has stated that he forced Harper to retire as Mayor because he had possession of evidence, according to his own statement, that showed corruption in Harper's official acts.

If Earl had this evidence and did not present it to the grand jury, it is a legitimate subject for inquiry. He admits that he used his possession of this evidence to force Harper to quit his office. Whether such a course of gaining testimony in order to club an official without using it in the proper courts, when the result could have been accomplished as the law intends it should be, is compounding a felony under the laws of California is another subject the jury will be asked to look into.

It has been admitted that Earl gathered this information for the purpose of destroying Harper, who had libel suits aggregating $650,000 pending against the recall boss. Half an hour after Harper filed his withdrawal from the ticket and resigned he said, in explaining his action:

"I went down to Earl's office and had it out with him. But he could not be moved. He had the dope on me and the only thing I could do was to get down and out."

Earl's counsel has boasted how it procured the evidence of misdoing and saw that the possession of it and its true character was made known to Harper by a [illegible] that finally drove him to Earl's office in a last appeal to be spared exposure. When the appeal was denied and Harper knew "Earl had the dope" he fled from office and from the city, is the boast.

The charges to be investigated are ugly. It is alleged that Harper, Kern (while Chief of Police,) and Chief Broadhead, while captain, were concerned in the collection of money from inmates of the "red-light" district. It is also alleged that their names appear on a document that is incriminating to some if not all of those named. There is a further allegation that Harper's indorsement appears on checks drawn in his favor by agents of the evil resorts and that receipts for money were signed by him and others.

That it was possible to obtain this evidence is alleged to be due to the betrayal by Nick Oswald, who was one of the beneficiaries of the "red lights." For this betrayal it is alleged that he received $6000, as payment for the documentary evidence and other evidence which he procured. Oswald posed as a political power among the fallen of both sexes, and until the grand jury began the investigation of the restricted district he was a frequent caller at the Mayor's office. Though his presence would be odious anywhere it is not known that he was ever repelled when he visited the executive office.

OUT WITH CLUBS.

Intimidation was the conspicuous programme of the recall bosses yesterday. Alarmed because able lawyers advised them that the resignation of Mayor Harper vitiated the recall election scheme and realizing that thus their designs on the public offices would fail, the recall sandbag was used to drive Councilmen into the election of the Lissnerite candidate as Harper's successor.

No such despotic game has ever before been tried upon official circles of any American city. Knowing that five Councilmen were not likely to be whipped by the Earl-Lissner crowd into their way of thinking by specious argument of the alleged reformers, the sandbag, the pet weapon of the clique, was brought out.

During the whole day the recall of Councilmen Blanchard of the Ninth Ward, Yonkin of the Sixth, Clampitt of the Second, and Dromgold of the First was agitated by the clacquers. In the case of Dromgold the intimidation was carried into a call for a meeting which was held last night. As to the others the threat was delivered to them repeatedly that they would be recalled unless they would agree to vote for the candidate for the recall bosses.

Who is this candidate? Nominally George Alexander, the candidate the bosses engaged as a general substitute for over a score of big men who declined to run. The bosses loudly demanded him, and the City Club, following its bell wethers, sent from the recall headquarters, adopted solutions indorsing him for Harper's successor. But the bosses also kept alive the suggestion of a "compromise" and used the names of W. D. Stephens and Lee C. Gates as possible compromise candidates, though neither would accept the election, if offered.

Meyer Lissner was most offensive in threatening the Councilmen, carrying his bulldozing methods to extremes.

She Walks Too Close to Cage Holding Vicious Beast—Face Nipped.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 13.—While standing too close to a cage of tigers at the winter quarters of a circus today, Mrs. Vernon, who appears at a local theater in an act with her husband, was clawed by one of the big beasts. The woman is now at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Her face is terribly lacerated from the claws of the Royal Bengal tiger, and she had to be placed on the operating table while many stitches were taken.

ENGAGES LEADING LAWYERS OF STATE FOR CONTEST.

Dissatisfied With Share Left Her by Late Millionaire Turfman Mrs. "Lucky" Will Probably Begin Struggle When the Application for Probate Is Made on Wednesday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The will of the late E. J. Baldwin is to be contested by his widow. Today she retained Attorney Garrett McEnerney of this city and ex-Gov. Henry T. Gage, W. I. Foley and Gibson, Trask, Dunn & Crutcher of Los Angeles to file the necessary papers in the Superior Court of that county. It is understood that the application for the probate of the will comes up Wednesday at Los Angeles. By the terms of the will, Mrs. Baldwin receives an interest in the Baldwin Annex in this city. The estate is valued at about $25,000,000.

When seen by The Times reporter last night, former Gov. Gage admitted that he and Mr. Foley had been retained by the widow to contest the will, but declined to discuss the features of the case.

LOSES WATCH IN CATHEDRAL OF MEXICO CITY.

Prominent Angeleno Touched for $500 Timepiece While Viewing Historic Sights—Streets Are Searched Without Result; Owner Forced to Conclusion He Was Robbed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under the eyes of the sacred relics of the cathedral in Mexico City, L. C. Brand of Los Angeles, who was on a sight-seeing trip with a number of other excursionists, was touched for a $500 gold watch and fob, according to reports received here. Had it happened in a jam the former owner of the watch would not have thought much about it, but being touched while in one of the quietest places in the city and in the cathedral at that, the excursionist is all cut up over the loss.

The timepiece was not missed until one of the women asked him the hour of day. Although the party diligently searched the streets over which they had traveled, the watch was not found.

Mr. and Mrs. Brand were accompanied by Mrs. R. B. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Edwards, Miss Austeen, George and Miss Jarrie McPeak, all of Los Angeles.

NIPPED FOR FRAUD.

BOSTON, March 13.—Raphael Binayage, the young Filipino, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by displaying letters from former President Roosevelt and Cardinal Gibbons, was sentenced today to serve an indeterminate term in the Concord reformatory. The letters shown were genuine, but were answers to notes which he had written to President Roosevelt and Cardinal Gibbons about personal matters.

Committed to Sanatorium, Lawrence Mott Is Taken to Europe at Wealthy Parents' Request—Queer Hallucinations Caused by Drinking.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lawrence Mott, novelist, clubman and yachtsman, who has a country place called Pine Tree Farm on the Tarrytown road at White Plains and who was committed yesterday by County Judge William Platt at White Plains, to a sanatorium on Long Island, was not taken to the asylum, as his relatives at the last moment decided to send him to Europe.

He sailed at 10 o'clock this morning in charge of an attendant on the steamship Philadelphia.

Mr. Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Mott, are now in London and they sent a cablegram asking that their son be allowed to sail for Europe.

It is understood that when Mott reaches England he will be placed in a sanatorium there.

The Motts are a wealthy family. Jordan L. Mott is the son of the millionaire founder of the Mott Iron Works. Lawrence is a well-known writer of fiction, is an expert yachtsman and a member of many New York clubs.

ACTING QUEERLY.

Recently he began acting queerly. He imagined that burglars were trying to rob his home and he turned his house into an arsenal. On February 26 he called up several newspaper men at White Plains and gave a graphic description of how he had fired on two masked burglars, whom, he declared, he caught trying to enter his room.

He told how he wounded one, that a blood trail was found on his lawn and that the wounded burglar was carried away by his companions in a racing automobile.

According to Dr. Ernest Schmidt, one of the physicians who passed on Mott's mental condition, the burglary story was all a dream of a disordered mind. The other physician who examined Mr. Mott was Dr. Bailey of Manhattan, and on their report, Judge Platt said today that he signed the papers committing the author to a sanatorium on Long Island.

Dr. Schmidt when asked tonight why Mr. Mott was not sent to the sanatorium under Judge Platt's order, said it was a family matter, and it was at the option of his relatives to send him to a Long Island sanatorium or not. His parents cabled for him to be sent to Europe, and as Mr. Mott was willing to go it was decided to let him sail with at attendant. Mr. Mott is in bad shape, and when he reaches England he will be placed in a sanatorium there. Excessive drinking has affected his mind, it is said.

At 7 o'clock this morning Mr. Mott was placed in an automobile and, accompanied by Ambrose F. McCabe, his lawyer; Deputy Sheriff Phillip Kuss and Policeman Paul Shay, he was driven to the White Plains station, where they boarded a train for Manhattan. When Grand Central station was reached, Mr. Mott was taken in a cab to the dock.

Mr. Mott's sister is the wife of Supreme Court Judge Charles F. McLean, who has a country residence adjoining the Mott place at White Plains, and a town house at No. 2127 Fifth avenue, Manhattan. At the Mott home a maid declared that Mr. Mott was not insane, but had gone to Europe for his health.

Mrs. Mott could not be located. Dr. Schmidt said, however, that she had not sailed with her husband.

SOCIETY WOMEN IN SCRIMMAGE.

WALDORF-ASTORIA SCENE OF STORMY RIOT.

Outside Faction of Exclusive Rubinstein Club Charges Door of Astor Gallery, Sweeps Aside House Detective and Is Repulsed Only by Policemen and Hotel Employees.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A riot of women in the Waldorf-Astoria this afternoon marked the climax of the fight between two factions of the Rubinstein Club, an exclusive musical society. A dozen women, charging the locked door of the Astor gallery, swept aside House Detective Thornhill.

Two plain clothes policemen, a dozen hotel employés and many women of the opposing faction repulsed all the attackers but one, who squirmed in. She was Mrs. A. J. Wells.

In the scrimmage, which looked like a football rush, she sustained painful injuries to her arms. She got through the guard, but when she found herself in the gallery the door had been locked behind her.

For many minutes she was kept a prisoner by the other faction. Having got in, she demanded to be let out, but the door remained locked. In the end, after she had threatened suits, she was liberated.

The rush on the door that precipitated the riot was the twelfth attempt of the "outside" faction to get into the gallery, where the club was giving a reception and musicale, and was the result of an order granted by Justice Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court, commanding the dominant faction to show cause why they should not be enjoined from changing the bylaws and modifying the constitution of the society and from giving other affairs under the name of the Rubinstein Club.

"CHAOS IN LOS ANGELES" MAY KILL CHICAGO RECALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The provision for a recall for municipal officers, injected as an amendment into Charter Bill No. 2 at the meeting of the Chicago Charter Convention last night, probably will be cut out and filed for future reference when the Legislature takes up consideration of the charter measures. In its place the term of Mayor may be shortened to the original term of two years which prevailed in Chicago prior to the election of Mayor Busse.

At least, this is the opinion of Representative James M. Kittleman, chairman of the committee of the charter convention, which reported in the bill on "powers of the City Council" last night.

Mr. Kittleman is openly opposed to the amendment, basing objection principally on the state of chaos now existing in Los Angeles, and as he is chairman of the House Committee on Chicago Charter, the prospects for retention of the amendment after the House committee gets into action at Springfield are not so good as they might be.

CANNON NAMED.

Is Again Nominated for Speaker.

For Fourth Time Honor Is Conferred on Illinois Statesman.

Insurgent Leaders Fail to Appear at Republican Caucus.

Present Officials of House Are Chosen to Succeed Themselves.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was tonight chosen Republican candidate for Speaker of the House. The caucus agreed to vote Monday for the adoption of the rules of the last House.

It was the fourth time the honor has been conferred upon Mr. Cannon, but tonight neither the selection of a candidate for Speaker nor the vote on the rules was characterized by the unanimity of party feeling that attended the three preceding caucuses.

There was plenty of evidence of the insurrection promised for Monday against the Cannon organization, but in the main the most determined anti-Cannon Republicans were not present.

Following is the personnel of the House organization, as chosen by the caucus:

For Speaker—Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois.

For clerk—Alexander McDowell of Pennsylvania.

For postmaster—Samuel A. Langum of Minnesota.

For sergeant-at-arms—Henry Casson of Wisconsin.

For doorkeeper—F. B. Lyon of New York.

For chaplain—Rev. Henry N. Couden, the blind preacher.

[illegible] THEMSELVES.

All these were selected at caucus to succeed themselves.

Representative Currier of New Hampshire was elected chairman of the caucus, and Representative Loudenslager of New Jersey was elected to succeed himself as its secretary.

Representative John W. Dwight of New York was chosen "whip" of the next House.

Representative Loudenslager, secretary of the last caucus, called tonight's meeting to order. As Col. Hepburn of Iowa was defeated for reelection, there was no chairman to preside until Representative Currier of New Hampshire was chosen.

To nominate Mr. Cannon, Representative William A. Rodenberg of Illinois was recognized. His first reference to Lincoln and the other great men of Illinois stirred the members. He spoke of the proud privilege of presenting a candidate for Speaker at this time, "when individual initiative is assailed by the discordant and destructive forces of socialism."

PROUD OF CANNON.

"Illinois is justly proud of her most distinguished son," exclaimed Mr. Rodenberg as he approached the mention of the name of Mr. Cannon. "We are proud of him because in all of the vicissitudes of public life, in the storm and stress and strife of political combat, in the sunshine of victory, and in the shadow of defeat, he has ever stood four square to all the winds that blow."

With a declaration that his candidate knew naught of expediency, Mr. Rodenberg said that fidelity to principle was his religion, and loyalty to honest conviction was the cardinal tent of his creed. His courage was described as that born of conscience, originating in the loftiest conception of public duty.

"Continuously for more than a third of a century, he has been in the calcium light of publicity," continued Mr. Rodenberg, "and as that light has grown stronger with succeeding years it has served only to reveal more and more clearly his transcendent qualities of head and heart, until today the fair-minded people of the United States, with one accord, regard Joseph G. Cannon as one of the greatest and most forceful of American statesmen.

RECORD AN INSPIRATION.

"His very name is a synonym for integrity, a guarantee of consistency, and his masterful militant record, as a member of Congress for thirty-four years, is an inspiration to the struggling ambitious youth of the land.

"Three times he has been honored by his Republican colleagues by their votes to the Speakership of this House, a position second only in prestige and importance, to the Presidency itself. With consummate skill and unfaltering firmness, he has kept the legislative ship in the middle of the channel of progress, weathering all the storms of unjust criticism, avoiding the rocks of radicalism on the one hand, and the shoals of ultra-conservatism on the other.

"Today he stands forth in all the splendor of matured intellectuality, vigorous in mind and body, better equipped than ever to discharge the duties of the high office which he has so signally honored for six years, challenging the admiration of every American who believes in doing honor to a brave and a manly man.

"Mr. Chairman, catching the spirit that breathes upon us from the

GEN. PALMER PASSES AWAY.

Founder of Colorado Springs Dead at His Home.

Prominent as Railroad Builder in the West.

Fall from Horse Caused Injury Ending Fatally.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLORADO SPRINGS, March 13.—Gen. William J. Palmer, founder of Colorado Springs, died today at his country seat, Glen Eyre, west of the city. Death came as the result of a fall from a horse in October, 1906, which caused a fracture of the spine.

Gen. Palmer has often been called the foremost citizen of Colorado. He leaves an estate valued at $15,000,000.

Gen. Palmer was distinguished as a soldier in the Civil War, but his greatest fame came as a railroad builder. Immediately after he had been mustered out of service, in 1865, Gen. Palmer, at the request of John Edgar Thompson, Thomas A. Scott and other Pennsylvania railroad friends, was elected secretary and treasurer of the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company. It was his connection with that road which brought him into Colorado, and resulted in his long and conspicuous identification with the development of the resources of this State.

Besides Gen. Palmer's connection with the building of the Kansas Pacific Railroad to Denver, in 1869-70, he conceived and carried out several connecting enterprises. He remained president of the Denver and Rio Grande system and its directing personality until August, 1883, when he resigned to give greater attention to his railroad enterprises in Mexico, the Mexican National Railroad, but he contiued to be president of the Rio Grande Western road, extending from Grand Junction to Salt Lake City, until April, 1901, when he withdrew from personal participation in its affairs.

In connection with his inception and construction of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, Gen. Palmer conceived and founded upon a beautiful site near the eastward base of Pike's Peak the city of Colorado Springs, near which, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, he had lived since that city came into existence in the summer of 1871.

NEW RIGGING ON BATTLESHIP.

UPPER WORKS TO BE SWEPT AWAY ALMOST COMPLETELY.

Heavy Military Mast, Wheelhouse, After Bridge and Most of Life Boats to Disappear from Above Decks—Navy to Sacrifice Everything for Fighting Trim.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a few months pictures of American battleships now in existence will be obsolete. When changes already ordered have been made the American battleship will look as if she had gone through a storm that had swept away most of her upper works.

The Connecticut, Kansas, Louisiana, Virginia and New Jersey, the first to be converted, are to lose what sailors call their top hamper. The heavy military masts, the wheelhouse and the after bridge, as well as most of the lifeboats, are to disappear. Hereafter not to exceed three small launches will be carried on a battleship.

The theory is that good fighting men will not abandon the ship until there are so few of them left that a few boats and a few life rafts will be sufficient. That theory is to be put into practice by the American navy ahead of any other.

The military masts are to be replaced by the contraptions that look like immense wire waste paper baskets. Experiments have shown that it is almost impossible to destroy a cage mast of that kind by gun fire.

The greatest change will be made when the wheelhouse is brought aft and placed beneath the protective deck.

As to just how much of the forward bridge is to be left the constructors themselves do not know, but it will be not much more than half the size it now is.

MINERS CALL CONVENTION.

Will Meet at Scranton to Consider Means of Obtaining New Agreement.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—The members of three anthracite district executive boards of the Miners' Union met here today and decided to hold a tri-district convention of the miners at Scranton, Pa., March 28. This convention will receive reports of the full Settlement Committee which met the operators here and will adopt plans for making further efforts to obtain from the coal companies a new agreement to take the place of the present working arrangement which expires March 31. There is nothing on the surface to indicate any changes in the situation. Several of the board members of the union expressed the opinion today that the coal companies will shut down April 15.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT VALID

TOPEKA, March 13.—The State Supreme Court decided today that the commission form of government for cities in Kansas is valid. The test was made in a suit from Wichita asking the Supreme Court to order the officers of the city of Wichita to recognize a regularly nominated ticket for city offices on the old plan.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Mrs. Franklin D. Cottle, who celebrated her one hundredth birthday yesterday, took an automobile ride and remained up until 1 a.m. without showing any apparent fatigue, despite the excitement of the day.

Speaking of her long life, Mrs. Cottle said to a young woman interviewer:

"I never lived by rule. I ate what I liked, wore what I liked and lived a Christian life. Have the styles changed much? I wore a coal-scuttle shaped hat such as they are wearing now, to a wedding sixty years ago. I don't want the ballot. Men have run the government to suit me 100 years and I guess I can trust them for the rest of my stay."

NEW JOB NOT FOR HARAHAN.

Illinois Central Associates Deny Rumor.

Cowgill Calls It an Absurd Suggestion.

New York Central Allowed no Claim.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President J. T. Harahan's assistant, B. Rose, today denied the report that President Harahan contemplates leaving the Illinois Central to go to the New York Central.

"There is absolutely no truth in that report," said Mr. Rose. "Mr. Harahan left here to go to California for a few weeks' vacation. If he is to meet Mr. Harriman and Mr. Kruttschnitt I do not know anything about it. Of course, they are both in that section of the country, and a conference is not impossible.

"The report, however, that Mr. Harahan is to go to the New York Central Railroad, or any other railroad which would take him away from here, is not true."

John G. Drennan, District Attorney for the Illinois Central, was asked concerning the president's intentions, and he referred the inquiry to E. C. Cowgill, chief clerk in President Harahan's office.

"Mr. Harahan has denied similar rumors from time to time," said Mr. Cowgill. It is absurd to think that he would assume management of another railroad at his age."

HARRIMAN AT YUMA.

Railway Magnate Stops to View Laguna Dam and Goes to Imperial Valley.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. H. Harriman, controlling head of the greatest system of railways ever consolidated under one management, accompanied by his family and a numerous additional party, arrived in Yuma on a special train at 11 o'clock this morning.

The party includes Mr. Harriman's wife, two daughters, Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines; W. F. Herrin, late chief counsel of the Southern Pacific, San Francisco, and Col. Epes Randolph, manager of the Southern Pacific extension in Mexico.

On arrival in Yuma Mr. Harriman and party went at once to the Laguna dam, now completed, and inspected that great irrigation structure under the guidance of Project Engineer Francis L. Sellew. Returning they made an hour's stop in Yuma and departed at 3:30 to Imperial Junction, where the party will remain tonight, making a tour of Imperial Valley tomorrow morning.

Mr. Harriman was asked concerning the published reports relating to possible changes in the official heads of several of the Harriman lines, particularly the transference of General Manager E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific to the general managership of the Illinois Central to succeed General Manager Jñ. T. Harahan, who is slated for a high position on the New York Central. Mr. Harriman would not deny that such changes were contemplated, but stated that no announcements would be made until the Harriman party arrives at Los Angeles within a few days, when a conference will be held with all the officials involved.

SIXTY-SIX GAIN.

Advertising in The Times continues to show an increased volume each week. Mercantile business is improving decidedly as the spring season advances.

For the week ending yesterday, March 13, 1038 columns of paid matter were printed in The Times; just 66 columns more than during the same seven days of last year.

Amid municipal imbroglios, official resignations, grand jury investigations and the like, this journal continues to grow, both in advertising volume and subscriptions. Nothing stops the continued gains in The Times' business.

It has more subscribers and more advertising than ever.

KNIGHTS' AND LADIES' TROUBLE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DETROIT, March 13.—The State Insurance Commissioner, Mr. Barry, has refused to renew the license, which expired March 1, of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, because no ratisfactory explanation has been made to him of the transfer of Mrs. Catherine A. Tatten of this city, from her own chapter for alleged divulgence of lodge secrets. Mrs. Tatten fought against her transfer and finally laid it before Commissioner Barry.

PEARL NECKLACE SUIT ENDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OMAHA, March 13.—The replevin suit against Capt. Dunn of the police department to recover the Heinze pearl necklace, was dismissed when called in the justice court today. The suit was filed by A. S. Ritchie, as attorney for John D. Savis, the Greek who found the necklace in front of the Knickerbocker Hotel, New York, and whose attempt to sell one of the pearls led to his arrest and the recovery of the necklace which was valued by some experts as high as $100,000. The suit was in furtherance of a claim for reward for the gems but when confronted by Mr. Heinze last Monday the Greek waived all claims and the necklace was turned over to the owner.

ALMOST WEDS WRONG GIRL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 13.—A mysterious trick of his memory has caused Charles E. Williams, aged 53, to wait a week longer for his bride, who is 30 years younger. He got a license to marry Cora Webster, when he wanted to marry her sister, Emily. Williams obtained a marriage license and left to arrange for the wedding. Today Williams announced he had obtained a license to marry the wrong girl. At the probate office the mistake was corrected and Williams will marry the right girl next Sunday morning.

WILL MOVE HAYES'S BODY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

FREMONT (O.) March 13.—The bodies of the late President Rutherford B. Hayes, and his wife, Lucy Webb Hayes, now resting in Oakwood Cemetery, will be reinterred in Spiegel Grove, which for many years was the Hayes home. The grove is now owned by a son, Webb C. Hayes.

RUNAWAYS SEEK ROOSEVELT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—The Wild West as an attraction for the youth in search of adventure, has yielded to the present superior claim of Oyster Bay. Parents and police, in more or less frantic search for Clarence Thomas, Earl Howe and Roy Olson, a trio of runaways, caught up with them at Hegewisch, their first stop on their way east to induce President Roosevelt to take them with him to Africa. They were armed with revolvers and hunting knives, but were short of food supplies. They have been returned home.

PECULIAR TRAIN HOLD-UP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—Mrs. Delia M. Crane, a Chicago artist, who has just arrived from Jacksonville, Fla., is reported to have been the victim of a daring hold-up near that place. While comfortably seated in a Pullman car, which had slowed down at a railroad crossing, she is said to have been robbed of $650 in money, and $2300 worth of diamonds by a negro, who, running alongside and thrusting his head and shoulders through the window, grabbed her valuables. She instinctively clutched at her bag, according to the story, just as the hands of the intruder closed on it. A struggle ensued, and Mrs. Crane called for assistance. Determined not to surrender, Mrs. Crane vainly strove to wrench her property from the negro's hands, but at that instant he gave a lunge backward, and, pulling her arms through the windows, he gave a sudden twist, broke her grip and dropped off the train with his loot. Every cent that Mrs. Crane had in her possession was stolen, including her railroad ticket and Pullman reservation. The railroad officials passed her through to her destination, and passengers, among them Charles G. Gates, son of John W. Gates, saw that her wants were supplied.

DROPS TO DEATH, HELP NEAR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—Aurora police are searching for a hold-up man, who is supposed to be, in a measure, responsible for the tragic death of George Ducket, a nursery man, who clung to a crevice in a stone quarry for nearly an hour, then lost his grip and was drowned in a deep pool below when rescue was only a few minutes away. How the young man got into the quarry is a mystery, but as he related to some friends he had encountered earlier in the evening, a story of having been followed by a footpad, it is supposed that he went around by way of the quarry to avoid trouble, and met with the accident which resulted in his death. A passing motorman heard his cries for help and notified the police, but help was too late in reaching him.

GENERAL SHAKE-UP COMING.

Many Offices to Be Abolished on All the Harriman Lines, Says Col. John Heinze.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the reorganizing of the operating system of the Southern Pacific and all other Harriman lines, many offices are to be abolished, says Col. John Heinze, the special representative of E. H. Harriman, who was in El Paso today on his way to the Pacific Coast.

Speaking of the plan outlined and recommended by him, Col. Heinze said it is planned to discontinue such offices as roadmasters, train masters, resident engineers and master mechanics, and to create positions as assistant superintendents, equal in number to the various branches of these departments. Alternately the assistant superintendents are to hold the position of senior assistant superintendent in charge of all the others, and discharge the duties of the division superintendent during his absence.

As each man will fill this place, Col. Heinze says the object is to make all-around railroad men of heads of all departments.

MILLIONS IN CLAIMS.

Railroads, Alarmed by Government's Attitude, Are Delaying Payment of Losses and Damage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than $10,000,000 worth of claims for loss and damage to freight are being held up by the American railroads because they fear to pay them. It is stated that the total amount of money paid by the railroads during twelve months for loss and damage is at least $20,000,000, and that fully half of the claims representing this aggregate are being delayed on account of the recent attitude of the government, and of the Interstate Commerce Commission with respect to the loss and damage claim problem.

The feeling of apprehension regarding this matter has been increased by the government's prosecution of the Chicago packers upon a charge of accepting or soliciting rebates. This prosecution was ostensibly commenced with a view of catching the railroad in payment of rebates to the packers in the form of excessive allowances for loss and damage, and the railroads insist that there was no foundation for the prosecution.

MEET RATE CUT.

"KATY" FIGURES DUPLICATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, March 13.—The Kansas City Southern Railway made a cut today in freight rates from Galveston to Kansas City to meet, in part, the rate of $1.10 promised by the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway from New York to Oklahoma City. The Kansas City Southern proposes to reduce its rate between Galveston and Kansas City to a figure that will make the total rate from New York to Kansas City via the Atlantic Coast route and Galveston accord almost precisely with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas rate from New York to Oklahoma City via Galveston.

Hill Road Now.

TORONTO, March 13.—At the annual meeting of the Crows Nest Pass Coal and Railway Company today it was announced that James J. Hill had secured control of the road. It was said that Hill was able to obtain his control through the sale to him by Sir Henry Palletto of a large block of stock. Details of the transaction are withheld for the present.

BEST WISHES.

ANCIENT RITE HONORS WHITE.

American Ambassador Is the First so Favored.

Dames des Halles Congratulate His Daughter.

Token of Good Feeling for United States.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, March 13.—Miss Muriel White, the daughter of Ambassador Henry White, engaged to Count Herman Scherr-Thoss of the German army, was visited today by a delegation of the Dames des Halles, a corporation of market women of Paris, who came to extend best wishes for her happiness.

The Dames des Halles is a very ancient corporation, and in the days of the Bourbons enjoyed the privileges of greeting and congratulating the future Queens of France.

The tradition was revived last year on the occasion of the engagement of Mlle. Fallieres, daughter of the President of the republic, but this is the first time such a compliment has been paid to a foreign Ambassador. The act was decided upon as a manifestation of good feeling toward the United States.

HINT FOR PRESIDENT.

London Journal Suggests That Mr. Taft Correct the Belgian Abuses in the Congo.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] British public opinion is not satisfied with the attitude of the Belgian government toward the Congo administration, and the press, secular and religious, views with suspicion all assurances from Brussels that the reforms faithfully promised before annexation was recognized by London, will be executed in the immediate future.

"It would be an inspiring exhibition of humanitarianism," says a London journal, "if the new American President and his Secretary of State were to initiate their régime of which such high hopes are entertained in the United States, by insisting without more delay that Belgium proceed at once to bring the Congo administration into accord with the régimes existing in the best administered neighboring African countries."

EMMA EAMES ENRAGED.

Touches High C in Reply to Question Regarding Mme. De Gogorza Divorce Suit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mme. Emma Eames, prima donna, friend of half of the crowned heads of Europe, and a favorite of exclusive society in the United States, indulged today in a rage that would have made her fortune as Brunnhilde, and that was a realistic imitation of the Bantry Bay fish woman.

Infuriated by the success of a reporter in reaching her apartments, in spite of vigilants in the Auditorium Annex, Mme. Eames tore her hair wildly, delivered herself of several forcible and picturesque speeches and finally slammed the door in the reporter's face with shriek: "Go! Go home you fiend, go home."

The woman reporter ran the gauntlet of the guardians of the song bird's privacy.

"Have you any statement to make, Mme. Eames, concerning Mme. De Gogorza's suit?" she was asked.

"Nothing, nothing."

Madam's voice touched high C as her excitement ascended the scale and she shrieked: "Go home, you fiend, go home."

Desperate Recall Bosses Try to Intimidate Councilmen.

lated the story that five recall petitions had already been prepared. Most of the menacing was done by inuendo and in some instances the telephone was resorted to. A nasty fusillade was kept up on the members of the Council all day.

The Times will do the Councilmen the credit to say that they were not stampeded by these attacks. They realize that if they do their duty conscientiously they cannot be recalled, no matter if their selection disagrees with the views and the stomachs of the bosses. The people will not stand for the Big Stick in the hands of little politicians.

The threatened recall of the Councilmen did not originate in their wards except in the case of Dromgold, where Editor Randall of a Highland Park paper got up a meeting to recall him, after Randall had told him to vote for the recall programme candidate, or stand trial for his vote to confirm Edward Kern. The other Councilmen also voted for Kern, and this vote was threatened as the basis of recall for each. But the intimidation did not work, as the four Councilmen said they would act as their convictions dictated without fear of the recall, and Dromgold went so far as to challenge the City Club by stating the unfairness of the programme to recall him and declaring that he would not be bulldozed or browbeaten by any element.

THE SITUATION.

As the situation now stands the Council will be asked at tomorrow's session to make up its mind on several possible selections of a successor to Harper. The friends of George A. Smith are still hopeful that he will be chosen, but Mr. Smith is not anxious, and will not accept an appointment that does not carry with it the full term. There is a strong demand for Dr. Walter Lindley to come to the front. The names of W. D. Stephens and Lee Gates will be considered, and it is likely that a dark horse may be brought out, who will be the choice. Of course, the recall Councilmen will present the name of George Alexander. Niles Pease, president of the Council, is ineligible under the terms of the charter.

That to elect a Mayor for the full unexpired term, is the only course the Council can pursue, was indicated by the expression of opinion by such authorities as ex-Gov. Henry T. Gage, Joseph H. Call, E. A. Meserve, Oscar Lawler, Oscar C. Mueller, W. R. Kelley and J. W. McKinley and others on the effect of the Harper resignation. They hold that this recall election ended when Harper's resignation was accepted by the Council, and that it is incumbent on the Council to choose a successor for the unexpired portion of Harpers' full term.

EX-GOV. GAGE'S VIEWS.

After making a critical study of the situation, former Gov. Henry T. Gage is strongly of the opinion that the recall is not only unnecessary but under the present conditions a useless procedure. He gave the following statement yesterday:

"I have already expressed my opinion that in view of the resignation of Mayor Harper and the acceptance of that resignation by the City Council a vacancy in office has been created which must be filled by the City Council, and the appointee of the Council will then hold office for the unexpired term of Mayor Harper.

"Further proceedings under the proposed recall election will, therefore, be expensive, idle and useless. The recall election was intended to remove an incumbent who actually occupied an office, and is not a proceeding intended to fill a vacancy. The effect of a recall election is either to sustain an incumbent in office or to remove that incumbent by substituting another person to fill the same office.

"The mode of filling vacancies created by resignation or death is otherwise plainly provided in the charter. There is no doubt in my mind that the language of section 198C, Article xix, of the charter relative to the recall, cannot be extended in its purpose, scope or meaning so as to substitute for the action of the Council a general vote of the people, in filling a vacancy created by a resignation. Under all the circumstances the people have no power to fill the existing vacancy in the Mayor's office by voting at the recall election, set for the 26th inst. There is no incumbent to be removed —no offending officer to be recalled.

"The issues have been closed by the acceptance of the resignation of Mayor Harper, and the duty of filling that vacancy is with the City Council only, under the other provisions of the charter."

O. C. MUELLER.

Oscar C. Mueller says lawyers are all guessing on the question because there is no precedent in American jurisprudence on the recall except the decision in the Davenport case which did not involve this question. "But the weight of reasoning seems to be that the resignation of Mayor Harper ended the cause for the recall and that being so of course it devolves on the Council to elect a successor for the full term. The recall provision reiterates 'removal' and it seems well settled that when the cause of a condition is removed, as the provision seems to contemplate, the condition ends and the status becomes just as it would have been before the recall was invoked. In the absence of precedent this is my opinion without reference to Harper or Alexander, but rather from the standpoint of cold-blooded law."

J. W. M'KINLEY.

Former Judge McKinley said: "I am sure from my investigation of the question that the Council must elect a successor to Mayor Harper for the full unexpired term, for when he resigned the recall ended."

CITY ATTORNEY HEWITT.

City Attorney Hewitt reached home from three weeks at Sacramento yesterday and at once took up the consideration of the recall situation. Mr. Hewitt would not indorse the expression of his office given to the Council by Emmett H. Wilson and John W. Shenk, his assistants, nor would he express any opinion on the situation.

"The question is one that I am going to take my time to decide before I give advice to the Council at Monday's session. I will be prepared then to say what my conclusions are. But just now I have not formed any opinion whatever and will not until I have exhausted all the authorities that I may find bearing upon the question."

DROMGOLD'S PLEA.
CITY CLUB MEETING.

At the City Club's meeting at the Westminster Hotel yesterday noon resolutions were adopted indorsing George Alexander, the recall candidate for Mayor, as the successor to Harper, and the Council was asked to elect him.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

When these resolutions had been adopted Councilman Dromgold rose to a question of personal privilege and asserted that an attempt was being made to abuse the recall by invoking it against him in the First Ward. He told how Editor Randall of the Highland Park Herald had threatened him with recall if he voted for George A. Smith, and tried to "cajole" him to support the recall element in its designs. Dromgold declared that this threat was made at a time when he had not made up his mind what to do.

"You are asking for men of backbone," he said, "and I am trying to act on my best convictions, yet there is an attempt to recall me because I do not do as a few wish. Personally I think the vacancy in the Mayor's office should not be filled by the Council, but it should be left to the recall election. If we cannot do the thing that seems best to me, why let us get together and compromise on the best man."

FOR SMITH.
SEQUOIA CLUB.

A vigorous fight is to be made by the Sequoia Club for the election of George A. Smith as Mayor to fill the unexpired term, caused by the resignation of A. C. Harper. None of the seeming complications and difficulties of the situation have abated the enthusiasm of the Sequoias who took the initiative in boosting Mr. Smith for the place.

At a special meeting of the club held last evening in room 212 Coulter building, resolutions were adopted unanimously affirming its support of Mr. Smith not only in the election by the Council, but also at the polls should the court decide that a recall election must be held. About 140 members of the club were present at the meeting which was presided over by Fred L. Hunt, president of the organization.

Speeches were made by D. C. Casselman, J. W. Summerfield, J. F. Seymour, Jr., Harry Alexander, Robert Hazen, and Robert Hayhurst, condemning the recall and setting forth reasons why Mr. Smith should be chosen Mayor. Great enthusiasm was aroused and after the adoption of the resolutions, which were offered by Ervin Dingle, the club decided to go before the Council in a body next Monday and urge the election of their candidate. The resolutions adopted follow:

Whereas, a vacancy has occurred in the office of Mayor, of the city of Los Angeles, and said vacancy still exists, and whereas the Sequoia Club, has advocated the election of George A. Smith by the Council of said city, to fill the unexpired term caused by the resignation of A. C. Harper, Mayor thereof; and

Whereas, it may be necessary for the courts to declare in a judicial proceeding whether or not it be necessary to hold a recall election on March 26, 1909. Therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Sequoia Club, is now, as at first, heartily in favor of the election of George A. Smith as Mayor of the city of Los Angeles, and further,

That the Sequoia Club, and the members thereof, both collectively and individually, use all honorable means in their power to further his candidacy and effect his election, not only before the City Council but afterwards in the recall election, if the judgment of the courts find the election necessary and legal.

WAS IT HARPER?

SANTA BARBARA, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former Mayor Harper of Los Angeles passed through this city this morning shortly before noon, in a big touring automobile, on his way North. The car did not stop, but went directly through the city, and disappeared in the direction of San Francisco. The ex-Mayor was recognized by a number of persons as the car passed through the city. There were several other men in the machine with him, but their names could not be ascertained. The party and machine were travel stained, and the men looked weary.

THE MAYOR--HOW TO ELECT HIM.

Law Set Forth by Attorney McGarvin.

D. C. M'GARVIN, chairman of the Republican City Central Committee, made last evening the following statement to The Times:

"I would call attention to the following sections of the City Charter, in relation to the present situation:

"Section 198C. This is the section designated in the charter as the Recall, and all the way through this section it refers to it as 'Removal,' 'Sought to be removed,' 'Any officer so removed,' etc., indicating very plainly that the recall is purely a removal proposition, and 'in any such removal election, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.' 'At such election, if some other person than the incumbent receives the highest number of votes, the incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from the office upon qualification of his successor. The successor of any officer so removed shall hold office during the unexpired term of his predecessor.'

"As to the question of whether or not the Mayor has a right to resign and the effect of that resignation, I quote section 8: 'If any elective officer shall die, or remove from the city, or absent himself from the city for more than thirty days, or shall fail to qualify by taking the oath of office, and filing his official bond, as required, within ten days from the time he receives his certificate of election or appointment, or if he shall resign, or be convicted of a felony, or adjudged insane, or shall absent himself from his office for more than five days without the consent of the Council, his office may be declared vacant by the Council, and it shall thereupon fill the vacancy.'

"As to the filling of the vacancy, I quote you section 197: 'In the event of the vacancy in the City Council, a special election for the purpose of filling the same shall be ordered held without delay. In the event of the vacancy in any other elective office, the Council shall fill such vacancy for the unexpired term.'

"As the recall provision does not fix any period nor state that the term of office of the officer sought to be removed terminates, but to the contrary specifically states that the person receiving the highest number of votes, other than the incumbent, shall hold the office for the 'unexpired term,' it seems to me to be perfectly clear that a vacancy having been created by resignation that if the same is filled under section 197, that that appointee should hold for the unexpired term, and that the recall election would fail of its purpose."

BACK ACTION.

LISSNER RECOIL A RAW THING.

MEETING ASKED TO "KNOCK" COMMENDS DROMGOLD.

Highland Park Voters, Called Together by Little Alexander Clique, Express Trust in Integrity of Councilman, Tell Him to Act as He Sees Fit on Mayoralty.

After more than two hours of wrangling last night, seventy voters of the First Ward, assembled for the purpose of starting a recall movement against Councilman R. W. Dromgold, adopted a resolution setting forth their trust in his honesty and integrity, and leaving it to him to do as he sees fit in voting for a Mayor at the City Council session tomorrow.

The meeting was almost a farce. Yesterday afternoon in a little paper called the Highland Park Herald, C. H. Randall, the editor, published an attack on Dromgold and announced a meeting to be held at Wood's Hall, Highland Park, for recall purposes.

One of the committee rooms was used for the meeting because of the small attendance. The moment the meeting came to order, with H. D. Hammock presiding, it was evident that a programme had been arranged. A set of resolutions drawn up by some one whose name was not divulged, was read. These resolutions indorsed George Alexander for Mayor, and contained a clause "instructing" Councilman Dromgold how he must vote in the Council tomorrow.

TOO RAW TO SWALLOW.

These raw resolutions aroused a storm of protest, even those alleged reformers present refusing to swallow it.

J. A. Winans made an address warning the voters to be careful and not act rashly. He suggested that the word "instruct" be changed to "advise."

The first threat of the evening came from J. O. Hawley who announced "If he (Dromgold) don't want our instructions he will be unwise." Dromgold, who was present, allowed this remark to pass, awaiting his turn to speak.

A representative from Downey avenue at this point chipped in with the statement that if Dromgold doesn't vote with his followers it will be bad for him.

A man with a small voice and a large head raised the question that if Alexander is elected to fill the temporary vacancy in the Mayor's chair, and the recall election is held, he will necessarily be compelled to run against himself. This phase of the case proved too deep for the voters, and they agreed to pass it by without argument.

The real secret of the meeting finally leaked out when John Pope arose in defense of Dromgold.

LISSNER'S ORDERS.

"Randall, the editor of the Highland Park paper, had but little to do in calling this recall meeting," said Pope. "It was Meyer Lissner who gave him his orders, and he simply carried them out."

The recall enthusiasm had been fast waning, and after this statement the voters seemed to take but little interest. A call was made for Dromgold, and he was greeted with loud cheers.

"I have always had the best interest of the voters at heart," said Dromgold. "They are about to do something that they will be sorry for in attempting to tie my hands and compel me to vote the way they dictate. They do not know of emergencies that may arise. I am sorry you have lost confidence in me in thus threatening to recall me. I am willing to have you instruct me, but I object to that article, that malicious article published in that little paper. The editor owes me an apology for it. No one has the right to criticise my acts. I have always done the best I could for you. I don't need this office. I would be better off if I had never taken it. I don't want it again; you can choose some other citizen to represent you.

"This man Randall came to me and tried to line me up, saying that if I didn't vote the way that I was told that he had a recall meeting waiting for me. I refused to talk to him. I might vote for Alexander, but we have talked of a man today that you might like better. W. D. Stephens has been mentioned."

The crowd cheered.

"As far as instructions are concerned, you may give me all you like. Another district in the ward may give me other instructions, but I won't be lined up by anybody."

The resolutions leaving it to Dromgold to vote as he sees fit, and commending him for his honesty and integrity in the interests of his ward, were then adopted, and the "recall" meeting faded away.

RECALL FOR REVENGE.

Junction City, Or., Also Has Trouble Because of Pernicious Provision.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A petition for the recall of Mayor C. P. Houston was presented to the City Council of Junction City, but action on it was postponed until next Monday, when a special meeting of the Council will be held. The grounds alleged in the petition are: That said C. P. Houston is incompetent and inefficient; his moral character is such as to unfit him for the office of Mayor; his reputation for truth and veracity is bad; he exercises his office in an arbitrary and unreasonable manner without due regard or consideration for the rights of the Council or the interests of the people of Junction City.

Mayor Houston says in his own defense that the recall has been instituted because he enforced ordinances calling for opening streets and alleys. "Then some near beer joints got fined for gambling," declares the Mayor, "and they all got together and started something."

SUMMARY OF THE LONG RECALL FRACAS.

Last October, after "Tommy" Woolwine had declared that vice was being protected in Los Angeles, Mayor Harper and three members of the Police Commission began libel suits against E. T. Earl, the Express, and Woolwine, for charging them with the protection of vice.

The grand jury was then in session and it took up the investigation of the alleged protection. The grand jury reported that it found no evidences of graft on the part of Los Angeles city officials, but it criticised the Mayor for his joy rides. Six members of the grand jury signed a statement accusing the Mayor of going on debauches and of promoting a bawdy-house syndicate.

January 6 Mayor Harper appointed Edward Kern, then Chief of Police, to succeed D. K. Edwards on the Board of Public Works. He was unanimously confirmed by the Council. The appointment was the real beginning of the recall crusade.

Ten days later the Municipal League held its invitation party at Blanchard Hall and decided to invoke the recall because of Kern's appointment.

Two weeks later the recall petition containing nearly 11,000 signatures was filed with the Council. It was verified and in the middle of February, the Council ordered a special election to recall the Mayor, fixing the date as March 26.

Another invitation meeting was held at Blanchard Hall to select a candidate for the recall election and William D. Stephens was chosen.

A week later Stephens declined the nomination and the recall set spent nearly two weeks in finding a candidate. The selection was left to a committee of fifteen of which J. D. Works was chairman, and it selected George Alexander, whose nomination was ratified February 22.

Alexander's nomination was certified by petition, February 26.

The charges of vice protection were enlarged as the campaign progressed Mayor Harper all the time stoutly affirming his absolute cleanliness in office.

March 9, Edward Kern resigned as a member of the Board of Public Works, giving as a reason that he wished to relieve the Mayor of the responsibility for him, as his appointment was the cause of the recall movement.

Mayor Harper appointed W. M. Humphreys to succeed Kern.

March 11, at 7:10 p.m., Mayor Harper astounded the whole community by withdrawing from the recall ticket and resigning his office. He said he had visited E. T. Earl, and found that Earl would not consent to suppressing criminal evidence against the Mayor and others.

There is a dispute as to who frightened the Mayor into resigning. The Record first claimed the glory of it—certainly getting the scoop of the year on its evening contemporary, the Express, in getting out an extra with the news. Then the Herald said it did the job; and, later, Editor Earl of the Express declared that the deed was his.

By resigning his office, Harper created an unprecedented situation in American municipal government, and the city has since been without a Mayor, and in turmoil over his successor.

March 12, early in the morning, Mayor Harper took his family and left the city.

On the same day the Council met and proposed to elect George A. Smith Mayor, but on account of legal tangles the election was deferred until Monday next.

During the week, the lawyers have cleared up the legal complications, showing that it is the duty of the Council to elect a Mayor for the whole of Harper's unexpired term. This quashes all the recall proceedings—and eke "Our Set."

The Mayor having resigned, there is nobody to recall, consequently there cannot be a recall election. The charter provides but one way for filling the vacancy—namely, election by the Council.

It is seen now that the resignation of Kern was a shrewd political maneuver, enabling Harper to appoint a man on the Board of Public Works who would be permanent, before he resigned himself.

MUSIC MASTER IS FOUND DEAD BESIDE BELOVED PIANO.

Neighbors Alarmed by Stillness Enter Dusty Rooms to Discover That Bedridden Wife, Too Weak to Summon Aid Had Kept Her Husband's Body Silent Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Boerum street, Williamsburg, missed its music master this morning. It had missed him ever since Thursday evening, when the strains of Handel's "Largo" which had sounded forth from the front room of 168, stopped short and the dust-covered instrument, which many of the neighbors had seen, but never been allowed to touch by the master, became silent. The old man was dead, although the neighbors did not know it until today. Then one neighbor said to another:

"We have not heard the professor's music play for a long time now. He has always been at his piano before. There must be something wrong."

"Let us go and see," said the other. They went. On the floor between the piano and the adjoining room where lay a bedridden woman, they found a man with long white hair falling to his shoulders, a white beard and the eyes of one who lives in dreams with the delicately chiseled countenance and long tapering fingers of an artist. It was the professor, Abraham Zedleson; and the woman in the bed was his wife. She had been too weak to raise an alarm or to help, and had kept her dead husband company ever since he had fallen there on his way to her bedside.

PHILOSOPHER ON THE STAND.

"Radio-Active" Klein Tells of Higher Atmosphere.

Witnesses Vow Accuser Made Murder Threats.

Evidence Given Regarding Mysterious Chalet.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TACOMA, March 13.—During the trial of Joseph Klein, the "radio-active philosopher," this morning, witnesses testified that Miss Culberson, whom Klein is alleged to have assaulted, declared some time before the alleged assault that Klein was a perfect devil, and that she could shoot him down like a dog. Witnesses also declared she said on one occasion she certainly would have killed him if she had had a weapon, after he had refused to [illegible] her niece, Dora Sauvageot, to [illegible] the chalet in Switzerland.

A letter purporting to be from Rose [illegible], the other Tacoma girl held at the chalet against the wishes of her parents, was introduced. It is peculiarly written with a mixture of capital and small letters, and contains several references to the "higher atmosphere," etc. The expressions and capitalization indicate plainly that the girl believes that Klein is a divinity. Klein took the stand shortly before noon in his own behalf. He said he was married and had two children, and that he was a specialist in nervous diseases. He declared he had spent much of his own money for the relief of humanity in various ways, and denied emphatically that he had made money out of unsuspecting persons in support of his institution. He indignantly denied the existence of immoral practices at his Switzerland chalet, and said the women now there would bear him out.

Klein declared the Sauvageot and Culberson girls could leave his place whenever they desired, but that they had refused on the ground that the "atmosphere" in their homes was not such as to encourage the higher life.

ACCUSES HER BROTHER. HIS SHARE TOO LARGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARYSVILLE, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Alice Whitlock of this city, has filed an action in the Superior Court to break the will of her father, William E. Parker, on the ground that her brother, Rev. Will E. Parker of San Francisco, used undue influence to secure the major portion of the estate. This consists of property in Yuba City.

Through Attorneys Lawrence Schillig and W. E. Carlin, she has petitioned for revocation of the will, claiming her father was not of sound mind, and that Rev. Mr. Parker, knowing this, spent a year in influencing him to bequeath more of the estate to himself than he was entitled to have. The elder Parker lived at his daughter's home for several years preceding his death. The hearing is set for March 27.

[illegible] WILL SETTLED. CONTEST ABANDONED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The settlement of the estate of the late Dr. [illegible] Gonzales, according to the terms of the compromise made several days ago, was made possible today by the verdict of a jury that the deceased was of unsound mind when he made his will and that, therefore, it was invalid.

The estate, valued at about $250,000, will be divided between the widow, Mrs. Edie Gonzales, and Anita [illegible], a daughter of the deceased by a former wife, who will pay the [illegible] descendants of Francisco [illegible], a half-brother of Dr. Gonzales, [illegible] in consideration of their having abandoned the contest of the will.

INSANITY AFTER OPERATION.

Sees Scores of White-Robed Figures Who Wish to Cut Out His Heart.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Following an operation at Lane Hospital, [illegible] Coll has become a raving maniac. His hallucination is that white-robed figures are trying to cut out his heart. He is being held at the Central Emergency Hospital and will be examined today by the commissioners of insanity.

Coll applied at the Emergency Hospital for treatment early last week, and as an operation was required he was removed to Lane Hospital. At the latter place physicians asked him if he had any objection to an autopsy being performed should the operation terminate fatally. He replied he had none and signed formal papers granting the physicians permission.

An hour later Coll was given an anesthetic, the operation was successfully performed and the patient recovered consciousness. He appeared entirely sane and apparently made good progress toward recovery.

Yesterday night, however, he developed the delusion of the threatening white-robed figures and it became necessary to restrain him. Physicians say the operation was a slight one and that the signing of the autopsy paper was the usual course followed in such circumstances. They were at a loss to explain the man's sudden insanity, but thought investigation would develop facts in regard to his previous life that would account for it.

TRANSPORT THOMAS HOME. MUTINY ON BOARD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The United States transport Thomas arrived today from the Philippines with a number of army officers, 362 [illegible] returning from the island [illegible] military prisoners. Among the officers were Majors William [illegible] and Henry Chale and [illegible] Charles E. Boone, Thomas [illegible], John A. Pagelow and Law[illegible].

[illegible] after leaving Nagasaki some [illegible] who had been given [illegible] the ship, secured [illegible] and started a small-sized [illegible]. They were placed in irons [illegible] of the voyage and escorted to the guard-house by a guard.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Dragged to Death.

[illegible], March 12.—The 11-year-old son of Joseph Morrissey, living [illegible], was dragged to death by a cow he was leading yesterday evening. The boy had tied a loop at the end of the rope over his shoulders and was dragged over 500 feet before the animal was stopped. He Passes Resolution Protesting Against Course of Newspapers Defaming the City.

[Reprinted from The Times of March 12.]

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association held Thursday, the following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, the Los Angeles Herald in its issue of last Monday, March 8, published a sensational article under the following prominent and glaring headline: 'Citizens protest against unspeakable resorts, where men are debauched and robbed and murders committed in broad daylight,' and

"Whereas, the only foundation for this libel on the city of Los Angeles was a simple assault by a drunken Mexican, and

"Whereas, the same paper has of late been guilty of other malicious publications, that are copied and commented upon in the press of this country, creating the impression and reputation abroad that Los Angeles is a lawless and vicious community, and

"Whereas, every loyal citizen strongly opposes and resents any attempt to besmirch and defame the fair name of our city, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, that we condemn and protest in the strongest terms against the policy and attitude of the Herald and any other newspaper that injures and retards the growth, prosperity and welfare of our beloved city by the publication of falsehoods, that tend to destroy the confidence in the citizenship of Los Angeles, to the upbuilding of which we have given our best efforts and financial aid."

CENTRAL AMERICA TO BE SETTLED FOREVER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The real secret of the present trouble in Central America rests in the rival ambitions of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, and President Cabrera of Guatemala, to dominate the five republics. They are both strong men, and have retained power long enough to feed their ambitions for expansion. Each has been a check on the other so far, but those conversant with Central American affairs have been expecting the test of strength for some time. Unless the intervention of the United States and Mexico squelches the outbreak between Nicaragua and Salvador that will only be the curtain-raiser for a general conflagration in the four republics. The republics are now lined up, with Nicaragua and Honduras on one side, and Guatemala and Salvador on the other.

There have been many other causes of friction. Mexico has had almost as much cause to complain as the United States. That the Washington and Mexican governments are acting in accord, and that they have made up their minds that now is the time to put an end forever to the constant turbulence in Central America, is a fact beyond dispute. The fact that Costa Rica has been able to maintain a stable government and has kept out of brawls with her neighbors makes it improbable that any project for annexation would include that country, but in many quarters annexation is regarded as the only solution of the problem in the other four republics, and it can be stated that there have been interchanges on this subject between Mexico City and Washington.

BIG STICK COMING.

The idea of creating a Central American republican under the joint protectorate of Mexico and the United States has also been broached. One thing certain is that the big stick is coming down hard, and that Nicaragua will be the first to feel it.

Some years ago Honduras was friendly to Guatemala, while Salvador was friendly to Nicaragua. In Honduras, over two years ago, Manuel Bonilla was driven from power, Nicaraguan troops helped the revolutionists, and Manuel Davila was temporarily installed as President, it being Zelayas' intention to make Policarpo Bonilla, just out of jail and a refugee in Salvador, President again; but Davila, having gotten a taste of power, refused to make way, and is still President, though it is generally conceded that his interests are still lined up with Zelaya.

When the revolution in Honduras was about to develop into a great test between Zelaya and Cabrera, involving all four republics in a destructive war, the United States and Mexico intervened and created a peace tribunal. Andrew Carnegie gave $100,000 for a peace building, which has just been completed at Cartago.

Last July another revolution broke out in Honduras and was suppressed. Then Honduras accused Guatemala and Salvador of being implicated in it.

AMPLY WARNED.

Honduras made charges to the peace tribunal and last December the tribunal rendered a decision not sustaining the charges. Zelaya and Davila were incensed, especially as Davila claimed to have absolute evidence that the revolution was started from Salvador.

Last January Davila in his message to Congress denounced Cabrera. The Guatemalan Minister to Honduras demanded instant apology and expulsion from the Congressional records of the offensive language, and Davila yielded.

This was followed by withdrawal of Guatemala and Salvador's Ministers from Honduras. Señor Saenz, who represented Guatemala at Teguoigalpa and called Davila down, is now in New Orleans, having been appointed consul-general.

Three weeks ago the situation became so acute that Washington sent a hot message to every one of the republics, warning them that the finding of the Cartago court must be respected, and that the first one to commit an overt act would feel the consequences of armed intervention by the United States and Mexico.

The United States and Mexico have much cause to complain of treatment of their citizens in Nicaragua and Honduras. The United States has been unfortunate in prosecuting claims in Nicaragua. The most important is the Emery claim, regarding a mahogany concession to a Boston syndicate.

Zelaya almost struck Minister Merry, a Californian, over this question. Merry immediately left for Costa Rica. At Corinto, Nicaraguan soldiers sought to search his papers. Zelaya complained to Washington about Merry, and in order to avert friction, it was decided to relieve Merry of duty at Managua.

AMERICAN SHIPS WILL STAND GUARD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Insofar as official dispatches are concerned, there were no developments today in the Central American situation. It was announced at the State Department that no word had come from Nicaragua or elsewhere bearing on the subject. After waiting all day for a reply to his dispatch of last night, the Mexican Ambassador visited Secretary Knox and informed him that as yet he had nothing to communicate.

In the meantime, following conferences between Mr. Knox, Secretary Meyer and Rear-Admiral Pillsbury, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, the ships now in Nicaraguan waters and on their way there will be assigned to stations. There will be one at Greytown and another at Bluefields on the Atlantic side, one at Corinto and another in the Bay of Fonseco on the Pacific side. This latter vessel, the Yorktown, because of her light draught, will be able to proceed as far as Amapala, and thus prevent the movement of troops between Nicaragua and Salvador by water. Should any such movement be undertaken overland across Honduras, marines will be dispatched to check it.

Interest was attached in official circles to the denial by the Presidents of Nicaragua and Salvador of the story that hostilities between the two countries had broken out. It was stated that such rumors played only a part in a situation which, to employ the expression of a high official, had become very disagreeable.

Because of the recall of Mr. Gregory, the American secretary of the legation at Managua, it is believed that the position here of Minister Espinsoal of Nicaragua will become untenable, and that in consequence he will take his departure. Efforts to see him today were without success.

The possibility of joint intervention by America and Mexico is believed to be under serious consideration. The question at issue is the extent of the obligation imposed upon the two larger republics under the terms of the last Central American peace pact. America and Mexico were not parties to this agreement, although they were largely instrumental in bringing it about. The five Central American republics agreed to refrain from hostilities and submit any quarrels between themselves to arbitration. Such agreements have been made before, but they never have had any very great binding force. To remedy that fault in preceding agreements, in the case of the last convention, it was made the duty of America and Mexico to see that its terms were lived up to. It will be under that stipulation, if at all, therefore, that intervention will be based.

News is momentarily expected by the State Department from the government of Mexico of the proposition submitted by the Mexican Ambassador looking to a conference on the present situation between Nicaragua and Salvador.

There are 500 marines at Panama and 200 at Guantanamo, Cuba, and these, it is felt at the department, will be able to meet the necessities of the case. Several naval transports are available for immediate service in conveying the marines to Central America and the understanding is that they have received orders to be in readiness to get under way promptly.

It is evident that, with the moral support of Mexico, the United States intends to take action which will make a lasting impression upon the Nicaraguans and convince them as well as the other Central Americans that the peace pact of 1907 must be lived up to.

PRESIDENTS DENY ANY HOSTILITIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Presidents of both Nicaragua and Salvador deny that there has been any outbreak of hostilities between the two countries. Messages of inquiry were addressed today by the Associated Press to Gen. Zelaya, President of Nicaragua, and Gen. Figueroa, President of Salvador, concerning the reports of warlike activity between the republics and the following replies have been received:

MANAGUA, March 13.—The reports of war between Nicaragua and Salvador are without foundation. Peace reigns in Nicaragua.

ZELAYA.

SAN SALVADOR, March 13.—There is no truth in the report that war has broken out between Salvador and Nicaragua.

FIGUEROA.

UNITED STATES WAITS ON MEXICO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Just what action the United States will take in the way of curbing the action of President Zelaya depends largely upon the reply of Mexico to the dispatch of last night of Ambassador Labarra following his visit to the State Department. This was expected today. The Navy Department is cooperating with the Secretary of State and is prepared to send marines to Nicaragua on short notice.

CANNON NAMED.

glorious memories of an earlier day, the spirit that gave birth to the Republican party, of which he was one of the founders, in response to the admiring sentiment of the Republican membership of this House, I nominate for Speaker of the Sixty-first Congress, the Iron Duke of American politics, Joseph G. Cannon."

UNCLE JOE ACCEPTS.

In response to the demand for a speech, Speaker Cannon addressed the caucus. He said:

"Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Republicans: I thank you for the mark of your confidence and esteem, and in the term to come, as in the past, I shall endeavor so to conduct myself in the high office for which you propose me, as to further the best interests of the United States and merit your approval.

"We have before us a most difficult session. Tariff legislation is in a class by itself, and from the standpoint of practical legislation presents more difficult porblems than any other kind of legislation. A tariff bill is general in that it affects the whole great subject of revenue; but, at the same time, it is private and special in its nature, as it enters every district and affects the products of every farm and factory.

"The approaching legislation, therefore, will bring with it peculiar difficulties and unusual temptations.

TARIFF NEEDS.

"While we must regard with solicitous care the interests of the people we represent individually, we must on the other hand, keep constantly in mind that our first duty is to the United States as a whole, that its revenues may be sufficient for its needs, and that its industrial life may continue to flourish in the future under our care, as it has flourished in the past under the distinguished men who have preceded us as trustees under the Constitution.

"The work before us will call for much industry, for unusual self-restraint and forbearance, and for a patriotic and determined purpose that the responsible political party in the House of Representatives shall, in due time, return to the people with its trust fulfilled to the satisfaction of all reasonable men.

QUICKNESS NECESSARY.

"It is not only necessary that we do our work well; it is essential that we do it as quickly as is consistent with thoroughness. The industries of over 80,000,000 people await our motions. The newspapers tell us, as one of the symptoms of industrial prostration, that 300,000 freight cars lie idle on the sidings.

"The power of the people of the United States, through their representatives, to fix their own revenues and control their own expenditures, is one of the sublimest attributes of our liberty, consecrated by the suffering and the lives of generations of patriots. We must exercise that power with industry and diligence, that the expectations of the people may be realized without undue delay.

RAPS INSURGENTS.

"The wisdom of those who have preceded us in theis House has left us a system of rules the most efficient that ever guided a legislative body as large as the House of Representatives. Every step in making these rules efficient was resisted by the minority, and the men who stood up for the rules were misrepresented by every interest affected by their action, and criticised by a large army of innocent victims of misrepresentation. But misrepresentation dies with the day.

"Now those men so much criticised then are commended on every hand, while a new crop of misrepresentations arouse new criticisms against those who today continue the work of the past. These things will also pass away, and when present misunderstandings have died away, we also shall have the commendation of the future if only we remain true to ourselves and to our trust."

Representative Dalzell and Representative Walter Smith, of Iowa, were selected for the Committee on Committees.

DALZELL BOLTS.

The consideration of the rules for the next House came up when Mr. Dalzell moved that the members vote for the rules of the last House. Mr. Haughen of Iowa, walked out. He explained to those outside the caucus that he did not care to be bound by the action of the caucus.

Without debate, the Dalzell motion was carried. The viva voce vote showed seventy-eight opposed to it.

Out of the 186 votes cast, Mr. Cannon received 162. The roll call resulted:

Cannon, 162.
Smith, 10.
Tawney, 7.
Keifer, 5.

Representative Crumpacker of Indiana, received 1, and Representative McGuire of Oklahoma, 1.

Representative Murdock of Kansas, speaking for the insurgents after the caucus, declared that the result of the caucus tonight only served further to encourage the insurgents.

"We will vote down the previous question on Monday," he said, "and the proposition that will be presented to the House by our steering committee will be adopted."

GENUINE RESTORATION PLATES.

Many of you need this plate more than I need the small price asked. They excel in restoring your face to its best appearance—knocks years off your age, and that's no fairy tale. You are only cheating yourself if you do not come and let me make you a set of teeth.

Ask your mirror the story. If your mouth don't look right, come to me.

Many of you need only a FEW TEETH SUPPLIED. For such cases I can (without the aid of any sort of a plate) fill such vacancies with teeth that are equal to "nature's own." They look natural, feel natural, and in fact by comparison stand the CRITICAL TEST of the most perfect teeth. None are handsomer. I am doing business on the square, and if, after a careful examination, I find it impossible to give you a lasting piece of work, I will not take your case. MONEY HAS NO VALUE when nothing is given in exchange for it.

In justice to yourself you should get my prices and consultation before doing business elsewhere. Keep the address.

PROHIBITION IN NEBRASKA.

Temperance Forces United for Elections.

Lincoln Is Storm Center of Dry Crusade.

Changing to Commission Plan of Government.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Municipal elections in Nebraska this spring will be attended with more interest and activity than ever before. All the larger cities and towns elect new officers, but overshadowing the strife for place is the question of the regulation of saloons or the total abolition of the liquor traffic. The temperance and prohibition forces are more aggressive and confident than for twenty years. While heretofore the county officers, the Anti-Saloon League members and the plain temperance crusaders have worked at cross purposes with the third party prohibitionists, this year they are as nearly united as necessary to make a combined and coöperative fight. The prohibitionists maintain their separate organization, but all the other temperance societies are banded together in a common cause.

In Lincoln, which is to be the storm center of the temperance agitation, the situation is slightly complicated because of the effort to change the form of municipal government from Mayor and Councilmen to the commission plan. The result will have no particular effect on the prohibition crusade which has just begun in Lincoln and will continue with plenty of energy until the election early in May.

A year ago prohibition came within less than 200 votes of carrying in Lincoln, and all that prevented the city's going dry at that time was an order issued a week before the vote by the Excise Board, limiting the number of saloons to twenty-five, and providing for daylight hours of opening and closing; that is, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

CURFEW SHALL NOT BOOM.

Admiral Taussig Silences Nine o'Clock Gun at Norfolk Despite Protests.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NORFOLK (Va.) March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Admiral Taussig, commandant of the Norfolk navy yard today upset the equilibrium of this city and the community, as far south as the Dismal Swamp, by decreeing that the ancient 9 o'clock gun, which it has been the custom for more than a century to fire nightly at the navy yard, must no more be fired.

The gun more than anything else, was the time regulator of the community. Children here and the clockless inhabitants of the Dismal Swamp and the intervening country, went to bed by it.

Many people have urged the admiral to rescind his decree, but he is an anti-noise advocate and has turned a deaf ear to them. He has already suppressed unnecessary bells and whistles at the navy yard.

INDICTED FOR GRAFTING.

Oneida County, New York, Officials Charged With Grand Larceny, Perjury and Felony.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

UTICA (N. Y.) March 13.—In connection with the Oneida county "graft" investigation the grand jury returned indictments today for felony and grand larceny against F. E. Swanson, chairman of the Republican County Committee, and a Supervisor; for felony and perjury against John Collins, a merchant from whom large bills of furniture were bought, and of which no trace can be found; for larceny and felony against ex-Sheriff S. J. Jones, a Democrat, and against A. S. Vanderwalter, Democratic clerk of the Board of Supervisors, for grand larceny and felony.

There is also one sealed indictment. There is probability of many more indictments.

COLLEGE BOYS SHOOT.

International Contest for Gallery Honors to Begin Next Monday in Washington.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Nearly a score of the leading universities and colleges of the country have entered the intercollegiate rifle match for the 1909 gallery championship of the United States, which will be shot on the local ranges beginning next Monday.

Among the institutions entered for the match are Nevada University, University of Idaho, University of California, State College of Washington and Agricultural College of Salt Lake.

STAKE RACE UNCHANGED.

Detroit Driving Club Decides Not to Put Chamber of Commerce Event in Slower Class.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—The directors of the Detroit Driving Club have reconsidered their decision to change the Chamber of Commerce $5000 pacing stake from the 2:13 class to the 2:15 class, and this fixture of the last Grand Circuit meet will remain in the 2:13 class.

The value of the Wolverine Handicap, a free-for-all pace, which takes the place of the 2:07 pacing stake, is to be $3000.

FINAL SOX GAMES.

The White Sox Yannigans will appear in but two more ball games in this city, and both will be played today. The first one at 10:15 o'clock this morning will be played at the Vernon grounds with the Vernon team, and the second with the Los Angeles team this afternoon at the Chutes grounds. The White Sox and Los Angeles teams will play an exhibition game at Tournament Park, Pasadena, tomorrow afternoon.

WRESTLING BOUT.

Van Der Priem and Prof. Charles N. Baker have been matched for a wrestling contest to be held at the Chutes next Sunday afternoon. The style will be catch-as-catch-can, two in three falls. Prof. Baker, who came here from Chicago, will weigh about 185 pounds, and Van Der Priem, 175.

WOMEN AT WAR.

Stanford Girls Beat Their Berkeley Rivals in Basketball Contest by One-sided Score.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California women lost the second basketball game of the intercollegiate series to Stanford this morning on the Hearst courts, by a score of 15 to 7.

The Stanford team work was the best, while Blue and Gold forwards were wild. Stanford's victory today makes necessary a third game which will be played on the Mills College court next Saturday.

The line-up today follows:

California: Forwards, Kendrick of Los Angeles, Krysto of Famosa, Stanton; centers, Cleveland, Jones and Cassidy; guards, Pinkham of Los Angeles, Brown, Spencer.

Stanford: Forwards, Bundy, Haig, Sampson; centers, Wheelan, Montieth and Hunter; guards, Hayward, Woodhead and Hardeson.

A sure point winner in the Stanford-California freshman meet was lost to California last night when Elbert Vail, holder of the world's interscholastic pole vault record, fractured his ankle. Vail had just cleared 11 feet 5 inches when he descended with such force that his foot was driven clear through the soft earth of the vaulting pit to the hard ground underneath and his ankle gave way. The injury is serious enough to keep him out of the freshman meet, and probably out of the 'varsity.

Winners Show High Class Work and Result Is Not in Doubt at Any Time—Philadelphia Experts Have no Trouble in Beating Riverside Four by Decisive Score.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, March 13.—In the presence of a large and brilliant assemblage of people known in the social world, the annual tournament of the Southern California Polo Association began on the field of the Coronado Country Club this afternoon. The weather was all that could be desired.

Two games were played, each being in the round-robin contest for the Spreckels trophy, which carries with it the championship of the Pacific Coast.

The first game of the tournament was between the celebrated Ranelagh team of England and the Burlingame team, for the past three years champions of the Pacific Coast.

The second game was between the well-known Bryn Mawr team of Pennsylvania, one of the best of the eastern American teams, and the Riverside four.

These contests were anticipated with interest, as it was felt that they would give hints on the playing of the Pacific Coast teams, as compared with the playing of the best eastern American and English teams.

Admirers of the Coast champions were not disappointed, for the Burlingames played a remarkably strong game, defeating the Ranelagh team by the score of 5 to 2 goals. At no time during the game was the final result in doubt. Individually and collectively, the Burlingame players outplayed the Englishmen. The Burlingame ponies, too, showed themselves more enduring.

Of the Englishmen, F. A. Gill was generally regarded as having done the best work. Walter Hobart and Thomas Driscoll showed to especial advantage for the Burlingames. In team work the Ranelagh players appeared to less advantage than the Burlingames.

The East took the second game of the day, Bryn Mawr defeating the Riversides by a score of 6 to 1. After the first period the Riverside team was clearly outclassed. The Bryn Mawr players excelled in team work, and did some of the best hitting of the afternoon.

In the first game, Richard Tobin was badly injured by being struck in the head with a ball batted by Gill. After the wound was dressed Tobin returned to the game.

TAKE EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

Long Beach Athletes Flushed With Victories—Baseball, Basketball and Track Teams Win.

LONG BEACH, March 13.—Long Beach athletes these days seem to be taking everything in sight, neither the baseball team, basketball five, or track team yet having met defeat. Flushed with the baseball and basketball victories of this morning in Los Angeles, the track team, this afternoon, fell upon the Santa Ana High School team and won by fourteen points in a hotly contested programme. Morrison, Dodd and Cranston were the stars of the locals, while to Tedford's all-round work Santa Ana owes an escape from a worse defeat.

The summary:

Half mile—Dodd (L. B.,) won; Stone (L. B.,) second; Manser (S. A.,) third; time 2:12.

The 220-yard run—Tedford (S. A.,) first; Pumphrey (S. A.,) second; L. Middough (L. B.,) third; time 24 1-5s.

Mile run—Dodd (L. B.,) first; Manser (S. A.,) second; Matteson (L. B.,) third; time 4m. 42 2-5s.

The 120-yard hurdles—Wotten (S. A.,) first; Baker (S. A.,) second; Long (L. B.,) third; time 19 2-5s.

The 220-yard hurdles—Baker (S. A.,) first; Cranston (L. B.,) second; Tedford (S. A.,) third; no time taken.

The 100-yard dash—Davis (L. B.,) first; C. Tedford (S. A.,) second; Pumphrey (S. A.,) third; time 10 4-5s.

Pole-vault—Watkins (L. B.,) Quail and Wilson (S. A.,) divided points on tie vault of 9ft. 3in.

The 440-yard dash—L. Middough (L. B.,) first; Davis (L. B.,) second; Williamson (S. A.,) third; time 54 2-5s.

High jump—Wotten (S. A.,) first; Canney (L. B.,) second; Dodd and Richards (L. B.) tie for third; height 5ft. 5½in.

The 880-yards—Dodd (L. B.,) first; Stone (L. B.,) second; Manser (S. A.,) third; no time recorded.

Shot-put—Morrison (L. B.,) first; Matteson (L. B.,) second; Whitson (S. A.,) third; distance 42ft. 10in.

Total score: Long Beach, 61; Santa Ana, 47.

MONROVIA TEAM FIRST.

High School Athletes Defeat the Compton Team in Track Meet by Decisive Score.

MONROVIA, March 13.—The Monrovia High School track squad defeated the Compton High School athletes on the Monrovia grounds this afternoon by a score of 62 to 42. Harvey of Monrovia was point winner for the day, scoring 27. The track was in fine condition and a large crowd witnessed the events. In the fifty-yard dash Bunker of Compton was first; Harvey, Monrovia, second; Garrison, Compton, third. Time, 6s. Other results were as follows:

The 100-yard dash—Harvey, Monrovia, first; Bunker, Compton, second; Whitaker, Monrovia, third. Time, 10 3-5s.

The 220-yard dash—Whitaker, Monrovia, first; Carter, Compton, second; Crandell, Monrovia, third. Time, 28s.

The 440-yard dash—Campbell, Monrovia, first; Crandell, Monrovia, second; Carter, Compton, third. Time, 59s.

Pole vault—Harvey and Boyd, Monrovia, tied for first; Stockwell, Compton, third. Height, 9ft.

MORE EASY BASEBALL.

Crack Transportation Club of San Francisco Shut Out by Berkeley 'Varsity Nine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California 'varsity defeated the crack Transportation Club nine of San Francisco this afternoon on California Field by a score of 2 to 0. Freshman Forker of Bakersfield, who was shifted from left field to the box, proved the surprise of the season, and if he continues his work of today will undoubtedly be the twirler against Stanford. He allowed but two hits, fanned seven men and walked one.

Not a Transportation player got by second, the 'varsity playing errorless ball. The 'varsity scored its two runs in the first inning. Allen doubled, and Leis of Anaheim was hit by the pitcher. Stoner of Bakersfield brought both men in on a single. The score by innings:

INDIANS SCALPED.

TRIMMED BY ORANGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ORANGE, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a score of 5 to 4, the Orange High School defeated the Sherman Indians in a well-played game here this afternoon, in which Hinrichs, the High School pitcher, struck out fourteen of the visitors and allowed but two hits. Falling on Jackson, the Indian pitcher, for four safe drives in the fourth inning, Orange forced over four runs and practically cinched the game.

The Indians scored one each in the first and third and put two more over in the seventh, tying the score. Hinrichs won his own game in the ninth by scoring on his own single, an error and a single by Shoemaker.

The teams lined up as follows:

FLATULENCY OR WIND ON STOMACH

As It Is Commonly Named, Means That Decaying Food Is Making Gas

This most serious condition is very prevalent and results most distressingly and fatally oftentimes. The stomach in cases of flatulency is unable to digest the food properly. Decay sets in, gases form, extend the stomach, force their way downward into the bowels, and if not relieved it extends upward, pressing against the lungs, liver and heart, causing shortness of breath, belching, foul odors and many times sudden death.

Foods which are filled with gases, when taken into a deranged stomach, cause flatulency rapidly, vegetables being especially given to this quality. Against such a condition the stomach can do but little, because these foul and poisonous gases affect its glands, muscles and tissues to such a degree as to incapacitate it almost at once.

These gases distend the stomach in all directions, preventing the contracting muscles from doing their regular duties, or if they do force the gas from the stomach it goes elsewhere in the system with ever more harassing results, and then the decaying mass still remains to generate more gases.

The most effective methods for allaying flatulency is to remove the cause of gas making. An emetic will do this, but the stomach will have the same trouble the moment new food enters it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets get at gas food at once, digest it, prevent decay, quickly reduce food to nourishment, make good rich gastric fluid and pass the digested food to the intestines, giving the stomach its rest and the system its nourishment. Flatulency simply cannot exist where these little tablets are used. They build up the stomach fluids so that it matters not how many vegetables you eat or food containing quantities of gas, the stomach does its work well and quickly.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere and used the whole world over by sick stomachs and stomachs that want to eat heartily and yet not get sick.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price 50 cents per box. The demand for these little digesters is constantly increasing. Forty thousand physicians in America and Canada use them and prescribe them. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. WISE TALKS

By The "Office Boy"

The most abject failure that ever succeeded in life is the man who thinks of nothing but the accumulation of wealth. And yet you have envied him and wished to stand in his stead. You have paused before his mansion and cursed the fortune that denied you the right to have what he possesses—his worthless hoard of unspent and unspendable money. He can buy a thousand shares of bank stock as readily as you can purchase a crimson cravat. He can own the site of a city as easily as you can take title to your allotted six feet of peace-earth. But with all his wealth, he can't buy what you possess—youth and the opportunity to turn existence into life. Life has cheated him by teaching him to cheat himself. He's a slave shackled to the most worthless ambition that ever dulled a soul. His daily path runs in a straight line from his desk to his bed. The only book he knows is his ledger. Fate is old, wise and cunning. Every time she thinks of him, she grins. Every time she looks at him, she winks. Now it's too late. He's too old to know. All the poetry, beauty and wonder of his days are gone. He ran past them too fast to read. For thirty years he planned tomorrow—the only thing that never comes. He has deadened every sense except that of acquisition, and wealth unused is merely poverty. The next time you pass his home, think it over—the laugh is on him, for you are the rich man. Mr. Hynes is one of the leading corporation lawyers of the Middle West and a fine speaker. He has been a regular winter visitor to Southern California for seventeen years. While he has no intention of abandoning his residence in Chicago, he has become so enamored of this climate that he proposes to spend every winter here, and has just negotiated the purchase of a beautiful home in Los Angeles.

The following programme will be given, D. F. McLaughlin, Division President, being chairman, and Hon. M. J. McGarry, State President, toastmaster: "The President of the United States," Rev. Joseph S. Glass; vocal solo, Leo V. McLaughlin; "California," Paul J. McCormick; vocal solo, Miss Maude Kearney; harp solo, Mrs. Tessie Cooke Haskins; "Ancient Order of Hibernians," P. J. O'Connor, County President; vocal solo, Charles A. King; "The Day We Celebrate," Hon William J. Hynes, Chicago; vocal solo, James P. Burns; "Womanhood of Ireland," Bishop Conaty.

The Committee on Arrangements consists of D. Joseph Coyne, chairman; J. R. Dwyer, P. F. McCarthy, Philip O'Brien, C. Hickson, P. J. O'Connor, D. F. McLaughlin and F. Tynan.

DEATH TO HER RELIEF.

Daughter of Denver Newspaper Owner, Long an Invalid, Expires in Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. L. Claiborne, daughter of Fred Bonfils, the chief owner of the Denver Post, died in this city yesterday, after having been an invalid four years. Her husband, who is one of the chief officers of the United States Secret Service, was notified last evening at Goldfield, and started at once for Los Angeles.

Mrs. Claiborne was married nine years. Immediately after her marriage she left for Germany and did not see her husband for three years, or until she returned to Denver. The couple were separated by the duties of Mr. Claiborne calling him to the high altitudes, where the wife could not live. The interment will be in Denver.

"GLAD-HAND" EXCURSION.

The Chamber of Commerce "Glad-Hand" excursion to Yuma, the 29th inst., promises to be a great success. Secretary Wiggins had a number of inquiries yesterday and it is expected that there will be no difficulty in filling the special train. The Yuma citizens will give a barbecue, the 30th and will provide exhibition ball games, parades, etc. The party will reach the Imperial Valley the following day and remaining there for the day.

MEMORIAL BUILDING PLANNED.

Call Sent Out to Volunteer Veterans of Civil War to Support Patriotic Movement.

To secure the support of local members of the Grand Army of the Republic in a movement to erect a memorial building in this city, the president of the Patriotic Association has sent out this call:

"Every volunteer veteran of the Civil War, who would bequeath to his descendants a legacy of honorable service, to be perpetuated by an appreciative people, now enjoying the blessings of an undivided country—made possible by his patriotic sacrifices during the long years of the war between the States—is earnestly requested to send his name, regiment, and present address to Dr. Charles E. Case, president Patriotic Association, G.A.R., No. 415½ South Spring street, with a view to furthering the erection of a 'Memorial Building' in Los Angeles, to be forever dedicated to patriotism and the perpetuation of the United States government in its entirety.

"At the close of the National G.A.R. encampment at Salt Lake City, in August, we propose entertaining thousands of our comrades from the East and Middle West here in Los Angeles. Won't you enroll with us now to greet them?"

NEEDS MORE CURRENT.

Colton Company Demands More Electricity—Ball Given for Benefit of Library Fund.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

COLTON, March 13.—Several representatives of the Edison Electric Company were here today to assist the city officials in the matter of supplying the new line for the Pacific Fruit Express. As the many additional buildings are nearing completion, there is a demand for a heavier line and more current. The express company asked that the city figure on a permanent line.

A grand ball was given this evening in Masonic Hall for the benefit of the Carnegie library fund. The members of the library board with their wives formed the reception committee, namely, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hebberd, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Eisenmayer, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith. The Committee on Arrangements was Prof. G. M. Green, Seth Hartley, J. R. Boynton, C. B. Fuller, E. C. Merryfield. The floor managers, E. B. Wilkerson, C. B. Fuller, J. R. Boynton. Music was furnished by the Colton Band.

The Colton Stars and the High School team played a benefit ball game this afternoon, the proceeds to be donated to the library fund.

J. B. Hanna, N. Davenport and A. D. Spring left today for an over-Sunday visit in Los Angeles.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, March 13.—It is proposed to soon make a fine tennis court in the park. Golf links are also being talked of. With the increase of visitors it is imperative for Elsinore to look out, not only for the physical comforts of the guests but for their amusement as well.

A flourishing and rapidly-growing public library is much appreciated by a large number of patrons.

The Order of the Eastern Star, which is very strong here, will hold a notable meeting Tuesday evening when Mrs. Anna N. Johnson of San Francisco, Worthy Grand Matron, will pay an official visit. A banquet will follow.

The Elsinore Valley Whist Club met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Powell on Graham avenue. Refreshments were served and a musical programme enjoyed. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. S. I. Powell and the gentlemen's by N. L. Dickson.

Among recent arrivals at the Lakeview Inn are R. T. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. L. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cotton, Miss Ivah F. Patterson, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Bell, George D. Dutton, William Battern, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Robinson, San Diego.

Bundy Hot Springs arrivals are R. C. Gillis, J. J. Davis, L. Bundy, E. J. Prouse, D. L. McFarland, I. O. Odell, Los Angeles; C. A. Bailey, San Diego; Alester Cummins, W. T. Collum, F. H. Osler and Bessie Osler, Pomona; Chris Belton and wife, Robert Lett, Mrs. Omar Thurp, Riverside; Mrs. Theresa G. Davis, Redlands; Mrs. C. M. Dominy, Long Beach; Henry Wood, Pasadena; George H. Field, Hollywood.

FOR AMBASSADOR BRYCE.

President Booth of the Chamber of Commerce, appointed Joseph Scott, Charles Sumner and H. T. Lee yesterday as a committee to welcome Hon. James Bryce, Ambassador from England, when he arrives in Los Angeles, Thursday. The chamber is not preparing any reception or other form of welcome. The Ambassador will speak before the City Club Thursday evening at No. 1044 South Hope street.

WILLARD OUT OF DANGER.

C. D. Willard was able to sit up yesterday in his office, and the physicians attending announce that he is out of all immediate danger, and will be removed to his home in Pasadena today or tomorrow.

Are Caused By Blood Impurity Which May Be Removed in a Few Days by Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Trial Package Sent Free.

Why suffer boils, pimples, blackheads, tetter, eczema, rash, scabby skin and eruptions of all sorts, when you may by the simple act of letter writing bring to you proof that blood may be purified in a few days or weeks at the latest?

Stuart's Calcium Wafers contain the most powerful blood purifier known to science—Calcium Sulphide. They contain other known purifiers, each having a distinct and peculiar office to perform.

Instead of a face full of pimples, or a body which is assailed with boils or eruptions, you may enjoy, if you will, a skin normally clean and clear by the simple use of Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

They act almost like magic, so rapid is their work of purity done.

You know the blood is pumped through the lungs every breath. The air purifies it.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers help the lungs do their work by segregating the impurities so that the lungs may enrich the blood.

Then they carry off the waste poisons and decay through the bowels. There is no need for months and years of treatment. Calcium Sulphide is so powerful, yet so harmless, that the blood feels its beneficial influence immediately.

Printed words are cold praise, especially when you praise your own product and offer it for sale, but here is an opportunity of proving this praise by your own judgment without cost. Send us your name and address, no matter how serious your skin trouble may be, and we will send you a trial package of Stuart's Calcium Wafers by mail free. It is wholly a matter for your approval. Thousands of people have used these little wafers with success, and their praise is our testimonial. Every druggist carries them in stock. Every physician knows what Calcium Sulphide will do. He will prescribe it as a blood purifier and charge for the prescription. Here is the best method of using Calcium Sulphide, and you may test it free. Go to your druggist today and buy a package of Stuart's Calcium Wafers, price 50c, or write us and we will send you a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 175 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

DIZZINESS A DANGER SIGNAL

Forerunners of More Serious Conditions of the Alimentary Tract

Invariably flatulence and dizziness indicate the beginning of serious troubles, stomach and intestine troubles usually follow which sooner or later develop symptoms of an alarming nature. Catarrh of the stomach, gastritis, constipation, piles, liver troubles and a general breakdown of the health usually follow these symptoms when left to run their full course. When the stomach is not performing its proper duty the rest of the system is sure to suffer. As it is a well-known fact that the stomach feeds the rest of the body and organs, therefore many other diseases may arise, either directly or indirectly from disorder of the stomach.

Whenever there is the slightest indication of flatulence or dizziness noticed it should be cared for at once that it may not develop more dangerous symptoms. Charcoal is an excellent remedy for the stomach, relieving flatulence by absorbing the poisonous gases that accumulate in the stomach, and aiding digestion and assimilation; it has a specific action upon this organ, and a very rapid and positive action on the system in general.

Charcoal has been used for several thousand years, both as a stomach regulator and an antidote for poisons taken in the stomach. The success of charcoal is unquestionable. The only remaining question is to get charcoal in the most convenient and palatable form. The F. A. Stuart Co. manufacture a charcoal lozenge composed of young willow wood charcoal and pure honey, making this valuable product convenient, palatable and perfectly harmless. A sample will be sent upon request, or Stuart's Charcoal Tablets can be had at any drug store. Price 25c per box. The F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Backache? It's Your Kidneys

When the Kidneys Are Diseased the Whole System Becomes Deranged, Complications Set in and Serious Results Are Sure to Follow.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Mr. C. E. Mackey, a prominent citizen of Vicksburg, Miss., who was Vice-President of the Howard Association for the relief of Yellow Fever sufferers, was cured of kidney, liver and bladder troubles by Warner's Safe Cure. Recently Mr. Mackey wrote: "While acting President of the Howard Association for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers, of which society I was Vice-President, I was obliged to expose myself to the disease while forwarding nurses and supplies to the stricken districts, where they were dying like sheep—the death rate 80 per cent. daily.

"On the 9th of November I was stricken with the disease, just as the weather was getting cooler, and at first I was doing well, but through improper food had a relapse and was given up to die. After a hard fight I was convalescing, when I was taken with typhoid fever, and was again at death's door. When I was able to be up again I was a walking skeleton. My stomach, liver, kidneys and bladder were in a very bad condition. There was a thick, bloody sediment in the urine, with pain in my back.

"About this time I commenced taking Warner's Safe Cure, which gave me great relief from the start, and after taking it for a time I was completely restored to health. I can truthfully say it is a boon to suffering humanity—that is, those afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles, for I know of my own certain knowledge of your great remedy, Warner's Safe Cure, for kidney and bladder troubles. It was a godsend to me to get hold of it.

"If you wish, write any of our reputable citizens and from them learn that I have simply stated facts."

TEST YOUR KIDNEYS

Put some morning urine in a glass or bottle, let it stand 24 hours. If there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, your kidneys are diseased and you should get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure at once.

ANALYSIS FREE

If after making this test you have any doubt as to the development of the disease in your system, send a sample of your urine, putting your name and address on the package, to our Medical Department, and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report, with advice, and medical booklet free.

When the kidneys are diseased the uric acid is not carried off, and this causes Gout, Lumbago, Rheumatism of the Joints, Rheumatism of the Muscles, Rheumatism of the Heart, Rheumatism everywhere. Warner's Safe Cure drives out the uric acid.

In kidney disease the bowels are often constipated and the liver torpid. Warner's Safe Pills quickly relieve this condition, and no ill after effect is experienced.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists at 50 CENTS and $1.00 a BOTTLE. Refuse substitutes containing harmful drugs which injure the system.

Trial Bottle Free To convince every sufferer from disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Times. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed.

Women Who Esteem Pe-ru-na Highly

Mrs. Gray, of Wisconsin. Troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for many years.

Miss Johnson, of New York. Had a bronchial trouble for some months, and chronic sore throat.

Miss Bougard, of Brooklyn. Was afflicted for two years with catarrh of the throat.

Mrs. O'Byrne, of Kansas. Has used Peruna in her household a good many years.

MRS. L. A. GRAY.
MISS HARRIET JOHNSON
MISS MAUD BOUGARD.

MRS. LENA O'BYRNE.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLE.

Miss Harriet Johnson, 124 Lark St., Albany, N. Y., writes:

"I had bronchial trouble for some months and nothing did me any good until I took Peruna, which I took for three months. I felt in much better health in every way after I had used it six weeks.

"My throat had always been an annoyance to me, and each cold would aggravate the trouble, but since I took Peruna I have not had a bit of trouble with my bronchial tubes, and as this was many months ago, I feel that it will not return."

CATARRH OF EARS.

Mrs. William Bowman, R. F. D. 1, Coon Rapids, Iowa, writes: "Some time ago I wrote you about my little boy, Clarence, five years of age. He was troubled with his ears. They were very sensitive to the touch, and he was quite deaf at times. He seemed to be worse after catching cold. I was very much afraid he would lose his hearing entirely. He was getting more deaf every day.

"I wrote to you for advice, and you prescribed Peruna. I began giving it to him, and can now say that he is entirely cured. He is now well and hearty and can hear perfectly."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

Mrs. Lena O'Byrne, 626 Madison St., Topeka, Kan., writes:

"We have used Peruna in our household for a good many years. I took it for a cough and a tonic. My husband used it and thinks there is nothing like it for hay fever, from which he suffered for years.

"I also give it to my children for coughs and colds, and my daughter, Mary, was cured of catarrh of the head by Peruna. It certainly is a medicine of unquestioned merit."

Head and Throat Now Clear.

Miss Maud Bougard, 260 12th St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I was afflicted for two years with catarrh of the throat. At first it was very slight, but every cold I took made it worse.

"I followed your directions, and in a very short time I began to improve. I took one bottle and am now taking my second. I can safely say that my throat and head are cleared from catarrh at the present time, but I still continue to take my usual doses for a spring tonic and I find there is nothing better.

"Words cannot express how thankful I feel for my cure, as I did not know the comfort of a good night's sleep till now. I was continually bothered with my breathing. I could scarcely breathe through my nose at all. But now I go to bed and sleep the whole night through without any trouble."

"A Healthy Woman Today, Thanks to Pe-ru-na."

Mrs. L. A. Gray, 137 Main St., Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I was troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for so many years that I thought there was no cure for it, and that I would have to go on suffering to the end of my days.

"When I caught cold my head and throat would be so stopped up that I could hardly breathe, and there was a dropping in my throat which was very nauseating, and made my breath bad and my stomach all out of order.

"Mother suggested that I try Peruna, as she knew of some people who had used it with beneficial results.

"I bought a couple of bottles and decided to see what it would do for me. I did not take many doses before I knew I had the right medicine, and am pleased to say that in less than two months all the catarrh was gone.

"I am a healthy woman today, thanks to Peruna."

SUNSET PARK BEAUTIFIED.

Tree Planting Ceremonies Attract Many.

Arbor Day Orators Talk of City Beautiful.

Prominent Citizens Honored in Ceremonies.

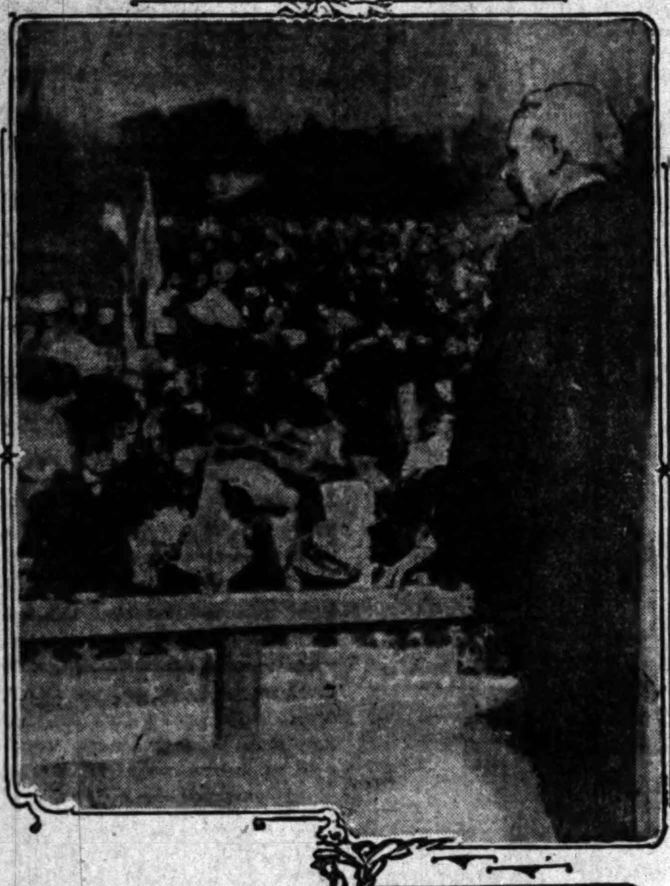
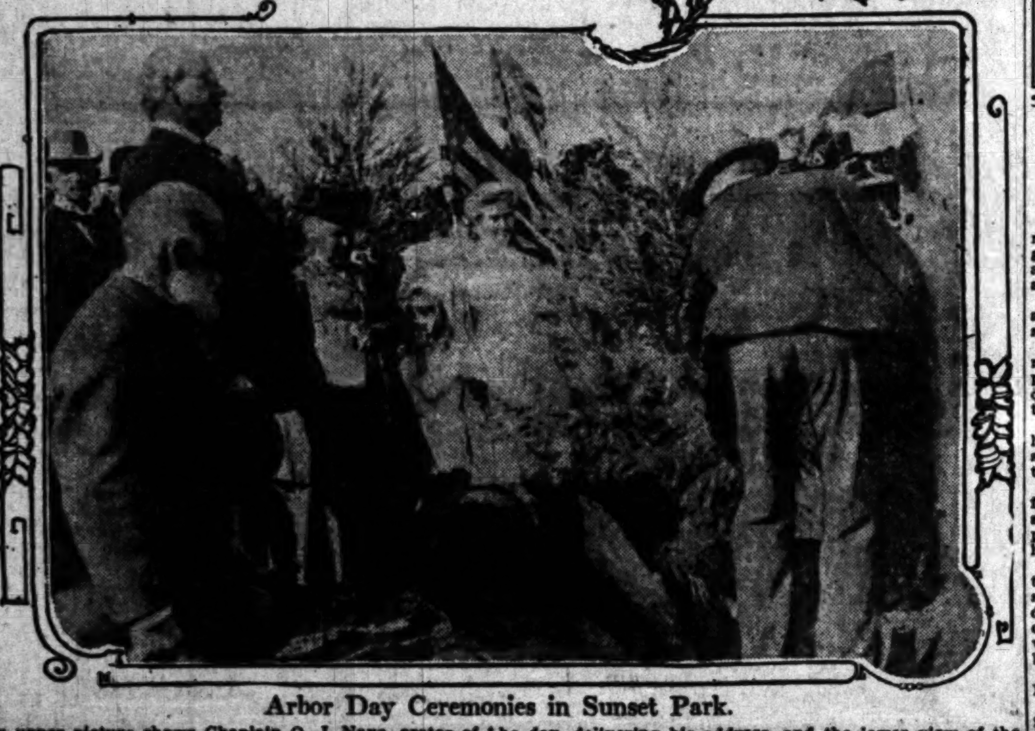
Yesterday was ideal for the deferred ceremonies of Arbor Day, and the turnout was creditable. With two bands, a number of decorated automobiles and carriages, and three tallyho coaches furnished by the city, the parade attracted much attention as it wended its day down Broadway, and west on Seventh street.

Sunset Park, where the ceremonies were held, and the trees planted, is located at the junction of Wilshire boulevard and Hoover street, and on the beautiful lawn, dotted with magnificent palms, pines, and ornamental trees, a stand had been erected for the speakers. A large crowd of enterprising men and women, representing the Arbor Day Association, and the various clubs and patriotic organizations of the city, gathered in the parks and enthusiastically participated in the ceremonies.

These tree plantings are in many instances no perfunctory thing, and the setting of the tree was sometimes marked by deep emotion on the part of those who formed the circle and heard the words of praise spoken for those who were honored.





Arbor Day Ceremonies in Sunset Park.

The upper picture shows Chaplain O. J. Nave, orator of the day, delivering his address, and the lower view of the planting of the Fremont tree.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

Chaplain O. J. Nave, orator of the day, spoke in glowing metaphor of "The City Beautiful," of its magnificent natural surroundings and its sun-kissed climate, and of the obligation of citizens to make it worthy the name. He declared that the beautifying of Los Angeles depends not solely upon the planting of trees, but in the elimination of trolley poles, unsightly billboards and disgraceful vacant lots.

"I have been wondering how it comes," said Chaplain Nave, "that the billboard fiend has not found this beautiful spot, and fenced it in with billboards."

He related a dream in which he saw the billboard man run down by an automobile, and when he applied for admittance at the golden gates he was refused, for fear he would besmirch the landscape with unsightly boards, and being referred to the other place, the devil rejected him for fear the torrid atmosphere would be defiled with the fumes of whisky signs.

"This is the best advertised, the most believed in city in the world, and if there is a city on the face of the earth that should be bright and beautiful and attractive, it is Los Angeles."

HARMONY IN ORNAMENTATION.

Dr. E. J. Harper, City Forester, said that Los Angeles, like Topsy, "just growed," and, unfortunately, the growth was anything but systematic. Dr. Harper said, in part:

"Los Angeles is destined to be a city of 1,000,000 people; our development is just begun, and we should now begin planning for a harmony of beautification that will make Los Angeles the Paris of the New World. We have a climate more suited to ornamentation than that of Paris, and a soil that will grow anything. With the coming of Owens River we shall have all the water that we need for the proper care of trees and ornamental shrubs. Real estate values are constantly advancing, and we should now, while they are comparatively cheap, arrange for broad boulevards and tree-lined streets. All new streets should as far as possible follow the contour of the land. Many of our beautiful hills have been marred by cutting straight lines through them, instead of following the graceful lines that nature made for us. We should never under any circumstances permit a street narrow than eighty feet. We need sunshine and fresh air, and we cannot afford to permit narrow streets that will some time in the future shut these elements of health from our citizens. We should even now widen many of our thoroughfares and cut others through certain sections of the city to the civic center. By all means we should, in our plans, care for the natural beauty spots that we possess. For instance, the Arroyo Seco is a beauty spot of inestimable value, and yet we are asleep as to its worth, and are permitting it to be taken from us for private gain. Many of the arroyos and brancas of the western part of the city could, and should be used for sunken gardens and breathing places that would add a charm, and give distinctive character to Los Angeles.

"The work I am pleading for will some day be done, but it can be done cheaper now than in the future. Many of the cities of America are now spending millions for widening streets and securing parks, where thousands would have been sufficient had reasonable foresight been used in planning for the future.

"We should now begin the grouping of our public buildings around a center and hold tenaciously to the plan. Around them should be large spaces with grass and trees and ornamental shrubs. It will cost money to be sure, but it will pay a hundred times over.

"Our railway stations and their approaches are anything but creditable to us. By all means we should have a union depot and the street leading from it into the city should be a great esplanade. The first impression is a very lasting one, and the impressions now made on tourists as they step off the trains is anything but pleasing. They look at shabby depots and on crooked and narrow streets lined by poorly-built buildings. If there is a city in the land that demands a great union station it is certainly Los Angeles."

Dr. Harper contended for many other things destined to beautify the city and said the citizens should demand that all street trees be placed under the control of the City Forester and that the city pay for the care of the trees.

PLANTING THE TREES.

The first trees planted were five stalwart redwoods, dedicated to soldiers. They stand well in the midst of the sunken park, and when fully grown will form a group of magnificent trees.

President Haskett of the Arbor Day Association, announced that the first tree, while dedicated to Gen. John C. Fremont, would be a memorial to his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Benton Fremont, who is a resident of the city, the dedication being made by Chaplain Nave; the second, to Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, by Gilbert D. Munson; the third, to Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, by W. D. Stephens; the fourth, to Gen. Wint, and the fifth, to Capt. F. D. Ramsey, by John W. Mitchell, in the absence of Gen. Chaffee. A tree to Luther Burbank, by Dr. L. E. Landone, and one to Christopher Columbus, by Joseph Scott, completed the seven special trees announced.

Around each of these the crowd assembled and listened to the brief sketches of the men honored, and then broke into groups to engage in the general planting, as time would not permit the other plan to be carried out to the end. Other trees were planted as follows: Stanton Post, No. 55, G. A.R.; Bartlett-Logan Post, No. 6, G. A.R.; Kenesaw Post, Sons of Veterans, Rosecrans No. 4; Spanish War Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Stanton Relief Corps, No. 16; Bartlett-Logan Relief Corps, Kenesaw Relief Corps, Auxiliary to Sons of Veterans, Columbia Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Uncle Sam Relief Corps; Union Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Lawton Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Union Veteran Legion, Los Angeles Patriotic Association, Los Angeles Humane Society, Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones; Amelia Dent, Jonathan Dent, by a neighbor; Mayor A. C. Harper, W. M. Humphreys; W. M. Humphreys, Dr. W. A. Lamb; Political Equality League, to Harriet Beecher Stowe; Junipero Serra, Charles F. Lummis; Robt. E. ## HOROSCOPE.

Sunday, March 14, 1909.

BY COZETTE.

Beware of sudden heats impelled by Mars.
A kindly sign is o'er the sister stars.

On this 73d day of the year the moon is in the third quarter and in greatest libration and ruled by earthy and movable Capricorn. Venus is in sextile with Mars.

Mercury is in sextile with the moon and in benefic aspect. The sun is in square.

The planets govern the relations of men and women with an influence so potent that there is danger of sudden quarrel and hot dispute, even over trifling occasions.

Except for this, the sign is unusually happy for all dealings between the sexes, and especially so in matters of the heart.

At 9:15 a.m. the hour should be good for barley, sciatica-wort, quince, flaxseed, comfrey and Solomon's Seal, all plants indicated by the old lore of herbs being under Saturn.

Timid lovers should gather their determination today and seek for answer. The twenty-four hours are indicated as brilliantly fortunate for courtships, engagements, weddings, wedding journeys and domestic celebrations.

Write important letters this day. Make short journeys.

Surgeons and physicians should be fortunate in alleviating ills especially those of women.

Ask favors. Deal with superiors. Approach magistrates and other persons in power or authority.

Women with this birthdate will do well to obey their intuition that impels them to flee from coarseness or commonness. Those in employment will have an unusual opportunity during the twelvemonth.

Prosperity appears indicated for men with this birthdate. They must avoid double-dealing.

The aspect over children born this day is for dissipation of energy. They will have abundant force, but will be inclined to spend it by attempts in too many directions. Girls may prove too talkative. Boys must learn to concentrate and to finish each task before another is begun.

PASADENA.

TO CHASE WIFE THROUGH AIR.

NOVEL FEATURE PROMISED FOR WEEK OF SPORTS.

Another Transcontinental Balloon Race Is to Start from the Crown City—Lack of Volunteers Causes Financial Receipts of Tag Day to Be Less Than Expected.

Office of The Times. No. 26 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, March 14.—A carnival of sports is to be held at Tournament Park this week, beginning tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and ending late Saturday afternoon.

A baseball game between the Chicago White Sox and the Los Angeles Angels is to be played Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and arrangements are now being made for another game between the teams later in the week.

The Circle Stars and Black Cross teams are to play a game of pushball on horseback Tuesday. They played a tie game New Year's Day, and another close one a few weeks ago. The game is interesting, and these are the only teams in Southern California.

The Out West Club is to give one of its exhibitions of western riding, hold-ups, and other features, Wednesday afternoon. Jake de Rosier, one of the fastest motorcycle riders in the world, is to give a "dare-devil" exhibition on Wednesday, on his powerful and especially constructed machines. This event should furnish all the speed and excitement desired by any audience.

Gentlemen's driving exhibition and matinée races are to be held Thursday afternoon, and it is expected some of the best horses of California will be entered.

Races, a field and track meet, pushball on foot, and other collegiate sports, will be under the direction of George Braden of Occidental. The pushball game will probably be between the teams of Pasadena High and Throop, and the students of the various schools are to take part in the other contests.

Saturday afternoon three companies of infantry, one of cavalry, one of Spanish War Veterans and the Signal Corps men are to participate in a sham battle. After the battle the signal corps will give an exhibition of signaling with flags and other instruments.

-ld:C;nl mJDhfS ualqMy

The baseball diamond has been put into the best of condition for the games. The outfield has been clipped and all possible obstructions have been removed. Other features may be added to the programme by the committee tomorrow.

AERONAUTICAL EXHIBITIONS.

One of the largest features of the carnival is to be the aëronautical exhibitions by Roy Knabenshue and Capt. Mueller. The balloons, United States and American are now being inflated at Tournament Park and will be on exhibition Monday. Passengers are to be taken up Tuesday afternoon and on Saturday another transcontinental race is to be attempted.

Capt. Mueller is confident that he will have a much more successful trip than the one from Los Angeles, and expects to at least get as far as the western slope of the Mississippi Valley. In the first trip Capt. Mueller had most of his trouble with the wind currents blowing in a circle over Los Angeles, and believes that in rising from Pasadena, he will at once strike an eastern current that will carry him across the mountains and desert. Mueller is to pilot one of the large balloons, but the pilot for the other has not yet been selected.

NOVELTY PROMISED.

On Wednesday afternoon Roy Knabenshue, assisted by Mrs. Knabenshue, is to present quite a novelty in the line of sports. In the airship Fairy his wife is to ascend and sail out towards Los Angeles. Knabenshue is to start in pursuit after a few minutes and endeavor to head his "runaway" wife and chase her back to the park. The spectacle will be one that has never been tried before and the sight of a man chasing his wife through the air will be interesting.

Knabenshue is to make an attempt to break the record for remaining in the air in a dirigible balloon. The record is four hours and five minutes, and he thinks he will establish a much longer record.

On Friday afternoon he is to attempt a flight from Pasadena to the top of Mt. Wilson by the way of Eaton Cañon. Knabenshue has made a trip to the top of the mountain and selected the place where he will endeavor to land. He will try to make the round trip, but if it is found to be impossible the machine will be brought back on pack mules.

If Knabenshue should fail in either his Thursday or Friday trips, he will make another attempt at it on Saturday. Other flights over Pasadena will be taken on Monday and Tuesday.

Nearly $750 was gathered through the medium of the annual tag day yesterday of the Finance Committee of the Emergency League. Lack of volunteers to sell tags in the city streets was the cause of such a small amount being obtained.

Mrs. W. F. Knight, who is in charge of the finances of the league, said last night that the effort had been a much greater success than last year, but that it had not come up to expectations.

In the midst of the sale yesterday, a call came for aid from a family in need of food and clothes, and the Investigations Committee left the work of selling tags and went to the rescue of the needy ones.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Ballington Booth will speak at the Presbyterian Church this evening and not this morning.

Melville Trotter, the well-known evangelist, will address a meeting for men at the First Methodist Church this afternoon. He will speak at the First Christian Church this evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Mission.

PLOWS HIS DOWNFALL?

George Folsom of Los Angeles is in jail here awaiting trial on a charge of stealing plows. The value of the goods he is accused of stealing enables a charge of grand larceny to be laid against him.

CLERK IS CORRECT.

Assistant City Attorney Honberger has handed down an opinion that the official city ballot, as published by City Clerk Dyer is correct. It will not be changed for the coming election, although both sides wish it would. According to the ticket, there are no parties but all candidates run independently and their names appear in alphabetical order.

AGAINST SPEEDERS.

The police are making a vigorous campaign against automobilists who run their cars at a dangerous rate of speed.

Remarkable Reunion.

F. D. Foss, chauffeur for R. F. Carmen, a race-horse owner who lives at No. 430 West Colorado street, was yesterday fined $15 for speeding his automobile, but when he found that his fine was so large he decided that he was not so guilty as he thought he was at first and asked for time to consult an attorney. Although the court believed the act to be decidedly out of the ordinary, Foss was allowed until Monday to give his side of the case. He said he did not have $15 with him and that his employer told him not to pay a higher fine than $10.

PLANS FOR CANTATA.

Plans are nearly completed for the cantata which is to be given by the choir of the First Christian Church on the 23d inst. A chorus of fifty voices will sing and four of the leading vocalists of the city will be heard in the rendition of Cowen's "Rose Maiden." Miss Frances Boynton, soprano; Nuncie S. Bittman, contralto; Harry Clifford Lott, baritone, and Paul Lacey, tenor, will be the soloists.

TENDERS RECEPTION.

One of the events of the Lenten season was the reception given by Miss Anna B. Orton for the senior and junior classes of the English Classical School on Friday night. The reception and dining-rooms of the school were decorated in Shasta daisies and greenery. The gymnasium was trimmed with pennants and school colors. Among those present were Misses Redden, Cassell, Roberts, Mhoon, Hoffman, Ellsworth, Freudenstein, Barker, Webster, Tew, Cameron, Wilson, Grimes, Ballard, Fay, Thompson, Daugherty, Green, Weese, Starkweather, Currier; Messrs. ## SOLDIERS' HOME MUCH RICHER.

CONGRESS GIVES TO IT NEARLY SIXTY-FOUR THOUSAND.

This Donation Is in Addition to the Three Hundred and Seventy-seven Thousand Hitherto Appropriated for Maintenance During Fiscal Year—Recent Deaths.

SOLDIERS' HOME, March 13.—In a letter just received by Gov. Cochrane, from headquarters in New York, he is officially notified that Congress has conceded every item of the special appropriation asked for by this branch. This includes a building to be used as the commissary storehouse, which will cost $17,000; remodeling laundry building, $5000; water pipe line in Mandeville Cañon, $20,000; cast-iron pipe line from Lake Brown to the Hose Junction, $9600; iron fence to inclose the home, $12,200.

The regular appropriation for maintenance of the Pacific branch for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, amounts to $377,000, apportioned as follows: Current expenses, $53,000; subsistence, $157,000; household, $59,000; hospital, $48,000; transportation, $3000; repairs, $45,000; farm, $12,000.

This home is in possession of water rights in Mandeville Cañon. During this year 19,400 feet of cast-iron pipe were laid beyond the headworks to swell the supply at this point. As a result, Chief Engineer Dobbings said today that, whereas, one year ago the flow registered 77,760 gallons a day, it is now 970,444 gallons.

The special appropriation will make possible the laying of five miles of large pipe from the headworks via the reservoirs to the home junction, which is expected to double the present flow. The water is used for irrigation of the farm, garden, parks and lawn.

The hotel and restaurant, now in readiness, will be opened on Monday. A woman chef is in charge and, for the present, but one girl will shout meal orders from the dining-room. The apartments in the hotel are tastefully furnished, and will prove a welcome convenience to friends and relatives who desire to spend a few days visiting veterans.

Pensioners will be paid on Tuesday, for the quarter ended March 4. As a consequence, applications for furloughs are already flooding the office.

The president of the board of managers, Maj. Wadsworth and Inspector-General Elwell will arrive here on Tuesday.

RECENT DEATHS.

Michael J. Aikin, late Co. E, First Ohio Infantry, a native of Ohio, admitted from Los Angeles in 1902, died March 10, aged 82.

Judson B. Taft, late Co. B, First Wisconsin Cavalry, a native of New York, admitted from Chicago in 1902, died March 12, aged 76.

Former Bloomfield Women Entertained at Redondo—Postmaster Receives His Commission.

REDONDO, March 13.—Mrs. E. L. Chrisman entertained eight ladies today at a reunion of Bloomfield, Ill., friends, which was rather remarkable. The nine women were friends in Bloomfield when children and all are within a few years of being the same age. Five have since moved to Los Angeles county and continued the friendship ever since. The ladies are Mrs. E. L. Chrisman, Redondo; Mrs. Carl McStay, Mrs. Cora Cavins, Mrs. Georgia Wheaten, Mrs. F. C. Smith, Mrs. Margaret Brock, Los Angeles; Mrs. George Cravins, Bloomfield, Ill.; Mrs. William Huff, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Harold Arnold, Mackinac, Mich.

S. D. Barkley, the well-known politician and member of the Redondo Board of Trustees, received his commission to the postmastership of Redondo Beach from Theodore Roosevelt today. Mr. Barkley was appointed January 6. He will assume charge of the office Tuesday or Wednesday, succeeding Mrs. Laura J. Hannon, holder of the office for the past fourteen years.

STEPS BEFORE PASSENGER CAR.

WEED-BURNING GANG SEES ONE COMRADE KILLED.

Twelve Volunteers, Including Son of Former Senator and Also a Woman Will Today Contribute Cuticle to Help Save Life of Girl Who Was Fearfully Burned.

SANTA MONICA, March 13.—Charles Burg, who was employed with the weed-burning gang of the Los Angeles-Pacific Company, was struck and killed by a passenger coach of that company shortly after noon today. The weed burner was in operation near Ivy station, on the Venice division, and it seems that Burg had some business in connection with the operation of the device that took him to the rear end of the car. Unfortunately a passenger car was approaching from the opposite direction as Burg stepped onto the track parallel to the one on which the mogul and the weed burner were traveling. The car was so close upon Burg that it could not be stopped before striking him, and if he saw the car he evidently had not the time in which to get out of its way. The injured man was hurried to the Santa Monica Bay Hospital, where he died an hour after arriving there. Deceased was 30 years of age, has no relatives in California, so far as is known. He came West from Michigan.

Twelve volunteers will present themselves at the Santa Monica Hospital tomorrow morning for the purpose of contributing so much of their cuticle as the surgeons may deem necessary for the preservation of the life of Miss Lou Reynolds, the Santa Monica girl of 14 years who was fearfully burned by a coal-oil fire a few weeks ago. Among those who have volunteered for this cause are Roy Jones, son of former United States Senator Jones; Frank Lawton, commodore of the Playa del Rey fleet, and Mrs. Coulon of the Santa Monica Cañon Tent City. The victim of the fire was left destitute of skin from the knees to the waist. There were other burns, but these are recovering without contributions, and the operation tomorrow will be for the purpose of renewing the skin on one leg. At a subsequent day there will be volunteers for a second treatment.

SANTA MONICA NOTES.

Business men, capitalists and investors are invited to meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of considering the Arcadia-Kensington hotel proposition.

The South Pasadena High School baseball team defeated the Santa Monica High School nine this afternoon. The score was 5 to 4. The game to be played here tomorrow afternoon will be between the Santa Monica Stars and the Racycle team from Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hall of Seventh street have moved to Los Angeles.

C. H. Griffith, who caught a yearling deer in the surf early in the week, will make a family pet of it. He has secured a permit to keep the animal, the permission having been granted by the State Game Commission.

The date for the Prohibition rally has been set for March 27. E. W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for President, will be the speaker.

EAGLE ROCK.

EAGLE ROCK, March 13.—The Twentieth Century Club is completing plans for the laying of the corner-stone of the new club-house for which a handsome site has been donated. Members have secured $2029 toward construction. The building will face the famous Eagle Rock which has given the name to the place.

Miss Mabel Myres, daughter of Mrs. G. E. Myres of Highland Park, was today honored by Mrs. Godfrey Edwards with a jonquil party and linen shower at "Croftland," Mayfair Park, in the Eagle Rock foothills. Guests were from Los Angeles, Highland Park, Glendale and Eagle Rock. After a luncheon which carried out an original idea of the hostess, the party boarded the car and made the first trip by rail into Glendale. Miss Myres in two weeks will become the bride of Carl Reise of Imperial.

ERNA AT SAN PEDRO.

Big German Steamer Makes First Call on Route to Mexico and Nicaragua.

SAN PEDRO, March 13.—The big German steamship Erna, Capt. W. Ziegenmayer, of the new Jebsen-Ostrander line, arrived this morning from Vancouver, B. C., via San Francisco bound for Manzanillo, Mex., and Corinto, Nicaragua. With her sister ship, the Ella, a regular monthly service will be maintained between British Columbia and West Mexican and Central American ports, with San Pedro as a port of call. The northern and southern terminus of the Jebsen line will be at Vancouver, B. C., and Corinto, respectively. On account of the low tide the Erma did not attempt to enter the inner harbor, but anchored under the breakwater. Freight and passengers were taken out to her by the Banning Company's tug Warrior. She only remained here a few hours before continuing her voyage.

The gas schooner Charles Hanson, Capt. Harriman, arrived here this morning out fifteen days from Manzanillo, Mex., with a valuable cargo of 250,000 feet of mahogany and cedar logs. Instead of taking the raw material to San Francisco as formerly, to be manufactured into lumber for Southern California, it is stated that in future the logs will be brought direct here and made into furniture in Los Angeles.

A fire in the Nob Hill Hotel early this morning did $200 damage before it was extinguished.

MISSING WOMAN MAY BE DEAD.

IN CANAL WATERS POSSIBLY SHE ENDED LIFE.

She Told Her Mother Before She Disappeared That She Would Do Away With Herself—Thirty Sites Are Offered for the Proposed New Grammar School.

LONG BEACH, March 13.—Despite every effort made by the police department, her relatives and members of the Fraternal Aid Association, no trace has been found of Mrs. Talma Neibel, who disappeared yesterday while en route from her home to her physician's office, a distance of only two blocks. Developments today would indicate that she has gone away to end her life. Two weeks ago, a roomer at the apartment house says, Mrs. Neiber attempted suicide, and twice since then has told her mother that she would do away with herself.

No one has been found who saw the woman after she left her home and the theory is advanced that she took an Alamitos Bay car and went down to the West Naples canal, to end her life. This arm of the canal is remote from any habitation and it would be easy to plunge into its waters unnoticed. Relatives in Anaheim and Los Angeles have heard nothing of her.

Thirty sites have been offered the Board of Education for its proposed new grammar school somewhere in the vicinity of Elm and Pennsylvania avenues in the northern part of the city. The prices range from $3000 to $10,000. The board will visit the different sites Monday and make a selection.

John Yribarne, one of the alleged blind-piggers arrested yesterday, entered pleas of guilty to two complaints of violating the county liquor laws and was fined $550, which he paid. George Ramsey pleaded not guilty and was held to answer in $1000 bond. Unable to furnish this he was sent to the County Jail. L. Lauricello was released on his own recognizance to appear Monday, and will probably be discharged as his place is within the corporate limits of Belmont and out of county jurisdiction on the liquor question.

Prof. Willey's new municipal band will give its first free concert in the band shell on the beach, Sunday afternoon, with the following programme: "The Rifle Regiment" (Sousa;) "Poet and Peasant" (Suppe;) concert solo, "The Rosary" (G. H. Tyler;) "Rainbow" (Wenrich;) "Reminiscences of the South" (Solomon;) "La Reine de Safa" (Gounod;) baritone solo, "Ben Bolt" (Don Ellis;) "A Hunting Scene" (Buccalossi;) "Woodland" (Luders;) "Star Spangled Banner."

A big realty deal was closed today by Mrs. Nellie Messenger who, acting as agent of William Cleague, sold the Park View Hotel to W. A. Holmes of San Francisco for $65,000. The Park View is a modern family hotel on Pacific avenue, opposite the City Park and is a three-story brick building. The new owner will take possession at once.

A report was received here today that the body of young Elkins, the aëronaut drowned at San Pedro Monday, had come ashore at West Long Beach, but the police down there say they know nothing of it.

WIRELESS WAR PROMISED.

Avalon Shipbuilder Wants Rates Reduced—Boy Saved from Drowning. Yellowtail Visit Island.

AVALON, March 13.—S. D. Bradford, owner of the Bradford shipbuilding yards here, today announced his intention of putting into operation the plant recently used by the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company. It is his purpose to try to have reduced rates charged by the United Wirless Telegraph Company.

Mr. Bardford said: "I have bought the old plant and propose to give a 50-cent rate to all visitors during the summer season. Many business men here have complained to me that the rate of 75 cents for ten words is excessive, as the United Wireless rates at other points for a distance of 400 miles is only 40 cents. We are no doubt in for a long fight. The distance for Avalon messages is but fifty miles and the rates are double those charged for messages to San Francisco. I am prepared for any emergency and have secured the services of two expert operators."

Only the timely arrival of "Marine Jimmie," today, prevented the death by drowing of little Leslie Adams, son of J. Adams, assistant manager of the Meteor Boat Company. The boy was playing in the boats at the foot of Metropole avenue and fell between two of them into water which is eighteen feet deep. His screams for help were heard by several bystanders, but they were unable to locate him. Had it not been for the boatman's assistance the boy would have lost his life.

The following are guests at the Metropole: Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Sumas of Omaha; Thomas Fisk and wife of Boston, and Mrs. H. Kavenhill of New York.

A large school of yellowtail entered the bay at 11 o'clock this morning, and for a time sport was exceedingly good. The largest fish caught weighed twenty-six pounds, but was captured with heavy tackle.

Much satisfaction prevails among the boatmen now that the piles have been removed from the foot of Sumner avenue by the Santa Catalina Island Company. The beach again presents its old-time appearance and boatmen willingly pay their wharfage tolls.

JOY-INSPIRED, WILDLY CHEER.

Enthusiasm Over First Car Is Unrestrained.

Glendale-Eagle Rock Line Opening an Event.

Throng Lines Tracks, Gives Manager Ovation.

GLENDALE, March 13.—The new Glendale and Eagle Rock car was put on the track at Colorado street, Eagle Rock, at 10:55 o'clock this morning, and the crowd that had waited for it—many since the early morning hours—went wild.

Boys and girls had decked their ponies with great wreaths of California poppies, and autos and carriages were filled with enthusiastic friends of the road. All day people crowded the line, eager to see the first car start, and spent the time cheering the big gangs of cholos who were finishing the roadbed.

At 1 o'clock the current was turned on for the first time, and at 5:30 o'clock the car, loaded with passengers from Eagle Rock, Los Angeles, and Glendale, started on its first journey over the line amid the wildest excitement. Hats, handkerchiefs and even coats and sweaters were waved and cheer after cheer was given.

The car received an ovation throughout the trip. Wagons, buggies, autos and cycles lined the way. Going into Glendale people actually crowded the tracks, necessitating several stops to avoid running over the boosters.

At the edge of the town, Canon Crest was ablaze with lights. Third street and Glendale avenue were black with people, who had waited hours for the appearance of the car.

As it stopped in front of the Bank of Glendale the demonstration overwhelmed Mr. Goode, who was called for again and again, as he stood on the platform beside his wife and many loyal friends.

A large delegation of Eagle Rock clubwomen had come on the car and they presented "Manager Goode" with a fine gift.

The return trip was on schedule time. Tomorrow, cars will run on the hour and half-hour.

A noticeable feature was the unmistakable pleasure of many of those who have opposed the new road from the very first.

The people are happy and thoroughly satisfied that the long struggle for the line is ended.

Polytechnic High School for Ocean Park District Will at Once Be Petitioned for.

VENICE, March 13.—As a direct result of the meeting held at the ship Cabrillo last night, under the auspices of the Venice Chamber of Commerce, petitions have been placed in circulation among the taxpayers of the Ocean Park school district. These pray for the establishment of a polytechnic high school. It was the sense of the meeting that such an educational institution is needed right away, without awaiting the results of the formation of a union high school district with Santa Monica, as has been proposed. Playa del Rey is to be included in the enterprise if the property owners of that district evince a desire to come in.

This action is not wholly in accord with the views entertained by the members of the Ocean Park Board of Education, who, on the preceding day adopted a resolution favoring the formation of a union high school district in conjunction with Santa Monica.

J. C. Cunningham was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening at his home, No. 822 Trolleyway, when eighteen friends dropped in on him. They all came from Los Angeles to assist in the discussion of a surprise supper given in honor of the celebration of his natal day. It was a typical shamrock supper, the decorations being in green and white.

L. F. Metzel and E. S. Richardson have come to the strand from Salt Lake City, and will make their home here.

The members of the South Coast Civic League are busy with preparations for a reception to be given on March 22 in honor of the founder of the George Junior Republic. Mr. George is now residing on Wadsworth avenue, but in early spring will take his departture from the beach.

SAN DIEGO MURDER TRIAL.

Defendant Unnerved by Sight of Revolver With Which It's Supposed Killing Was Done.

SAN DIEGO, March 13.—The sight of the revolver with which she shot and killed Bruce Sheffler unnerved Mrs. Effie Duden when it was produced on the witness stand during her trial on the charge of murder this morning.

It was the first time the fair defendant had seen the weapon since she placed it on the dresser of her own room after, according to her own statement, she fired three shots at Sheffler on the night of January 29.

Police Officer George Couts, who arrested Mrs. Duden, was a witness for the prosecution this morning. He stated that when he arrived at the house, soon after the shooting, he went into a room where he found both Mr. and Mrs. Duden. He asked them, he said, what the trouble was and Mrs. Duden told him she had shot her brother-in-law, Bruce Sheffler. On the way to jail, the officer asked defendant why she shot Sheffler and she replied that he tried to kill her.

Another important witness was Miss Essie James. At the Coroner's inquest she testified that defendant's husband was in his room with her (Miss James) when the first shot was fired, but today she stated that she was not sure that he was with her and that since told her he was not in the room.

The court denied the prosecution's request that the jury be permitted to examine the premises where the shooting took place, saying all the facts should be brought out in the courtroom.

The finding of a woman's hair switch, hairpins and shawl in Sheffler's rooms are taken as proof that Mrs. Duden was in his room when the tragedy took place, as the articles have been identified by both Essie and Eva James.

The case will be continued throughout next week, in the opinion of the attorneys.

CHAPMAN GETS ORANGE GROVE, BLACKBURN IS SELLER.

Fourteen-Thousand-Dollar Deal at Corona—Owner of Auburndale Land Divides the Acreage—Rancher Thrown by Cow Sustains Broken Arm and Injury to Leg.

CORONA, March 13.—Dr. W. H. Chapman has closed a deal with Dr. Robert Blackburn of Glendale and R. D. Lamson of Corona, for a fourteen-acre navel orange grove at Magnolia and Fullerton avenues, here. The property is valued at $14,000. Dr. Chapman, who is a recent arrival here, will later erect a home on his ranch.

The Auburndale Development Company, owning 420 acres adjoining Corona on the northwest has divided its holdings between the different members of the company. Priestley Hall and J. Adams of Riverside now own 250 acres jointly, W. L. Coleman of Riverside owns 115 acres and J. B. Kight of Corona, seventy-five acres.

There is a large pumping plant on the tract and preparatory to dividing the acreage the owners incorporated as the Corona Pumping Company with capital stock at $25,000, of which $10,400 has been paid. The directors are Priestley Hall, M. L. Coleman, J. Adams and A. O. Adams of Riverside and J. B. Kight of Corona, who has always acted as resident manager of the Corona ranch. Each of the ranchers being a stockholder in the water company is entitled to his individual share for irrigating.

Three small houses and a barn near the pumping plant have been moved on to the Hall-Adams portion of the land. J. B. Kight is erecting a seven-room house on his seventy-five-acre piece. The 420 acres are all in alfalfa.

Joel Wilson, a rancher living on Ontario avenue, sustained a broken arm and injured leg yesterday while picketing his cow. He was caught in the animal's chain, thrown and dragged 300 feet.

J. R. Odle, a native of Kentucky and for many years a Corona resident, died here day before yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ollie Johnson, where the funeral was held at 1:30 p.m. today, Rev. E. T. Sandford of Chino officiating. The deceased was 32 years old and leaves a widow, one child, his parents, four sisters and three brothers.

Queen Colony Fruit Exchange has shipped 447 cars of oranges and lemons thus far this season.

J. W. Grinnell is erecting a five-room bungalow at Ninth and Sherman streets for J. J. Crowley of Minneapolis, to cost $1200.

The Corona ball team has formed a stock company with H. E. Carter, manager, and these business men as stockholders: Mason, Terpening, Albert Le Gaye, W. A. Hively, J. L. Davis, R. S. Billings and J. P. Triolo.

Among other recent local organizations are the Corona Brass Band and the Corona Tennis Club.

The Woman's Improvement Club met Tuesday with Mrs. W. J. Pentelow, the topic being "The Cartoon and its Mission," which Mrs. A. F. Call treated in a paper. Mrs. G. W. Waterbury, a painter of miniatures, who has recently moved to Corona, exhibited specimens of her work.

The Misses Platt had as guests this week Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of St. Louis and Mrs. R. A. Street of Long Beach.

J. W. Crittenden and family are to move to Los Angeles.

W. S. Smith of Hanford is here with his brother, Dr. E. H. Smith.

A sharp earthquake shock was felt here about 5:30 a.m. yesterday.

CUCAMONGA.

CUCAMONGA, March 13.—There was a very sharp, quick earthquake here yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock.

At the W.C.T.U. entertainment the winners of the prizes offered for the best essay on the evils of intemperance by school children, were: First, Earl Dahlem, aged 15, of Hermosa school; second, Dorothy McKee, aged 11, of Cucamonga school.

The horticultural and agricultural demonstration car was at South Cucamonga today and many attended the exhibit. The Chamber of Commerce brought the speakers to this town tonight.

Horace Little, foreman of the lemon packing-house here since its opening, has resigned and Frank Knight of Whittier will succeed him at once.

The Woman's Club adjourned its meeting today to attend the agricultural demonstrators' lectures and exhibit.

SOCIETY FOLK AT CORONADO.

NOTED MEN AND WOMEN GATHER FOR POLO SEASON.

All Parts of Country Represented in Fashionable Assemblage—D. Ogden Mills and Guests Arrive in Private Car—Riverside and San Francisco Send Large Contingents.

CORONADO, March 13.—The polo season has attracted a very large number of wealthy persons from all parts of the country to this section. Leaders of society in San Francisco and other cities of the Pacific Coast are also in evidence.

Especially notable is a party headed by D. Ogden Mills, the financier, of New York and San Francisco, which came down from the north in a special car. Mr. Mills's guests are Charles Crocker of San Mateo, Miss Crocker, Duane Hopkins of San Francisco, and W. P. Scott, son of the steel and shipbuilding magnate.

Another party that came down from San Francisco in a touring car includes Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dutton, Mrs. Worthington Ames, Mrs. Mortimer Smith and Miss J. M. Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton A. Chase of Riverside, and Mrs. E. M. Tainter, of Alameda, composed another automobile party which arrived yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Pattee, Maj. C. G. Ross, Fitz Nave, Thomas Weiss, Sr., and Thomas Weiss, Jr., and S. D. Hudson are among the contingent of polo enthusiasts from Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Gates, with maid, valet and chauffeur, arrived from Pasadena at the Hotel del Coronado last night. Mr. Gates is the son of John W. Gates, the New York financier.

Also at Coronado, are C. L. Peters, president of the Peters Cartridge Company of New York, and Mrs. Peters.

Mrs. L. S. Kennett of Chicago has arrived at the Hotel del Coronado to visit her sons and daughter, who have been at the hotel all winter. The sons are Durant and Luther Kennett, and the daughter is Mrs. W. H. Dupree. This is one of the most prominent families in Chicago society.

Edward M. Greenway is registered at the Hotel del Coronado. "Ned," as he is called in his home city, is the most famous society man, clubman and cotillion leader on the Pacific Coast. He it was who remade the fashionable Friday Night Club, after the earthquake and fire of San Francisco, and the season's dances were even smarter and more exclusive than they ever were before.

Mr. Greenway is in the prime of life and still a bachelor.

SQUABBLE OVER WATER COMPANY.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL TO COME TO HEAD TOMORROW.

Proposed Assessment of Ten Cents Per Share Is Chief Cause of Conflict—Money Needed for Repair to Upper Flume—Cold Snap Does Considerable Damage.

ESCONDIDO, March 13.—A fight for the control of the Escondido Mutual Water Company has been precipitated by a call issued by President Wohlford for the water users of the company to meet at Odd Fellows' Hall, Monday afternoon, to hear a report on the condition of the upper flume line and to consider other matters of vital interest to the stockholders. The annual meeting, for the election of five directors of the company, is scheduled for April 6.

The recognized leaders of the two opposing factions are President Wohlford who is also head of the Escondido National Bank, and the management of the Escondido Land and Town Company.

Wohlford asserts that it is evident from a letter sent out to stockholders by Manager Hedges of the land company that the latter concern is trying to get control of the water company. He believes the water users should control and manage the affairs of the water company.

Mr. Hedges, in a letter, calls attention to the annual election of directors, April 6, and to the attitude of some of the directors who favor an assessment of 10 cents per share upon the stock for repairs on the upper flume line. Other directors and people interested assert that such an assessment is unnecessary as there are sufficient funds on hand to make reasonable repairs.

Many shareholders are not water users. If the stock is assessed they will have to share the levy. On the other hand, if the money is raised by an increase in the water rates the larger irrigators will be hit hardest. Efforts to secure an assessment have been voted down by the present directors, by a vote of 3 to 2.

Since the taking up and burning of the irrigation district bonds, a few years ago, the water system has been managed by the stockholders on the mutual plan. The holders of two-thirds of the stock recently voted to authorize an expenditure of $30,000 for the installation of an electric light plant, to be operated in conjunction with the water service. But the notes which were to be issued for the amount have not been taken, and the present question concerns the expense of repairing the flume line. The company has 212,000 shares of stock outstanding.

The Mutual Water Company has brought suit in the Superior Court for the foreclosure of liens in favor of the company, against water users, for $4500 for delinquent water rentals.

The "cold snap" of Thursday night did considerable damage in a section of the valley where little or no citrus fruit is grown, the official thermometer registering 31 degrees. Ice formed in some sections.

BALBOA.

BALBOA, March 13.—Angeleños who arrived today for an over-Sunday stay include: Dr. C. A. Sherman and wife, Harold Sherman, E. R. Longley, deputy plumbing inspector; W. S. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Seielsted, Everett E. Chace, Miss Olive Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monroe, D. Harrison Graves, Miss Estella Hart, Randolph Ingersoll, son of advertising manager of Southern Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Huffman of San Pedro are over-Sunday guests, arriving today.

Rev. and Mrs. A. G. McCluish of Riverside came down this morning for a short stay at the seaside.

57 YEARS A SUFFERER FROM CATARRH IN ITS WORST FORM CURED.

F. E. De Merritt, 139 S. Fifth street, Alhambra, Cal., says: "I have been a terrible sufferer from catarrh of the head and throat. When I first came to Drs. Shores for treatment it had got so bad a piece of bone had come out of my left nostril and the odor was so bad it made me sick when I would stoop over. I had continual running into my throat and at night I could not breathe through my nose it was so stopped up. I have had catarrh ever since I was seventeen (17) years old. I am now in my seventy-fourth (74th) year. I have tried many kinds of catarrh remedies without benefit, and I want to say, that after five (5) months' treatment from Drs. Shores & Shores I feel perfectly cured. I feel that the afflicted ought to know about Drs. Shores wonderful treatment so that they can be cured as I have been. Any one doubting the truthfulness of this testimonial is at liberty to call on me and I will gladly verify the truthfulness of the same. (Signed) "F. E. De MERRITT."

DIRECT LOCAL PROOF

Before March 21—ONE WEEK ONLY

STOMACH DISEASE CURED. IMPORTANT LOCAL TESTIMONY. READ EVERY WORD.

To Whom It May Concern:

Any one suffering from stomach trouble need not hesitate to try Drs. Shores for a cure. Some years ago I had suffered so intensely that at times I could not endure the pressure of my hand over the stomach. I had a talk with Drs. Shores and concluded to try their treatment. I followed the instructions as to the medicines and dieting strictly, getting relief very soon. And after a three months' treatment I have this good word to say for them—THAT IN THE SIX YEARS SINCE THAT TIME I HAVE NEVER HAD THE SLIGHTEST STOMACH TROUBLE. Any one doubting this testimonial is at perfect liberty to call on me. Very sincerely,

ANNA WELLS,

The Sumner, 765 San Julian st., Los Angeles, Cal., March 1, 1909.

ISN'T YOUR OWN HEALTH AND THE HAPPINESS OF YOUR FAMILY WORTH THE EFFORT TO GET CURED OF DISEASE?

Drs. Shores & Shores are not experimenters. They know to a certainty every symptom of disease and how to treat it successfully. Neither are they exorbitant in their charges—they know that every dollar is most valuable to people who are sick and deprived wholly or partly from earning a living. They tell you frankly that in the spring months disease yields more easily to medical treatment—and to prove these claims we will treat you until cured, and furnish all medicines for $3 a month. No other charge or expense. CONSULTATION FREE.

$3 This Special Rate Applies to All Who have Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness, Lung Trouble, Catarrh of the Stomach, Kidneys, Liver, Bladder—or Any Complication of Catarrhal Diseases; or other Chronic or Nervous Diseases (that are curable;) but you must apply before March 21. $3

"ALL MY LIFE A SUFFERER FROM CHRONIC CATARRH. I NOW FEEL LIKE A NEW MAN."

S. FLECK, 428 North Grand Ave., Los Angeles, says: "I have had Chronic Catarrh all my life. It affected my throat, stomach and head. My nose was always stopped up so that at night I could not breathe through it, interfering with my rest. I would also hawk and spit a great deal, especially in the morning. I had asthma. My stomach also became affected. I could not digest my food. I would bloat up and suffer with bilious attacks. This kept me run down all my life. I NEVER EXPECTED TO BE WELL. This was my condition when I began Drs. Shores & Shores' wonderful treatment four (4) months ago. They helped me from the first day, and I have gained right along. I feel like a new man. I weigh eight (8) pounds more and feel fine in every way. My catarrhal troubles are practically all cured, thanks to Drs. Shores' skill. I feel that sufferers ought to know of Drs. Shores' wonderful treatment, for they have made a new man out of me. Any one doubting this statement is at perfect liberty to call on me and I will gladly verify this testimonial."

IMPERIAL COUNTY.

EL CENTRO TO REMAIN "DRY."

TRUSTEES REFUSE A REQUEST FOR TABLE LICENSE.

Druggist Heavily Fined for Violation of Liquor Ordinance—Hospital Patients Give of Their Skin That Burned Man May Live—Gun Play in Brawley Court.

EL CENTRO, March 13.—That El Centro must remain a "dry" city is the verdict of the Trustees. They have tabled the request of Helms & Pellet, proprietors of this city's large hostelry, the Hotel Oregon, for a table license. The request was proffered by the firm's attorney, T. M. McNamara, at the last Council meeting, and was vigorously protested by several citizens. By unanimous vote the board took action as above indicated.

One of the first ordinances adopted by El Centro, upon its becoming a municipality, was that prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors except upon physicians' prescriptions. There appears little doubt that this policy will be rigidly maintained.

The first liquor case under the city ordinance came to a conclusion yesterday, when City Recorder Tout sentenced E. S. Heil, druggist for Helms & Pellett at the El Centro drug store, $200 or thirty days in jail for a violation of the ordinance, in the sale of whisky without prescriptions. The case required two weeks for trial, and has been before the Superior Court of Imperial County on petitions from the defendant for writs of prohibition and mandate. It may be appealed on the point of the formation of the jury, as it was necessary to go outside of the municipality in order to secure the required number.

SUCCESSFUL GRAFTING.

Porfillio Hernandez of Calexico fell into a fire while under the influence of liquor and horribly burned his back from the shoulders to the hips. He was hurried to the Central Hospital for treatment, but it was believed he would not recover. He rallied to such an extent that extensive skin grafting was decided upon, and more than sixty pieces have been placed on the burns and are "taking." Completion of the grafting will require many weeks. Some of the patients at the hospital furnished cuticle for the sufferer.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The second annual teachers' institute of Imperial county will open on Monday to continue one week. One of the features will be a trip on Tuesday to the top of Signal Mountain, where the teachers will listen to a lecture on the geographical formation of the Imperial Valley and the mountain. The eminence is located just across the international line, in old Mexico. From it a complete view of the valley may be obtained.

GUN PLAY IN COURT.

Sam Packwood of Brawley took umbrage at the remarks of Attorney Klein in the justice court at Imperial, Thursday, when the attorney intimated that he would prove that Packwood's statements on the witness stand were not rtue. Packwood aimed his revolver at Klein, but Justice Bradshaw saw the movement in time to capture the weapon. The case was adjourned suddenly and Packwood was placed under arrest on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

BAN ON FAKE ADVERTISING.

The Imperial Valley Business Men's Protective Association at its last meeting pledged its members, who compose the bulk of the valley's merchants, to refrain from patronizing any but established advertising mediums, unless the new projects have the indorsement of their secretary. It is claimed that thousands of dollars have been carried out of Imperial Valley through doubtful advertising schemes.

WILL REMOVE STATION.

The Yuma Experimental Station of the Bureau of Plant Industry is to be moved from the Arizona side of the Colorado River to the Imperial county side, and will be located on a quarter section adjoining the proposed new town of Bard, in the center of the Yuma Indian reservation, which is to be thrown open for settlement next fall. The increased acreage will give opportunity for much new experimental work, but a prominent feature will be a continuation of experiments with the propagation of Egyptian cotton. The station is also to take up the propagation of the Phylostochys Quillian, or mammoth Japanese bamboo, which grows to the astounding height of from sixty to eighty feet in one season. W. A. Peterson, who is in charge of this station, has been in El Centro this week distributing Egyptian cotton seed for experimental plots, and he is enthusiastic over the prospects of growing this bamboo. He believes that within two years the station will have enough to supply valley ranchers, and that it will fill the needs for fence posts, stock sheds, etc.

A few days spent at Arrowhead Hot Springs will put you in perfect physical shape.

EL MODENA.

EL MODENA, March 13.—The Christian Endeavorers held their annual convention here today. Delegations attended from Los Angeles and Santa Ana.

The county secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association was a recent visitor and organized a boys' Bible class.

BREVITIES.

Always reasonable and always doing perfect work, is reason, that the millinery business of Mrs. Kruseman, No. 1302 Pico, corner Rich (four blocks west of Figueroa) is in great favor with those ladies patronizing her. Because Mrs. Kruseman makes only to order and consequently has not the direct and indirect display expenses, she can be and is always reasonable, and because she has a long practical European experience, her work is always perfect, which she fully guarantees, so that ladies ordering do not run any risk whatever. Work of own materials and retrimming is given such a careful attention, that this also gives the greatest satisfaction to her many customers. Mrs. Kruseman carries in stock a line of the most elegant shapes, but besides an exquisite line of Parisian flowers, which, on account of her small expenses, can and is always used, even on medium-priced orders.

The "Ville de Paris," 317-325 S. Broadway, announces their spring opening of millinery next Tuesday and Wednesday. A special feature of the opening days in this department will be the showing of French pattern hats, which embody all the latest conceptions of the best Parisian artists. Great interest will be manifested in the exhibit of "Ville" headwear which is always characterized by a rare degree of individuality and exclusiveness. To avoid monotony in millinery, which is so distasteful to refined dressers, one should wear an exclusive model from the "Ville."

Remember the slogan: "Buy and Boost Home Products." For daily references, see page 9, Part II, of The Times, containing list of wide-awake manufacturers, under the heading "Made in Southern California." You will find there are manufacturers of necessities and luxuries here—manufacturers of things to eat and drink—things for the home, the factory, the office and the farm. Buy them! Try them! There are none better. Buy and Boost, and keep your money at home where it will do you and yours the most good!

ROLLING COMFORT.

RICH COMING IN PRIVATE CARS.

LUXURIOUS METHOD OF TRAVEL INDICATES EASY MONEY.

Many High Railroad Officials Also Visit City in Palaces on Wheels. First-Class Traffic Westward Steadily Increasing — Important Deal by Canadian Syndicate.

The large number of private cars now in Los Angeles is attracting general attention. Railroad men state that not for many months have so many people been traveling in this luxurious fashion. Many wealthy eastern people are hiring specials and leisurely traveling over the State in them, all including Los Angeles in their itineraries. Among railroad officials whose cars are sidetracked here now, or will be during the day, are E. H. Harriman, J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central, E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific, J. P. O'Brien of the Oregon River Navigation Company, J. F. Dunn of the Oregon Short Line, and George T. Nicholson, second vice-president of the Santa Fé. Former President W. H. Newman of the New York Central has his private coach at Pasadena.

Among the wealthy tourists who are here in specials are E. S. Hartness, a Standard Oil man; A. W. Mellon, W. H. English and A. H. Elkins of Philadelphia.

First-class traffic is much heavier and all trains leaving Chicago for California are running in two sections.

Important Deal Assured.

Reports from Mexico indicate that the taking over of the Chihuahua and Pacific Railway, the Sierra Madre and Pacific, and the Sierra Madre Land and Lumber Company by a Canadian syndicate is assured.

The syndicate, which is headed by Dr. F. S. Pierson and which controls the Mexico City electric tramways, has put up a large sum for an option on the companies mentioned.

The Chihuahua and Pacific extends from Chihuahua to La Junta, whence it branches to Miñaca and Temosachic. The Sierra Madre and Pacific is thirty-two miles long and runs from Temosachic to Madera, the lumber town established by Col. Greene, in which are located the mills of the Sierra Madre Land and Lumber Company. It carries a concession for building from Casas Grandes through the Sierra Madre Mountains, and other grants of value.

The holdings of the lumber company comprise many million acres of timber lands. The understanding is that the Canadians will put lumber on the market in Mexico and abroad.

The Sierra Madre and Pacific has recently been suffering for want of funds, but it is said that the men are being paid back wages and that arrangements are pending to get rid of all claims outstanding against the railroad and the lumber company. The Chihuahua and Pacific is controlled by New York bankers and has been a money-maker from the start.

New Funeral Car.

The new funeral car of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway, which was built at the Redondo shops, has been turned over to the operating department. It is one of the new series of eight that are equipped with the multiple unit control.

The car is painted olive green and the interior finished in mahogany. There are high-backed seats, heavily upholstered in red plush, and glazed windows. The carpet matches the upholstering and the curtains are of soft silk amure.

The casket is admitted by side doors and rests on heavy nickle pedestals. Four seats, two on each side of it, are for the pallbearers.

The car seats fifty-six people.

Railroad Notes.

G. A. Aird, general agent, and J. H. Robinson, contracting freight agent for the Santa Fé at Chicago, are in Los Angeles.

F. W. Prince, with the Santa Fé at San Francisco, is staying in the city for a few days.

John J. Craron, assistant city ticket agent of the Union Pacific at Denver, is spending a vacation here.

Louis R. Everett, traveling agent for the Santa Fé, is here from Santa Barbara.

Cliff Payson, traveling freight agent at Los Angeles for the Santa Fé, has been made general agent at San Diego.

IN CHARGE OF EXHIBIT.

Miss E. A. Withrow, who has charge of the art exhibit to be placed in the California building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, will arrive in this city tomorrow to look after her department. She can be found at the Chamber of Commerce by those desiring to enter pictures and art treasures.

ANAHEIM.

ANAHEIM, March 13.—The Fullerton High Schol baseball nine defeated the local High School nine here by a score of 12 to 1, yesterday afternoon, in one of the games for the championship of Orange county.

The 2-year-old son of Mrs. and Mrs. Fay Dunham, of Placentia, died last night.

Mrs. A. M. Danbury, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Resh, has returned to her home in Cincinnati and will come back with her husband to locate in this city.

The Trustees have passed resolutions of intention to pave Center street from the Santa Fé depot to Palm street, and Los Angeles street from the Southern Pacific depot to Sycamore street. The work will cost about 17 cents per square foot and is to have a concrete base with an asphaltum top.

This is the condition that always exists in large cities. It is one of the facts which must be taken into account by all who invest in improved real estate with the expectation of making interest on their money out of the rentals for the premises. The buyers are displaying a good deal of shrewdness. The idea has not yet quite passed that there are holders of real estate incumbered with debts who are more or less forced to involuntary sales. With this notion in mind, there is a great deal of "shopping around" on the part of investors. This will last just

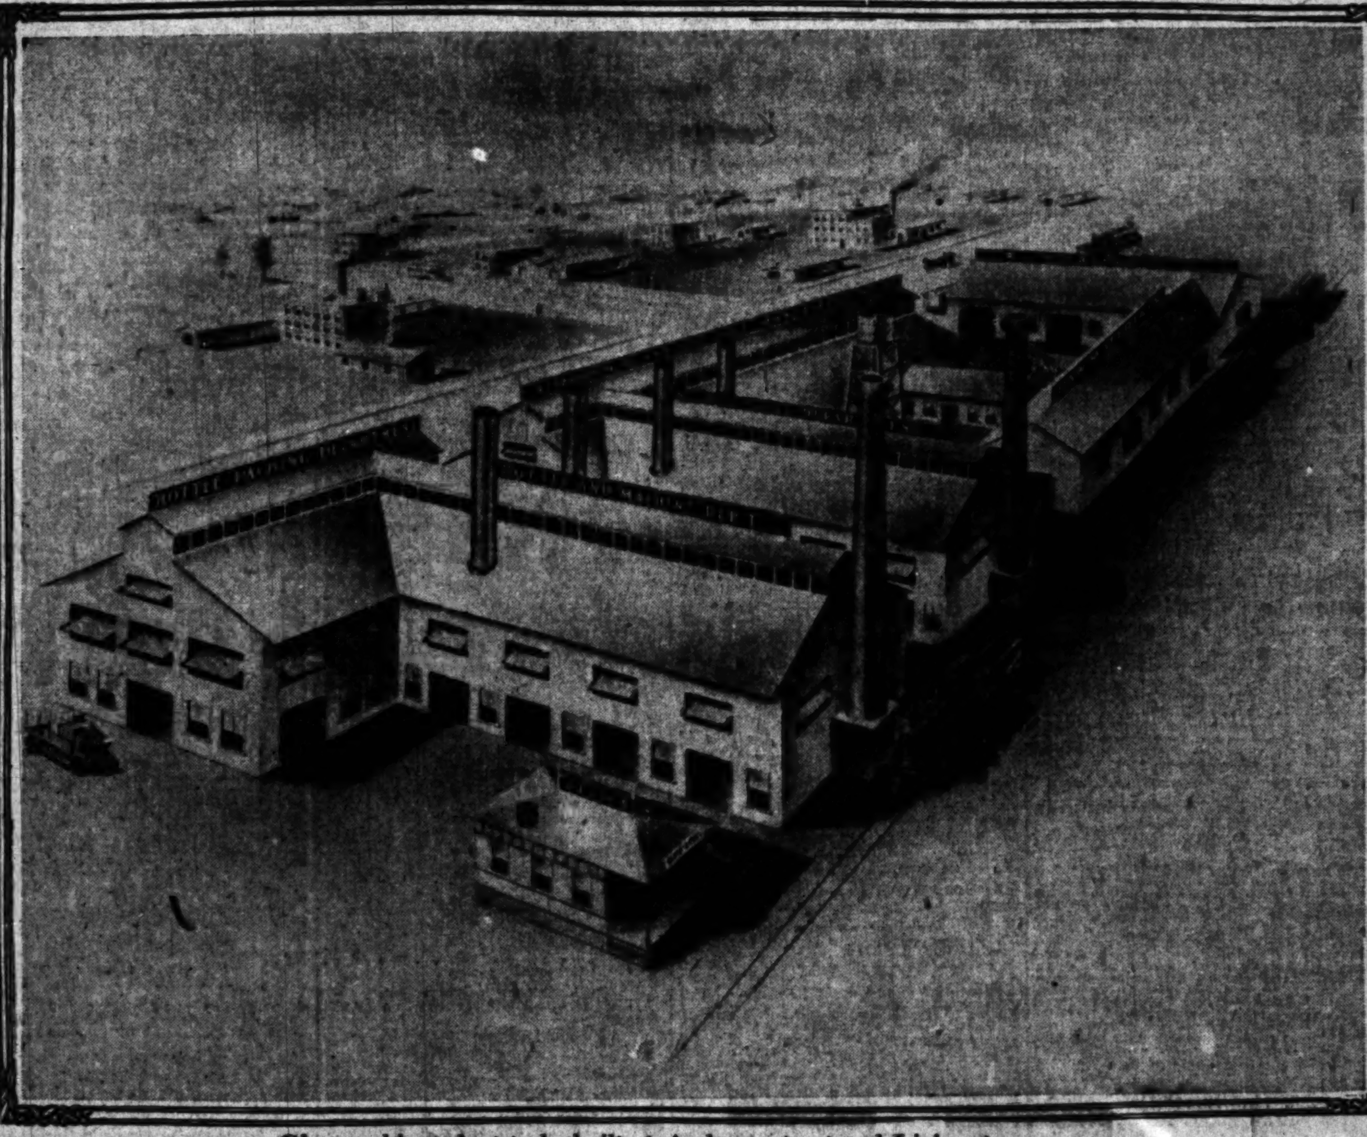
MODERN GLASS-MAKING PLANT TO BE BUILT HERE BECAUSE OF NEARNESS TO MATERIALS AND MARKET.



Glass making plant to be built at Andrews street and Livingstone avenue.

ANOTHER step toward making Los Angeles more than ever the industrial center of the Southwest, will be made when work is begun on the magnificent modern glass-making plant of the California Glass and Soda Manufacturing Company.

Last week the report that this concern had purchased a building site of five acres near the intersection of the Santa Fé and Salt Lake railroads, between Andrews street and Livingstone avenue, near Avenue 26, was made by the Holmes-Walton Company. The company paid $6000 an acre or $30,000 for its site.

Plans have been completed for a plant to cost $75,000, and work is expected to be begun within a month or two at the longest.

This institution will be essentially a local one. "Made in Los Angeles" will be the motto of the concern, and this will pertain to every department of the factory. The raw materials are all found within fifty miles of Los Angeles, and are practically inexhaustible.

Because of its location, Los Angeles is an ideal place for an establishment of this nature. The demand for window glass on the Pacific Coast alone is said to be seven times greater than the full capacity of the proposed plant which affords room for practically unlimited growth. This demand will be augmented by that from the adjoining States of Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico, to say nothing of Mexico, Central America, and all the nearer States of South America. Los Angeles is on direct rail connection with fourteen States, and Territories, all of which are within cheaper shipping distance from this city, than they are from eastern points. In addition, there is the vast, and ever growing trade with the Orient, and the Far East.

The discovery of deposits of silica, sand, and sulphate of soda, the ingredients of common window glass, was the first step in establishing this new industry. Until that time all these materials were imported at exorbitant freight rates from eastern deposits. However the local deposits are of wide extent, and are said to be of a very high grade. Without doubt there are great storehouses, yet unopened, of other deposits of minerals, which will be the means of starting other industries here in Los Angeles, and mean the final independence of the west coast from the thrall of the eastern manufacturer, and the excessive transportation charges.

It is stated by officers of the California Glass and Soda Company that the saving in freight alone will be sufficient to pay large dividends on the capital invested, figured even on the minimum capacity of the plant.

Factory and equipment will be of the most modern kind. The equipment for the window glass department alone will consist of a thirty-blower furnace, flattening ovens, floating kilns, pumps, tanks, air compressors, and a box-shop. The first department will employ about 150 operatives, and the weekly pay roll will amount to about $3500.

Following the installation of the sheet window glass department the company will put in several additional departments. One for the manufacture of glass bottles and jars of every description will be the second to be placed in operation. This will make all sorts of lettered druggists ware, fruit packers, and preservers bottles of the kind known to the trade as "machine-made ware," as well as several varieties of fruit canning jars for domestic use. Following these, bottles for distilled waters, soda bottles, and winery bottles will be added to the list of products. Many other glass articles, such as covered demijohns, architectural glass, decorations, sidewalk lights, etc., will be made as the trade and the demand justifies. When in full operations the plant will employ fully 300 men, with a weekly pay roll exceeding $6000. This will mean that more families will move to Los Angeles, and the circulation of much additional money for the support of local merchants.

The lure of a necessity attracted the members of the California Glass and Soda Company to locate here. Window glass is not a luxury, and with the constant growth of western cities and towns there will always be a great demand for the products of such a concern. Government statistics show that there is no comparison between the production of the mines and the value of the manufactured products of the country. All the gold and silver mined in the United States last year did not exceed $200,000,000 in value. The cost of valuation of manufactured products in the same time exceeded $17,000,000,000. Los Angeles is contributing her share of this great volume of business, and the most important phase of the situation is that our local products are becoming more and more valuable each year.

The officers of the company are: Ralph E. Pearce, president; A. G. Heskett, and W. H. Schweppe, vice-presidents; C. W. White, secretary; E. B. Merrill, treasurer; Olin Wellborn, attorney; Dr. Julius Koebig, consulting engineer, and chemist, and G. H. Gray, general superintendent.

Mt. Washington Incline Railway Will Be Masterpiece of Modern Engineering.

3000 Feet Long—Same Length as the Famous Mt. Lowe Road.

Will Bring Picturesque Mt. Washington Within Twenty Minutes of Shopping District.

By C. R. STUART.

herewith are photo- this week of the Los and Mt. Washington Incline which is rapidly nearing The railroad is claimed by prominent contractors and engineers to be a veritable masterpiece of modern engineering. It is over 3000 feet long, practically the same length as the famous Mt. Lowe incline. It will connect the summit of Los Angeles' highest and most picturesque residence subdivision with the yellow Garvanza cars at Avenue 43, thus bringing this magnificent scenic viewpoint within 20 minutes of the downtown district.

The completion of the road will be a distinct triumph for a number of prominent Los Angeles capitalists—discerning men who keenly realized the intrinsic value of the Mt. Washington property as well as the brilliant future it has before it. The big residential project has been a success from its very inception. Today, even before the completion of the incline, many beautiful homes are being erected on this commanding eminence and plans for nearly a dozen more are now under way.

The railway power-house is completed and all machinery has been installed.

Robert Marsh, the president of the railroad, stated to the writer this week that the opening of the incline will be marked by a big celebration to which the entire public will be invited. The exact date of the celebration, which will occur some time in April, will be announced later in this paper.

LARGE MOVE.

CITY MARKET BUYS SITE FOR NEW HOME.

THE Los Angeles City Market Company has purchased a tract of eight acres, fronting on the south side of East Sixth street, between Alameda and Mill streets, for a reported consideration of $330,000.

It is wanted as a site for a new plant, the present location at Third and Central having become inadequate for the needs of the concern.

It is stated that there is no other reason for the proposed move than that of getting room to expand. That the Southern Pacific is interested in the removal of the market from Third and Central, so as to place that location at its disposal for union depot purposes is denied.

The new location at Sixth and Alameda streets has a frontage of 1177 feet on East Sixth street and 336 feet on Alameda and Mill streets. The market will have about three times as much space as it now possesses at Third and Central. The latter location is held on a fifty-year lease from the Wolfskill Estate Company, there being about thirty-eight years remaining. The market still retains this lease, and will remodel the present buildings, and rent them for industrial purposes.

The Southern Pacific has for many years been endeavoring to get possession of this property, and it will be no surprise to local real estate men should it finally become known as the new owner of the present market site.

It is understood that the northwest corner of Alameda and Third streets cannot be bought "for love or money," and that without this corner the Third and Central property would be almost valueless to the railroad, as it is necessary to come in on an angle from Alameda street to utilize the land for tracks and station purposes.

The deal for the market company was negotiated through E. P. Johnson, Jr., and Benjamin Johnson, in conjunction with Philip L. Wilson and Mines & Farish.

BUYS ENTIRE BLOCK.

Philip L. Wilson has purchased almost the entire block fronting on the north side of Sixth street, and extending through to Palmetto street on the north from Alameda street east. The property has a frontage of 1364 feet on the north side of East Sixth street. With the exception of the southeast corner of Alameda and Palmetto streets, 300x300 feet, which is owned by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, and used as a power-house site, Mr. Wilson owns the block. This gives him a frontage of about 364 feet on Alameda, and 1064 feet on Palmetto, and a depth across the east line of 650 feet.

This gives an area of 664,000 square feet, or some fifteen and one-half acres. The purchase price is said to be at the rate of $1 a square foot, or $664,000 for the tract. The buyer is planning to subdivide the property for use as sites for wholesale houses, and businesses sure to be attracted by the proximity of the City Market. Mr. Wilson values his Sixth street frontage at $500, and that on Palmetto at $300 a foot. Mines & Farish were the agents in this transaction.

DOES BIG BUSINESS.

Many Sales Made by Local Firm and More Are Pending in Escrow.

F. J. Steel & Co., reports an active demand for all classes of city real estate. This firm has sold nearly $100,000 worth in the last month, and has reports that it has deals in escrow amounting to $240,000. Following are several of its most important transactions:

Charles F. Stamps and Kate A. Stamps sold to J. Frank Bowen, the southeast corner of Seventh and Crocker streets, consisting of a lot 57½ feet on Seventh street by 112½ feet to a 12½-foot alley on Crocker street, improved with two five-room flats, two six-room flats and one five-room cottage. Mr. Bowen purchased this property as an investment and within the near future expects to construct a four-story brick building on the property with stores below, and apartments above. Mr. Bowen paid $57,500 for the property.

W. L. Hodges sold to Carl Leonardt the property at No. 739 Central avenue, consisting of a lot 40x110 feet, improved with a twenty-eight-room apartment-house. Mr. Leonardt bought this property as an investment, and paid cash for the same. The consideration was $19,500.

Mrs. Warren Barnhart of Pasadena sold to Mrs. Marie Mueller of Chicago the property at Nos. 1937-1939 Kenmore avenue, Chicago, consisting of a lot 50x125 feet, improved with flats, for $30,000.

Sarah Shipam to William Rinne, the property at No. 947 McGarry street, consisting of a four-room cottage on lot 40x120 feet. This was purchased for a cash consideration of $2750.

For the estate of Spiro B. Patrovich to Reginald H. Morgan, Jr., six lots in block I of the Kurtz Bridge Tract, which consists of 180 feet frontage on Gibbons street, about 400 feet south of East Main street. The consideration was $3600, cash.

W. H. Hay sold to Dr. C. A. Elliott a vacant lot on the west side of Crenshaw boulevard, about 300 feet south of Washington street, 50x149 feet, for $1500.

BUY HOTEL LEASE.

The sale of the lease of the King Edward Hotel from R. F. Tousley to Col. Ed Dunham and W. E. Smith for a cash consideration of $50,000 was reported through the agency of R. A. Rowan & Co. last week. The building is a fireproof structure of steel and brick on the northwest corner of Fifth and Los Angeles streets, and contains 150 rooms. The price is simply a bonus on an eight-year lease, and the purchase of the furniture of the building. The buyers are well known here. Col. Dunham has been in the hotel business for more than twenty years. Mr. Smith is known through his connection with the J. R. Newberry Company.

BUILDING A PLANT.

Los Angeles Packing Company Leases Property on Stephenson Avenue. Important Sale.

L. R. Conklin, with Bryan & Bradford, reports the leasing of the property, fronting seventy-five feet on Stephenson avenue. The location adjoins the corner of Hewitt street, and is 140 feet deep to an alley, and a spur track. The Los Angeles Packing Company have leased it for a term of ten years at a flat rental of $3500 a year. The owner is the Jotham Bixby estate. The latter has already let a contract to Carl Leonardt for the erection of a one and one-half story reinforced concrete building to cost $22,500. This will be begun at once as the lessee desires to occupy the new location.

Bryan & Bradford also report the sale to Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant of the remaining part of block 60 of the South Arlington tract, fronting 150 feet on West Adams street, just west of the W. S. Bartlett residence, for a consideration of $22,500. The grantor is Mr. Bartlett. The buyer is planning to build a handsome residence in keeping with the other improvements in the neighborhood, which is one of the most exclusive of the city.

The price is at the rate of $150 a front foot, which is said to be a record price for residence property, although sales of similarly located property in other cities are not considered high at twice the price.

NEW BUILDING SELLS QUICKLY.

Fitz E. Beach has sold the new three-story brick building at Nos. 508-10 South Hill street to A. F. Gilmore for a consideration of $65,000. The deal was made through the office of Robert McGarvin. The property consists of a lot 34½ feet front with a depth of 73 feet, adjoining the Hotel Willoughby, on the southeast corner of Fifth and Hill streets. The building has only just been completed, and is one of the handsomest on the street. The first story and basement are occupied by a cafeteria. There are nine rooms on each of the upper floors. The building will rent for $400 a month.

403 S. HILL STREET.

SIX-ROOM BUNGALOW ON DALTON AVE.

Terms $200 down. Terms $200 down.

This bungalow was finished some time ago and, on account of a little trouble, was not offered for sale until now. The present owner doesn't need money and will take as low as $200 down, balance $30 per month, including the interest, until paid; thus making it just like rent. There are six large rooms, finished in Flemish oak and white enamel, hardwood floors and very fine lighting fixtures. On account of this property having been neglected, the price has been cut about $1000. We will be pleased to show you this great, big snap.

BUNGALOW, CLOSE IN.

A charming 6-room home, very attractive, only 2 years old, at a surprising bargain. It must be sold. The location is just off Figueroa street, in one of the prettiest, shaded, southwest avenues, a street 80 feet wide, lined throughout with beautiful homes. This house has an abundance of windows, admitting air and sunlight, a broad, long veranda, entrance hallway and all commodious, well fitted rooms. The built-in features are complete, handsome mantel and fireplace, lighting fixtures, etc., etc. The yard is attractive with flowers and shrubbery. It's just such a little home as you are looking for, complete well built and comfortable, and the price is way down below actual cost—only $3750.

BUNGALOW, SOUTHWEST.

Terms $1000 cash. Terms $1000 cash.

At such a price you cannot afford to pass this by without looking at it. Located on a beautiful street, southwest, near the W. Adams and W. Jefferson-st. car lines. It has seven rooms, including a very pretty breakfast-room, hardwood floors, all the down-to-date built-in features, Flemish oak finish in all the principal rooms and white enamel in the three bedrooms and bath. The lot is large and well improved with lawn, flowers, barn, etc. This home is now vacant—has been used but a short time, and is $700 under value. It is a bargain.

STORY AND HALF HARVARD BOULEVARD HOME.

Terms $800 cash. $4275. Terms $800 cash.

Balance to suit. Balance to suit.

This six-room house is fully modern and up to date. It is splendidly located in the southwest on a good size, east front lot. The house is about one year old, but as good as new with hardwood floors downstairs, light finish and white enamel; there is an exceptionally fine bathroom in this home. There is also a large garage on the property. If you want a very pretty, livable home at $500 less than its value, let us show you this BEAUTIFUL HOME, ONE BLOCK FROM BERKELEY SQUARE.

We have on West Adams Heights a splendid 9-room home that will be sold this week at a surprising bargain. It lies one block from Berkeley Square on a full sized fifty-foot lot surrounded by many of the best homes in the city. This house does not need a dollar spent on it. Its rooms are large throughout and fitted with every built-in and modern idea. Hardwood floors upstairs and down, furnace, 2 mantels and fire places, spacious living-room, paneled and beamed work, admirable lighting fixtures, separate den with outside entrance, four fine bedrooms in white enamel, and a closed-in sleeping balcony besides. This is your bargain. The price will not wait for next week. If you want a home at all, see this one today. Just $8000.

THE ONLY BUNGALOW IN BEAUTIFUL PALM PLACE TRACT.

Terms $1000 cash. Terms $1000 cash.

If you are not acquainted with this beautiful location, we wish to say it's bound by Pico st., Alvarado st., West 11th and Hoover sts., in the best part of the Westlake district, and just across the street from the Westmoreland Tract. How this bungalow got in this highly restricted tract, we don't know and it's none of our business; it's there and has been for a year. Was built for a home and is now for sale at the above low figure, and almost any terms you may desire. The owner has vacated and, if we hadn't said so, you would take it for a brand new home. There are six large rooms and a full tiled bathroom, big cellar and a gas furnace piped to every room, hardwood floors throughout, two patent wall beds, beautiful lighting fixtures, and the rooms are paneled and beamed and hung with expensive hangings. The bungalow is very artistic and sets on a broad lot facing almost north. If you want a home in the beautiful Westlake district, surrounded by expensive homes, fine car service, at a low price on almost any terms, see this at once. It won't last.

WILSHIRE DISTRICT SUNSHINE HOME.

When we say "sunshine," we mean it. Overlooking the whole city, this home is built on an elevated lot 62½x150 feet, close to two car lines and only 20 minutes to Broadway. This beautiful property, with nine rooms, two baths and two sunrooms, has been completed about two weeks and must be sold at once. The above figure is away under value and won't last a week. So if you are looking for one of the swellest homes in the Wilshire district, act quickly. This house is built on a solid concrete foundation, and is so arranged that every room gets the sunshine. On the first floor, as you enter, you'll find an immense living-room, 20x40 feet, finished in mahoganized curly redwood, with a massive Chatsworth stone mantel at the west end. To the north end of the room is a broad winding stairway leading to the upper floor. Just off the living-room to the south is a grand dining-room which adjoins a glass sunroom or den; this opens onto a large porch, 20 feet square. The kitchen, pantries, maid's room and bath are complete and in keeping with this fine home. The upstairs rooms are finished in white enamel with pink hangings. With the four spacious bed chambers and sunroom, we are sure no fault can be found. There are three closets in the main bedroom and in each door is a large French plate mirror. The closets in the other rooms are very commodious and are provided with outside light. The bath has every down-to-date fixture and is conveniently arranged for the bedrooms.

Too much cannot be said of this beautiful home, which is $3000 under what it ought to sell for. Cellar is of good size, and the furnace pipes lead to every rooms. Call on us to show you this home. It will please you, and it is a bargain, in the right location.

BEAUTIFUL HOME IN WESTMORELAND TRACT.

This is a high grade, cement plastered house located on Elden ave., close to W. 11th st., overlooking Westmoreland Place and the mountains; stands on an elevated lot 65x145 feet, with beautiful homes all about. The owner of this property has given us a short option to get some ready cash and the price is away under value. It was built for a home and will stand close inspection; contains eleven large rooms with high ceilings. Downstairs there are a library, very large living-room with massive mantel, dining-room, built-in lavatory, kitchen, pantries and screen porch, 12x12, with fine maid's room adjoining. Upstairs there are six complete sleeping rooms, large bath and extra lavatory. Cellar is of brick with good furnace; small barn in rear of lot, with broad driveway leading to it. This is a real livable home built for a good sized family, at a snap price. About $5000 cash is needed, balance to be arranged.

BEAUTIFUL MISSION HOME IN THE WESTLAKE DISTRICT.

This palatial house contains fourteen rooms and three bathrooms. The lower floor is finished in selected oak and mahogany with seven-eighth inch oak floors throughout. The upper hall is also in solid oak while the sleeping apartments are in white enamel. The rooms are exceptionally well lighted. The walls are draped with rich tapestries and real leather on the first floor and rich papers upstairs. There is an artistic pergola in the court with bricked floor; this pergola is covered with beautiful vines and roses and is ideally suited for outdoor breakfasts and teas.

There are two complete heating systems; also Ruud water heater and electric ventilating system. The garage is large enough for three cars and has man's rooms above. The lot is 110x145 feet.

This is, without question, one of the best built and well arranged residences we have ever offered. It can be seen by appointment only.

AN ABSOLUTE BARGAIN. WESTLAKE DISTRICT.

It is seldom we have a snap like this, a modern 10-room residence, completely furnished, with piano; furniture worth at least $1500; in the choicest part of the Westlake section, on one of its best streets; a house delightfully arranged, large reception hall, reception parlor, living-room and spacious dining-room, all well lighted and handsomely decorated. Five large airy bed chambers, 2 baths, extra large closets, 3 lavatories, etc. The attic is finished to allow for billiard room. The home is complete in every detail, on an east front lot 100x150 to an alley, beautifully improved, lawn, flowers, and rare shrubs. There is also a $1500 garage on the lot. We know it is a bargain, and you will when you see it. Any reasonable terms will be accepted. This home must be sold.

$30,000. $30,000.

AN ELEGANT RESIDENCE—EAST FRONT. NEAR WILSHIRE BOULEVARD.

This is one of the most beautiful and carefully constructed homes in the city, finished in quartered oak and mahogany, rubbed to a piano finish. All floors ⅞-inch oak. The arrangement of rooms is most pleasing, artistic and serviceable. The broad reception hall leads to a very large living-room, beautifully finished, having a massive stone and Gruby tile fireplace, two 12-ft. heavy plate-glass windows, etc. Dining-room is a model of elegance, having an abundance of light, mellowed by an exquisite art-glass 12-ft. panel, large and convenient butler's pantry leads to a fine kitchen complete in the necessary equipment of this most important room. There are 5 very large, well-lighted and luxurious bedrooms, very large closets, with built-in drawers, etc. It would be impossible to tell you half of the merits of this place, we will say, however, that the foundation of this magnificent home alone cost $1500. All studding is 2x6, all floor joists 2x10 and 2x12, in fact, the construction throughout was under the personal supervision of the owner, and only the best of material used. The front of house is adorned by a wide and long cement porch, supported by Chatsworth stone foundation and columns. Lot is 80x217, finely improved. An uninterrupted view of almost the entire mountain range will always be possessed by this magnificent property. We will gladly give you complete details concerning this home.

$50,000. ——$50,000—— $50,000.

Situated on a very large corner in the most desirable section of Wilshire blvd. East and south frontage. Entrance is to a spacious hall, paneled in heavy quarter-sawed oak and lighted through large art-glass window on landing of the grand staircase, which is carved oak of massive design. To the right a very large living-room, imposing in its simplicity, and oak finish, with a mammoth fireplace, reminding one of an old New England home. The dining-room is light and cheerful, with a southern exposure, finished in high paneling of genuine Peruvian mahogany; the buffet of mahogany and heavy bevel plate glass is lovely for its own sake. There is a large, roomy billiard hall in oak on the ground floor (where it can be enjoyed.) Connecting doors to living-room and hall, also an outside entrance direct from the porte cochere, and is provided with a very large fireplace. The den is located in the most attractive portion of the house for pure comfort, light and sunshine and also has a separate fireplace. The finish is quartered oak. Kitchen is large, bright and sunny, with a wealth of cabinet pantry work. Three of the bedchambers upstairs are extremely large, light and airy, with cedar closets and built-in wardrobes. Each of which has an individual bathroom and shower, with tile floors and the most modern plumbing. Servants' quarters are complete, with a separate bath and segregated from the family apartments. There is a fine garage, with cement driveway from both streets. Basement is equipped with furnace, Ruud heater, vegetable rooms, etc. If you are looking for a good home do not fail to let us show you this one, and if it should not suit we have others.

CHOICEST OF THE CHOICE. VIEW OF BOTH MOUNTAIN AND SEA.

This beautiful and attractive 9-room residence is located on the hilltop of Wilshire district. It will make any family a most desirable home, and you will make a mistake not to investigate it. There is a very fine reception hall leading on one side to the living-room, and on the other to the dining-room; both of which are very large and finished with every modern appointment and with best of taste. Massive beam ceilings in all these rooms. There is also a den with built-in bookcases, which is ideal. Plate-glass windows in all these rooms. Splendid kitchen and butler's pantry. Four fine corner bedrooms and two baths on the second floor; also large balconies, both front and rear; large basement with splendid furnace and electric ventilator. The lot is 150x150. You cannot duplicate this fine property for the cash price. We can make terms to suit purchaser, and as the owner is anxious to go abroad for a season he is ready to sacrifice. We will be glad to submit almost any kind of proposition. See us at once.

BEST BUY ON HEIGHTS. WEST ADAMS DISTRICT.

This modern 10-room residence, close to Berkeley Square, is situated on a large southwest corner, 75x155 to an alley. House just completed.

The reception hall is finished in genuine Tabasco mahogany, paneled seven feet high and with hangings of tapestry in the old gold effect. Dining-room is finished in quarter-sawed white oak and contains paneled walls, beamed ceilings, elegant built-in buffet with cut-glass doors and 7 large mirrors. This room is hung with rich imported tapestry and contains large circle bay window which has 7 plate glass windows. The living-room is also finished in quarter-sawed white oak, with beamed ceilings, paneled walls, an elaborate mantel, etc. There are 2 large bedchambers downstairs. Large rear hall. On the first floor there is a large tiled bathroom, containing the finest plumbing.

Upstairs contains very large bed chambers; one 18x30, with large fireplace. Also fine, large bathroom. House contains hardwood floors throughout. Large cement basement and furnace. Large, 2-story garage, with every modern convenience, containing servants' quarters.

FOR SALE—
As owner of a magnificent two-story residence located near 29th and Orchard avenue, and on account of a change in my vocation, I am going to offer my home consisting of nine rooms for $3000, less than what the property cost me three years ago. The property consists of an eight room residence, with 50-ft. lot, and is today well worth $7000.
I will accept, if sold this week, $4750 on terms, of 1-4 cash and the balance at 7 per cent.
This proposition is absolutely reliable and is not put in the paper for the purpose of drawing out buyers, but is legitimate and straight forward. The place could easily be rented for $40 or $50 month at the present time, and has never been offered for sale during the last three years. Address M, box 242, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE. 15

—$3350— —$3350—
An elegant 6 room bungalow located five blocks from Westlake Park on an 80-ft. street at a price of $3350, and a payment of only $500 down.

This is a rare bargain and was cut $300 from the original price. It is on an east front lot and in a section that is building up very rapidly.

—$4500— 7 ROOM BUNGALOW. —$4500—
$4500 will buy one of the finest 7 room bungalows in the Wilshire section. It is one block from the car line and in the most select portion of the exclusive Wilshire district. This is the part of town that is growing.

The bungalow is new and modern in every respect. The wood throughout is selected. The floors are of the best of oak.

There are three large bedrooms, den, living room, dining-room, kitchen and screen porch, and, by the way, the porch is cement, with brick pillars and the plan could not be criticised. It is a good buy and can be handled for $1000 cash.

—$5350— —$5350—
This is an elegant broad front, new bungalow on a 70-ft. lot, and, by the way, it is an east front. It has a large cement porch extending the entire width of the house, with stone balustrades and pillars, and an elegant, massive stone mantel in the living room.

The living room and dining-room have beautiful beamed ceilings and the den is fitted with a Hawley disappearing bed, so that it can be used, if necessary, as a bedroom. One of the bedrooms is exceedingly large, with a bay window, and very light and airy, and, by the way, the electric fixtures cost over $300; that will give you an idea of what the bungalow really is. The location is ideal, and we would be very glad to show the property.

We have one of the finest residences in the Wilshire section offered for sale at the exceedingly low figure of $9000. The location cannot be improved on, and the lot is 75x150, nicely elevated above the street. This house contains 9 rooms, 5 of which are bedrooms. It also has a large sleeping porch, living room, den and dining-room, which have beamed ceilings.

The bath is unusually large, and with an inclosed shower. The house has a furnace, and the fixtures and hardware throughout are the very best. This place is an unusually attractive house, and one of the best bargains in that district.

FOR SALE—
$5900—PALATIAL BUNGALOW—$5900

Here is one of the cheapest buys ever offered. New (completed last Wednesday) 1½-story house, living-room 14x30, beamed ceilings, built-in seat, copper and pressed brick mantel, bookcases with leaded glass doors, dining-room and breakfast room paneled, built-in buffet, leaded glass doors with special mirror and art-glass effect, which make it extremely inviting. Pass-pantry and buffet-kitchen done in white enamel with every known convenience, air-cooling closets and soap boxes built in.

The second floor is reached from the pass-pantry or from the living-room by a broad open stairs, and has 3 bedchambers, 2 unusually large and airy, having large closets with built-in drawers for dressers, all rooms enter into a well-lighted hall conveniently arranged with linen closet, etc. From each of the bedrooms there are artistic French doors leading to sleeping balconies; bath is complete in every detail with built-in medicine chest; also towel closet and special lighting effect; all rooms have an outside exposure; large windows and an unusually well-proportioned roof add character and beauty, while still retaining simplicity. All rooms on second floor done in 5-coat white enamel. Full-size dressing mirror and cloakroom conveniently arranged, storeroom in attic reached from closet.

Lighting fixtures best that money can buy. Oak floors on first floor and maple on second; all carefully selected and laid. Soft shades and harmonious tinting in all rooms. Concrete foundation under entire house. Large and airy cellar, built-in shelves for fruits. Entire house, including bath, piped for furnace and gas. Small room can be used for sewing or servant's room. One of the most pleasant features of this house is a large cement porch 30 feet in length, back porch is encased with screen having two stationary washtubs. Also laboratory porches and chimneys built of red pressed brick.

The lot is 50x150, east front, high ground. House was built by days' work, all work carrying a year's guarantee.

Owner has been called to San Francisco, therefore must sacrifice. Come and see it and you will agree with me that it is equal to any $7000 home. Ask the neighbors how it was built.

Open today from 12 m. to 5 o'clock.

VICTORIA PARK.

VICTORIA PARK.

VICTORIA PARK.

A SCORE OF WELL-KNOWN CITIZENS HAVE UNITED TO CREATE A PRIVATE RESIDENCE PARK OF THE HIGHEST CLASS. THEIR COMMITTEES INSPECTED THE FOUR OR FIVE OTHER FIRST-CLASS PRIVATE RESIDENCE LOCALITIES AND ADOPTED ONLY THEIR BEST FEATURES, IMPROVING ON THEM IN MOST PARTICULARS.

THE RESULT IS VICTORIA PARK.

DRIVES 100 FEET BROAD.

PARKINGS THIRTY FEET WIDE.

SEVEN-FOOT CEMENT SIDEWALKS.

FOUR ROWS OF TREES ALONG EACH DRIVE.

ELEVATED SITE, OVERLOOKING LOWER GROUND, SO THAT THE SUPERB VIEW CAN NEVER BE OBSTRUCTED.

ASPHALT PAVEMENT FROM THE BUSINESS CENTER TO VICTORIA PARK.

CONVENIENT LOCATION ON THE HIGH PLATEAU KNWN AS WEST ADAMS HEIGHTS.

PICO HEIGHTS CARS ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THE PARK, BEACH CARS ALONG SIXTEENTH ON THE SOUTH SIDE.

SUBWAY RIGHT-OF-WAY FROM 63 YARDS TO 1½ BLOCKS NORTH.

LARGE LOTS, 60 TO 130 FEET FRONTAGE, AVERAGING 150 FEET DEEP.

LOW PRICES AT PRESENT, COMBINED WITH AN ASSURED FUTURE. THE FOUR OF FIVE OTHER PRIVATE RESIDENCE LOCALITIES, THE ONLY ONES WHICH CAN BE COMPARED TO VICTORIA PARK, RANGE FROM $100 TO $300 PER FRNT FOOT. VICTORIA PARK, AT LEAST THE EQUAL OF ANY, RANGES FROM $35 TO ABOUT $50 PER FRONT FOOT, THE LARGE BUILDING SITES BEING FROM $3000 TO $6500.

THESE PRICES WILL SOON BE ADVANCED TO FIGURES MORE IN PROPORTION TO THE MERITS OF THE PROPERTY.

IF YOU INTEND TO BUILD A HOME COSTING FROM $5000 TO $25,000 OR MORE, YOU SHOULD SEE VICTORIA PARK BEFORE SELECTING A SITE.

FOR FURTHER PARTICULARS, AND TO SEE THE PROPERTY, TELEPHONE US FOR AUTOMOBILE APPOINTMENT, OR TAKE PICO HEIGHTS (NOT WILTON PLACE) CAR TO VICTORIA PARK. MR. C. B. FELTS IS ON THE GROUND.

FOR SALE—
R. HOLTBY MYERS CO.,
Special Agents Mt. Washington,
331 S. Hill st.
"As it is."

You are thinking of buying a lot or would not be reading this "ad." You can buy a 50x150 lot at almost any price. The space or area is just the same. Prices are determined by conditions. In a cheap neighborhood you find cheap houses and cheap improvements. Often good reasons, family ties, old associations, etc., warrant such a location. But—if you are not tied by such considerations—think—yes, think more than once and before you decide see Mt. Washington. It's in a class by itself. Novelty, charm and genuine attractiveness will always boost values in a residence neighborhood. In a new tract you soon know every one, have pleasant social surroundings, and quickly acquire the "old residents" status. Your money invested increases with the growth of the neighborhood. On Mt. Washington, with its incline railroad, magnificent views, hills and canyons, you have the setting for an ideal California country home. Outside the city, but having a "bird's-eye" look in, and only a few minutes from your office or place of business. The prices are very reasonable. The restrictions are comparatively high, but that is all to your advantage, and to the advantage of Mt. Washington. The incline will be running next month. Now is the time to make selection and reservation. Call for maps and price lists. 'Phones Main 83, A9980.

SOMERSET.
FOR ACRE HOMESITES.

Go where the people are going fast. Go where the price is low and the income large. Go to Somerset and see the rapidly-spreading community on their one-acre farm homes. It is the ideal spot for the man of limited means. Apply your rent on a home of your own and found your independence on the growing values.

EVERYTHING GROWS AT SOMERSET.

Your garden will maintain your table, with some to sell. The express car loaded at the station reaches the city markets in half an hour. You can live there and work in town. It will not be long until the city itself spreads out to embrace the suburb of Somerset. Then your acre will cut up into six lots, each one worth as much as your entire acre cost.

INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY.
My specialty. My specialty. My specialty.
I have followed the locating of many of the oldest merchants of this city for the past 10 years for warehouse and business locations along the Sou. Pac. and Santa Fe Ry. tracks. These properties have steadily advanced during this interval. I am in touch with all properties, aligning, sidings and spurs, and am still adhering to this class of property. Should you be wanting anything for present needs or as a speculative proposition, I am satisfied it would be to your interest to call on me and acquaint yourself with things doing along this section. Do not delay but get in and secure your holdings before it is too late.

FOR SALE—
Business Property.

FOR SALE—
DO YOU KNOW
CAN YOU REALIZE
a genuine snap bargain when you see one like this 60-foot corner on Grand ave. and 15th st., at the ridiculously low price of $19,500? This has been held at $30,000. Owner has no money to pay for asphalt paving just finished to Jefferson and must sell, $6000 cash, balance easy. Only six blocks of Hamburger's greatest store in the West. At the rate business is growing toward this corner it will be worth $50,000 in four years. Liable to bring quarter million in fifteen years. A great safe speculation, your money will double in a short time. Can build up this corner and get 9 per cent. net. Remember, sixty feet on Grand ave., the great central street half-way between Main and Figueroa. Watch Grand ave., the first street west of Broadway, leading off from Seventh that goes straight down through center of city with its many car lines. The cheapest corner, and best speculation in Los Angeles. Los Angeles will be as large as any two cities on the Coast in thirty years.
OIL IS KING.
Have proven oil land for sale and lease; can guarantee you 100 to 250 barrel wells. Don't fail to see me.
INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY.
Have seven acres on Alameda st., cheap; S. P. and Santa Fe railroads. Best manufacturing site in city.

FOR SALE—
Country Property.

FOR SALE—

120 acres of land adjoining townsite upon main line of Southern Pacific railroad, in Tulare county. Has four-room house, large barn and windmill. House just repaired and painted. Abundance of semi-artesian water. Lift only 25 feet. Electric power furnished by Mount Whitney Power Co. if wanted. Many eucalyptus tracts being planted near by. Will sell as a whole at $45 an acre.

320 acres of land in Tulare county. Railroad crosses tract. Fine level soil, free from alkali and in artesian belt. Lands next adjoining selling for $65 an acre. We offer for prompt acceptance at $40 an acre in 40-acre tracts.

We offer a section of land in Tulare County close to railroad and in the artesian belt at $30 an acre. Has a pumping well in which water stands to within four feet of surface. No better land in the valley and cannot be duplicated at the price. Terms.

We offer 640 acres of land with artesian well flowing about fifty inches of water, small house, stables and corrals. Land is fenced and partly cross-fenced, and is a fine ranch for cattle. We will sell this section as a whole for $30 an acre and make terms.

We also offer 480 acres of land in Tulare County in artesian belt. Is close to railroad and is level and free from alkali. Just over the fence the land is selling at $65 an acre. We will sell the piece at $30 an acre and make terms.

Up and down the Santa Fe Railroad between Corcoran and Bakersfield good farming lands are selling at $65 and $150 an acre with water. We own 2080 acres at Solita entirely in the artesian belt. Our lands are all above the swamp line and are never subject to overflow. A few miles to the east and west you get out of the artesian belt. REMEMBER THESE TWO FACTS WHEN BUYING.

You can buy land from us at wholesale prices—viz $35 an acre, in 40-acre tracts, and by sinking your own artesian well save big money. It is only about 700 feet to the artesian flow. We have one well on our property that has been flowing about fifty inches for 20 years, and it is only 695 feet deep. We are told that at Solita the well is but 550 feet deep. It is foolish paying $65 an acre for land and getting water out of a co-operative ditch, with annual tax for maintenance, when the same land can be bought from us at $35 an acre, and the cost of a well will be only about $1000 additional. All our 40-acre tracts front on a public highway.

We are the sole owners of all the above lands and can make our own terms. Come in and see us and let us figure this out for you.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT TO LAND BUYERS.
AN INVITATION TO BE OUR SPECIAL GUESTS WITHOUT EXPENSE
TO SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY'S GARDEN SPOT.

We have a magnificent tract of 3000 acres of the deepest, richest and most productive soil in the whole famous San Joaquin Valley, which we are offering in farms of 10 acres up.

This land is all level as a floor and under a perfect system of irrigation from our own flowing artesian wells. It is free from all injurious alkali, marl or hardpan and produces phenomenal crops of alfalfa, wheat, potatoes, onions, beets, deciduous fruits, dairy products and others of all kinds.

FREE ROUND TRIP TICKETS
SPECIAL CHARTERED CAR

Many land-seekers have taken trip after trip to different lands advertised only to return disappointed and out both time and money. In order to convince him of the truth of our claim that there is no richer, purer or more productive land than our Great HOMELAND TRACT, we have chartered a SPECIAL CAR and will furnish round trip transportation ABSOLUTELY FREE. This means that whether you purchase or not your trip will cost you nothing.

We do this because we know that anyone who is looking for the very best land in the whole State—land with water already developed and in the canals, and only $75 an acre (no more) on yearly or monthly payments—will realize that he has found it when he reaches our tract.

Our SPECIAL CAR will leave Saturday night, March 20th, returning again early Monday morning, and if you want us to reserve a place for you please call or write to us at once, as the space is limited.

DELANO.

FOR SALE—
Our experts, after one year of actual test in the field, selected Delano in preference to any other part of California because:
It is an early region, and the demand for early products is always great.
It is a deep, rich, sandy loam soil, and we will furnish implements for you to test its depth.
It is a healthful and accessible region.
We will show you practical demonstrations on our land from oranges to alfalfa.
We sell 10 and 20-acre tracts with water and a perfect water system.
S. F. B. MORSE DEVELOPMENT CO.,
No. 351 S. Main st.

FOR SALE—DELANO.

CORONA.

FOR SALE—
Corona is the second city for size in Riverside county, and is only town of importance on south side of valley, and growing rapidly. Third town in southern California for tonnage of freight; prices here are cheaper than elsewhere, and the small investor or homeseeker cannot afford to overlook this section. We have some buys under this low level. For instance;

Alfalfa—17 1-3 acres, half mile of depot; cut from $300 to $250 per acre for quick turn.

Orange groves, ½ mile from high-school, $7500 with crop; easy terms.

These are only samples. Tell us what you want and we will surprise you with values. Property is changing hands fast and sure to go up. Home phone 464. HIVELY & HULL, Corona. 14

FOR SALE—
Lemon or Orange Groves.

FOR SALE—BY R. HOLTBY MYERS CO.,
331 South Hill st.
REDLANDS. HIGHLANDS. COLTON.

There may be as good groves elsewhere, but none better than those in Redlands, Highlands and Colton districts. If you doubt it, compare eastern quotations and orange sale reports. Ask the "other fellow." If he's half way straight he'll say "none better in California," and that means none better in the world.

There are not many good groves in these districts for sale at reasonable prices, but through long residence there formerly we have secured a few on short contracts. These have been carefully inspected and appraised. We spend our advertising money on only those which are absolutely right.

All property is just "as it is" represented.

"AS IT IS."

At Redlands—Prospect Park (England's Heights,) the show place of Redlands. First time offered for sale. Thirty acres in mature orange grove, the remainder in botanical gardens, drives and other park improvements; magnificent setting for country home. Description of this and other property in "California Country Homes" (Illustrated.) Mailed free upon request. Price $150,000.

"AS IT IS."

At Redlands—Near Country Club and car line, twelve acres navels, eleven acres Valencias; just coming into bearing; has stone irrigating flumes, storm ditches and fine ornamental nursery stock; perfect trees; eighteen acres vacant land. All under pipe line. Will double in value in next three or four years with proper care. Overlooks San Bernardino Valley; beautiful for situation. Further particulars in "California Country Homes," mailed free upon request. Price $35,000.

In the "Protected Highlands District."

Note—Do you know what this means? It's valuable information for the prospective buyer.

"AS IT IS."

In Highlands District.—Cozy little home place; five acres in oranges; mostly navels, 5 acres in Eureka lemons; NO SCALE; extra fine trees; a revenue producer and going to be better; comfortable house, barn and other buildings. A certain bargain at $12,500.

"AS IT IS."

In Highland District.—One of the premier groves in every respect. 11½ acres of trees which cannot be excelled anywhere. About one acre of smaller trees just coming into fruit. An exceptional view. Crop this season shows great results; without crop, $25,000; and upon inspection and comparison we know you'll consider it—if you have the money.

"AS IT IS."

In Highlands District.—Two "pick-ups." One of ten acres for $6500; another of seven acres for $5000. Both present great opportunities and about $2500 cash will handle either of them. Owner is large grower and wants to close out these outside holdings.

We have others. Let us tell you some things about these properties which we cannot express in an "ad." Every one is worth your investigation.

"AS IT IS."

At Colton.—On proposed extension of the Riverside trolley line, fifteen acres young trees just coming into full bearing; certain and cheap water. Crop this year estimated at 2800 boxes, which goes with the place at $15,000.

"AS IT IS."

At Colton.—Fine old grove and country home on Terrace; large residence and fully matured trees; barns, stables, foreman's house and other buildings, with small expense can be made a "show place" and picturesque country house. Splendid yearly revenue can be increased. Price $50,000.

"AS IT IS."

The biggest and best. About 300 acres in grove in choice Southern California location. It pays good dividends but death of eastern stockholders places the property on the market. Can be subdivided and sold at a good profit immediately, or by carrying for a year or two with additional small expense would make a big winning. It's absolutely safe. Will take $75,000 cash to handle it. A good chance for small syndicate.

Inquiries are invited from those who are considering the purchase of a California country home.

Our correspondents in the best orange growing districts are on the outlook for extra values. Send for "California Country Homes, Illustrated."

FOR SALE—
Orange grove, 12 acres, foothill land, close to packing-house and depot.

3 acres navels, 8 years old; 3 acres lemons, 12 years old; 3 shares in ditch running through the grove, $120 each share, which irrigates 7 acres; well; 10-inch bore, 130 feet deep; water level 17 ft.; pumps 25 inches water for irrigating 5 acres above the ditch; complete pumping plant.

IMPROVEMENTS—Small house, well for house, barn; a complete set of improvements, mostly new and up to date; 2 horses, 2 wagons, 500 picking boxes; income averages $3500 a year; receipts can be seen at packing house.

Price $16,000. Cash required $9000, balance $1000 yearly for 8 years; interest 7 per cent. The payments on this proposition are very attractive for you can see a buyer can make these payments yearly easily, as receipts average $3500 a year; yearly payment being only $1000, and interest about $560; this $1560 deducted from the receipts leaves an income of $2000 yearly.

Buy your ticket direct to Strathmore. Trains leave L. A. every night at 5 p.m.; arrive at Strathmore, 7:45 a.m. Through car. Office opposite depot.

FOR SALE — ORANGE GROVES IN THE best localities. Big list, many exclusive properties.

Number 9573—Just listed, and exclusively; first time offered. Business reasons necessitate an immediate sale. Location near Claremont. 10 acres, mostly navels; pruned, fumigated, heavily fertilized; 2700 boxes fruit already picked; estimate of remaining crop 2500 boxes. This goes to buyer if purchased now. Improvements new, strictly modern, and cost about $10,000. For immediate sale owner will sell for less than present actual value; property clear; terms ½ down, balance favorable terms. Whoever wants to buy a first class full bearing grove, with magnificent new improvements, location the best, and has the means to swing this proposition, should see me soon, as I am instructed to sell as quickly as possible, and at the price listed it should sell on sight.

Number 9534 is another choice grove, in fine condition. Ten minutes' walk from Pomona College, Claremont; frostless location; Loop & Meserve water stock, 50c the acre per annum; 435 3-year Valencia buds with heavy crop; about 1000 boxes; balance full bearing navels, Sweets and St. Michaels; some large seedlings. Crop on trees about $4000; income will increase annually as the Valencia buds become older. Improvements are not new and modern, but consist of a good, comfortable 10-room house; part has been built some years, part more recently; good barn. This grove was listed exclusively very recently. On Saturday, Feb. 27, owner was suddenly called East; he has instructed me to sell this grove during his absence, and if necessary to immediate sale, to shade price. It is actually worth $3000 more than I will deliver it for if a buyer will see me soon.

Number 9417—Washington navels, 7-year buds, in finest possible condition; $4000 crop on trees; frostless locality; has never changed hands; no finer Washington navel grove in Southern California; valuable water rights. Can deliver for $15,000, crop included. Owner's terms as listed is all cash. But it is possible $12,000 down and a mortgage back for $3000 will be acceptable.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

LADIES—LADIES—LADIES.

LADIES—LADIES—LADIES.
WITH SUPERFLUOUS HAIR ON THE FACE, ARMS, HANDS, NECK, EYEBROWS AND BUST.
We make a specialty of removing superfluous hair, moles, warts, birth marks and guarantee our work absolutely.
REMEMBER—We use the latest scientific FIVE NEEDLE method so extensively used in the East, and remove 250 to 300 hairs per hour, while no operator using only one needle can remove over 60 per hour and do good work. We have tried it for years.
REMEMBER—We guarantee to kill every hair we treat, and should any return we will gladly remove them FREE OF CHARGE and thank you for the privilege of doing so. Try it; it's your only hope.
REMEMBER—The same number of hairs we remove, costing you $10, would cost you $35 elsewhere. One treatment will convince you how quickly we do it. NO PAIN, NO SCARS—this we guarantee.
REMEMBER—Your face is getting worse daily. Pulling, cutting and depilatories only increase the growth. A talk with us will do no harm. Consultation free.

CUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT OUT AND BRING IT WITH YOU. IT WILL NOT APPEAR AGAIN THIS WEEK.

PROF. W. E. KING, Los Angeles' celebrated psychic, is permanently located here. His honesty, test of time and 25 years' continuous practice as a psychic have proved beyond all doubt that PROF. W. E. KING is the leader of his profession.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.
Never before in the history of occult science has a man of PROF. W. E. KING'S professional standing consented to place his services at the disposal of the public for such a nominal consideration. Realizing that this city has been overrun with pretenders and that many of its citizens are anxious to visit a genuine psychic PROF. W. E. KING has decided to place his consultation fee within the reach of all.

EXTRAORDINARY PSYCHIC POWER, combined with his superior knowledge of occult force, enables him to read human life with unerring accuracy from infancy to old age; his powers are wonderful and indisputable; his advice is reliable, his information clear, concise and to the point; will tell you every hope, fear, ambition, better than you could tell it yourself.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO SEE A PSYCHIC WHY NOT SEE THE BEST?
As the best is always the cheapest in the end. Better consult no psychic at all than one who is unable to help you, as false prophets do more harm than good, as they leave you in a worse condition than before by their false advice, based upon guesses; but PROF. W. E. KING has an established reputation; testimonials and credentials from thousands of your own citizens and friends.

"Arise! Throw off thy shackles!" Exchange sorrow for joy, darkness for light. "Be master of your own destiny."

SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS, pointed out to all. The grand results obtained by those who have consulted W. E. King is positive proof of his superior power to reveal the mysteries of the future. When truth is revealed, as it always is when they consult the peer of all life readers, the universal expression is, I am satisfied and happy since I consulted W. E. King.

Call and he will guide you with certainty higher than human power; tells you the truth, good or bad.

STANDING CHALLENGE:
$5000.
FOR HIS EQUAL.
$5000.

Others may come and others may go, but W. E. KING always remains.

If you have already made a mistake, thrown away your money and lost confidence through dealing with much-advertised and self-styled palmists and psychics and their cheap, clap-trap methods, start from the beginning and consult PROF. W. E. KING. He will tell you frankly your condition and what you may expect; if nothing can be done for you he will not take one cent of your money. Has not this honesty on the face of it?

PROF. W. E. KING FORETELLS MANY GREAT EVENTS.
Some of the prophecies made by PROF. W. E. KING and which were fulfilled to the letter and day were:
The explosion of the United States warship Bennington at San Diego, Cal. It was predicted that on that day the government would lose a ship in the Pacific.
PROF. W. E. KING, Psychic, had warned the public of San Francisco's earthquake of 1906 for years.
PROF. W. E. KING predicted the Japanese-Russian war. The day of the month and year was predicted on which hostilities would be begun and the victory of the Japanese.
PROF. W. E. KING predicted the late President McKinley's assassination at "Buffalo Exposition."
PROF. W. E. KING predicted the assassination of Carter Harrison the elder three weeks before the weak-minded Prendergast fired the fatal shot at Chicago's chief executive.
PROF. W. E. KING predicted the earthquake at Kingston, Jamaica, W. I.; the earthquake in Chile; the Thaw-White tragedy; also predicted the Galveston flood.
PROF. W. E. KING, Psychic, has foretold many great events that took place on the day set.

Recommended by a New York Judge; August 20, 1905—I cheerfully recommend Prof. King as a gifted psychic. He predicted my election. JUDGE F. B. CROWELL, Supreme Judge.

FROM LILLIAN RUSSELL, THE WELL-KNOWN ACTRESS.
I was greatly impressed with PROF. W. E. KING'S reading. His powers are truly marvelous. He develops in one a force that enables them to attract people, to interest them and to please them to their good and to your advantage without the least effort on one's part. His advice and assistance have been of great benefit to me.

FROM A PROMINENT MINISTER.
I desire to bear evidence to the genuineness of PROF. W. E. KING'S work. God gives to us an intuition whereby we may guide our lives. That PROF. W. E. KING possesses this guiding power to a marvelous degree is evident. The fact that his clients are his warmest and truest friends is alone a tribute to his sincerity and honest methods in dealing with all. He has rendered me immeasurable assistance. Rev. W. C. Jessup.

FROM M. ROTHSCHILD, THE WELL-KNOWN FINANCIER.
For the past five years PROF. W. E. KING'S advice and assistance has been of great benefit to me. I have tested nearly every psychic in this country, and find PROF. W. E. KING'S advice reliable and far superior to any that I have ever met.

To Whom it May Concern: We take great pleasure in recommending our brother, PROF. W. E. KING, as a psychic of good standing, having to our knowledge been fully developed in all the various phases of mental psychicship. We cordially recommend him to any individual or society that may need his services.
Dr. John Westerfield,
President Indiana State Association of Spiritualists.
Chesterfield, Ind., September 4, 1896.

PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE.
305½ S. SPRING, NEAR THIRD ST.
EXPERT ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST.

A resident of Los Angeles 25 years.
PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The HOROSCOPE—calculated from the PLANETS at your birth, will show what a powerful influence they have in all affairs of life. It shows diseases, deaths, domestic affairs, financial affairs; your talents; your environment; tells about children, when and where to travel; what to seek and what to avoid; when in danger of illness, accidents, death, losses, troubles, etc., etc., also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES OF THESE EVENTS FOR THE FUTURE. In fact, the HOROSCOPE gives ACCURATE AND RELIABLE information on ALL AFFAIRS OF LIFE—telling everything about one's self worth knowing, being in truth one of the best guides in life that the world offers. YOUR HOROSCOPE is also a key to the character of others—showing how best to deal with those you come in contact—and in this respect can be of the utmost use to you.
PROF. ALTHOUSE is an expert PALMIST, and WITH EACH PALM READING GIVES ALSO AN ASTROLOGICAL READING.
PROF. ALTHOUSE read n. H. Sothern, Florence Roberts, Paul de Longpre, Admiral Schley, Senator Clark, ex-Gov. Pardee, David Starr Jordan, Gen. Chaffee, Baron Rothschild, Joaquin Miller, Ysaye, Sousa, Edison, Capt. Hobson, Caruso, Josef Hoffman, Huntington, Lillian Nordica, Calve, Julia Marlowe, Modjeska, Sembrich, Jefferson, Lillian Russell, Nat Goodwin, Maxine Elliott, Fritzi Scheff, Schumann-Heink, etc. He stands at the very head of his profession, and his skilled work must in no wise be classed with that of other readers.
LOUIS JAMES says: "I wish to say that your reading was entirely SATISFACTORY."
FREDERICK WARDE says: "Your reading was most SATISFACTORY. Your knowledge and skill is REMARKABLE."
MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK says: "I was greatly surprised to find how many of your warnings—from the HOROSCOPE AND HAND—were well founded. YOUR READING WAS MOST MARVELOUS."
MME. BALDWIN writes: "The Horoscope you wrote for me is absolutely CORRECT. My friend, MME. NORDICA, the singer, first showed me her Horoscope, and recommended your work to me. Inclosed find check for four more Horoscopes—all friends of mine."
PAPINTA, actress, writes and says: "Everything has turned out just as you predicted, when reading my hand and Horoscope. YOU ARE WONDERFUL, and I cannot express myself of what I think about your WONDERFUL TRUE READINGS."
PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting of horoscopes and hand reading has brought him a large and successful practice. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances.
Highest grade of work given; therefore, HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED. PRICES within the reach of all, but no cheap 50c humbug readings by PROF. ALTHOUSE.

MRS. MASSON,
the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 322 S. SPRING ST. (over Owl Drug Store,) by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND-READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.
The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigations along psychological lines, that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT INFORMATION.
PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life.
Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry, WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.
MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.

Phone Main 5300. Ask for Linotype School Department.

WANTED—100 MEN AND WOMEN FOR the railroad business. I POSITIVELY GUARANTEE POSITIONS TO ALL COMPETENT AND WORTHY GRADUATES—others "promise to assist you." When you have digested that little morsel of information perhaps you will begin to "sit up and take notice." I have placed 30 young people in the service of the Southern Pacific Company during the past 30 days. I have 100 pupils—do you think I could afford to make this assertion if it were not true? Think it over. My students read my advertisements, they know every man who leaves the school; ask them if I exagerate. Day and evening classes are conducted in both telegraphy and stenography. Our system of shorthand is a brief one. A student who applies himself to the work may become proficient in both telegraphy and stenography in four months. With an education like this you may be sure of lucrative employment in any place, at any time, and in any part of the civilized world. Tuition $5 per month. FREE TRIAL. F. D. MACKAY, 542 Central ave. Main 1878. 14

STATE LEGISLATURE.

CURFEW FOR THIS SESSION.

Assembly Inaugurates Night Meetings to Rush Work.

Many Bills Yet to Be Acted Upon by Both Houses.

Railroad Rate, Primary, Local Option Up Monday.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the inauguration of night meetings, the Assembly today sounded the curfew of the Thirty-eighth session of the California Legislature.

The Senate for more than a week has been rushing bills through after dark, but the lower house, with twice as many measures to consider and with a more unwieldy body, has been loath up to date to work overtime. It is realized now that a spurt must be made if adjournment is to come on the 20th inst., the date now practically agreed upon.

There were 538 bills on the Assembly file this morning, and less than half that number on the Senate file. In the various committees of both houses there are many more bills, but few of these will see the light of day. Three bills that are considered of more than usual importance, remain to be passed, together with scores of minor measures.

The direct primary, railroad rate and local-option measures are to come up in one house or the other on Monday. The primary bill amended by the Assembly, will be up in the Senate for concurrence on Monday. The local-option bill will be considered for the first time in that body on the same date. The rate bill, as accepted by the Senate, is yet to be accepted by the Assembly.

As it looks now the direct primary bill, and the rate measure will go through, though in forms much different from the original drafts. There seems to be little hope for the local-option bill. It may possibly get through the Senate, but its best friends look for no favorable action in the lower house should it by chance get that far.

So far, Los Angeles and Southern California have fared exceedingly well. The greatest victory, of course, was the passage of the consolidation bill, which has been signed by the Governor. The armory and exposition bills must still run the Senate gauntlet; also the bill abolishing itinerant saloons in the line of the aqueduct.

Hundreds of bills are to die on file or in committee, but the energy of the Southern California members of the Legislature seems to have won for that section practically everything that has been asked.

DENTAL LOBBY BEATEN.

HANLON'S SPUNKY FIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All the front teeth were knocked out of the mouth of the energetic dental lobby today when the Assembly, led by Hanlon of Los Angeles, passed the bill of Senator Hurd, already adopted by the Senate, permitting skilled dentists from any part of the world to practice in California after demonstrating their ability before the State Board of Dental Examiners.

It was one of the worst blows ever struck at the so-called dental trust, a half-brother to the combination of medical doctors that fights at every session to keep outside physicians from practicing in this State.

Assemblyman Leeds opposed the Hurd bill, and Juillard of Napa was with him, but Hanlon put up a spunky fight, being supported by Mott of Oakland and by McManus of San Francisco.

Mott exhibited a good deal of personal feeling. He had an encounter with one of the lobbyists who opposed the bill.

The Hurd bill finally was carried by a vote of 42 to 27. It now goes to the Governor, who is said to be friendly to the measure.

The organized dentists, however, already have passed through the Assembly a bill repealing the sections of the law affected by the Hurd measure. Should this repealing bill be signed by the Governor, the work of Senator Hurd will have been in vain.

FOR FOREST RESERVE.

ESTUDILLO'S BILL PASSED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Assembly tonight passed Senator Estudillo's bill, appropriating $5000 for the restoration of the San Bernardino forest reserve, and for the cutting of fire lanes and fire trails. The expenditure of this money under the direction of the State Department of Engineering is contingent upon the outlay of the same amount by the Federal government for a similar purpose.

PLAYGROUNDS.

SURE TO PASS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assemblyman Hammon's playground bill was passed tonight by the Assembly, and Councilman Lyon of Los Angeles, who has been here for two days in the interest of the measure, has gone home happy. The bill authorizes municipalities to condemn lands for park and playground purposes. It is said to be necessary to the extension of the popular playground system in Los Angeles. Hammon got the bill through without opposition and Senator Hurd has promised to rush it through the upper house as an urgency measure, so it will reach the Governor before the end of the coming week.

BLACK HAND MUST ANSWER FOR MURDER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—No crime in years has so stirred the people and the police as has the assassination of Lieut. Joseph Petrosino of the New York police force, in Palermo, Sicily. Petrosino had received numerous threats that unless he ceased operations against the Black Hand, the Camorrera, the Mafia and other Italian criminals, he would meet his end.

Petrosino, however, continued the work, though he often prophesied the fate that befell him.

A relentless warfare has already commenced against the class of criminals who brought about Petrosino's death. It is hoped that the murder will result in closer coöperation between the Italian government and our own in barring these criminals from American ports and in deporting many that are now here.

Petrosino was 48 years old, and became a member of the police department in 1883. From the first he was successful. His arrests have run into the thousands. His trip to Italy was in furtherance of his idea to establish secret bureaus there that would keep the police here informed when criminals emigrated to this country.

Ex-President Roosevelt was one of those who knew Petrosino well, and who was greatly shocked at the news.

"I can't say anything," he said, "except to express my deepest regret. Petrosino was a great man, and a good man. I knew him for years, and he did not know the name of fear. He was a man worth while. I regret most sincerely the death of such a man as Joe Petrosino."

SHOT IN PUBLIC SQUARE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PALERMO (Sicily) March 13.—Lieut. Joseph Petrosino, head of the Italian squad of the New York police force, was shot to death here at 9 o'clock last night, under the shadow of the trees of Marina Square.

Whether he was lured there is unknown, but it is believed that Petrosino, who, during his stay in Sicily, has been indefatigable in searching the records of Sicilian criminals, had gone to the square in the hope of obtaining information which he considered of the utmost importance.

The identity of the assassins has not been disclosed, for they made their escape after having made certain of the death of the detective. Not the slightest trace of them has been discovered, but undoubtedly they were men who had reason to dread Petrosino's presence in Italy.

FIFTH VICTIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BALTIMORE, March 13.—Lieut. Petrosino was well known here. He is said to be the fifth man connected with the Baltimore "Black Hand" cases that culminated in the dynamiting of Joseph Di Giorgio's residence in Walbrook, December 10, 1907, to meet death at the hands of that organization. Petrosino assisted the Baltimore detectives in running down the dynamiters and while he was in Baltimore last April threats were made against his life.

PITTSBURGH AWAKE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—Within half an hour after receipt of Detective McCafferty's request local Chief McQuaide gave orders to locate all persons in Pittsburgh believed to be affiliated with the "Black Hand." There are many "Black Hand" suspects in this city.

CALLING NAMES.

FRESH DELAY IN THE COOPER MURDER CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) March 13.—It was expected that closing arguments in the Cooper-Sharpe murder trial would be concluded today, but Gen. McCarn had not finished his summing up when court adjourned until Monday.

Judge Hart announced to the attorneys today that he could not complete his charge before Monday afternoon. This delay is due to the failure of the attorneys on both sides to submit instructions. There will be consequently no verdict before Monday night or Tuesday.

Judge Anderson resumed his argument with a promise not to weary the jury long. Judge Anderson rapidly sketched the main points in the evidence, explaining that the State wanted some of them wiped out, but declared he wanted them worked out.

"But there is one fact in this case which cannot be controverted," he said in conclusion, "and that is that Senator Carmack drew a revolver first and fired first. It cannot be disputed that Robin fired only when he had to. I feel safe in the result, gentlemen, and I leave it for you."

Atty.-Gen. McCarn began his closing argument at once.

"I have been assailed and denounced," said the speaker, "but thank God the same tongue which wagged against me also assailed Mrs. Eastman, and I am proud that Washington assailed me, too. I haven't any time to shoot at sparrows.

"They accuse me of abusing the defendants or unjustly prosecuting them. I am responsible for the conduct of this office, and all the devils in hell cannot deter me from my duty. And they say the State has no theory. What of it? When your old dad took you out to lick you, did you ever know what his theory was? And did he ever ask for yours? No. He just decided from the proof that you were guilty and lit into you. That's what we are doing. We have no theory, gentlemen, we just have the proof."

"They prate of the blue blood and ancestry of these defendants. It always amuses me the way these fellows of blue blood and ancestors always think of those ancestors when they are brought face to face with the law. Now, a man with blue blood and ancestors owes something to this blue blood and those ancestors, and he should think of it before he goes out to slay."

Gen. McCarn assailed the defense for trying to make the case a political issue and declared that Washington's entire argument was a political speech. He denounced Washington for assailing Carmack's name and declared it must have taken a big fee to talk about a dead man that way.

GOOD WORK.

STANTON GETS PARK BUILDING.

SPEAKER FORCES LEGISLATURE TO GIVE SOMETHING.

Assembly Passes Bill Appropriating $250,000 for State Exposition Structure at Agricultural Park. Enactment Means That Los Angeles Will Spend Large Sum.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Stanton performed once more for Los Angeles, when he succeeded today in securing the passage by the Assembly of the bill appropriating $250,000 for a State exposition building in Agricultural Park. In view of the attitude the northern members of the Legislature insistently display toward anything that Los Angeles wants, Stanton scored more than an ordinary victory when he got the bill through without a dissenting vote, which proves that it is a good thing to have a Speaker from your own town.

But the fight is not yet won. The bill must yet pass the Senate, and should the upper house be agreeable, the Governor is to be taken into account, as there is no absolute assurance that he will sign the measure, much as he would like to.

If Los Angeles really wants this exposition building the people must get busy with their representatives in the Senate, and the Governor must be assured that the project is of such importance as to require the appropriation of a quarter of a million dollars from the funds that will be available.

If this bill goes through it is promised that the city of Los Angeles will expend $100,000 in beautifying the park grounds, and that Los Angeles county will build at a cost of $150,000 a historical and art museum. In addition to this, it is practically assured that the $100,000 armory for the National Guard will be built on the park site, provided, of course, that the armory bill gets through the Senate and is signed by the Governor. All of which seems about as certain as that Monday follows Sunday.

But Los Angeles must get busy with its Senators and with the Governor if it wishes the exposition bill to become a law. Stanton has done his part in the Assembly, though obliged to fly in the faces of northern members who had pet measures nearer the top of the file. The matter has gone above, and there rests the responsibility.

PROHIBITS FRATS.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Brat frats," as Senator Wolf termed them two years ago, are tabooed hereafter in the public schools of California. Gov. Gillett today signed the Sackett bill, which prohibits pupils from joining or assisting in the organization of fraternities, sororities or other secret societies. School authorities are given full authority to enforce the provisions of the law. Suspension or expulsion of offending pupils is the punishment fixed.

COUNTY BILL GOES.

PASSED BY ASSEMBLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Assembly tonight passed the Los Angeles county government bill, which provides for a number of additional deputies and for a few increases in the salary of county employés. The bill will have no opposition in the Senate.

DUCK BILL PASSED.

AMENDED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Leeds duck-pond bill amended to meet the demands of users of artesian water, was passed today by the Assembly. No objection was raised by Assemblyman Melrose of Anaheim, who objected to the bill in its original form and who succeeded in securing changes that will result in even greater economy in the use of underground waters. In the Senate, Estudillo secured the passage of a bill which fixes a penalty of $50 a month for ranchers who permit artesian wells to flow wastefully.

Kaiser's "Little Princess" to "Come Out" Soon.

Preparations Under Way for Confirmation.

Ceremony Will End Her Days of Childhood.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "Little Princess," as Berliners call Emperor William's only daughter, is beginning to "come out." She will not be 17 years old until September, but already preparations are being made for her independent life. Her confirmation has been postponed beyond the usual age, the Empress wishing that immediately after that solemn ceremony the "Little Princess" shall begin housekeeping on her own account.

Hitherto the Princess has been leading rather a retired life with her books, her painting, her needlework, and it must be added, her dolls. In a few weeks she will blossom out as a full-blown Hohenzollern Princess.

In a sort of tentative shy fashion, she appeared at two or three court balls lately, but she was allowed to dance only twice, as the Empress thinks it is not right for a girl in her daughter's position to enter life fully until the clergy has approved her knowledge of the scriptures and religious matters generally.

Princess Victoria Louise is an unassuming and reticent young woman. What her opinions are no one knows, unless it is her English companion. The probability is that they are in an imperfect state of development. Her studies have not been remarkable for extent or variety.

TO VISIT ALMA MATER.

Hero of Japanese Navy on His Day to Annapolis Where He Was Trained.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) March 13.—Vice-Admiral Baron Uryu is expected to arrive in the near future by a Nippon Yusen Kaisha steamer. He is bound to Annapolis, his alma mater.

Admiral Uryu commanded the squadron detached by Admiral Togo when the combined fleets started north and began the war by opening fire upon the Variag. She was the Philadelphia-built Russian cruiser which is now the training cruiser Soya, and is now bound to Seattle for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, accompanied by the Aso, formerly the Russian cruiser Bayan.

Admiral Uryu, who is 45 years old, was one of the Japanese naval cadets sent to Annapolis Naval College by the Japanese government. He is accompanied by his wife, who was one of the pioneer girl students sent to Vassar, and who is now a professor of the higher grade of the girls' normal school in Tokio.

INCOME TAX PROBABLE.

French Senate Almost Certain to Defer to Overwhelming Indorsement of Chamber of Deputies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although the opponents of the Clemenceau-Cailleux income tax bill will continue their powerful campaigns against it in the French Senate, and before the electors, predictions that it never will become a law, even in a greatly modified form, are expressions of the desires, rather than of the convictions of the prophets. The probabilities are that after amendments which the government is ready to concede and which will not impair the efficiency of the proposed fiscal instrument, the Senate will defer to the overwhelming indorsement given to the project in the Chamber of Deputies.

Should it do otherwise and challenge the dominant groups in the lower house the upshot in all likelihood would be a radical tidal wave at the next parliamentary elections.

TROUBLE IN SAMOA.

LAUAKI COVETOUS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, March 13.—The admiralty has given orders that the cruisers Liepsig and Arcona and the gunboat Jaguar, under Admiral Koerner, leave the Asiatic station and proceed to Apia, Samoa, to exert a quieting influence on the natives of the German Island of Savail.

According to official dispatches received here the native movement is being led by Chief Lauaki, who is endeavoring to assure his succession to the position of paramount chief, now held by the aged Mataafa. Lauaki's followers have not yet started fighting but they resolutely refuse to obey the orders of the local Governor. The government hopes that the arrival of the warships, which are due at Savail March 23, will prevent bloodshed.

OVER NICE SNOW FALLS.

But Monte Carlo Is Filled With Visitors Despite the Weather.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NICE, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Snow has fallen here for the first time in five years. For the first time small children saw the Jack Frost of their dreams in the reality. The weather is changeable, and on the whole abnormally disagreeable. But all the towns on the Riviera are filled with visitors who enjoy immensely a succession of entertainments.

All fashionable Nice flocked to the fete at the Palais de Glace Wednesday. For the first time the women of the half-world were excluded. Complaint is made that certain women flaunt themselves so aggressively at the Monte Carlo Casino, that other women are deterred from appearing in the rooms, especially in the evening.

RICH PARISIAN IS LITERALLY "BORED TO DEATH."

Though Barely Twenty Years Old He Wearies of Life, and After Furiously Gay Supper to His Friends Shoots Himself Through the Head Before Their Eyes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, March 13.—Fernand Ravenez, a wealthy young Parisian, committed suicide at Monte Carlo last night under sensational circumstances.

The young man gave a supper to a number of his friends at which the pleasure was fast and furious. Several times during the evening Ravenez cried:

"This is nothing; a big surprise is awaiting you at the end."

At dawn just as the party was about to break up, Ravenez shouted: "Now for the great surprise."

He arose abruptly and walked toward the gypsy orchestra, which was playing a Hungarian rhapsody. His friends, expecting a practical joke watched him expectantly. They were stupefied to see him suddenly place a pistol to his temple and fire. He fell dead.

The only reason for this act is described as "sheer boredom." Ravenez was only 20 years old and he had been a familiar figure on the Paris boulevards, where his liking for vivid clothing attracted attention. Three years ago the young man figured in a sensational duel. He challenged a professional swordsman as a result of a café quarrel, but the swordsman refused to fight on the ground that Ravenez had not yet reached his majority. Undaunted Ravenez issued a challenge dated the day he was 18 years old and he devoted the intervening time to rigorous training. When he finally did meet his adversary on the field the contest was of the fiercest character and it ended by Ravenez plunging his sword eight inches into his opponent's body.

SAME OLD GAME.

FLEECED THE FRENCH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, March 13.—The case of Charles Wood Gammon, who is charged with swindling the French public through the selling of shares in California mining companies, came up for hearing today. Albert Clemenceau, brother of the Premier, defended Gammon, who according to the accusation, has obtained something over $100,000 from French investors.

Gammon had agencies in Paris, Lille, Poitiers, and Nice, and issued alluring prospectuses promising colossal returns. Gammon claimed that the records of the companies had been destroyed in the Italian earthquake.

FOREIGN BRIEFS.

Peace Patched Up.

PARIS, March 13.—Finance Minister Cailloux and Minister of Marine Picard, compromised their differences over navy appropriations at the Cabinet meeting today and the possibility of an immediate change in the French Cabinet is over.

HONGKONG, March 13.—The third squadron of the American Pacific fleet came into Hongkong yesterday.

Epileptic Fits

There is nothing more frightful in a happy home than to have one of its members instantly seized with a dreadful attack of Epilepsy or Fits. The many grateful letters from such homes, after the use of Kosine, the remarkable remedy for this dread ailment, testify to the real merit of the preparation.

It is a meritorious article and is sold on a guarantee plan that deserves your confidence. The price $1.50 will be refunded by The Owl Drug Co. if not fully satisfied after using a bottle. Mail orders filled by the Kosine Co., Washington, D. C., or The Owl Drug Co., 320 S. Spring St., Fifth and Broadway, 625 S. Broadway.

ROOSEVELT AS SOCIALIST.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Miss Charlotte Teller, daughter of United States Senator Teller of Colorado, thinks that former President Roosevelt has been a great aid to socialism in the United States.

Miss Teller, with a number of other speakers, shared this view at a dinner of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society last night. She said that "Mr. Roosevelt has to a large extent helped socialism, and the man now in the Presidential chair will, in the next four years, make the work Mr. Roosevelt has done legal and regular."

Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Vassar, New York University and Bryn Mawr were represented at the meeting, Bryn Mawr leading with thirteen representatives.

COPPER KING NEXT.

Federal Grand Jury Said to Be Considering Alleged Wrongdoing of F. Augustus Heinze.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—Additional proceedings against F. Augustus Heinze, the former copper king, were considered yesterday by the Federal grand jury, it is understood. It is the general belief that some of the evidence obtained in the trial of Charles W. Morse, the convicted banker, was presented to the jury.

Heinze was indicted about a year ago for the over-certification of a draft drawn by his brother, Otto C. Heinze, on the Mercantile National Bank. The draft called for approximately $450,000, but Heinze was released on $50,000 bail.

Heinze's trial was to have begun after that of Morse, but so much evidence bearing on the case was brought out during the Morse trial, it was decided to postpone any prosecution until after a second indictment had been returned, if possible.

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy, so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious, and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures I finally found a simple prescription which I used with most remarkable results, and I can unhesitatingly state that it is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair, and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition; it also makes the hair much easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months, and during that time it not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all his gray hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay rum, 6 ozs.; Menthol crystals, one-half drachm; Lavona de Composee, 2 ozs.; To-Kalon perfume, 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls.

Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.

Go to your druggist and ask for an eight-ounce bottle containing six ounces of bay rum; also one-half drachm of Menthol crystals, and for a two-ounce bottle of Lavona de Composee. Mix the ingredients yourself in your own home. Add the Menthol crystals to the bay rum and then pour Lavona de Composee, and add the To-Kalon perfume. Let it stand for one-half hour and it is ready for use.

FOR EXCHANGE — 100 ACRES OF RICH sediment loam soil, adapted to alfalfa and vegetables, between Huntington Beach and Santa Ana in Orange county. Abundance of artesian water any place in this section. Convenient to town and electric line now and the electric line from the beach passes the property within half a mile. Price $40,000, clear. Want improved Los Angeles property about same value.

40-acre foothill place east of Porterville in Tulare county. 35 acres in 5-year-old Navel oranges, turning off the earliest fruit in Tulare county. Cheap water right, buildings in fair condition, good fences and plenty of wood. Income $3500 and increasing. Price $15,000. Mortgage $5000, 2 years. Will consider good Los Angeles or near-by property for equity.

177-acre farm, improved with good 7-room house, barn, outbuildings and fences. 75 acres in timber now ready for the saw, estimated at $3000. Well watered by springs and creek. 25 miles east of Richmond, Va. This is a good productive farm. Price $30 per acre, clear. Want Southern California property about same value.

Well-improved 30-acre ranch convenient to town and railroad in Orange county. 15 acres in bearing orchard. Complete set of good buildings. Abundance of flowing water. Soil is first class, adapted to alfalfa, fruits and gardening. Price $25,000. Mortgage $7500. Will take Los Angeles improved up to $30,000.

600 acres gray ash sediment soil in Kern county. No alkali. First-class soil for alfalfa, grain, deciduous fruits, potatoes, etc. Artesian wells flowing 150 inches on four sides. Price $35 per acre, incumbrance $6000. Want ranch near Los Angeles or a home in the city and building lots. Prefer property for equity, but might assume small amount on improved.

20 acres fine soil, good water right, now in crop of alfalfa and grain, convenient to school and town in Tulare county. Good house, barn, horse, cow, chickens, implements and tools included. Everything ready to step in and run the place with. Cash price $5000. Incumbrance $900. Will take cottage or lot here for equity.

Beautiful suburban place at North Glendale, containing 1.39 acres in 15-year-old Navel oranges in first-class condition. Good home and outbuildings. 6 blocks from electric car. Ideal income suburban home ready for subdivision and growing in value. Cash price $10,500. Would consider residence lot up to $4000, balance cash and mortgage back.

Fine 10-acre full-bearing apple orchard, 1-2 mile from town and railroad in San Bernardino county. Healthful location, 3000 feet elevation. Good 7-room hard-finished house, barn, etc. Ideal place for health, fruit and poultry. Price $4500, clear. Want clear cottage in Los Angeles same value or less.

Picturesque foothill place of 168 acres, 12 miles east of the city of Orange. Elevation 1500 feet. Live mountain stream and two springs of medicinal water. 20 acres adapted to oranges, 40 acres suitable for grapes. Ideal for sanatorium or health resort. $1000 a year could be taken from bees as surrounding country furnishes good feed. Price $7500. Clear. Want home in Los Angeles about same value.

Want eastern property for an interest in a high-class Los Angeles industrial corporation, belonging to a party returning East. Will consider clear property from $5000 to $50,000. This interest will stand the closest investigation, and affords an excellent opportunity to transfer your property into Southern California.

STOCKS AND BONDS—
And Mortgages.

STOCKHOLDERS ANTI-FRICTION JOURNAL BOX COMPANY.

A violent attack of illness prevented my appearance at your annual meeting. I notice your man Works trotted out his straw man, labeled "Sheasby's matter," that he might once more play to the galleries by knocking it over. You are evidently still under the delusion that these monumental bluffers can in some mythical manner bring you success. You should know by the rambling talk of your man Lyons that you have nothing ahead for another year other than more broken promises. This coterie of four-flushers would have you believe their "GENERAL MANAGER" actually brought something back from his trip East. He tells you he "VISITED" 22 "factories," mind you, not companies' headquarters, where a man must go to do business, but as a tourist watching the machinery, the only difference between their shameless bluff of 1908 and 1909 is a question of geography, San Francisco being too easy of access by those desiring to investigate. I pricked the San Francisco bubble and this latest is equally vulnerable. They would have you believe they have something of value with the Studebakers, yet are attempting a flirtation with the Standard Steel Car folks in Pittsburgh. Lyons tells you he was instructed not to approach people approached before, meaning of course my live wire, but to work on new lines, so he "DOES" 22 factories, looks at the fan bearings in Buffalo, talks with Steck, one of my co-workers, and hastens home to receive your applause. You are certainly wrong when you do not vote him, this "Champion," $10,000 per annum and expenses. Why not be consistent?

I am desirous of arousing you from your fatal trance, but newspaper limits forbid. I shall be glad, however, to meet you in some hall and will guarantee to expose the double dealing of the board in playing cuttlefish to hide their inexcusable blundering, which is the sole cause of existing conditions. An honest man, accused, asks nothing other than the opportunity to meet his accusers face to face in the presence of those to whom he is traduced, and in the name of clean-cut, square dealing, I request this at your hands. I will show you that the Brown episode was as absolutely free from dishonest motive as is your mind as you read this. Remember, I have kept silent because it is of no value to me to speak without my accusers being present. Indian warfare is not my forte. And to you, the board, or such of its members as are known as my accusers, I have to say, if there remains in your standards of action one lingering echo of a conception of a clean and manly fight along well-defined lines of real issues, if you can for a few hours abandon your cowardly, back-sticking tactics, and methods of attack, then there comes from the high principles of real manhood and in the interest of your dupes, a call for you to meet me in open debate with the stockholders present. It will rob it of its chief interest for me if you are absent. Remember, I am not criticising you as men, as citizens, as husbands and fathers, but you should recall once before you responded to a demand by certain stockholders that you give me a hearing and you received me behind locked doors with none present but the board, and to repeated knocks for admission by stockholders you paid no heed. You could not afford to let my statements reach the ears of the stockholders. I hereby challenge you individually and collectively, to a clean-cut analysis of the facts which the functions that do duty for your consciences tell you I am the only possessor of in their purity and fullness. They also tell you that in each and every instance where you have accused me of dishonest motive or aim, that you have knowingly and deliberately lied and when you prate about grounds for legal action you know, also, you are holding on to a rope of sand while trying to convince the stockholders by employment of long-practiced legerdemain, that you are trusting your weight to it. You stand in the light of common character assassins and I hereby challenge you in the name of every principle of high manhood to meet me in the arena before the jury whose profits you have deliberately destroyed while foolishly attempting to stand in my shoes. "DO YOU HEAR THIS CALL?"

I expect soon to go to San Francisco and am for a brief time at the service of the stockholders. It is their money and my reputation that have been ruthlessly pirated and I would like it known by publication when and where I may speak, so it may be open to all comers. Particularly desire the presence of railroad men who own stock. Yours for justice,

14 W. H. SHEASBY.

IS YOUR BUSINESS FOR SALE?

I HAVE CLIENTS FOR ALMOST EVERY KIND OF BUSINESS, AND CAN PROBABLY MAKE A QUICKER TURN FOR YOU THAN ANY BROKER IN LOS ANGELES. SUBSERVE YOUR INTERESTS AND GET WHATEVER YOU HAVE FOR SALE IN MY OFFICE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, WHERE IT IS GUARANTEED PROMPT AND EFFICIENT HANDLING. DO NOT COME TO ME UNLESS YOU HAVE A STRAIGHTFORWARD, LEGITIMATE PROPOSITION, FOR I ABSOLUTELY REFUSE TO IDENTIFY MYSELF WITH SCHEMES, THE PROMOTION OF QUESTIONABLE COMPANIES, OR DEAL IN DOUBTFUL STOCKS OF ANY CHARACTER. NOTHING EVER HAS BEEN OR WILL BE PLACED ON MY LISTS THAT WILL NOT BEAR THE CLOSEST INVESTIGATION. HIGHEST BANK REFERENCES.

DO YOU WANT A BUSINESS?

MY LIST PROBABLY INCLUDES JUST WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR. HOTELS, APARTMENT HOUSES, MERCANTILE BUSINESSES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, STOCK IN FIRST-CLASS, MONEY-MAKING ORGANIZATIONS, AND MUNICIPAL BONDS AND SECURITIES OF ALL KINDS. I GUARANTEE A CLEAR TITLE IN EVERY TRANSACTION. THE FOLLOWING ARE A FEW OF MANY EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR SAFE INVESTMENT:

$50,000—ONE OR MORE ACTIVE MEN WANTED WHO WILL BECOME INTERESTED TO THE EXTENT OF $50,000, IN A WHOLESALE SUPPLY HOUSE. INVESTORS ASSOCIATED WITH PROMINENT MAN OF MEANS AND UNQUESTIONABLE INTEGRITY.

$25,000—AN OPERATING FACTORY, WITH ASSETS OF $125,000, HAVING DEMAND IN EXCESS OF PRODUCTION; WANT $25,000 ADDED WORKING CAPITAL.

$15,000—CLOTHING AND MEN'S FURNISHING STORE IN PROMINENT LOCATION. DOING APPROXIMATELY $30,000 PER YEAR. LONG LEASE. WILL SELL AT INVENTORY AND HALF CASH WILL HANDLE.

$15,000—LIVERY AND BOARDING STABLE. WELL ESTABLISHED AND PROFITABLE. 104 STALLS. FULL EQUIPMENT. GET DETAILS OF THIS.

$10,000—AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS THAT IS SHOWING A NET PROFIT OF $12,000 PER YEAR. ONE OF THE BEST PROPOSITIONS ON MY LIST. $10,000 CASH WILL HANDLE. BALANCE ON TERMS.

$5000—CONFECTIONERY DEPARTMENT, INCLUDING SODA FOUNTAIN. DOING ABOUT $750 PER MONTH. PERCENTAGE ON GROSS SALES PAYS RENT. SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY. $1000 CASH WILL HANDLE IT.

$5000—DRUG STORE DOING ABOUT $12,000 ANNUALLY. PRESENT OWNER FIVE YEARS IN LOCATION. FIVE YEAR LEASE. SPLENDID MONEY MAKER.

$5000—ACTIVE MAN WITH $5000 AND SUBSTANTIAL CREDIT TO IDENTIFY HIMSELF WITH FRUIT SHIPPING AND COMMISSION BUSINESS.

$3000—ONE-THIRD INTEREST IN MANUFACTURING JEWELRY BUSINESS. MOST COMPLETE PLANT IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. EXPERIENCE UNNECESSARY.

$2700—HALF INTEREST IN GOING PATENTED FOLDING BED FACTORY. BIG DEMAND FOR THIS ARTICLE. A GOOD PROPOSITION.

$2100—40-ROOM FURNISHED HOTEL IN THRIVING NEAR-BY TOWN. $1500 CASH WILL HANDLE IT. SPLENDID MONEY MAKER.

$2000—WITH SERVICES OF YOUNG MAN IN GAS AND ELECTRIC FIXTURE COMPANY. A GROWING BUSINESS IN BEST LOCATION.

$2000—AUTOMOBILE REPAIR SHOP SHOWING $175 PER MONTH NET PROFIT TO OWNER. $1500 CASH WILL HANDLE.

$1000—GROCERY STORE INCLUDING STOCK, HORSE AND WAGON, AND FIXTURES. DOING $800 TO $900 PER MONTH.

$500—ONE-THIRD INTEREST IN UNIQUE ADVERTISING PROPOSITION. GOOD INCOME NOW. GROWING LARGER EVERY DAY.

$300—MEAT MARKET. PRICE FOR THIS IS VERY LOW, INASMUCH AS IT IS CONNECTED WITH A GROCERY STORE AND IS DOING A GOOD BUSINESS. THE PRICE SCARCELY COVERS COST OF FIXTURES, AND IT WOULD BE A BARGAIN AT DOUBLE.

HARDWARE STORE WANTED—A CLIENT WANTS TO BUY A HARDWARE STORE IN WIDE AWAKE TOWN NEAR LOS ANGELES. HAS $2000 CASH.

WANTED FURNITURE STORE—ABOUT $4000 TO INVEST IN SMALL FURNITURE STORE IN THRIVING SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA TOWN.

HERE

IS

The Investment that pays
the Dividends.

One of the largest and best paying general stores (no dry goods or clothing) in one of the best San Joaquin Valley towns.

Established 18 Years.

Annual Sales $300,000.

Dividends $30,000 Per Year.

The above dividend is paid after owner and partners have drawn good salaries.

One man owns most of the stock. He has made his money and wishes to retire only because he desires to be free from the cares of business.

The present splendid staff of assistants and employees can be retained by new owner.

If you have idle money that should be working, if you wish to acquire a business already built so that it pays such dividends as stated above, if you wish to establish your son or some other party in a most flourishing business, investigate this at once.

Any one securing this business will reap the benefit of this man's 18 years of work.

Very reasonable terms will be made to buyer for handling the business.

In a personal interview we will give all particulars.

Address inquiries immediately to G, box 48, TIMES OFFICE. 14

A THIRD INTEREST IN A LARGE ESTABlished manufacturing wholesale and retail concern in this city is offered for sale.

At $35,000.

The company is a close corporation, the stock being held by three men, two of whom are wealthy non-residents. The company has large bank credit and is absolutely clean financially. In addition to a good trade in staple lines, they have enormous profits from protected specialties.

The third interest has the right of two directors and can secure the vice-presidency of the company. There is a splendid opening for a good business man at present time, and technical knowledge is not essential, as a competent technical man is now employed.

The interest can be bought on exceedingly favorable terms. THE OPPORTUNITY IS UNIQUE. Address G, box 175, TIMES OFFICE. 14

Guaranteed Paid Circulation, 80,000 Copies— Largest in the World of Any Similar Publication.

A. ST. C. PERRY, - - - - GENERAL MANAGER.

Office—140 West Fifth Street, Los Angeles

Ground Floor Security Building.

FOR TODAY'S OUTING, why not choose a trip to Mt. Washington? The trip will be fascinating, interesting, educational and healthful. Decide to go right now—and GO! Learn from a personal investigation the truth about Los Angeles' greatest residental project. Go in your automobile, or take a yellow Garvanza car and get off at Avenue 41 (Mt. Washington Drive.)

See the finest incline railroad in the Southwest, now nearing completion. See the most unique ascending automobile road in Southern California. See the beautiful homes that are adorning this lofty viewpoint. See the sweeping vistas of mountain ranges, the cities of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Hollywood and Glendale, great stretches of verdant valleys and the blue ocean from Santa Monica to Newport Beach. It's a sight that inspires, broadens and thrills you. It will strengthen your appreciation of picturesque Southern California—the "land of dreams come true." Now make up your party and GO TODAY!

TERSE TRUTHS

Mt. Washington homes are nearly 1000 feet above the sea level.

Sightly villa lots from 75x150 to two and three acres.

Rich, "responsive" soil. Fine opportunities for the amateur or professional florist and gardener.

Purest water developed on the property from Company's own plant is piped to each lot.

Fifty miles of mountain ranges, three great valleys, a half dozen cities and the ocean, are visible from Mt. Washington.

Magnificent boulevard and parkway system.

Desirable building restrictions.

The coming "show place" of Los Angeles.

Landscape Painters Enthuse

Davis Schwartz and Carl Ewing, the well known landscape painters, visited Mt. Washington last week and were loud in their praises of Los Angeles' big scenic residential mountain. Both expressed a keen desire to own a home on almost any part of the property. Mr. Schwartz, in a talk with an EAGLE reporter, said: "Look in any direction of the compass from any point on Mt. Washington and you see a magnificent picture. From a residential standpoint this proposition has no equal in Los Angeles, or anywhere else. Mt. Washington is certainly in a class by itself. Considering the wonderful future this property has before it, a lot here ought to be a live subject for profitable investment."

Mr. Ewing was equally enthusiastic.

Answers to Correspondents

Explain the nature of your water supply, and also inform me about building restrictions.—C. G. PUTNAM, 979 El Molino street.

Mt. Washington has a fine, independent water system that has been developed right on the property. The water is of an exceptionally pure character, and is pumped to one of the highest storage reservoirs in the county. Building restrictions are $4500.

Who are the owners of Mt. Washington?—A. B. McCALLISTER, 5636 Monte Vista avenue.

The property is owned and is being developed by a corporation known as The Mt. Washington Company. This company is composed exclusively of local capitalists, and include men who have been identified with the most successful real estate projects of Los Angeles and environs.

ASPHALT PAVEMENT

From Downtown to Mt. Washington

The EAGLE learned this week on good authority that the main road from the down town district to Mt. Washington is to be asphalted, work to begin in the immediate future. This means the asphalting of Pasadena avenue, beginning at Bellevue avenue, and extending to within a few steps of Mt. Washington Drive. We could hardly publish a better bit of news in today's EAGLE.

NOTICE.

Mt. Washington is now reached by L. A. Ry. yellow Garvanza car. Off at Mt. Washington Drive (formerly Ave. 41,) thence by boulevard to summit one mile by easy ascent. Incline railway in operation in April, direct to property.

Loud Praise From Globe Trotter

A prominent globe trotter who has made 15 trips to Europe, visited Mt. Washington Wednesday of last week. This gentleman stated that in his opinion no residence section of any of the great cities in the world enjoys a more comprehensive view than Mt. Washington. Praise from a traveler of his experience is praise indeed.

WORLDWIDE INTEREST

Inquiries About Mount Washington Coming From Everywhere

Evidently millions of people throughout the world are planning to live in Southern California at some future date, judging from the inquiries sent to our Chamber of Commerce, and to the founders of local real estate projects. The story of Mt. Washington as it is told weekly in the "EAGLE," is being eagerly read in all parts of the United States, Canada, Mexico, England and the other far away countries by those who will make their future home in or near Los Angeles. From the vast number of letters we have received, we gather that the various features of Mt. Washington appeal strongly to these inquirers. A home possessing an imperishable view of mountains, valley, city and sea seems to be the ambition of every one of these apparently wealthy people.

The following letter was recently received from Harold J. Shepstone, the well-known author and journalist of London, England:

35 Amner Road,
Clapham Common,
London, S. W.
March 15, 1909.

The President Mt. Washington Co.,
Los Angeles, U. S. A.

Dear Sir: — From accounts I have seen in the newspapers, I conclude the Incline Railway you are building up Mt. Washington is now nearing completion. My object in addressing you, however, is to ask whether you could favor me with a photograph or two of this line when you have any pictures you are giving out to the press. There are many leading papers here, particularly those of the better class that deal with travel and society that would use them. Indeed, I could easily publish now striking pictures of Mt. Washington, dealing with it as a resort and a place which tourists visit.

Hoping to have the pleasure of hearing from you,

Yours very faithfully,
HAROLD J. SHEPSTONE.

Rich Bottom Lands from the Famous Blythe Estate in the Heart of the Fertile Palo Verde Valley, $35 Per Acre and Up, With Free Water Rights

An elevation of 265 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL, together with AN INEXHAUSTIBLE SUPPLY OF PURE DRINKING WATER AT EASY DEPTH give to the Blythe Ranch, in the Palo Verde Valley, a material advantage over irrigated sections where the domestic supply has to be drawn from open ditches. Other points in favor of the property are PERFECT TITLES AND A WATER COMPANY OWNED AND OPERATED BY THE FARMERS.

Products Bring High Prices

The soil of the Blythe Ranch has been FAMOUS FOR THIRTY YEARS for its GREAT FERTILITY. All products native to semi-tropical sections grow there, including EGYPTIAN COTTON, RAMIE FIBER, and EUCALYPTUS, ALFALFA, BARLEY, MILLET, SORGHUM AND FORAGE CROPS THRIVE ON THE PROPERTY to an extent which cannot be realized unless the ground is visited. ALFALFA AND MILLET raised at Blythe Ranch last Fall BROUGHT THE HIGHEST PRICES OBTAINED IN CALIFORNIA.

Irrigation and Climate

THE WATER SUPPLY OF THE BLYTHE RANCH IS DRAWN FROM THE COLORADO RIVER, which at this point is NAVIGABLE 365 DAYS IN THE YEAR. The WATER CONTAINS THE EQUIVALENT OF $8.50 PER ACRE PER ANNUM OF COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER, and therefore BLYTHE LANDS CANNOT BE CROPPED OUT.

The SYSTEM IS MUTUAL, AND ONE SHARE OF THE STOCK OF THE WATER COMPANY IS DELIVERED FREE WITH EACH ACRE OF BLYTHE LAND SOLD.

A PROLIFIC CLIMATE with a GROWING SEASON OF TEN MONTHS' DURATION completes for the property AN UNSURPASSED NATURAL ENDOWMENT CONTAINING EVERY ESSENTIAL OF AGRICULTURAL SUCCESS.

PROSPEROUS REDLANDS.

ORANGE GROVES SELLING FAST.

ONE DAY'S DEALS AGGREGATE HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Changes in Ownership in Most Cases Mean New Homes—Prices of Desirable Property Steadily Climbing—Large Sum for Half-Interest in Barton Avenue Land.

REDLANDS, March 13.—The sales consummated here on Tuesday alone aggregated more than $100,000. This sounds like boom times, but the sales are all genuine ones, and the changes in ownership in most cases mean new homes. Most of the properties transferred are orange groves, and the prices on this desirable class of property are steadily climbing upward. It sometimes seems that much of the property in this section has changed hands in the past two years, but as a matter of fact there are thousands of acres still held by the original owners, much of it the choicest property to be found. The exchanges, too, show that there is yet much desirable land on the market, for practically every sale noted below is one that can show a high rate of interest on the selling price.

E. M. Frost has sold his home place and grove at Terricina to Gill and Rabbeth for a client. The consideration is not made public, but it is understood to be about $26,000. The place is one of the fine groves of that section, containing thirteen acres, and improved with a handsome bungalow, built but a short time ago by Mr. Frost. It was known as the old Bailey and Warner place, and was purchased by Mr. Frost for $17,000. It is set to Washington navels, 16 years old, and last year the crop amounted to 7000 boxes. The exchange just made does not include this year's crop, although it has not yet been picked.

Mr. Frost immediately purchased from H. H. Harroll a ten-acre grove, set to Washington navels, 12 years old. It is located in the Crafton district. The purchase price is said to be $20,000. There are 1050 trees on the place, with which go fifteen shares of Crafton water. The seller retains the crop of between 4000 and 5000 boxes.

Brock & Benningsdorf, a local realty firm, has purchased from Mrs. Frances G. Clark a ten-acre grove on the north side of Cedar avenue, opposite the residence of A. Hornby, paying therefore $22,000. The grove is one of the finest in that section. The trees are about 12 years old, and this year's crop is placed at 4000 boxes. There are several excellent building sites on the tract.

F. W. Sargent of Nahwah, N. J., has purchased from Albert E. Frost a twenty-three-acre grove, set to Washington navels 14 years old, paying $20,000. The grove produced 5000 boxes this year. The property affords a splendid view of the lower end of the San Bernardino Valley. Mr. Sargent proposes to come to Redlands early next season and erect a handsome home on his ranch.

W. B. Webb of Los Angeles has purchased from N. L. Levering and H. H. Lienau the eleven-acre grove, which they purchased from U. G. Burns less than a month ago. Nine acres are set to navels, and the remainder to deciduous fruit. The property is located on Brockton avenue, and is improved with a good two-story house. The purchase price was $12,000.

AN ITCHING PALM

No Cure for It. Other Forms of Itching Preferable.

There is no cure for an itching palm—the money kind. Even poslam, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to eczema, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, poslam will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with hives, rash, scabies, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe itching caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Poslam comes in two-dollar jars, but fifty cents' worth wil answer in curing any of the diseases mentioned. It can be had of any druggist. The Owl Drug Co. makes a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be amply demonstrated over night by the use of the experimental sample which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City will send by mail in plain wrapper, to any one who will write for it.

Chino Ranch

32 MILES FROM LOS ANGELES

Ideally Located—Adjoining Pomona and Ontario

Rich Land

$100 to $150 an Acre

You can buy Chino Ranch land, just as good as that under irrigation, for $100 to $150 an acre. This land lies in the Artesian Belt, where water can be developed by boring from 200 to 300 feet. Raw land, thus improved, will double in value in about two years.

Sold With Water

At $200 and $225 an Acre

Water is delivered in cement pipes to each ten-acre lot, and goes with the land without additional cost. The water system becomes the joint property of the purchasers as the land is sold—a share of water stock being given with each acre of Chino irrigated lands purchased.

Visitors are Invited to Call at Our Office

And Arrange for a Personally Conducted Trip to the Ranch

Colonists, tourists and home-seekers are cordially invited to call at the company's Los Angeles office, No. 602 South Main street, and arrange for a trip to the ranch. Personally conducted excursions leave the office daily. A visit to the ranch will prove pleasant, interesting and instructive. One of the largest beet sugar factories in Southern California is located at Chino. Thousands of acres are planted on the ranch annually to sugar beets. Visitors to the Chino Ranch will see alfalfa farming at its best; orange groves, chicken ranches, dairy farms and other things of interest to the agriculturist.

Land Sold on Easy Time Payments

Chino Ranch lands are sold one-fourth cash—balance one, two, three and four years, at six per cent. interest. Under ordinary common-sense development, settlers meet their deferred payments from the products of the land. Many Chino Ranchers have paid for their property in this way, making a good living in the meantime. There are no more prosperous lot of farmers to be found anywhere than those residing on the Chino Ranch. Meet these men, face to face—this is the best way to get at the facts as they actually exist.

Chino Ranch Homes

Hundreds of ideal homes have been established on the Chino Ranch. Residents here enjoy every advantage of town life, with the pleasures that go with a residence in the country. School, church and social privileges are of the best.

The entire section has local and long distance telephone service. The ranch adjoins the town of Chino, and is within easy reach of Pomona and Ontario. All ranch products find ready sale the year 'round at good prices.

Products Grown

On the Chino Ranch

Many crops produce heavily on the Chino Ranch—and owing to its favorable location, being in the frostless belt, nearly all kinds of semi-tropical fruits can be raised. Among the principal products are: Walnuts, sugar beets, oranges, small fruits and berries, apricots, peaches, chili peppers, onions, potatoes, apples, eggs and poultry; dairy products, truck farming, including practically all kinds of vegetables. A large number of Chino Ranchers are making big successes raising alfalfa, which is a splendid money crop, the present price being $18.00 a ton. A yield of eight to ten tons of alfalfa to the acre is not uncommon on the Chino Ranch.

Ask for Booklets

Illustrated booklets, giving exact facts based on actual experiences of Chino Ranchers, have been published, and may be had free by application to the company's office.

See Interesting Exhibit

The Chino Land and Water Company maintains a permanent exhibit of products grown on the Chino Ranch at its office in Los Angeles. Visitors to Los Angeles are cordially invited to call and see this most interesting exhibit.

BRISK BEAUMONT BUSINESS.

Colonist Rates Bring Buyers to Thriving Section—Building Active in Town.

Purchases by colonists brought here through the present low railroad rates swelled the total of business for the week in Beaumont lots and apple lands to $4860, giving a total of $11,950 for the first two weeks in March. This makes the aggregate business to date nearly $415,000, and the number of buyers in excess of 1100.

Among the largest transactions was the purchase for $2360 by F. E. Barlow of the historic Edgar Vineyard, comprising about fourteen acres, upon which is a vineyard more than sixty years old, planted by the Mission fathers. Despite its great age, the vineyard is still bearing fine, sweet fruit without irrigation, a condition that is attributed to the great depth and moisture-retaining quality of the soil. The wasting ruins of an adobe mission house, a century old, are on Mr. Barlow's new property.

G. A. Barlow, brother to the former, purchased a lot in the Cherry Valley West addition, containing ten acres, for $1200, and will plant apples and other deciduous fruits. Both buyers will immediately build residences.

Work will begin at once on the building, which will be erected south of the Southern Pacific depot. Another highway, the Eyer road, is being constructed by the county, extending for a distance of four miles to the east toward Strawberry Valley, a famous resort in the San Jacinto Mountains. Assessors are now taking inventory of the lands and improvements in the valley and the new assessment is expected to run half a million dollars above last year, which is a reliable index of Beaumont's recent growth.

Plans are being drawn for the erection of a large plumbing and hardware establishment for George Essex, recently of Massachusetts. A forty-room lodging-house will also be built on Fifth street, opposite the Edinburgh Hotel.

Thursday morning, Beaumont farmers and horticulturists will have the opportunity to listen to instructive talks, accompanied by practical demonstrations from some of the most noted educators in the State. The Southern Pacific's demonstration train bearing a trainload of exhibits, demonstrating the value of improved methods, selected seed and the successful fighting of diseases, will stop at the town.

IN MISSION PLACE TRACT.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never failing recipe for rheumatism. To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured of any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

Not only will this formula promptly relieve the muscular pains, but it is also one of the most effective system builders known to the profession. It will increase the appetite and if its use is continued will eventually restore full physical vigor to all persons of failing strength, especially the decline caused by age.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The week ended quietly and with no changes to speak of. The entire week was rather dull. Vegetables have not been arriving fast enough to fill the demand, and as a result they are selling right up to the top figures. Butter and eggs have been the only stock on the market moving with regularity. Potatoes have not been going fast and beans have been just a little better in demand than ordinarily. Fresh fruits have been confined to the apples, oranges, a few pears and the final grapes of the season. Pineapples have been among the better-selling fruits, and bananas have been going well. There has been no change in the price of bananas, but they are very firm. A few of the jobbers are selling below 4½ cents, but the majority are holding for the higher price, and are expecting to see the fruit moved up ½ cent during the coming week.

Eggs yesterday eased off ½ cent on the price of case count, bringing them back to 20 cents flat. Arrivals were 496 cases, just about the average of the entire week. No great fluctuations are looked for during the next six days, and the market, if anything, will work down another cent or two.

With the arrivals of butter during the past week averaging nearly 25,000 pounds a day, the market naturallly declined. Last year the drop came much earlier on account of the early rains. At present the green feed is reported excellent, and conditions are about normal for this season. Another smalll decline may be looked for during the week. Sales of butter were fair. Arrivals wee 20,174 pounds.

There were no reported receipts of cheese, but the selling was not at all bad. Eastern varieties were weak, but no actual cuts have been made as yet. Fancy cheese is moving well. The Lenten demand is helping the product along considerably.

The only feature of the potato market has been the firming up on the better grades. White Rose have gone up 25 cents, while other fancy spuds have sold a few cents higher. The call for spuds has not been heavy. Receipts were about 10 cars.

Onions started to ease off during the middle of the week, and in a number of instances, dealers are selling their stock lower than two weeks ago. This is partly due to the fact that the onions are beginning to sprout, which makes quick sales imperative. Arrivals from out of town have been light.

Beans are selling well, which is due to the higher prices prevailing on flour and meat. The general store demand has been good. Small whites are the only ones which have made any rise. Pinks and Limas are selling well.

Sweets moved fairly well. They were in light receipts throughout the week, and some of the sweets have not graded anywhere near fancy.

Fish have been too scarce to supply the call. Barracuda have been shipped in from the neighborhood of San Diego, but prices have been held up on them. Salmon from the north have moved very rapidly. Bullheads and catfish from Sacramento River have been received regularly, but in small quantities. Carp are, as usual, in good demand among the Slavonian and Russian fish peddlers. Turtles have been cleaned up.

Hay has gone higher, the best grades of oat and wheat hay selling now at $28 a ton. Alfalfa is down a few points and very firm.

Ham and lard are up from ¼ to ½ cents on all varieties.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

LITTLE CHANGE IN MINE ISSUES.

GOLDFIELD LEADERS CLOSE AT FRIDAY'S LEVELS.

Fraction Gains Few Points, But Sells Off Later—Tonopahs Steady, With Not Much Stock Offered. Comstocks Quiet Except Belcher, Which Scores Material Advance.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 524 Citizens' National Bank Bldg.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The mining market today was about the same as yesterday. Fraction gained a few points and then sold off, closing at 95 bid. Daisy was absorbed on a large selling order and remained steady around 50 cents, where it closed. Florence was traded in at yesterday's prices. There was a slight improvement in Goldfield Consolidated. After opening at 7.45 bid, it closed at 7.50.

The Tonopahs were steady, with very little stock offered. Round Mountain lost 4 points on the bid at the close. Too much Coalition was offered. After early sales at 61, it closed at 58 bid. Rawhide Queen was in demand at 51 bid.

As compared with a week ago, Consolidated was off 12½ points; Florence, 17½; Daisy, 6 and Combination Fraction, 1. Belmont was up 5; Tonopah Extension, off 7; Montana, off 2; West End, up 4; McNamara, up 3; Coalition, up 9; Round Mountain, off 4; Nevada Hills, off 5 points.

The Comstocks were practically unchanged except Belcher, which was up 8 points at the close.

Business on the New York Curb, in the Nevada stocks was light today. Following are the closing bid and asked prices, with sales on the formal call:

MONEY DRUG IN NEW YORK CITY.

CONCESSIONS IN RATES FAIL TO INDUCE BORROWING.

Stock Market Remains Languid in Spite of Favorable News Regarding Harriman-Gould Alliance and Decrease in Number of Idle Freight Cars—Record Month for Loans.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—Attendance was small at the stock exchange today and interest in the market was languid. The market showed its recently prevailing indifference to developments of all kinds. The break in Wabash securities seemed to follow a published expression of doubt by the head of the system that E. H. Harriman was to become a director, although cordial regard between the two men was asserted. The merger of the Equitable Trust Company, counted as a Harriman institution, with the Bowling Green Trust Company, in which the Gould name has appeared conspicuously, was also cited as evidence of the rapprochement of these two financial groups. Another small decrease in the total surplus of idle freight cars, reported by the American Railway Association for the half monthly period, was taken as a favorable showing. Some growing importance is attached to the continuing outward movement of gold, which is expected to continue next week. High prices of grain have cut down our exports and imports of various commodities, and are expanding heavily with the reviving demand, and foreigners are still sending home their holdings of American securities to market. The money metal goes out to cover the balance. The Comptroller's compilation of national bank conditions throughout the country in February shows a loan account of $4,-840,750,000, which is an expansion of $418,-000,000 over a year ago, and stands in act as a record for that item. Yet money remains almost a drug, and large offerings at concessions in rates are failing to induce sufficient borriwing to take up the supplies. The weekly bank statement showed no important change in the local banking situation.

Bonds irregular. Total sales par value, $1,-602,000. U.S. 2's registered, the threes registered and the fours, coupon, have advanced 1-4 per cent. on call, during the week.

DEADLOCK IN WHEAT MARKET.

FOREIGN PRICES FAIL TO FOLLOW TWO-CENT ADVANCE.

One of Leading Longs and Followers Sell Moderately Throughout Day—Sentiment in Corn Pit Bearish Owing to Slack Shipping Demand for Cash Grain.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 13.—A deadlock prevailed in the wheat market today and prices moved over a narrow range. Foreign markets did not follow the 2 cents advance here the previous day and there was no news of importance to inspire either buying or selling. One of the leading longs and followers sold moderately throughout the day. May sold between 1.16⅝ and 1.17¼, and July between 1.04⅞@1.05 and 1.05½. The close was steady, with May unchanged at 1.17¼. July was a shade lower, at 1.05⅜@1.05½. A slack shipping demand for the cash grain and predictions of increased receipts from the interior next week had a depressing effect on the corn market, sentiment in the pit being bearish all day. The market closed with net losses of ⅛ to ⅛@¼ cent, May being at 68⅜ and July at 67⅝.

Oats moved within extremely narrow bounds, the range for the day being confined to about ⅛. At the close, prices were unchanged to a shade higher, with May at 55⅜ and July at 50.

Provisions were weak. The closing prices were 5 to 10@12½ lower than yesterday.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 113 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, March 13.—The local market opened steady and about unchanged, with trading a little light. There was very little snap to the market, and it sagged with very little pressure. There was little in way of news. Reports overnight showed more rains over Texas. The drouth is no doubt being relieved, and in a short time we will hear very favorable reports from that State, as there is no State which can show or overcome any unfavorable report as quickly as it does there. Would sell the cotton on all advances.

The Logan and Bryan Cotton Letter follows: "Cotton unchanged to one point better. The volume of trade was not large, but the amount of looking around showed more curiosity than for some days. Those who had been waiting for rains in Texas found reports of light rains of yesterday on the map and added reports of rain this morning, but they did not find the break in the market which they thought such a rain should bring. This weather was counterbalanced by excessive rains east of the Mississippi River, some of the smaller streams in Alabama being reported at flood stage.

The Chronicle says: "Our telegraphic advices indicate that rains have been general during the week, with the rainfall excessive in portions of Alabama, and Tennessee and some localities elsewhere. The Mississippi River is at high stage and rising, and very high water is reported in Alabama rivers. Where the precipitation has been heavy, very little farm work has been possible and at times has been completely suspended."

Hill, of Logan and Bryan, says: "The visible figures are bullish all the way through. It was raining this morning in Dallas, Sherman and Waco had a slow rain last night; it will take a weather map to determine the size and value of these rains. The world's visible now is 114,000 bales less than two years ago. Shows a decrease during the week of 72,000 bales, compared with a decrease of 14,000 that year. Spinners' takings during the week amounted to 289,000 against 200,000 last year, and 218,000 the year before, which was about as expected."

Carpenter, Bagott & Co. says: "In summing the situation after a close study of the data before us which we are able to accumulate, and realizing that cotton is $6 a bale below the ruling prices at this time last year, and is now hardly if any above the cost of production, we fail to find any justification for changing our bullish sentiment."

The New York Commercial says: "A large yarn merchant of this city offered 75,000 pounds of yarn yesterday on a basis of 8 cents for cotton, and could only sell 1000 pounds. This only shows which way the wind is blowing when it comes to trade conditions."

NEW SECTION OPENED.

Old Haciendas in Yaqui Valley Thrown on the Market—Has Extensive Water System.

The extensive Torres and Salisbury interests in the famous Yaqui Valley, Sonora, Mex., consisting of a number of adjoining tracts, in all aggregating more than 200,000 acres, have been merged, and the land is now being offered to the many American investors, who are flocking to the attractive agricultural section just south of the international line.

An extensive irrigation system already has been developed, between 15,000 and 20,000 acres being served from the canals. The land is owned by the Yaqui Valley Land and Irrigation Company, with offices in the Bradbury building. Units of twenty-five acres and up will be offered to settlers at a price of about $15 an acre. This will include water rights, inherent to the land, together with a proportionate interest in the canal system serving the respective tracts.

The section is traversed by the main line of the southern reaching arm of the Southern Pacific Railroad, now in operation as far south as Mazatlan, several hundred miles below. There are also a number of harbors adjacent the territory, so that transportation facilities are ideal. Guaymas, the chief port of Northern Mexico, is but thirty miles away.

This tract of 200,000 acres is in the older cultivated portion of the Yaqui Valley, parts of it having been under intensive cultivation for many years. It has been the products of these vast haciendas which have given to the Yaqui Valley its wide reputation for a fertility, rivaled only by that of the famous Nile delta.

Only recently have the owners of these several estates consented to open the land for subdivision, and settlement, but the invasion of many land-hungry American farmers has at last induced the step. Many erstwhile ranchers of the San Joaquin Valley, Sacramento country, and the Imperial section, are now improving tracts of these fertile well-watered lands.

Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave today for San Francisco to confer with J. A. Filcher of Sacramento, the other member of the State exposition commission, appointed by the Governor.

I Cured My Rupture

I Will Show You How To Cure Yours FREE!

I was practically helpless and bed-ridden for many years from a double rupture. I wore innumerable different kinds of trusses and appliances. Some of them were tortures, some positively dangerous, and none would hold the rupture in its proper place. The doctors told me I could not expect to have it entirely healed unless I would consent to a surgical operation. I fooled them all, however, and cured myself completely and permanently by a simple method which I discovered. Anyone can use it, and I will gladly send the cure free by mail to anyone who writes for it. Fill out the coupon below and mail it to me today. I will send the cure by return mail, postpaid.

DEMAND GOOD OTHER PLACES.

Realty Sales in Neighboring Cities and Towns.

Orange Groves Attractive to Eastern Investors.

Strong Prices Are Feature of All Outside Deals.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 13.—Movement in San Diego realty was more active last week than for some time past, several large sized deals having been made. One of these was the sale of a lot 50x73 feet at the northwest corner of Eighth and D streets, which was bought by a syndicate of eastern capitalists from George G. Marsh for a consideration of $35,000. The lot is improved with a two-story frame rooming-house.

Another sale of interest is the former home of E. S. Babcock at Coronado, which was purchased by Dr. David H. Elliott for $8000. The sale was made by Martha Ingersoll Robinson, and the property was purchased by Dr. Elliott as an investment.

J. E. Brainard bought from Charles Brown two lots on Valley street between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets for $1250. The lots are improved with a small bungalow.

Building operations, also, are in full sway, as a contract has been let to erect a four-story concrete mill building by the San Diego Grain and Mill Company for a 300-barrel flouring mill. The building and machinery will cost $85,000. Capitalists in the Globe Milling Company of Los Angeles and San Francisco are interested in the San Diego enterprise. The mill will occupy the block bounded by California, Arctic, Ash and Beech streets, and it will be ready for operation within three months.

Negotiations are practically closed for the erection of a five-story reinforced concrete hotel, building at the northeast corner of Second and D streets, directly opposite the Elks' building. L. J. Wilde, president of the American National Bank, is financing the deal. The cost of the proposed building will be $150,000.

Architect Irving J. Gill has been commissioned to draw plans for a new building to be erected by the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Gill will prepare a rough sketch of a building which will cost about $100,000 for approval of the trustees of the institution. The board expects to be able to raise money to start the work of construction early in the summer.

DISPOSES OF FINE RANCH.

MOUNT OLIVET SOLD.

MONROVIA, March 13.—A sale of unusual interest among realty dealers has been completed by Edward F. Burke, agent for the Fitzgerald properties in Duarte. Mr. Burke sold for G. P. Fitzgerald of Manchester, Eng., sixty-five acres of the Mt. Olivet ranch to William S. Baird of Wyoming for a stated consideration of $60,000. Sixty acres are set to Washington navel and Valencia lates, the trees being 10 to 14 years old. The property is in a high state of cultivation.

The building improvements include a handsome bungalow, servant's quarters and stables, and a private plant, which furnishes electricity for household purposes and for the pumping station, supplying the domestic water system. The grounds were laid out by competent gardeners and are extensive. They have long been noted as among the most beautiful in Southern California.

Mr. Fitzgerald developed the property for an American home, but has since enherited estates in England, and ordered the property sold at what is said to be a decided discount on its original cost. Mr. Burke also sold thirty-five acres of the same ranch to Edward S. and Thomas K. Hulme for $30,000. Twenty-two acres of this property are in eight-year-old navel oranges. Building improvements consist of substantial house and barns. "Mt. Olivet ranch" has long been a noted property. It was originally embraced in the home ranch of Andreas Duarte, to whom the Mexican government granted a vast tract along the San Gabriel River about 1820. As late as the early fifties a large ranchita in which dwelt many of the San Gabriel Mission Indians was located there, and in 1875 one of the first orange orchards in the State was planted on its sunny slopes by Eugene Meyers.

Blythe and Beeman report the sale of a two-acre tract on South Shamrock avenue, owned by J. W. Bennet to John Prowel for a stated consideration of $3000. The tract is set to navel orange trees and is improved with a small bungalow.

Harvey W. Williams has sold to Sadie Cravens two lots on East White Oak avenue, 50x150 feet, for a consideration of $1500. He has also sold to Anastasie Revolon a lot in the Fairmont tract for a consideration of $500, and to James Ray a lot on East Orange avenue 50x150 feet for a consideration of $800.

Grover Johnson has sold to Roy Bateman a lot 50x150 feet on East Falling Leaf avenue for $2500. The property is improved with a five-room bungalow.

ORANGE GROVES SELL.

POMONA PROPERTY ATTRACTS.

POMONA, March 13.—Activity in orange grove property continues here. Dr. G. W. Forester has sold his young grove of twenty-three acres, north of Mesa avenue, to W. J. Rogers for $26,000, through the Neibel Realty Company's agency.

Mrs. Charles W. Linsday has sold a young fourteen-acre grove on Alexander avenue to M. Miles, a newcomer from Goldfield, Nev., for $15,000, through the J. A. Fitch agency.

Charles Bourlier has sold a ten-acre grove, improved with a house, west of Lordsburg, to H. Schisled, for $15,000, through the agency of C. E. Straight.

Three lots in the Ganesha Park tract were sold by Morris H. Wilson, and two lots in the Walker-Dole tract. Harold C. Dewey has purchased some acreage on West Ninth street from S. N. Curry. S. Haskins bought eighteen acres of eucalyptus land, near Chino, through the agency of Armstrong & Sellen. Fred E. Graham, through Jay J. White, has purchased a lot on Holt avenue, west of Towne avenue, for $1350.

DEMAND IS INCREASING.

CITRUS GROVES SELL.

ONTARIO, March 13.—Now that the recent rains have instilled confidence in the heart of prospective eastern buyers, who heretofore were inclined to be somewhat skeptical, orange groves and realty generally, is selling at better prices, and the demand for land is increasing.

J. V. Caldwell reports the sale of a twenty-acre lemon grove on West Eleventh street to L. D. Temple for a consideration of $2,000. J. C. Snodgrass has sold another five acres just east of his home place on Sixth street to R. D. Magill. The consideration was $8000.

Another important deal, reported within the week, is the sale of three separate ten-acre pieces by Latimer & Dyar, the first to H. E. Bacon, the second to E. B. Chapin of Pasadena, and the third to William Beensh, a banker from Iowa. The latter will make Ontario his home. The consideration in each of these deals was $15,000.

J. S. Hunton has sold a ten-acre orange grove at the corner of Fourth street and Campus avenue to Mrs. Clara Peabody for $9500. Building permits issued during the past month total $14,045, all for pretty bungalows and homes.

BUILDERS ARE BUSY.

ACTIVE TIMES IN SANTA ANA.

SANTA ANA, March 13.—Contractors and carpenters have plenty of work on their hands here just now, several good-sized structures, and a large number of cottages being under construction. The $6000 cannery building of J. E. Taylor & Co., on East Fourth street recently was started, and will be rushed to completion. This building is for a cannery in which all the stock is owned by members of the Taylor family. The company has grown from a humble start, at putting up of jams and jelly by Mrs. Taylor, for her neighbors.

A. C. Black, who has the contract for the cannery plant, also has a $3500 contract for a brick business building at No. 423 West Fourth street, for Randall, Heil & Waffle. Black has commenced a $2000 cottage at No. 724 E street, for John Randolph. C. R. Davis is building a $3500 two-story dwelling for C. C. Reed at No. 402 South Birch and a $1000 second story on F. M. Barto's residence at No. 312 West Chestnut.

Permits for cottages costing from $1000 to $1500 have been issued to H. B. Heninger at No. 1019 West First; C. Condra, at No. 1005 Highland; C. R. White, at No. 917 East Third.

The First Congregational Church congregation is planning to build a $15,000 church very shortly. There is a movement on foot to issue bonds for erecting an addition to the high school, and a new grammar school building of large size on Church street. The Elks have finished negotiations for an additional half lot adjoining their property on Sycamore street, and within a few years a $25,000 building will be erected to include a lodge home.

REPORT UNUSUAL ACTIVITY.

ESCONDIDO PROPERTY SELLS.

ESCONDIDO, March 12.—Unusual activity is reported by the real estate agents in the number of inquiries for both city and ranch property. The week's sales include the following: The Avenue stables, and two adjoining lots, at the corner of Juniper street and Grand avenue, for a consideration of $4000, subject to the lease of A. W. Plowman. The M. G. Shain five-room house on Third avenue, near the Escondido Hotel, to Benjamin Cobb of Ventura county, for $1400. The Rev. J. W. Sherwood property by J. B. Wyatt. Mrs. C. M. Klock of San Diego, who recently bought the Frank Jones place, just east of the city, will erect one or more bungalows on the seven lots.

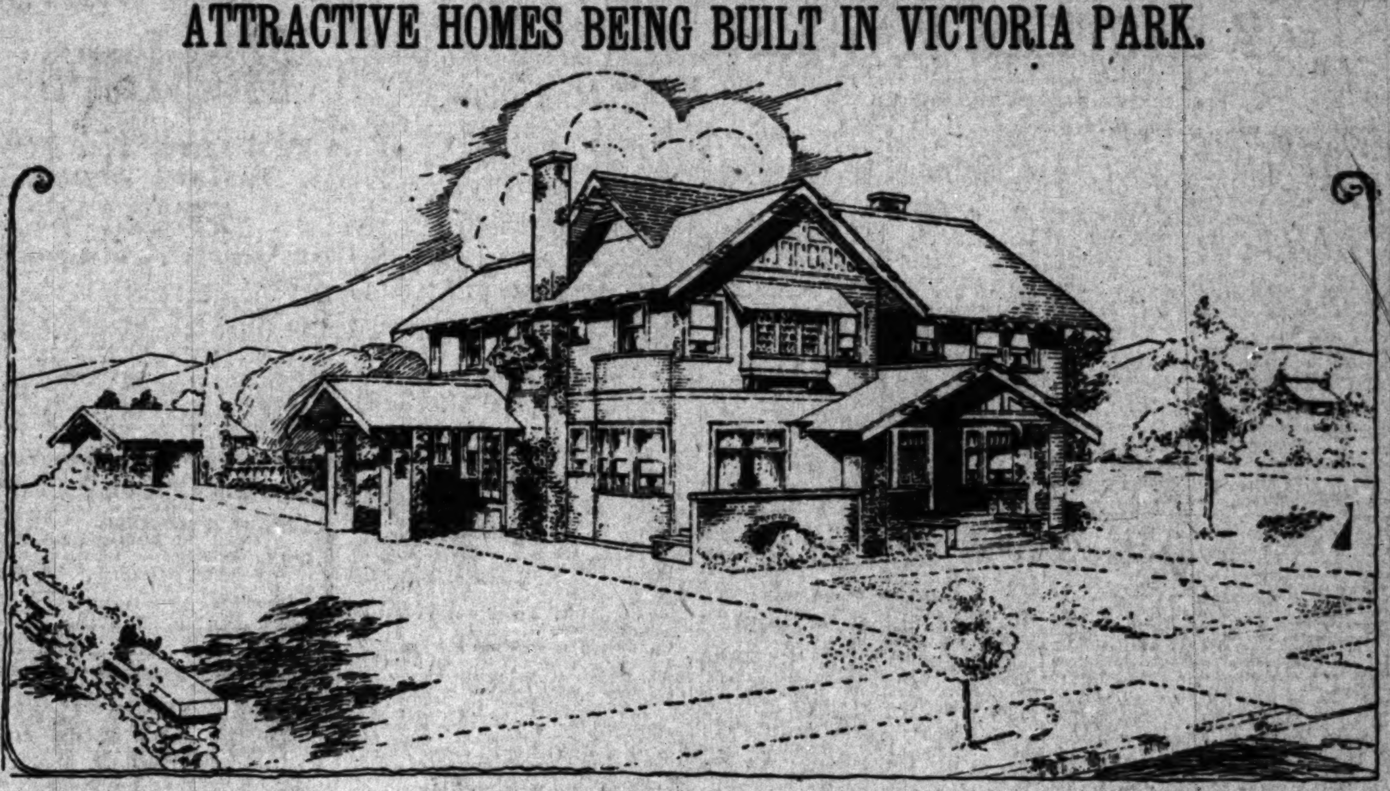
ATTRACTIVE HOMES BEING BUILT IN VICTORIA PARK.



Handsome home for Henry P. Hoffman.

Several handsome homes have been erected within the last few months in Victoria Park, a beautifully situated subdivision just west of the city, between Pico and Sixteenth streets. One of the most attractive of the new homes now under construction is that of Henry P. Hoffman at No. 91 Victoria Park. It is a fair example of the class of improvements going on in the section.

The residence will contain twelve rooms and attic. Across the front of the house are a wide porch and terrace, both having cement floors. From this porch one enters a living-room 19x30 feet in size. At the rear of this room is the main staircase, which leads to a spacious landing, and thence to the second floor.

On either side of the main staircase are French windows leading to the patio in the rear, which will be fitted up as a conservatory and tea-room. On the left of the living-room is a reception room, finished in white and gold. To the rear of this is the billiard room and den, 14x26 feet in size, and to the rear of this room is the gun room, lavatory, etc. A pleasing feature of the billiard room will be the large windows, massive stone mantel, built-in bookcases, seats, wood-paneled walls, etc.

To the right of the living-room is the dining-room, having a built-in buffet, mantel, paneled walls, etc. Both the living and dining-room will have beamed ceilings, as will also the billiard room. To the rear is the kitchen. The rear stairs lead from this room. A breakfast room, located to catch the morning sun, adjoins the dining-room.

On the second floor there are five large chambers, two sleeping balconies, servants' quarters, dressing-rooms, baths, etc. All rooms on the second floor will be finished in white enamel. There will be hardwood floors throughout the house.

The exterior will be finished in rustic for the first story, with shingles above, heavy cornices, paneled gables and blue brick porch columns and porte cochere posts. The building and improvements will cost between $10,000 and $12,000. Jarrett & Bixby are the architects and will superintend the construction of the building, for which the Milwaukee Building Company has the contract. David Barry & Co., agents for Victoria Park, have sold a number of homesites in the park in the past ten days.

THE MARKET.

BY OWNERS AND DEALERS.

MUCH IMPROVEMENT APPARENT IN REALTY CIRCLES.

Increasing Demand for All Classes of Property—Building Lots and Residences Wanted—Prices Well Maintained—Acreage and Large Ranches Also Handled by Agencies.

Sales and exchanges of city and country property have been a feature of the realty market in the last few weeks. There is an increasing demand and prices are well maintained for all really good buys. There is a good inquiry for residence property, and also for vacant building sites, many of the purchasers planning immediate improvements. Acreage properties near the city or adjoining suburban communities also are in good demand, while ranch sales are numerous. Following are sales reports from various agencies showing the trend of recent business in the real estate line.

At Somerset Acres.

Emil Firth reports great building activity at Somerset. Fifty houses are now completed, and several more are under construction. All of the tract north of the Pacific Electric line is practically sold out, and the street work completed. The grading of Flower, Walnut, Park and Palm avenues, and the laying of the water mains, has just been finished. Among the buyers are the following: Reinhold Kleinschmidt, four acres east of Woodruff avenue, extending from Walnut to Park avenue, for $1725; R. S. and R. E. Fugatt, two acres extending from Walnut to Park avenue, for $775; Tom West two acres on Palm avenue, east of Bixby avenue, for $700; Miss Mary E. Jordan, one acre on Eucalyptus avenue south of Washington street, for $350; Miss May B. Fisher, one acre adjoining above, for $350; J. B. Adams, one acre on Park avenue, west of Woodruff avenue, for $375; Mrs. Edna A. Prescott, one acre at corner of Center street and Grand avenue, for $375; LeRoy Anderson, one acre on Grand avenue, north of the Midway, for $350; M. S. Franklin, one acre on Palm avenue, east of Woodruff avenue, for $375; C. R. Carlson, two acres on Eucalyptus avenue, north of Center street, for $750; Edward Hull, two acres adjoining above, for $750; Mrs. Mary G. Milne, two acres at the corner of Railroad and Cornuta avenues, for $1000; Charles E. Bircher, one acre at the corner of Flower street and Cornuta avenue, for $600; Richard F. Hamond, one acre on Flower avenue, east of Somerset avenue, for $600. Most of the above purchases have been made for immediate improvement.

ALASKAN MINING MAN BUYS.

Edwin G. Hart & Co., has sold fifteen acres for the El Campo Land Company to Nels Olness, a wealthy mining man from Alaska. The property is part of the unsubdivided portion of the El Campo Court tract, and was sold to Mr. Olness at a low figure, in consideration of his putting in first-class improvements. He already has an architect drawing plans for a handsome country home and expects to plant the entire fifteen acres to orange and ornamental trees and shrubs. The section in which this purchase was made is about a mile east of Huntington's new home on the north side of the Monrovia electric line, west of the Chapman ranch. Mr. Olness paid $1000 an acre, and the entire purchase price was paid in spot cash.

The same firm has just closed another deal in the same section, having sold for James Medearis ten acres for $10,000, Edwin G. Hart being the purchaser. This property faces south on California street, east of Rose avenue, and west of the Chapman ranch, and is planted in walnut trees.

WIDEN TWENTY-THIRD.

A petition has been signed by the majority of the property owners to widen West Twenty-third street from Estrella avenue, (Chester Place,) to Union avenue. The improvement will make this street a uniform width of sixty-five feet. This matter has been in contemplation for some time, and will be of material benefit to not only the property owners on this thoroughfare, but to all properties in the surrounding neighborhood. It is conservatively estimated by well-posted real estate men that prop rty will increase in value along this street, and in fact, that every foot of frontage will be worth at least $200 per front foot. This section is exceptionally well suited for apartments of a high class.

FACULTY OF CHARITY FIRST STEP TOWARD A GREAT ORGANIZATION.

Ultimate Combination of All Philanthropic Associations of Los Angeles Is Planned by Leaders—Good Work Under Way.

With the organization of the Conference Committee by the Associated Charities, the first step has been taken for the urgently needed centralization of charitable endeavors in Los Angeles. The dispensing of charity has become a business, with the problem of rents and salaries a consideration of great importance. The amalgamation of the many and varied branches of organized philanthropy, with but one institution caring for orphans, one for the aged, etc., is the plan toward which the many scattered organizations are tending.

Approximately $100,000 is subscribed annually in Los Angeles toward charity, and the disasters at San Francisco and Messina called $300,000 from the purses of the liberal citizens.

Nearly $100,000 worth of improvements have been planned for this year. The Kaspare Cohn Hospital will have a new $35,000 building outside the city limits, and the Los Angeles Orphans' Home will expend the same amount in cottages for children at Colegrove. Nearly all other institutions have been forced by the increase in population to enlarge their facilities.

The woodyard has proved its efficiency as an emergency medium of self-help.

Saying Nothing, but—Working for One of Those Meal Tickets supplied by the Associated Charities to manipulators of the buck-saw at the charity woodyard, one of the most novel institutions here.

The art of giving has become a science; the faculty of the University of Charity an actual fact. In less metaphorical terms, this latter is known as the Conference Committee, instigated by the Associated Charities and formed of the presidents and secretaries of the charitable organizations of Los Angeles.

It was conceived December last at a meeting of the Associated Charities and will hold its fifth meeting on Tuesday of this week. In its bylaws the purposes are set forth as follows: For the coördination and unification, as far as practicable of all efforts designed to benefit the afflicted, the poor and the needy.

In many respects the movement was made necessary by the numerous deceptions practiced upon metropolitan charity institutions by the wily, a business worked to a decidedly fine point. The Associated Charities discover the most of these frauds as they always investigate their cases, but the other institutions, lacking their records, are often "stung."

As an example of the value of investigation the following case is interesting. A young man with a wife and 22-months-old baby, without food or shelter, was brought to the office of the Associated Charities by a reputable citizen, and had good recommendations. The case was so well presented that he was given $4 to pay for rent and food. A month later he was given more on request, and this time an investigator was put on the case. It was discovered that he was not known at the addresses he gave: when one old residence was found, his former landlady said that the man received an allowance from his foster-mother, had once been in jail for choking his wife, "beat" his foster-mother's agent out of money, and eventually, by his annoyances, caused his benefactress to leave the city. The Conference Committee will make it hard for this game to be repeated.

CO-OPERATIVE CHARITY.

The organizations at present enrolled on the committee are the Barlow Sanatorium, the Civic Association of Los Angeles, the Y.M.C.A., Bethlehem Institute, Hebrew Benevolent Association, Los Angeles Settlement Association, German Ladies' Benevolent Association, California Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, Ladies' Benevolent Society, Women's Alliance Maternity Cottage, Legal Aid Society, Volunteers of America, Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent Association, Hollenbeck Home for the Aged, Los Angeles Humane Society, Free Dispensary of U.S.C. College of Medicine, Children's Home Society of California, Working Boys' Club, Kings Daughters Day Nursery, Los Angeles Branch International Sunshine Society, Brownson Home Settlement Association, Los Angeles Branch of Needlework Guild Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Y. W.C.A., Episcopal City Mission Society, Union Circle, No. 19, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Moses Mendelssohn House Settlement and many others. Some members of the Associated Charities have not yet enrolled on the committee.

These institutions are scattered in and about the maelstrom of the underworld, some holding back those persons whom despair is driving there, some helping out those who have reached the utmost depths. Charity is the "open sesame" to the doors of the homes in all cases, and they constitute a world ordered by the laws of light and darkness both.

The standing committees of the conference are already appointed. Rev. T. C. Marshall is chairman of the committee that is to "rustle up" new members and introduce them to the others. Orphans, abandoned children, foundlings and illegitimate children are to be reported by Julius Brown, Mrs. G. A. Bobrick and Herbert W. Lewis, the chairmen of the three respective committees. The committees on outdoor and indoor relief, reporting the efforts made and methods adopted in caring for charity cases, are chairmaned by C. C. Desmond and Rev. Dana W. Bartlett, respectively. The chairmen of the committees on the care of sick children, consumptives and general sick, are Drs. Donald Frick, W. Jarvis Barlow and L. M. Powers. They also constitute a general medical committee. The committees on legislation, resolutions, indorsements and publicity are headed by Fred W. Wheeler and H. W. Frank.

FURTHER ORGANIZATION.

The secretary of the Associated Charities, Spencer K. Sewall, is, by constitution, the secretary of the Conference Committee. Dr. George H. Kress is chairman of the conference, and the first, second and third vice-chairmen are, respectively, H. W. Frank, Mrs. J. B. Millard and Mrs. W. T. Barnett. The Executive Committee is composed of Mrs. Julius A. Brown, Isaac Norton, C. C. Desmond, Dr. W. Jarvis Barlow and the officers mentioned above.

The organization of the Conference Committee may act as a step toward a condition which many interested in philanthropy in Los Angeles wish to see exist. This is a centralization of charity work, of the caring for all orphans in one institution, of the incorporation of all rescue homes, etc.

Those who advocate this movement contend that by so doing rents will be decreased and all expenses of maintainance will be lessened in proportion, the money so saved to be used in the further expansion of the good cause.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES. KEYNOTE OF THE WORK.

Practical charity is the keynote of the work of the Associated Charities. Those in charge of the work believe firmly in the statement made at the Conference of Charities and Corrections at Oakland, last year. "Not to place an asylum or prison at the end of the road, but to place guide boards along the way." In other words, they endeavor to do what historians might call a hopeless task, but which the hopeful believe is a possibility, to remove the causes of poverty beside relieving it.

To remove the cause, at the best, can be only an ultimate aim. The present needs are imperative and the records of the investigations will remain to define the causes which must be contended with. The Associated Charities is the hub of the philanthropic world in Los Angeles. It is in communication with 875 similar organizations, representing many parts of the world. Two hundred and twenty-five are in the United States.

The association was organized fifteen years ago, and now copes in a city of 300,000 people, with resources but little increased over the original sources of funds. The well-remembered tag-day was a timely expedient to help it tide over a gap in the financial standing caused by the San Francisco catastrophe, the relief of the refugees from which continued into last year. The last financial statement, presented in October, shows the total receipts for the year, then ended, to have been $35,219.09, with a balance of about $3500 left, over the expenditures.

CLOSE INVESTIGATION.

In pursuance of its policy, the Associated Charities spent, during the last financial year, about $2000 in investigating the cases that were called to its attention. Secretary Sewall estimates a larger amount than this saved by the impositions that were discovered. Applicants for charity are always supported while their cases are investigated, and in the event of their statements turning out to be fraudulent, that money enters the list of useless expense.

Among its efforts to place its charity work upon as practical a footing as possible is the Los Angeles Wood Yard and Labor Bureau at No. 2156 East Ninth street. It embraces a labor office, wood yard and lodging-room accommodating twelve men, and was launched the first of the present year. It was started to care for the great army of industrious men sometimes in want here, who only ask for an opportunity to work, and for better facilities in handling the numbers of men who besiege the office asking help.

Upon application car-fare is given to the men to take them to the yard, and they are given orders for lodging, which they work out. During six weeks of the organization of this institution, 247 men have been presented with nickels and out of this number, eighty-six of them disposed of them in other ways than conveyance to the job that was offered to them. Sixty-seven men were working full time and the balance worked "occasionally." During this time, sixty-nine cords of wood were cut and the experience has proved that the institution will be a success if the public will patronize the wood yard in purchasing fuel.

HUMAN INTEREST CASES.

Many cases of human interest appear, and every phase of humanity is represented in the stream that flows through the Associated Charities office. Because he chopped wood in spirit better than with his arms, one young man is now an employé of good standing of the Los Angeles Railway Company. He is a Roumanian and lacking the address sufficient to obtain a job after coming here from San Francisco, with a good recommendation from the United Railways, applied for food and a place to sleep. The excellence of the recommendation made his case look questionable, but he was given a job in the suburbs cutting down a few orange trees. He was anything but an axman and "quantity not quality" figured in his work. However, he came back to the Associated Charities with a recommendation and some money.

On the strength of his former San Francisco recommendation a "berth" was then secured for him as motorman, and in six weeks he was highly commended by his superintendent.

Demon Rum and his relatives are frequently in evidence about the office. The majority of the cases are similar to one to which attention was called

PUSHING ALONG MALIBU ROAD.

FAMOUS RANCH AGAIN SCENE OF MUCH ACTIVITY.

Surveyors Running Lines for Third Five-Mile Stretch, Which Will Carry Railway Into Ventura County—May Be Operated in Conjunction With Local Trolley System.

There is a renewal of activity above Santa Monica on the Malibu ranch. For some days surveyors of the Hueneme, Malibu and Port Los Angeles Railway have been running lines and setting grade stakes. The work is preliminary to the early resumption of building operations. It is planned to build five miles of road during the summer. Each year for the last four a five-mile stretch has been graded, ties put in place and rails laid. There are fifteen miles of broad-gauge track ready for gasoline motor cars or locomotives. The western terminus is now beyond Point Dume, and the summer's work will carry the line into Ventura county and within easy striking distance of Hueneme and Ventura.

Rumor connects the name of Harriman with the ownership of this road, which is said to be designed for operation in conjunction with the trolley line of the Los Angeles-Pacific company, whose cars now reach the long wharf, Santa Monica Cañon and Port Los Angeles. This would give the Harriman people a short cut from this city to Ventura and would materially lessen the distance between the Golden Gate and Los Angeles. That the line runs through an unsettled and resourceless country makes it seem certain that it is to connect with some main line.

The manager of the Malibu ranch is Mrs. Rindge, widow of Frederick H. Rindge. The building of it was his life's dream, and immediately after his death construction was begun. At the end of the first five-mile stretch, Coal Cañon, a 600-foot pier was built. At this rails and ties are unloaded.

Before the road can be of practical value there must be built a ten-mile stretch from the Malibu ranch to Port Los Angeles. This will run across private lands on a narrow right of way between the Palisades and the sea.

Coast Artillery Coming Back to Los Angeles.

Two-Company Post in Sight for San Pedro.

City Now Headquarters for Retired Host.

"Here's to the engineers, to hell with the artillery!"

This wicked old toast, whispered by a few sturdy old drinkers at the meeting of the Fortification Board of the United States Army in Los Angeles a few years ago, will have to be amended now. In another eighteen months the glory of the old days in this city will be renewed, and the artillery will come into its own again.

A two-company army post at San Pedro will then be completed for the accommodation of the Coast Artillery, with ten officers in command. According to military authorities, this is only the beginning, for when the full appropriation is made by Congress there will be a four-company post, with twice the number of officers to supply gold lace and brass buttons and general interest to Los Angeles society.

In the meantime, Los Angeles is the headquarters of an army of occupation. There are officers and their wives here on leave, and others are lingering en route to the Philippines and Honolulu. Members of the Engineer Corps are building homes, and day by day the ranks of retired notables who come here to spend the evening of their days are being augmented.

"The girl I left behind me" is here. She has succeeded the "sea gulls," wives of naval officers, who follow their husbands' ships from port to port, the last of whom left us a few weeks ago to welcome the fleet at Hampton Roads.

The army woman holds the center of the stage just now. Her "Jusi gown," "the army woman's uniform," outward and visible sign of service in the Philippines, is seen at many a social function. She is still faithful to the Nitsaki purse she bought in Japan, and carries it on her shopping expeditions. Her happy vivacity supplies a champagne tang to local society.

ON THE GENERAL STAFF.

"I am interested in Col. Tucker," calmly declared a charming member of the army set, Mrs. William S. Graves, a few days ago. An electric shock went around, for Mrs. John A. Logan's unfortunate son-in-law is not a happy subject. But this [illegible] remark was soon elucidated, for Col. Tucker's retirement caused a shifting about of officers, and resulted in the recent appointment of Capt. Graves to the General Staff of the army, with a detail in Washington, D. C.

Los Angeles will be reluctant to give up Capt. and Mrs. Graves, but Washington and the new administration offers attractive possibilities. Also an appointment to the General Staff implies no small honor. The policy of the army is determined by this body of men, who are named for individual merit.

"What is the duty of the General Staff?" was asked of a jolly little woman, whose husband is a cavalryman. "Oh, just going around and poking their noses into everybody else's business," was the laughing reply, but one must make allowance for the cavalry.

Capt. and Mrs. Graves are daily expecting their orders to move to the capital. Their Filipino servant, Catalino, is also expecting it. He believes that when he goes there and meets the powers that be he may be made Governor of the Philippines.

He is certainly made of the right stuff, for he is an ideal cook. He attends school a part of each day, and is even studying china painting. He is the sworn admirer of every member of the Graves household. Seeing his mistress go off to an afternoon tea not long ago, he thought she looked so fine that he hastily called up one of the neighbors by 'phone, and asked her to look out and see "Admiral Togo go by." It was the finest compliment he could think of.

PEOPLE WHO PASS.

Capt. Amos A. Fries, who has been dubbed the "engineering wizard of the West," and his wife, are very popular among the younger army contingent. Their home is headquarters for many of the officers who pass this way. They recently entertained Capt. Exton from Honolulu.

Now Capt. Exton inquired particularly about a certain society woman of this city, who made a deep dent in army circles in Honolulu last winter. She wore emotional gowns and even those officers who never met her, and never heard her name, knew about these gowns. Their fame is still in the land of Aloha, and every army man who comes this way, makes the same inquiry. Who is she? That's a secret. But it is rumored that she is nearly related to Mrs. Rob Rowan.

ALL TROOPERS.

"The coach and fo'
Are at the do'."

This limerick is supposed to reflect the soft southern syllables of Mrs. W. D. Scales, who is here at the Hinman Hotel. She is a North Carolina girl, who went to Fort Duquesne as a bride two years ago. Her two sisters have married in Fifth Cavalry also. They are Mrs. V. D. Dixon, wife of Lieut. Dixon, detailed for Signal Corps duty at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and Mrs. C. G. Hall, whose husband is Indian agent at White Rock, near Fort Duquesne.

Mrs. Scales's mother, Mrs. J. D. McNeeley, is with her, and other sisters are to arrive very soon. The family will be at home for the rest of the season, at No. 2265 West Twenty-third street. Capt. Scales is in Honolulu this winter. He was a member of the famous football team of West Point, '96. He stands 6 feet 3 in his stockings, and is said to have passed one of the best physical examinations ever recorded at the military academy.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles D. Roberts are spending the winter at No. 40 St. James Park. Capt. Roberts of the Twentieth Infantry, is here on leave, and when that is up, Los Angeles will miss them from its army circle.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles T. Leeds are located in Pasadena for the season, but are building a home in Los Angeles at the corner of Miami and Sixth streets. Lieut. Leeds is a Boston man.

PICTURES BY THE THOUSAND.

City's Photograph Gallery Is Bane of Crooks.

Busy Keeping Track of All Undesirable Citizens.

"Measuring Mugs" Reduced to Fine System.

More than two thousand men and women have been measured by the police department's Bureau of Identification during the past six months, according to a report made yesterday to Captain of Detectives Paul Flammer. Of that number more than half were found to have served terms in various jails and penitentiaries throughout the United States.

The Los Angeles Bureau of Identification, according to the statements of police officials from New York, Chicago and St. Louis, who were recently in the city, has one of the most thorough systems for "measuring mugs" in the country. In addition to the Bertillon system of measurement and description, the local bureau uses a card index, a history department, and numerous other features which make the identification of criminals so sure that crooks have learned to dread it.

A few years ago the police department had practically nothing in the way of systematic identification. When a man was arrested, the officer who made the arrest put the handcuffs on his prisoner, and marched him down to a gallery on Main street, where the man's picture was taken. He was then marched back to the Police Station, and the arresting officer measured him the best way he knew how.

Later, Capt. Flammer, at that time serving as a detective, was detailed to the work of measuring the men. He started the system now in vogue, and taught the other officers the proper Bertillon method. For a time Flammer measured every man sent to the bureau. Later Alfred E. Adams, then a detective, was detailed to assist Flammer.

Adams was made superintendent of the bureau when Flammer was appointed captain of detectives. He has had charge of the department ever since. His assistants are F. Florentine, photographer; James L. Radcliffe and James Cline, clerks. They have built the bureau to its present efficient state. The work has increased until the report of yesterday shows that there are now 80,000 pictures of criminals in the cabinets. These pictures are accompanied by the descriptions of the men and their aliases.

Eastern officers contend that a well-regulated identification bureau is the brain of a police department, and they are surprised when they find a comparatively small police force like that in Los Angeles with a bureau that ranks close to those of the big eastern cities. This department, however, is one of the most essential features of western police work. Eastern crooks migrate to Los Angeles every winter. An up-to-date bureau furnishes data as to their character and line of crime, and enables the police to be prepared for them.

PICTURES UNDER COVER.

There is nothing more interesting than a trip to an identification bureau. In the old days visitors were taken in and shown the rogues' gallery, a motley array of pictures hung about on the walls or pasted on big sheets of cardboard in a glass cabinet. That has all been changed. The day of the rogues' gallery has gone. There are no more pictures hanging about.

The Bureau of Identification is situated on the top floor of the City Jail. The main room, where the registration is done, and a studio to the right, comprise the offices. In the first room high cabinets are ranged about the walls. These are filled with thousands of pictures and cards.

The Bertillon cabinet occupies one entire side. A stranger would be at a loss to proceed in searching for a certain picture. A clerk in the office can pick it out like a flash. It is all because of the system.

Everything is done by measurement in the Bertillon. The name of a man counts for little. He can change it every five minutes if he wants to. His age amounts to less, and his weight is almost worthless. This is because of the fact that some men, 50 years of age do not look more than 30, while a dissipated young man of 25 may look 10 years older.

PERFECT SYSTEM.

The weight changes so that it is only a minor consideration. The Bertillon cabinet is arranged on a system of division. There are three big photograph frames, looking like window shutters. These contain the three sizes of head length measurement. The length of the head is used as the basis for all identification because it varies less than any other measurement. The head width comes next. There are three divisions for each measurement, small, medium and large. The left middle finger is third in importance, the left foot, fourth, the left fore arm, fifth, and the left little finger, sixth. These are the essentials. A Bertillon card contains all these measurements and many more, but through these the official is able to determine in a very few moments whether or not the subject has been photographed before.

The officer knows that a man with a long length head, medium width head, small length middle finger, medium left foot, medium forearm and long little finger, will be found in a certain division of a certain drawer if his record has been obtained on any former case. The slightest variation in any of these measurements might mean that the man's record was in some cabinet several drawers away from the one first selected.

"MEASURING MUGS."

A prisoner is not measured until he has been found guilty of a charge. He is then taken up to the identification bureau. He bares his arms and feet. His head is first measured, steel forceps being used to get the distance, which is registered by the metric system. The head width comes next. The forearm is measured on a high wooden stand. The measurements are made on the left side because the arm or foot are less liable to be developed by hard work. In measuring the foot the prisoner stands on a small stool.

The subject is then placed with his back to the "cross." This gives his height and his reach. Prisoners frequently try to disguise their height an inch or two by pushing out their stomach. To prevent this the official holds the head in place against the board and presses against the man's stomach with his other hand to be sure that the subject is standing perfectly erect. Once in a while a prisoner will try to stand on tip-toe to add to his height.

WON'T LOOK PLEASANT.

After the measurements have been taken down in a style of short-hand known only to men who have worked in identification bureaus, the subject is photographed. A great deal of diplomacy is necessary to make some men face the camera. A good picture is necessary and when an unwilling subject is taken to the studio a great deal of trouble results. Frequently it is found necessary to handcuff a man, iron him to the chair leg and hold his head in position until the camera is snapped. Even then he cannot be prevented from distorting his features and making faces.

A woman who does not want to be photographed also creates much trouble and more than one officer has been scratched before he secured a photograph. The matron always accompanies a woman to the identification bureau, and attends to several of the details of the registration. Every scar on the body is carefully recorded, and all birthmarks, or tattoo symbols noted.

HOW IT WORKS.

During fleet week, twenty notorious pickpockets or "dips," were arrested. They denied ever having been photographed before. The crook name for the process is "mugged." Superintendent Adams after an investigation, found four pictures of the first man in the gallery. The fellow was astounded and promptly told of his former arrests. His partners also gave their aliases, and were identified before being sent out of the city.

In the case of Kid Reagan, arrested in Los Angeles and sent to New York on a murder charge, three different photographs were found, all under different names. Reagan was arrested in Los Angeles on a bunco charge. He denied ever having been "mugged" before. His picture was found, and it showed that he had been arrested in St. Louis on a pickpocket charge. Another picture showed that he had been arrested in Cleveland on a bunco charge, and a third photograph showed that he was wanted in New York on a murder charge. The officers came for him when they learned of his arrest.

In the index check system, the different races are known by the color of the cards. Women are always recorded on pink cards, negroes on blue, Mexicans on brown, Japanese on buff, and so on.

The "Detective," a weekly magazine devoted to the publication of photographs of criminals is also kept on file.

HENEY'S BIG RAKE-OFF FROM U. S. TREASURY.

[From the San Francisco Argonaut.]

That was a mighty interesting bit of information which came last week in the shape of a special dispatch from Washington to the Portland Oregonian with respect to Mr. Heney's "employment" by the Department of Justice, and it had the special value of being officially attested. Since the beginning of the so-called graft prosecution in San Francisco in 1906 Mr. Heney has received $40,000 in hard cash from the government in payment for his services as "Special Assistant Attorney-General of the United States to assist the United States District Attorney of Oregon." The dates when payments were made, with the amounts, are so interesting that we reproduce them:

|---|---|
| August 24, 1906 | $ 7,000 |
| August 9, 1907 | 5,000 |
| December 26, 1907 | 5,000 |
| March 2, 1908 | 8,000 |
| July 6, 1908 | 10,000 |
| January 21, 1909 | 5,000 |

Ostensibly these sums have been paid to Mr. Heney for services in Oregon, which is most interesting in view of the fact that almost nothing has been done in Oregon in connection with the land fraud cases now for more than two years. One case indirectly connected with the land matters was tried by Mr. Heney something like a year ago, but in the main the Oregon indictments have been allowed to hang fire, postponement following delay, to the confusion of the public mind, to the practical denial of justice, and to the hardship of a considerable number of persons accused of crime and indicted upon presentments made by Mr. Heney. In brief, the land prosecution in Oregon has been permitted to lapse under circumstances which have made the whole business a farce and a scandal. In the meantime, Mr. Heney has been busy in California in matters in no way connected with the responsibilities of the general government, and at the same time he has been drawing fees from the government in large sums—August 24, 1906, $7000; August 9, 1907, $5000; December 26, 1907, $5000; March 2, 1908, $8000; July 6, 1908, $10,000; January 21, 1909—only a little more than a month ago—$5000.

These payments, aggregating $40,000 in two years and a half, accord poorly with Mr. Heney's pretensions of disinterested, self-sacrificing, unpaid public service. They accord poorly with appeals made by the Evening Bulletin from time to time for contributions in support of all-sacrificing and necessitous Mr. Heney. They accord poorly with Mr. Spreckels's touching references to Mr. Heney, designed to stimulate public generosity and charity as a man in need and under the special stress of domestic responsibility and necessity. Really, with the sum of $40,000 paid since the graft proceedings began, with other sums from the government within two years and a half running the total up to $65,000, Mr. Heney would seem to have been pretty well off, even without reckoning the $42,500 for which he receipted to the Oakland Water Company, even if it be allowed that $20,000 of the latter sum did not in truth reach his pocket, but was represented by a false and fraudulent voucher.

Of course, since the exposé of Mr. Heney's double dealing and open falsehood in the matter of the Ruef immunity contract, nobody has given credit to anything he himself may say. Nor has anybody taken his financial poses seriously since the exposure of the deal with the Oakland water company. But how about the Bulletin and how about Mr. Spreckels? Did the Bulletin at the time it was pleading the poverty of Mr. Heney and begging for contributions to sustain him know that he was in the receipt of sums aggregating nearly $2000 per month from the government at Washington? Was Mr. Spreckels at the time he spoke so feelingly of the domestic needs of Mr. Heney possessed of this same information? Has Mr. Heney been frank with his own partners in the graft conspiracy or has he been working both ends against the middle?

But, however this may be, it is interesting to consider the splendid "nerve" of one who could listen calmly to touching appeals made in his behalf while at the same time drawing down snug sums of five, seven, eight, and ten thousand plunks from Uncle Sam's treasury. It is impossible not to admire the poise of one who could maintain a neutral attitude while these pleasant things were doing. There have been moments when we have doubted Mr. Heney's capacity to control his own emotions and passions; but all that is now happily past. Hereafter we shall applaud him as a master in the difficult art of looking pleasant and maintaining his composure under trying circumstances. One who with thousands in his pocket and more a-coming, who unmoved and unresisting could witness the frantic efforts of friends in his behalf, who could listen to their unctuous spiels on the score of his domestic needs, such a one is surely master of himself. Those little ebullitions on the part of Mr. Heney which at rare intervals spice the proceedings of Judge Lawlor's court may be taken merely as indicating the buoyant and playful side of a nature admirably capable of self-mastery when there is occasion for it.

When it is considered how generous the government at Washington has been with funds provided for the prosecution of land frauds in Oregon, it is not surprising that Secretary Garfield should have recently asked Congress for half a million dollars for the prosecution of pending cases. Really, it would seem that all this money and more will be needed if the methods of disbursement are to be after the model afforded by the Heney case. If anybody for whom the government at Washington may have a fancy may be paid such prodigious sums for any service anywhere, in or out of Oregon, from the Oregon land case fund, then the appropriation ought to be made great enough to cover any possible development of administrative sympathies. Of course, in ordinary business life, when funds appropriated for one purpose are diverted without authority to other uses, the procedure is called by various names, some of which are very short and ugly. To apply the ordinary and vulgar rules of honesty to public money and to high administrative officials would, of course, be ungracious and even rude. Of course, those who sit in high places at Washington have a right to practice these little subterfuges, to divert and reappropriate funds at their sovereign pleasure. What in ordinary men would be styled gross and criminal, is in their case a mark of supreme moral insight, profound moral intention, and the highest moral virtue.

SCHOOLGIRL DISAPPEARS.

Has Trouble With Teacher, Threatens Suicide, and Now the Police Are Seeking Her.

After threatening to commit suicide, Myrtle Grace, 14 years of age, disappeared from her home at No. 250 West Thirty-seventh place, and the police have been asked to look for her. Monday at the San Pedro-street school the girl had trouble with her teacher. She became morose, and when she reached home she announced that she would either commit suicide or run away from home. Her parents did not think she was in earnest, but it seems that she meant what she said. Officers in all parts of the city have been instructed to keep a careful watch for her.

DEAD APPELLANT LOSES.

Supreme Court Upholds Lower Tribunal in Water Rights Case Against Late "Lucky" Baldwin.

In its decision in the water rights case against the late E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, the Supreme Court holds by its previous ruling and firmly establishes the rights of users of water taken from the San Gabriel River. The copy of the full decision has just been received at the Los Angeles office of the Supreme Court.

The title of the case is the Arroyo Ditch and Water Company against E. J. Baldwin, defendant and appellant; San Antonio Irrigating Ditch Company, defendant, and Andrew Curtin and Elizabeth Neighbors, intervenors. The action was brought to quiet title and the plaintiff won a victory in the Superior Court. The appeal was heard on Baldwin's motion for a new trial.

Some interesting history of the old Spanish ranchos is referred to in the opinion. Among other things it has been judicially decided that the old San Gabriel River, or Rio Hondo, as it was formerly called, rises in the Rancho Potrero Grande, south of the north line of the ranch.

The ditch company and the defendants, other than Baldwin, were accustomed to obtain water from the stream by joint diversion at the arroyo ditch dam. Below this are about 47,230 acres of land in the Paso de Bartelo, Santa Gertrudes, Los Cerritos, San Antonio and San Pedro ranchos.

The court finds that this land requires 6760 inches of water under four-inch pressure for irrigating. Baldwin owned 5825 acres bordering on the river beside an interest in another small tract. It is stated that only a part of this land is susceptible to irrigation and that wells supply the home place with an abundance of domestic water.

In the appeal, Baldwin's counsel vigorously asserted that the river had its source in the San Bernardino Mountains, but this view was not taken by the Superior Court, nor reversed by the higher tribunal.

Justice Melvin states: "It is the settled law of this State that the right to take water from a stream as against riparian owners may be acquired by prescription.

"Plaintiff's incorporators having acquired such right, it is immaterial to defendant whether right was inforced by them separately, or through a corporation representing them."

Upon the authority of the case of the Arroyo Ditch and Water Company against Dorman, decided several years ago by the Supereme Court, it now holds that the appellant may take proper proportion of water, but that the surplus must be returned to the channel of river at the lower boundary of the land. The court says that the defendant cannot object to the diversion for any beneficial use by lower riparian owners.

The decision, written by Justice Melvin, was concurred in by Justices Shaw, Angellotti, Sloss, Henshaw and Lorigan. Curiously enough, it was recorded in San Francisco on the eve of Baldwin's death.

LET THE COUNCIL GO AHEAD AND ELECT A MAYOR.

The situation resulting from the sudden and unexpected resignation of the Mayor is of a gravity not to be underestimated. The city government is without an official head. Business of great importance is pending every day, if not every hour in the day. There are numerous documents to be signed by the Mayor, with no Mayor to do this duty. This situation should not exist for one more day if any solution of the problem is to be found. These are facts plain to all who will see, and indisputable from any point of sound reason.

What is the situation? We do not presume to usurp the functions of the courts, nor pretend to be constitutional lawyers. When men have a case in court of their own they seek the ablest counsel they can command and leave the conducting of the case to him. So in this complicated situation in the city government we have before us the opinion of numerous able lawyers. They are men of large caliber, of recognized standing among the members of the bar and before the courts of the State, indeed, before the Federal courts, too. If the opinion is not unanimous among these lawyers of acknowledged ability and of high standing, it is their very general view that our situation is just this:

The iniquitous and unfair (we think unconstitutional) measure known as the recall, now embodied in the city charter, was invoked (we think, maliciously, hypocritically and unnecessarily) to oust A. C. Harper from his office as Mayor. Let all objections pass for the moment. The Mayor resigned his office, leaving the city without an official head. The prevailing opinion among these lawyers of ability in constitutional law is that with the resignation of Mayor Harper the recall proceedings necessarily fall to the ground and terminate, becoming an issue as closed as the official career of Mayor Harper. The two things ended together.

Still following out the opinion of the competent attorneys who have spoken upon the subject, the city charter imposes upon the City Council the obligation of filling the place. The charter is specific. In case of the resignation of the Mayor the Council is to choose a person "for the unexpired term." We say this phrase is specific and conclusive. For the unexpired term can mean nothing but exactly what the words express. There is no equivocation, no room for any misunderstanding or misconstruction. Mayor Harper's term of office does not end on the 26th day of March, no matter what the result of the election (should one be held) shall be. He is no longer a factor in the contention; but his "term" is, and it must be construed to extend to the 31st day of December, at midnight, of the year 1909, and until his successor shall have duly qualified and be ready to step into the place out of which he steps.

Now these opinions of the lawyers who have spoken upon the subject seem in the light of ordinary common sense to be conclusive. The city government should not be permitted to remain in the chaotic condition in which it has been since the Council accepted the resignation of Arthur C. Harper as Mayor. Let the Council go ahead and elect a Mayor with due dispatch tomorrow morning, give the city government a de facto and de jure head, to fill out the unexpired portion of the term to which A. C. Harper had been elected to an office from which he was removed by his own voluntary resignation.

It is understood generally that the president of the Council, Mr. Niles Pease, was willing to assume the duties of the mayoralty if the Council saw fit to appoint him to the place. Surely no reasonable person could make any objection to Mr. Pease. He is a gentleman of high standing in the city of Los Angeles, where he has done business for many years. He has given much time and attention to the performance of his civic duties. He is known as a man of strict integrity, of patriotic impulses, of capacity and of every qualification reasonably required for performing the duties of Mayor. A Republican in politics, he was a leader in the nonpartisan movement of two years ago, and as such was elected to the Council. He has performed the duties of his Councilmanic office with integrity and ability. His fellow-Councilmen have had sufficient confidence in him to make him president of their board.

But the city charter provides as follows, in Article II, Section 11: "No member of the Council shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office to be filled or confirmed by the Council; nor shall any member of the Council be selected to fill any vacancy that may occur in any other office where such a vacancy is to be filled or confirmed by the Council."

That absolutely puts out of the question the harmonious plan practically decided upon for the election of Mr. Pease.

But it seems, in view of the chaotic condition in which the city government stands, in view of the grave affairs coming up momentarily for final decision and formal approval, that some honest man, a man of ability, should be sought and found. The duty of the Council was clear. Go ahead, gentlemen, and give the city an official head. End the chaotic conditions which threaten us with grave difficulties.

The interests of the city outweigh all other considerations. Let factious disputes and political contentions cease. There are in Los Angeles men of known ability and integrity whose election would be perfectly satisfactory to all but the contentious, to all who have the welfare of the city at heart. Sink all petty differences, gentlemen of the Council, and concentrate upon a man qualified to exercise the functions of Mayor and of known standing for honesty, backbone and public spirit. That is all the people want. That is all any citizen should want. Is there any other qualification than ability and integrity to influence us in uniting upon a Mayor? If there is, Mr. Councilmen, which of you will arise in the Council Monday morning and tell what these extraneous qualifications are, why you object to the election of any competent and intelligent citizen. Let no party consideration, no consideration of clique or faction, above all, no malicious threat weigh one moment in your minds. Do your duty to the city by giving your vote for a man of the required ability and integrity who may be satisfied to shoulder the onerous duties of the mayoralty in the present chaotic condition of our municipal affairs. Do right and fear not any set of bulldozers!

As a matter of fact the various communities of Southern California can spend money to no better advantage than by building good roads. The community that fails to do so will certainly be sidetracked.

CHARITY DOWN TO DATE.

THE RECALL BLUDGEON.

The use of the recall provision of the city charter as a bludgeon by the recallites is the most outrageous exhibition of political brutality ever seen in Los Angeles. This alone would damn the device if nothing else did.

Here are the recall bosses going up to Councilmen, shaking their fists in their faces and saying to them: "Vote as we dictate or we will snap the recall on you." And here are the recall bosses starting meetings in some Councilmen's bailiwicks threatening to recall the official sworn to perform his duties according to his own conscience if his expression of his views by his vote shall differ from their opinions—threatening him before he has performed any official act in the premises or declared his purposes.

It is enough to make one's blood boil to think of such monstrous tyranny being attempted under a republican form of government. We never can have a truly republican form of government so long as such a bludgeon is available and the employment of it is tolerated.

Any Councilman is a craven if he permits himself to be influenced by such tactics. How can he look ever afterward at himself in a mirror if he submits to such bulldozing?

Of course, the idea of recalling a Councilman who may vote to fill an office according to his best judgment is ridiculous. No city officer could be recalled for such a reason. If the recall bosses should ever attempt it, the trick would arouse a wave of popular indignation that would sweep them out of sight. The sentiment of Los Angeles today is against the recall and its abuses, and a further misuse of the contrivance would heighten this feeling. Under the new charter a Councilman is elected by the whole city, instead of by a ward, and if an effort were made to recall him for the simple performance of his sworn duty, his triumph would be overwhelming.

No Councilman should pay the slightest heed to these puny wielders of the "Big Stick." They are bluffers. The Times does not intimate to any member of the Council how he should vote. The only thing it urges is the prompt and fearless election on Monday of a good and competent man with a strong spinal column to the office of Mayor. Nobody will be recalled for doing that.

WHAT SHALL THE CROP BE?

The Times, this quiet Sunday morning, presents to its quarter of a million readers a special article dealing with the charities of Los Angeles. These institutions represent the provisions which people of means and leisure, of intelligence and high impulses, provide for the amelioration of suffering, for the care of the abandoned orphan, of the indigent sick, of the hungry, the downcasts, outcasts of society, whether their troubles come upon them as the harvest of their own evil deeds or whether the case be that of the fathers eating the sour grapes and the children's teeth being set on edge.

These charitable institutions are the fruit of some kind of cultivation. They are the harvest of good deeds grown out of seed sown by some hands in the past. It is worth while to devote a few moments to the inquiry, who first discovered this seed? Who sowed it, watered and tended the delicate plant, and brought this crop of good deeds to perfection?

You can go into many parts of the world this morning, following the sun as he circles the globe, and find regions peopled by countless millions of human beings where no orphan asylum was ever heard of, where the foundation of no hospital was ever laid, where the nurse is unknown, and where deeds of kindness would be construed as unmanly weakness.

You can turn back the pages of history for centuries and arrive at a period when the wide world knew not of such a thing as an orphan asylum, a hospital or any kindred institution founded and supported by charity—the efforts of the well, the well-to-do and the well-brought-up for the amelioration of the intolerable conditions necessarily pressing upon the sick, those ill brought up and those lacking in intelligence.

When you get to the root of the matter you will find that the gentle Rabbi of Bethlehem who told the story of the sower and his seed and laid down the formula for reformers, "By their fruits ye shall know them," was the originator, the initial reformer, who brought into the world the moral seed, planted it in the hearts of men and women, cultivated it by the grace of His divine spirit, and enabled us to reap the harvest which He and His disciples sowed the seed for.

These are facts. The charitable institutions portrayed in our special article this morning were unheard of before Jesus of Nazareth came to bring "life and immortality to light." As the disciples, with the teachings of the Rabbi of Bethlehem in their minds and the graces of His spirit in their hearts, went through the world and scattered the same good seeds in other minds and brought the influences of the same spirit into other hearts, everywhere orphan asylums and hospitals, charities for the needy and abandoned, grew up slowly, following immediately in the footsteps of the apostles and their successors.

It was a single person in the first instance as Jesus sat upon the hillside and preached the Beatitudes. When He went away He left twelve to carry on the work of sowing the good seed. The emblem of the society He founded to do this work and perpetuate it among men was the vine. You may cut from the parent stem ever so small a section, providing it have the living eyes upon it, and stick it in the ground, and in time it puts forth leaf and blossom and bears the cluster of purple grapes. He might have taken the strawberry, which spreads with civilization. The strawberry and the honey bee are things unknown except as they follow in the footsteps of civilization. The beehive would have served as an excellent emblem of the Christian church, or the strawberry plant might have taken the place of the vine. The vine was a good emblem, and it also is a constant companion of civilization, never found among savage surroundings.

The one sower of the good seed multiplies Himself into twelve as the first fruits of the first harvest. Those twelve, when they followed their Master to the skies, left 1200 successors sowing the good seed to bear the harvest of good deeds, to carry the vine or the strawberry plant abroad into the desolate regions of heathen immorality, to go forth as new swarms of bees, to collect and distribute sweetness among the sons of men.

We have traveled a long way from the mountainside looking down upon the sea where the original sermon was preached. We have come down twenty centuries and traversed seas and continents. Unknown worlds have been discovered and the successors of the original disciples have penetrated into every nook and corner of the globe. The sun shall rise this morning on any meridian on the globe you may pick out, and everywhere as he travels men will rise, church bells will ring, congregations will assemble and able, earnest, eloquent ministers, disciples of the Christ, successors of the apostles, shall rise in a million pulpits and tell again the parable of the sower and his seed in some form, plant or nourish some little new shoot of the original vine, and establish a new hive of gatherers and distributors of the sweetest things this old world has ever known.

Think of it this morning! The sun shall look down upon no remotest corner of the earth where church bells shall not ring, where men and women and children shall not wash their bodies emblematic of the purity of the soul, adorn themselves in all they have that is costliest and best and gather in temples of various kinds with hearts prepared to receive the good seed of the word which will grow and bear fruit tenfold, a hundredfold, five hundredfold. As this message is delivered from the disciples of Him who brought all this good seed to earth it will bud in the hearts of men and blossom forth in their lives, in time bearing the same good fruit that has characterized the sowing of the word from the first sermon on the mount. As these successors of the apostles, these followers of Moses and Aaron, priests of Melchisedek, or of whatever order they may be, scatter the seeds, there is hope through the warming influences of the divine spirit that everywhere we shall have more hospitals, more orphan asylums, more schools, more of all these blessed institutions which lessen so greatly human misery, which really come to us as the original Sower came, that all men "might have life and might have it more abundantly."

How often we forget this; how often we think the noisy, self-assertive, self-seeking agitator is the divine sower of the divine word! How prone we are to forget the thousands and tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands of gentle ministers who devote their lives and high talents and acquisitions of learning to this blessed work of sowing the good seed, that the world may still enjoy further harvests of good deeds. How gentle, how quiet, how retiring they are! How little the world hears of them! How little we comprehend the vast influences for good in the simple words coming from the mouths of those who preach the word, sow the good seed of the kingdom and insure for us all that is represented in our story of the charitable institutions of the city!

Around the master-disciples are gathered all over the world little bands of pure-minded, simple-hearted, gentle girls, silver-ha Israel, young men and old men, w youth of the world in Sunday-school cultivate the gentle little hearts, meaning of all the Beatitudes in th sermon.

To depart for a moment from phors, here indeed we have the gr which holds the ark while the tu human passions, selfishness and around it. Whether we are religi lives or not, no man who has any his country, for the welfare of his servation of all that is highest and future generations, can afford to ences cast abroad in the hearts of millions of pulpits where the good day after Sunday. But, after all, child is the spirit of Christianity, we approach to the simplicity, the purity of childhood, the more abu seed will swell, germinate, flower and fection in our hearts in continual harvests of all good works.

WAS A FELONY COMPOU

The Los Angeles Examiner trict Attorney and the grand jury affirmation of one Edwin T. Earl, dence convicting former Mayor Harper his oath of office, but suppressed it agreeing to withdraw from the may resign his office—besides giving up

On another page The Times Examiner has to say upon the subj

If Earl really had in his mony which he claims to have had, duty to present it to the District A sist upon the prosecution of the Mayor form of collusion Earl covered up and in return for some sort of the offender to escape, it most subject for grand jury action.

The evidence at hand is (as that of Earl himself, who has dec paper that he did what the Exami with having done.

The Times, as well as the Exami to know whether a felony has b anybody in the Harper case. Th Angeles would like to have the gr District Attorney sift this matte.

By the way, if Earl's story be proceeding admirably illustrate the the recall? Earl boasts that he dro office by threats. At any rate Har out; and however it was done part in it. The evidence in the who forced Harper to resign turned over to the prosecuting a legal way for the Mayor's laws provide amply for such invoking of the recall was an chievous, damaging piece of bus

Harper should have been forms of law by those having evid He could have been forced from slightest trouble, without any rec business-upsetting campaign. All this bitter crimination and recrim citizens, all this lurid and harmful harm to Los Angeles, all this hubbub, might have been avoided.

As The Times has said before, per demonstrates most strikingly provision is the fifth wheel to the than that, it is a legal highbinder, coach door, bludgeon in hand.

[illegible] are here so seldom that [illegible] world should at least make reverential pause and doff its hat. [illegible] wasn't such an awfully long [illegible] that our greatest citizen, Jim [illegible] made before the Children's [illegible] New York, but it was made [illegible] concentrated essence of genius. [illegible] asked for an address, Jim [illegible] in all the majesty of his 300 [illegible] of undefeated championship, [illegible] said, "Don't smoke a cigarette." [illegible] didn't tell them it was the duty [illegible] citizens, etc., etc. He didn't [illegible] of the deleterious effects, etc., [illegible] just suddenly blurted out: [illegible] smoke a cigarette"—just like [illegible]. Then he sat down.

[illegible] sitting down at the end of the [illegible] word of his oration was the act [illegible] great man. It spells genius for [illegible] to hit the point without preliminaries, but only the great know when [illegible] have hit it.

An Enemy to Art.

Moving pictures have arrived at the point where they should be done away with. What a pity!

The greatest opportunity in the history of the theatrical world to bring real art to the masses lay in these picture films. For awhile some of the French firms turned out pictures that were really marvels of adroit art; but latterly, they have largely degenerated into silly "comics" and crime pictures, which are of course unspeakably offensive.

I believe now there is room for a fine moving-picture show, charging a higher admission and exhibiting pictures of the highest type. French satires; no American funnies.

Every city has its Art Commission working for the artistic uplift, but the American Biograph Company, which leads all competitors in silly and vulgar pictures, has undone the good work of them all.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council has postponed fixing electric lighting rates until next Thursday, fearing to act while there is no Mayor.

Judge Wilbur yesterday indicated that he will rule out the evidence showing that George N. Tichenor, late agent of the Continental Building and Loan Association, had been employed to do certain things in connection with legislation at Sacramento in 1905. This would practically wipe out the Tichenor defense.

The Superior Court judges accepted the new rules of procedure adopted by the Los Angeles Bar Association, with unimportant changes.

Frederick Schuyler, a large, strong-looking man, who compelled his wife to sell shoe strings to support them both, had no defense in the divorce court. Judge Hutton granted a decree to the wife, a cripple, compelled to walk on crutches.

AT THE CITY HALL.

DELAYS ACTION ON LIGHTING.

CITY COUNCIL WILL FIX NEW RATES NEXT THURSDAY.

Hesitates to Deal With Important Utility Question While the City Is Without an Executive Head—Authorizes Culvert in the Arroyo at Garvanza.

Not wishing to act while the city has no Mayor the Council met yesterday and deferred consideration of the review of rates for electric lighting until next Thursday morning.

All the companies were represented by counsel and expected to go ahead with the argument, but the members thought the situation too clouded to prosecute business.

The only business transacted by the Council was the authorization of a joint contract between the city, the Salt Lake Railroad and the Pacific Electric Railway for the construction of a culvert under Pasadena avenue in the Garvanza arroyo. This culvert is intended to drain the stagnant water from the arroyo north of Pasadena avenue, and the construction will prevent damage suits by those abutting the water.

The city once tried to build another culvert under Marmion Way by which the water would be permitted to follow its old course into the Arroyo Seco, but property owners in the Metz tract enjoined the letting of a contract.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

CASE HANGS ON POINT OF LAW.

JUDGE MAY MAKE DEFENSE OF LITTLE AVAIL.

Claim of Tichenor That He Was Hired by Building and Loan Association to Secure Evidence Against Former State Senators May Be Ruled Out.

Judge Wilbur in the complaint against George N. Tichenor, late agent of the Continental Building and Loan Association, indicated in his address to the attorneys, yesterday in the absence of the jury that he may rule out of the records the claim advanced in behalf of Tichenor that he had been hired by the company to secure certain evidence against former State Senators Emmons, French, Bunker and Wright, that resulted in the scandal in the Legislature in 1905.

The point in the case was whether an agent to whom certain money has been paid with specific instructions to do certain things with it has a right to retain it as an offset for an amount alleged due him from the principal.

The money retained by Tichenor amounted to $4974.50, and it is urged in his behalf that it was due him on account of certain services in connection with legislative work. It is admitted that he appropriated it to his own use. The court said that if the offset was such that the law would compensate in a civil suit, it would not be embezzlement for a man to retain the money. If he was a debtor of the corporation on account of money which he collected for it, he would be entitled, as a matter of law, to set up against his obligation to the corporation, its obligation.

Judge Wilbur also said: "I am inclined to think that the statute quoted by attorneys reads that the claim of an offset is no defense. Where money has been entrusted to a man he is not entitled to apply it on an indebtedness due him, because it would defeat the purpose of the trust and disturb the trust relation."

The position of the court is of the greatest importance in the disposition of the case, for with the ruling out of the testimony showing the employment of Tichenor by the Continental Building and Loan Association to perform certain services in connection with legislation at Sacramento, there is nothing left of his defense. The attitude of the court will be more fully defined tomorrow morning, when attorneys for the defense expect to furnish additional authorities to prove their contention.

COURT CHANGES.
JUDGES SETTLE THEM.

The Superior judges met yesterday and discussed the changes proposed in the court methods offered by a committee of the Bar Association.

But little change was made in the recommendations offered by the committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association. It was agreed that the order setting aside Mondays as law and motion day should not go into effect until September 1, as cases have been set for that day up to that time, and to make the change now would work a serious inconvenience to many attorneys and litigants.

The recommendation of the committee that a short cause calendar should be created was not agreed to by the Superior judges. They prefer the present arrangement, and think that litigation will be disposed of as rapidly under the present as under the new plan, which does not find much favor.

It was agreed that there shall be no extension of time granted as to filing demurrers except for good cause set forth in an affidavit.

CRIMINAL DOCKET.
SCORE BEFORE THE COURT.

Judge Willis disposed of about twenty criminal cases yesterday, but only two of the prisoners got penitentiary sentences.

Burt Wyatt, a colored barber who tried to "get even" with his wife by attempting to burn their residence on Santa Fé avenue, was given three years in San Quentin. A motion for a new trial in his case was overruled by the court.

Antonio Garcia, a Mexican boy, was sent to Folsom for two years. Garcia's crime consisted in picking up a pocketbook belonging to a Japanese woman on North Alameda street, on February 15, and forgetting to return it to her. The purse contained $3.70. The boy had been in Los Angeles but three weeks when the crime was committed, coming here from Salinas, Mex., where he was born and raised.

Rowe L. Johnson, smooth check worker, was given a probation period of three years, although the court in allowing him to go expressed serious doubt to whether he was doing the proper thing. He told Johnson that he evidently has good parents and some warm friends back in old Kentucky, but that the accused has been afflicted for some time with the fictitious check habit. However, he would give him one more chance to make a man of himself. One of the conditions of suspension of the sentence is that Johnson write Judge Willis a letter July 1 and December 1 each year during the period of probation, telling him what he is doing.

The cases of Buster Griffin and Frank Dupre, who pleaded guilty to burglary, were sent to Department No. 8, where Judge Wilbur, of the Juvenile Court, will deal with them.

Albert Hempstead of Azusa, charged with assault, paid a fine of $50 and was discharged. Hempstead was in a hurry to catch the 10:46 o'clock car for his home, and the court expedited things a bit for his benefit. The charge grew out of a neighborhood quarrel, and the original information claimed that Hempstead made the assault with a deadly weapon. He was not wanted in connection with a check transaction.

Una Stokes, the handsome alleged forger of Pasadena, was given until Thursday to plead. Miss Stokes looked like a picture in her new spring suit, and had the sympathy of all within the range of her compelling eyes, though it is charged that she was a veritable female "Jim the Penman" in the Crown City.

George Buchanan pleaded guilty to uttering a fictitious check, and an application was made for parole in his behalf. The matter will be up again next Saturday.

Juan Breseno will plead to the charge of petty larceny with prior conviction, next Thursday.

The trial of Thomas Marston, charged with murder, was set for April 19. In the meantime his family in Chattanooga, Tenn., will be communicated with.

C. W. Scott, petty larceny with prior conviction, said he is not guilty, and will try to make it so appear April 23.

Other cases of minor importance were postponed until next week.

BRUTAL HUSBAND.
QUICK ACTION BY COURT.

It required but moments yesterday for Judge Hutton to dissolve the marriage relation existing between Mary Schuyler and her do-nothing husband, Frederick Schuyler. It appeared in the testimony that the wife, who was a small, weak woman, used crutches on account of an injury to her limbs, had for several years been compelled to support Schuyler by sales of shoe laces on the streets. Not only that, but Schuyler was not in good humor when sales were not large, for it meant he would not have so much money for his own amusement. Mrs. Schuyler was the picture of dispair as she related the dark side of her married life. "Is your husband physically able to support you?" asked the court. "Oh, yes, sir," shyly answered the woman; "he is only 32 years of age, and weighs 132 pounds. He was never sick in his life so far as I know." "Take your decree," said the court, and he did not even hesitate in his manner of setting her free.

Judge Monroe freed Avis L. Marsden from Harold Marsden on the ground that the husband is a convict at Walla Walla, Wash., where he is serving a term of five years for forgery. They were married in Kentucky in February, 1906.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SUIT FOR SERVICES. I. L. Wilson brought an action against F. A. Johnson in the Superior Court, yesterday, for $420 alleged to be due on account of services in nursing the wife of the defendant during an illness from September 8, 1906, to March 8, 1907.

END OF THORPE CASE. Mrs. Anna Louise Thorpe filed in the clerk's office yesterday, a satisfaction of judgment against her former husband, Dr. A. C. Thorpe, showing the payment to her by Dr. Thorpe of $4530, in full of judgment of Judge Monroe, in the recent divorce action. The court had allowed Mrs. Thorpe $4500 and $30 additional for witness fees. Dr. Thorpe paid her a lump sum instead of giving her any of his real estate.

PROPOSED CONDEMNATION. The Pasadena Cemetery Association has filed an action in the Superior Court against Jared S. Torrance, the Los Angeles and Pacific Electric Railway companies and others, requiring them to set out their interest in certain real estate in Pasadena, that it is proposed to utilize for cemetery purposes.

INCORPORATIONS. The following incorporations were filed yesterday: McCoy Machine and Manufacturing Company, capital stock $75,000, directors, John C., William, and James McCoy, John F. Curran, George S. Greene, A. M. Squire and Menard L. Orcutt; Cement Engineering Company, capital stock, $50,000, directors, L. D. Gilbert, S. B. Garbutt, Theo. G. Finley, E. Wallace Moore, Aman Moore; King Edward Hotel Company, capital stock $50,000, directors, Edward Dunbar, W. E. Smith, R. H. Mesick; Green Acres Company; Thompson-Forshay Lumber and Mill Company, capital stock $25,000.

CONFERENCE WITH DEPUTIES. Dist.-Atty. Fredericks held a conference with his deputies yesterday afternoon on matters relating to the assignment of criminal cases in the courtrooms set apart for the trial of such causes. The additions to the force of Superior Court judges has made this necessary.

ROOS DIVORCE CASE. Judge Hervey completed the hearing of the divorce action brought by Hermione Roos against Henry Roos yesterday. The judgment of the court will be against granting the decree, but an allowance will be made for the support of the wife.

SPEEDER MUST ANSWER.

Automobilist Who Runs Down and Terribly Maims Man on Bicycle Arraigned in Police Court.

Willard Sharpless, a young business man, was arraigned before Justice Frederickson in the Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of failing to stop his automobile after having run down Joseph J. Marcotti of No. 1616 Redwood street.

Marcotti was injured Thursday afternoon, at Forty-first street and Moneta avenue. He was returning to his work, riding a bicycle, when, according to the statements of witnesses, the machine driven by Sharpless at reckless speed bore down upon him.

He was thrown and run over. The occupants of the car did not even look back, but increased the speed and disappeared, it is alleged. Patrolman Lynch of the University district arrested Sharpless later in the day and locked him up.

The young man's bail was fixed at $500, which his friends furnished. He will appear Tuesday morning to answer.

Marcotti is at the California Hospital in a precarious condition as a result of his injuries. He sustained a six-inch laceration of the scalp, and his right leg was so severely crushed that the surgeons found it necessary to amputate it.

HOT SHOT.

WHY DID NOT EARL COMPLY WITH LAW?

[FROM YESTERDAY'S EXAMINER.]

THE Mayor has resigned his office under threats of exposure. Evidence is said to be in the possession of Edwin T. Earl which caused the resignation of Mayor Harper. Mr. Earl is himself responsible for this statement. It is furthermore said in his newspaper that "This information, let it be definitely understood, has reference to Mr. Harper's administration and not to Mr. Harper's private affairs."

The "Examiner" ventures to say that the many good men who supported Mayor Harper and opposed his recall on the ground that the movement against him was based largely on a desire for personal revenge, and that the city should not be held up to contempt, are as anxious as the good men who urged Harper's recall, to have a judicial investigation, to have the guilty, if there be any such, punished.

The desire for good government and for honest officialdom, for the exposure of rascals, for the stamping out of graft and the imprisonment of grafters, is as strong in Los Angeles as in any other law-abiding and home-loving city.

That any individual or set of individuals should, through the possession of evidence against public officials, control those officials and the administration of public affairs, is abhorrent to every principle of good government.

That any individual or set of individuals should through a system of terrorism make officials resign or hold in office officials who desire to resign, is intolerable.

If the evidence, the threatened publication of which caused Mayor Harper's resignation, concerned the Mayor's "private affairs," the mantle of charity might with propriety be dropped, for there has been enough mud-slinging to blacken the lining of the cauldron of Tophet and the people want no more of it.

But the evidence held in the possession of one gentleman is declared to be evidence concerning "Mr. Harper's administration."

Mayor Harper's administration concerns the public. Any evidence or information concerning his administration is public business.

If the evidence said to be in the possession of Mr. Earl is of a character to compel the resignation of officials as a sequel to their misbehavior in office, it should be laid before the proper authorities to the end that guilty officials may not go scot free of consequences.

It should not be the privilege of a private individual having evidence sufficient to cause the resignation of officials to make a private deal in a private room with these officials and let them escape without a review of this evidence by the proper tribunal.

The public wants honest officials and the honest administration of the affairs of the community.

The safety of Los Angeles and its people lies in the exposure of faithless officials.

The "Examiner," in the interest of Los Angeles and its inhabitants, in the interest of good government and public decency, in the interest of common morality, demands that information or evidence concerning city officials or recent officials be placed before the grand jury of the county.

The "Examiner" demands that a grand jury be impaneled for the purpose of investigating the monstrous situation in which the community finds itself.

The "Examiner" demands that the District Attorney act.

Turn on the light!

No inquisitions in camera by private individuals for personal ends.

Let no guilty man escape.

NEW WAY, THE ONLY WAY.

Recent Discovery, Dose Seven Drops, a Success.

For years past sufferers from asthma have tried smokes, sprays, inhalers, douches, changes of climate and similar methods, without success, until the fact was established by the most prominent medical authorities that asthma is a constitutional disease and must be treated accordingly, if a cure is expected. The discovery of the famous specific, ascatco, was the result of the efforts of a celebrated European specialist, who studied asthma on the theory that it is a constitutional ailment. His success in evolving a positive and permanent cure by the use of ascatco in doses of seven drops is so well known that the demand for it in Los Angeles as a remedy for the large number of those afflicted with asthma has made it necessary for the Austrian Laboratory to supply the Owl Drug Co. drug stores with the preparation, so as to enable sufferers in this city to obtain it without inconvenience. Ascato is prepared in two sizes—the 50-cent size and the $2 size, which is sufficient for a month's treatment.

The Austrian Laboratory, 32 West 25th street, New York City, will send free an experimental treatment to all who write to them for it.

PROMISING.

EXHIBITION IS DECIDED UPON.

FINE ARTS LEAGUE'S FIRST TO BE IMPORTANT.

Prominent Local Painters and Sculptors Expected to Aid in Making It Success—Northern and Eastern Ones Also to Be Represented. List of Honor Names.

The first exhibition of the Fine Arts League will open on April 1, but the place has not yet been decided upon. Local painters and sculptors are expected to contribute largely toward making it a feature in Los Angeles and Southern California art circles and it will probably influence future movements here.

Northern and eastern artists will also be represented and a number of canvases from the studio of William MacBeth, of New York, will be shown.

The art committee consisting of Mrs. W. H. Housh, chairman; Mrs. Cora Lewis, vice-chairman; Mrs. W. J. Chambers, secretary; J. O. Koepfli and Mrs. Hermann W. Frank, have recommended to the board of directors a list of the foremost artists of the city as honorary exhibitors.

The report in part is as follows: "Believing that a number of artists have earned the right to a place of distinction in this community, and that they will be as interested as we in establishing and maintaining a high standard of excellence in our exhibitions, we recommend that the following artists be made honorary exhibitors of the Fine Arts League: William Keith, H. J. Brener, Fernand Lungren, Robert Wagner, Jules Pages, Charles H. Grant, Elmer Wachtel, Granville Redmond, William L. Judson, Edith White, Benjamin C. Brown, J. Bond Francisco, Leonard Lester, J. W. Clawson, Jean Mannheim, Paul de Longpre, William Wendt, Marion Holden Pope, Hanson Pruthoff, Joseph Greenbaum, Blanch Dougan Cole, Alexander Stirling Calder, Nannette Calder, Mrs. L. E. Gordon McCleod, Mrs. Yahn, Antony Anderson, Regina O'Kane, Helen Coan, Rene de Quelin, Ludeen Christensen, Emelie S. Perry, Fannie Duvall, Frank P. Sauerwin, C. P. Neilson, Norman St. Clair, James E. McBurney, George F. Winterburn, Margaret Patterson and Mrs. M. E. Evans."

Names of northern artists will be presented after a committee of selection is appointed.

Failures in Germany.

The imperial statistic bureau at Berlin announces that during the third quarter of 1908, 2515 cases of commercial failure occurred in Germany, an excess of 310 over the corresponding quarter of the preceding year. In 1955 of the above cases proceedings in bankruptcy ensued but in the 560 other cases action in bankruptcy could not be resorted to, owing to lack of sufficient assets to pay costs.

What the Many Charitable Institutions of Los Angeles Are Doing for Nee

a short while ago, when, after applying for a divorce, a woman asked for aid and work. Dissipation broke up the family and while the children were sick at the County Hospital, the father spent all his money for drink. An interlocutory decree of divorce was obtained for the wife by a benevolent lawyer, and work was obtained for her and scholarships for her two children.

POLITICS USELESS.

Secretary Sewall disclaims any connection with politics and his dealings with the county and city officials are only such as would be logical in the position in which the Associated Charities stands. In his own words it does not require a pull to be a pauper, and if you have the misfortune to be one with or without a pull you receive the same attention. This eliminates one disagreeable phase of the charity "business."

Another evil attending the distribution of philanthropy in this or any other city supporting charitable institutions, are the persons who make a business of "beating" the Associated Charities. Their art is great and their tricks many and various, and they often succeed. In many cases, rather than take chances on turning down a worthy application, rank imposters are temporarily supported. At any rate, Secretary Sewall declares no person is turned away entirely unassisted and charity is extended until the investigators have ascertained the duplicity of the applicant.

Whether it will ever succeed in proving the correctness of its supposition that "poverty is unnecessary and pauperism curable," remains to be seen, but meanwhile it is carrying on a worthy work by doing the best it can meet existing circumstances.

CHARITY MILITANT.

VOLUNTEERS, SALVATIONISTS.

The ranks of "charity militant" are well filled in Los Angeles. The base-drum appeal of the Salvation Army is familiar to all. So are the earnest words of appeal uttered at the gospel hall of the Volunteers of America, at No. 124 East First street.

These organizations have a practical charity all their own. The base drum appeals to many more than the ablest sermon, and jogs the cobwebs off the door of conscience. The number of real conversions that had their inception in the rythmic beat is surprising.

To one man, at least, the drum called up reminiscences and sent him back to his ship. He was a sailor on the Independence, and took French leave of his vessel in San Francisco and wandered here. After the usual dissipation and the usual "morning after," he followed the boom and attended one of the meetings of Maj. John Smith, divisional officer of the Salvation Army. That evening he confessed and agreed to go back to his ship, where he is now serving a term with bread and water and a good conscience.

ARMY'S POWER.

Another, a Wisconsin man, reached Los Angeles after a longer career "on the bad." He had deserted his wife and children in his own State, and in Northern California got himself connected with several fictitious checks. That was one reason why he came to Los Angeles. He, too, followed the big "S" to headquarters and eventually was converted. Although the army did its best to have his northern "creditors" withdraw their complaints, only one man did so, and the converted one had to stand trial. He is now serving a short term in the penitentiary. The army has obtained his wife's forgiveness for him, and upon his release he will return to her.

From Fortville, Ind., came a letter telling of a daughter gone astray and deserted, and begging the army to locate her. The army did. It found her plunged in the worst life of the city. She is now at the rescue home, and the army is trying to raise funds to send her back to her mother, as neither parent has money.

There is a family on North Figueroa street that is supported by the army. The father is sick. The mother worked until she broke down, and the children were uncared for. Nobody knows anything about them except the Salvation Army, but that's enough. There are many such cases.

PRACTICAL WORK.

The office of the army is at No. 509 San Fernando building. Its social and industrial headquarters are at Nos. 121-129 Wilmington street, where Staff Captain E. W. Campbell is superintendent. Corps Nos. 1 and 2 are stationed in the city.

The relief department, under the direction of Maj. Smith, bears the brunt of the work of attending to the sick and needy, supplying fuel and clothes, and seeing that the rent and doctors' bills are paid.

The clothing department is under the direction of Capt. Campbell at the Wilmington-street headquarters. The army maintains several "shelters"—lodging-houses where workingmen can obtain rooms for 10 or 15 cents a night.

The True Love Salvation Army Home, at No. 2670 North Griffin avenue, is daily helping needy women and children, under the direction of Adjt. A. Davis. The institution is also looking after unfortunate girls.

Maj. W. N. Hughes directs the labors of the Volunteers of America. Today they are celebrating the visit of Gen. Ballington Booth, president of the organization, and Vice-President Edward Fielding, the first of New York and the second from the "Windy City." The work of the volunteers is similar to that of the Salvation Army.

The organization is not so large, and its banners are not so much in evidence on the streets. But its influence for good is great. At the headquarters on East First street are maintained a workingmen's home, free employment bureau and dispensary. The building accommodates 125 men and 15 to 25 cents a night is charged. At No. 321½ East First street is another home that can accommodate 148.

One of the largest institutions the Volunteers support is the Maud B. Booth Home, at Twenty-third street and Vermont avenue. Maj. and Mrs. Hughes are the officers in charge, J. R. Newberry acts as treasurer, and Dr. Anna D. Chapin is the physician. The children accepted are between the ages of 2 and 16 and they attend the neighboring public schools. Forty of them are cared for at present, but preparations are being made to double the number, and $2000 is being expended in enlarging the quarters.

HAPPY HOMES.

HELP FOR LITTLE ONES.

The first impression which comes to the visitor at the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, at Yale and Alpine streets, and the Los Angeles Orphan Asylum and School, at Boyle and Stephenson avenues, is the adaptability of childhood. Run on entirely different systems, they both have had the same effect upon the natures of the little people under their charge, making them wonderfully contented and happy. Smiles are the first and last things to be seen upon passing through the doors of either place.

Some Model Departments in Los Angeles Orphan Asylum.

Girls preparing dinner in the finely-equipped kitchen, above, and the little inmates gathered for a meal, below. The center picture shows the main one of five dormitories.

The Sisters of Charity are in charge of the asylum, and although the strictest routine is maintained, the kindness of the sisters is building foundations for happy and useful lives. Twenty little tots, not yet graduated beyond the nursery days, occupy part of the great house and a porportionate amount of the time of their caretakers. Their own little dining-room, their miniature dormitory, and the Lilliputian qualities of their quarters in general are charming.

The balance of the children range between the kindergarten and the graduation age. The home is for girls only and about 300 are provided for, and the regular public school course of training is given. There are also sewing and cooking courses. The higher grade girls have their private dining-room and at the long rows of neat tables in the main dining-room are seated the rest. The girls assist at the cooking of the meals as they do in all other departments of the home.

LIGHT AND HOMELIKE.

The dormitories on the third floor are excellently aired and lighted and look as if they were the home of many pleasant dreams. Here, as in the dining-rooms, the older girls have separate rooms.

The great modern laundry, that is run in connection with the institution, is also managed by the girls, under the charge of a sister, and in the opposite side of the same outbuilding is the bakery. Two hundred and forty loaves are baked at one time and there are five bakings a week.

The institution is partly supported by the State and partly by private donations. Girls of all faiths are accepted.

The system of the Los Angeles Orphans' Home consists principally of lack of system—a lack with a purpose, however. Ever since Mrs. Mary Mathews became the head matron of the school, or as she herself expresses it, the grandmother of the hundred "kids" there, revolutions have been happening. She advocates the little "h" on the home propositon and has been living up to it systematically. Her only instruction to the four matrons under her is to be a mother to the girls and boys.

The lads and lassies are mostly half-orphans; but 10 per cent. have lost both parents.

GREATER FREEDOM.

In their care, Mrs. Mathews is "up against" different conditions from those that are before the Sisters of Charity. In the first place the children attend the public schools, which adds to the responsibility. Sunday-school is attended outside the home, and as all faiths are represented among the children, they go to different churches. The conditions of the private home are more in evidence and the worries are increased in proportion to the number of "olive branches" on this large family tree.

Checkers and games are more in evidence there. The boys play less by routine and more as their whims dictate, and the girls likewise. The latter are occupied also in the different housekeeping departments and at stated intervals cook and serve the dinner complete. Lately the boys have petitioned for a cooking course and are being initiated into the mysteries of the kitchen.

Changes are in prospect. Acreage is to be secured in Colegrove and the cottage principle to be adopted. Then the elder girls will have private rooms and the boys will have the countryside to roam, instead of the little cement court that now constitutes their playground. The new buildings are to cost $25,000.

The home was dedicated twenty-eight years ago. Its officers are: Mrs. Edward Neisser, president; Mrs. J. W. Dawson, corresponding secretary, and Rev. B. F. Coulter, treasurer. The directors remain long in office in order to maintain a uniform policy. The books show that it takes about $12 a month for the maintenance of each child. The State allows $6 for every half-orphan.

CHEERFUL SUFFERERS.

The Children's Hospital is at Castelar and Alpine streets and is a gem of cleanliness in a district that might be cleaner. It has room for about twenty-five children and is at present full. Here, as in the orphans' homes, smiles are much in evidence, even on the faces of little tots that are to undergo or have undergone operations.

Those smiles, assuming that they do not accentuate the pitifulness of the tots' condition, take off a little. "Big Chief," who, the head nurse, Miss Smith, says, is the mainstay of the institution, suffers from a tubercular spine, lies on a table in a brace day and night and is, to all appearances, as happy as the "big chief" who war-whoops in any schoolyard in the country. Other little people in the surgical ward with cases show the same fortitude, including one lad of 10 who lies in his corner bed, wondering what he is to do in life without his feet. Both were amputated.

It is part of the training of the nurses of the California Hospital to spend three months in the Children's Hospital, where, under the supervision of the head nurse, they save the little lies that come to them. One boy, after two years in the hospital with a tubercular spine, lately left, normal in all respects.

Charity cases are always given preference, but small sums are charged parents who can afford to pay. The hospital was incorporated in 1901. Mrs. Albert Crutcher is president, and Mrs. T. E. Newlin, financial secretary.

HOMELIKE FOR BOYS.

A visit to the Lark Ellen News and Working Boys' Home at No. 438 East Twentieth street makes one want to sell papers to share the life in this interesting house. There are thirteen boys there.

The dormitories are models of cleanliness. On one door is this notice: "Please keep out from this room. This means every one of you except Sam. This is signed by J. B. Sideres & Sam."

Mrs. S. C. Smith and Miss Anderson are the matrons of the home, which has a branch at No. 130 East Eleventh street. The boys are expected to pay $2 a week for their board, lodging and care, but the home is partly dependent upon donations.

Other homes for children, some larger, some smaller than this, are doing splendid work in the city. Aside from the Settlement colonies—striving to bring the poorer foreigners to an understanding of American citizenship—there is the Home of the Guardian Angel, which is maintained by the Sisters of Mercy at West Washington and Concord streets. This, and the Convent of Our Lady of Mercy, a home for the aged, are under the supervision of Sister Mary Bernard. The Sisters of Mercy also maintain the St. Martha's Home at West Pico and Hope streets, for working girls. This is in charge of Sister Mary Gertrude.

HELP FOR LITTLE ONES.

The Christian Orphanage at No. 1724 Kent street, of which Miss Ada M. Bisbee is matron, has under its care children from 2 to 14 years of age. Rev. Dr. P. F. Bresee is president. The Boys' and Girls' Society, at Mission and Orange Grove avenues, South Pasadena, is similar in purpose. Mrs. M. E. Grimes is matron; J. L. Starr, president, and O. W. Orcott, treasurer.

The object of the California Home Society is to find permanent homes for the children under its care, and through the efforts of Julius A. Brown, president, and Suprintendent Herbert W. Lewis it generally succeeds.

At Avery is the McKinley Industrial Home. Boys from 8 to 14 years of age are, under the direction of the officers, farming eighty acres of land and will soon commence to learn the trades which are to be introduced. About eighty boys are at present in the home. Mrs. G. A. Bobrick is president; Gail Borden, secretary, and Mrs. C. J. Robinson, superintendent.

The Boys' Boarding Club at No. 1058 South Main street, of which Mrs. Mary B. Simkins is matron, cares for boys who are sick or out of work.

CITIZEN FACTORY.

MAKING GOOD AMERICANS.

Greece, Italy, Russia, Spain and Japan supply the raw material for the citizen factory at No. 510 Vignes street. This plant, the Bethlehem Institute takes pride in turning out "goods" with the "made in Los Angeles" stamp.

Rev. Dana W. Bartlett and his wife are the presiding geniuses of the extensive settlement work carried on. It is almost exclusively among foreigners, and the Associated Charities assists. In connection with the institute are a dispensary, coffee club, reading-room, night school, industrial department, baths and a men's hotel.

The Russians offer the greatest problem. The Molokanes particularly are driving the health authorities to despair as several families crowd into a small house. But their good qualities give hope to their reformers.

The institute is carrying on the work with patience, common sense and perseverence, and working with it is Antoine Tzerbach, a highly educated Russian, who is endeavoring to obtain a hold upon the Molokanes and open their minds to better things. His school goes under the name of the "People's University."

Schools for Italians, both boys and men, for Japanese and for Greeks, are all in operation on Vignes street.

Rev. Dr. William Horace Day is president of Bethlehem Institute, and Rev. M. T. Edwards, the treasurer.

COLLEGE SETTLEMENT.

The oldest settlement in Los Angeles is the College Settlement, at No. 428 Alpine street, a non-sectarian institution supported by the Los Angeles Settlement Association. It is carrying on an excellent work among the Italians and Slavs.

Miss Mary Bingham is president; Miss Bessie D. Stoddart, vice-president; Mrs. Nathan Wilson, secretary, and Miss Jessie Anthony, treasurer. Sewing classes have been formed and entertainments and amusements of various sorts are given for the children of the neighborhood.

The Los Angeles Settlement Association started many of the charitable movements of the city, including the District Nurses, of which Mrs. Weston is superintendent, and which has become a great factor for good.

The Episcopal Church of the Neighborhood, at No. 1220 Wilson avenue, maintains the Girls' Friendly Club and the Boys' Social Club. Rev. Thos. C. Marshall is in charge.

DOWN TO BEDROCK.

Along the same lines is run the Brownson House Settlement, at No. 711 Jackson street, of which Miss Mary Workman is president, and Miss Margaret Dodd, secretary. It is conducted by Catholic women with the intention of removing the neighborhood children from deteriorating influences. It is attempting to keep children off the street after school hours, and is providing social classes, free baths, and calisthenics.

Mrs. Bertha Baruch is president of the Mendelssohn House Settlement, of which Miss Grace Hecht is secretary; Miss H. Hasselberger, recording secretary, and Miss Isabelle Behrendt treasurer.

The Stimson Industrial school, at No. 318 Lafayette street, in addition to physical and moral training, teaches domestic science in all its branches. Mrs. Audugsta Hines is president, and Mrs. C. E. Crary and Miss Nellie Oliver are the secretaries.

Rev. Juan B. Caballeria of the Plaza Church is the director of El Hogar Feliz, an association founded by a number of Catholic women to provide diversion for the young people, and aid the children of the parish. Evening schools are maintained in quarters near the church.

The King's Daughters' Day Nursery, at No. 132 North Clarence street, has been in existence for ten years, and during that time has lessened the burden of many women by caring for their children while at work. In connection with the nursery is a cottage at Manhattan Beach, where mothers and children get occasional outings. A free employment bureau for women is also conducted.

JEWISH CHARITIES.

MANY INSTITUTIONS.

The Jews have many charitable organizations. The oldest is the Hebrew Benevolent Society, with offices at No. 142 South Broadway. Its officers are working for increased subscriptions and membership that the society's great work among the needy may not be restricted.

The advertisement that Los Angeles receives in all parts of the world brings many Jews here in search of health and livelihood. Many are without friends or means upon reaching the city, and would fare badly did not the benevolent society give aid. It keeps about twelve pensioners on its list—invalids, or old men and women who have no one to support them. In paid rentals, emergency relief and sick funds the society spends a large sum yearly and $300 is given monthly to the Kaspare Cohn Hospital. Their books show an annual expenditure of nearly $6000 for charity.

who has been president of the Associated Charities for ten years.

The Los Angeles Coffee Club Association is formed largely of Christian Endeavorers, and operates its system of reading rooms, employment bureaus, etc., in coöperation with the Church Federation. O. F. Conrey is the superintendent.

At Chavez Ravine the Barlow Sanatorium is caring for indigent consumptives, who are unable to work. Any church or organization can provide for a patient there by paying $5 a week. The officers are James Slauson, J. D. Hooker and Dr. Jarvis Barlow.

The Hospital of the Good Samaritan is intended to be as far as possible a charitable institution, and all receipts above running expenses are placed in a charity fund. The hospital is at No. 1000 West Seventh street.

OF GREAT BENEFIT.

The Woman's Alliance Maternity Cottage Association was founded a few years ago at No. 154 North Rio street, as a non-sectarian maternity home, where destitute wives could go through the ordeal of child-bearing in sanitary surroundings.

Other institutions engaged in giving medical attendence and examination to the poor are the Free Dispensary of the U.S.C. College of Medicine, at No. 737 Buena Vista street; the Los Angeles Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, at the same address, of which Drs. George L. Cole and George H. Kress are the officers; the Los Angeles County Chapter of the Red Cross Society; the County Hospital, and the city Receiving Hospital at the City Jail.

The Relief Corps of the city are the Bartlett-Logan Post, W.R.C., No. 7; Stanton W.R.C., No. 16; Kenesaw W.R.C., No. 22; Uncle Sam W.R.C., No. 49; Union Circle, No. 19, Ladies of the G.A.R.; Columbia Circle, No. 24; Lawton Circle, No. 29, and the Ladies of the U.V.L., No. 16.

The German Ladies' Benevolent Society is the only charitable organization in the German colony here and is bearing the burden of all philanthropic work carried on among the German-speaking people. Its membership has not kept pace with the growth of the work and a vigorous campaign is in progress to gain more workers. The officers are Mrs. Eleanore Grosser, president; Mrs. C. Krentel, vice-president; Mrs. Rosa Morelock, treasurer, and Mrs. Selma Grass, secretary.

INTO THE DEPTHS.

PRACTICAL RESCUE WORK.

The Florence Crittenden and True Love Salvation Army Homes, the Home of the Good Shepard and the Door of Hope and Ransom Home, are rescuing hundreds from evil lives.

The Florence Crittenden Home is at No. 1633 Santee street, and is partly self-supporting. Rev. Dr. P. F. Bresee is president, and Dr. H. H. Spencer acts as superintendent. All who apply for shelter are accepted.

No discrimination is made as to religious beliefs of applicants by the Sisters of the Good Shepard at their home at Arlington and Pico streets. Mother Raphael, who is in charge, oversees classes of sewing, cooking and domestic economy and prepares the unfortunate women under her care for positions.

The Door of Hope at No. 200 East Avenue 57 was organized to care for women just released from jail, and the Ransom Home makes little or no distinction in its distribution of charity, but opens its doors to all friendless women and children. The president of the latter institution is Mrs. A. R. Hand. Mrs. Elizabeth Pardee is secretary and Mrs. S. R. Woods, superintendent.

BEGINNING AND END.

Charity is often needed at the beginning and end of life as well as in the middle. The homes for the aged are almost as numerous as the orphan asylums.

The Hollenbeck Home at No. 573 South Boyle avenue is a memorial to the late husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Hollenbeck, the president. The grounds cover over eighteen acres and are beautifully laid out in gardens. Rev. Dr. W. S. Young is the superintendent.

The Catholic Sisters support two institutions for the care of the aged. St. Patrick's Home for Men and Women in the Convent of Our Lady of Mercy, is directed by the Sisters of Mercy. Old people are accepted upon the payment of an entrance fee and supported for the balance of their lives.

The Little Sisters of the Poor support the home on First and Mott streets, where at present about 116 indigent old people are cared for. The institution is dependent wholly upon public charity.

WILL BE LADIES' NIGHT.

Tomorrow night will be ladies' night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, No. 929 South Hope street. B. R. Baumgardt will give an illustrated lecture which will be followed by dancing. Members and sojourning Scottish Rite Masons may each bring one lady.

ASKS TO BE LOCKED UP.

But Harmless Tramp Who Knows no Home Except the Jail is Turned Away.

After having been arrested more than five hundred times, August Dahms, a professional tramp, wept yesterday morning when refused admittance to the City Jail.

Dahms is a queer character. He has the appearance of a Russian, wearing a sickly-looking beard and mustache. He is a tramp, according to his story, because it is the easiest way to live.

He has never been known to steal or beg. He has never harmed any one, and has never been arrested for fighting or making a nuisance of himself. In appearance he is a typical Weary Willie. His clothes are soiled, and his shirt is torn, exposing his breast.

Time after time he has been gathered in. Almost every officer on the force has had his turn at locking up Dahms, and the tramp has come to regard the jail as his home.

He has never worked except when on the chain gang. Yesterday morning he appeared at the City Jail and wanted to be locked up. He had lost his tattered old hat and wore a cap made of cardboard.

Lieut. Murray refused to lock him up, because he had committed no crime. He gave the man an old hat and turned him out on the street, and Dahms, with tears trickling down his cheeks, turned away from the only home he knows, shuffled out to pick his meals from the garbage cans.

MERCHANT AS BANK ROBBER.

Well-Known Resident of Kansas Town Shot While Drilling Into Safe.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GALENA (Kan.) March 13.—Frederick Davis, 33, son of a prominent local merchant, was shot by officers here early today while trying to escape when caught in the act of drilling into the safe of the Citizens' State Bank. He will recover.

Davis was shot in the groin. Davis has always enjoyed a good reputation and the police today expressed the belief that his mind had been affected.

In a statement today, Davis said his motive in attempting the robbery was a desire to get money to branch out in business.

"I had a crazy notion," he said, "that I could easily get what money there was in the bank and was prompted in the attempt by a run of hard luck.

"Hard circumstances forced me into the job and there is no use crying because I was caught. I will have to take my medicine. What I think more of than anything else is my family, my five children. I wish to God the officers had shot me through the heart instead of the groin."

SOLDIERS AS FIREMEN.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Chief Croker of the New York fire department is anxious to have honorably discharged soldiers from the United States army for members of the department. To this end he has written a personal letter to Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, and Gen. Wood in turn has had the letter published in a circular order. The letter instructs the men concerning the civil service examination and urges those who desire to make application.

Origin of "Old Hickory."

The following story is told of how Gen. Andrew Jackson got his title of "Old Hickory." Capt. William Allen, who was a near neighbor of the general, messed with him during the Creek War. During the campaign the soldiers were moving rapidly to surprise the Indians, and were without tents. A cold March rain came on, mingled with sleet, which lasted for several days. Gen. Jackson got a severe cold, but did not complain, as he tried to sleep in a muddy bottom among his half-frozen soldiers. Capt. Allen and his brother John cut down a stout hickory tree, peeled off the bark and made a covering for the general, who was with difficulty persuaded to crawl under it. The next morning a drunken citizen entered the camp, and, seeing the tent, kicked it over. As Jackson crawled from the ruins, the toper cried: "Hello, Old Hickory! come out of your bark, and jine us in a drink."—[Exchange.

Marvel Millinery
Opening Monday
March Fifteenth

This will be the most notable millinery exhibit in the history ot this institution—notable for its comprehensiveness and for the surpassing beauty of the styles that will be shown.

Our millinery chief has just returned from New York, bringing with her all the new ideas of the most noted Parisian and American artists.

This occasion will establish the millinery styles which are to dominate in Los Angeles through the coming season. It will again emphasize the supremacy of the Marvel as the greatest SPECIALTY MILLINERY house in the southwest.

Every woman in Los Angeles is extended an invitation to come. It is a fashion event that no woman can afford to miss.

MINES AMD MINING—Activities in the Ore Districts of the Great South

GREATEST YET.

PIONEER, THE LATEST CENTER.

Ready Transportation a Big Factor for Camp.

Present Bonanza Mine Once Held Failure.

Shortage of Capital Keeps Down Growth.

The camp of Pioneer, ten miles northerly from Rhyolite, which has sprung into frenzied prominence within the past two months, owing to the discovery of a large body of very high-grade gold ore, is in many respects one of the most unique in the entire history of Nevada—a State whose career is punctuated with almost fabulous finds of gold, silver and copper.

In the first place, the question of transportation was solved before the recent discoveries inaugurated the inevitable rush, and, within two and a half miles of the town, the tracks of the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad provide means of ready transportation of the gold seekers and the supplies necessary to wrest fortune from the ground. Between the railroad station of Springdale and Pioneer a four-car automobile line is maintained, under the direction of "Alkali Bill," the classic desert chauffeur, and the traveler is whirled up to the main street of the new camp almost before the train has discharged its load and resumed its way northward to Goldfield. The Las Vegas and Tonopah branch of the Salt Lake route also serves the new district, and secures a portion of the traffic by the maintenance of a fifteen-mile automobile line from Rhyolite.

In the second place, and most important of all, the Pioneer lease, which owns the recent bonanza discovery, was among the apparently hopeless properties of the Bullfrog district, and work was prosecuted in a haphazard and altogether half-hearted manner for several years before the rich discoveries were made. Surface values ran no higher than $4 a ton, and in a large majority of cases the pannings showed even smaller values. In spite of these facts, work was prosecuted to a depth of 130 feet, and at that point a body of $60 ore was discovered. At 156 feet the values had increased to well over $100 across an enormous body of ore, and ten carload shipments sent to the smelters gave returns of an average of about $117 a ton. In an underhand stope at this level even richer ore was discovered, and two carloads were sent forward that sampled $191 to the ton. By this time the excitement was fairly on and a struggle for the possession of the control of the lease began. As a result the old management was ousted and the property placed in the hands of Frank A. Keith, who resigned from the management of the Tonopah Mining Company at Tonopah, to accept the position, and who is known as one of the most conservative, level-headed and competent engineers identified with the recent mining history of Nevada. In his opinion the Pioneer mine is one of the wonders of the State, and he has expressed the belief that its present appearance warrants the prognostication that it will rival, and perhaps excel, the celebrated Mohawk at Goldfield.

DISTRICT NOT NEW.

The district is by no means a new one, but nothing or particular moment has happened in the vicinity to awaken interest until the recent bonanza strike. A handful of resolute men, including J. R. Bryan, who developed the Pioneer property, has had faith in the immediate district, however, and their faith has now been rewarded. About 4000 feet south of the Poineer, the Mayflower Consolidated mine has been developed for several years with a maximum depth of 500 feet, and has just completed the installation of a five-stamp mill, which is now pounding steadily upon an excellent grade of ore. Nothing sensational has occurred there, however, until recently, but the Mayflower is now bidding for popularity with its new neighbor by the discovery of very high-grade ore on the 300-foot level.

POPULATION ONE THOUSAND.

Considering the favorable circumstances under which the camp sprang into prominence it is not surprising that its growth has been rapid. When I was there last week the population was conservatively placed at 1000, and perhaps 120 men were at work at the Pioneer, Mayflower and various leases that are being operated in the vicinity of the former. The day I left the arrivals by the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad numbered forty-five, and not more than twenty left on the same day. This left a good balance, and it must also be taken into consideration that a large number of the departures were represented by operators who live at Rhyolite, and pass almost daily between the two points.

GEOLOGICAL CONDITIONS.

The country in which the recent discovery was made is traversed by a series of rhyolite and quartzite dykes, running northerly and southerly, the ore bodies occurring in fissures of altered, brecciated and highly-silicified rhyolite apparently running with the true rhyolite dykes. There are, however, two theories advanced by mining men who have made a study of the situation. The first is that the ore-bearing fissures run with the general trend of the formation and the second that they run almost at right angles to the general formation and are really cross fissures. In support of the latter theory it is pointed out that the Mayflower vein runs practically east and west and that good surface values have been found both east and west of the original Pioneer discovery. It will not be possible to determine definitely which theory is correct until more work has been done, but I incline strongly to the belief that the fissures run with the formation and that the dyke upon which the Mayflower is working is the same as the Pioneer, and that it swings sharply to the east, after passing through the north end of the Starlight claims of the Mayflower.

THE BONANZA LEASE.

The lease workings were started upon an altered rhyolite fissure in a true rhyolite dyke, and at the 156-foot level the ore body is well over thirty feet, with a 56 deg. dip to the west. Ten feet of this ore body will ship at high figures, and the balance is probably good milling grade. It should be remembered that no sorting has been done in preparing past shipments, and the smelter receipts will, therefore, be the best criterion of average values. The single compartment shaft has been pushed down to the 210-foot level and a connection made with the 156-foot level a few days ago. The ore body, as developed, is at least 80 feet long, and so the property is now in shape to maintain regular shipments. Ore bins of a capacity of 100 tons are being erected at Springdale, and as soon as the new fifty-horse-power hoist and twenty-five-horse-power compressor plant have been installed the work of shipping 100 tons a day can be maintained indefinitely. When I visited the property on March 6, thirty-eight men were at work on the lease, and more were being crowded on with every shift. It might be mentioned that the footwall of the fissure is plainly defined at all levels, but that nothing that looks like a hanging wall has yet been found.

CAPITAL SCARCE.

In company with all other camps in Nevada, Pioneer is suffering from a lack of capital to develop its resources. If such a discovery had been made three years ago there is little question but that the earlier scenes of Goldfield would have been reënacted, and that 5000 men would now be on the ground. The influx of reliable mining men is, however, on the increase, and it is quite reasonable to suppose that the work which is being prosecuted will result in further finds. The formation is hard, however, and it will take time to gain the requisite depth. Machinery and supplies can be laid down at a minimum of cost to make up for all other difficulties and leases may be run at a cost which compares favorably with any other portion of the State.

LITIGATION REMOTE.

There has been some talk of litigation between the Pioneer and contiguous property to the west, but I incline to the belief that the present workings of the lease have practically proven that the vein apexes upon the Bimetallic claim, where the discovery was made, and about 125 feet from the side line. The dip of the vein has thrown the workings well into the Conservative claim of the Gold Hills Mining and Milling Company to the west, but the owners of this company and the Pioneer Bullfrog Gold Mines Company, owning the lease claim, are practically identical, and there is little chance of conflict in this direction. The only possibility of trouble comes from a threatened conflict of the Indiana claim of the Valley View Mining Company to the southwest, but even in that quarter it seems remote, at least to the extent of interference with the development of the lease. Granted that litigation does not ensue (and there seems very remote possibility of it,) I believe that the district is assured of a brilliant future, and that the Pioneer must be classed with the big mines of the State. At the same stage of development it is doubtful if any property has shown better prospects in the entire history of the gold mining operations of Nevada.

GOLDFIELD.

FLORENCE MAY PAY DIVIDEND.

MILL IS AT LAST RUNNING IN A FASHION.

Outsiders Employed Succeed in Partly Repairing Owners' Error. Bullion Shipments Last Month Up to Five Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) March 12.—The camp is divided over the appearance of the Florence mill and mine, and there is a strong rumor out tonight that the management is seriously thinking of reconsidering last week's passing of the quarterly dividend. It may come to pass that the company, with more than enough money in the treasury, may decide to pay its customary $105,000, especially as the mill under the management of Superintendent Morris is said to be doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Any man who is acquainted with the metallurgical situation knows that the Florence mill can never compete with the Consolidated in point of economy, but the mere fact that the management has found a way to render it operative with a fair degree of efficiency is a credit to the men who were brought into the case after the owners had made such a faux pas in misdirecting the details of construction. During the present week the mill has added ten more stamps and is running to a certain extent, barring the stops deemed necessary to keep it tuned up to standard.

BULLION SHIPMENTS.

One of the most inspiring sights of the city, and one to which it is not thought advisable to draw too much attention is the daily shipment of bullion from the John S. Cook Bank. To the casual observer there is not much to it, to see three youths stroll down the street with one of the number bearing on his shoulder a canvas-encased package that does not seem worthy of notice. The other two men carry their hands in the depths of their overcoat pockets, with a suggestiveness that tells the average observer that they are well heeled.

This is the modest way in which the average bullion shipment, ranging from 500 to 1000 ounces, goes out, with the exception of the days when the Consolidated bullion seeks an outlet. Then the big bars, which are too heavy for half a dozen porters, are loaded into an automobile and carried over three blocks to the office of the Wells-Fargo company. The bullion shipments out of this camp have gained such a magnitude that the express company has made special arrangements for the carriage of the precious deposits across the vast waste of desert that intervenes between Goldfield and the mint at Carson City. In a quiet, unostentatious way shotgun guards have been installed, and any force of bandits that would seek to remove the treasure chest would find themselves confronted with a brace of sawed-off shotguns in the hands of determined men accustomed to their use. Every attempt is made to keep the dates of shipments from the knowledge of the outside world, but they have grown so common that the hold-up of any train would lead to a rich reward, providing the bandits could ever escape from the dreary waste of desert that is a greater deterrent to the train robber than all the artillery that the express companies can muster.

During February the Consolidated's bullion shipments were $550,000, and the outlook is for $700,000 in March.

COMBINATION FRACTION.

The annual meeting of the Combination Fraction occurs the first week of next month, when it is more than probable that a dividend will be declared. This is the first meeting since George Wingfield and Senator Nixon obtained control, and as the property has been working steadily without a single drawback keeping forty stamps in motion on $40 ore, it is likely that the directors will find it advisable to make a payment. The Fraction has come down to a close corporation, but it is more than probable that the owners of the controlling interest will let the world know what this precious little acreage can do with suitable management. If a dividend is declared it will not be less than 10 cents, or a distribution of $100,000.

LEASING AGAIN.

The leasing proposition, which was condemned so severely by both the Consolidated and the Florence, is in the balance; and it is said on good authority that the Florence is granting new leases on territory within the inside belt, declared by the management to be too sacred for the admission of tribute men. The management has undergone a change of heart, especially since the passing of the dividend, and is willing to court the efforts of leasers to develop that section of the estate that has not shown any real values. This is taken as a forerunner of the time when the bars will be let down again and the leasers admitted to the inner circle of the high-grade belt.

DIADEM TO SHIP.

Over on the Great Bend in the Diamondfield section there is a raft of applications for blocks for leasing purposes. The management of the Great Bend has spread the report that the recent strike on the Diadem lease on its ground was worthless, but from an inside source it is known that the Diadem has between ten and fifteen feet that will knock down at the rate of $60 per ton. The ore is exposed on the 200 level, but the leasers known as the Diadem corporation have been more intent on getting their ground into shipping shape than in advising the public of what they have. Persistent efforts have been made to minimize this strike, but it will be seen that before the end of another week that the Diadem is on the shipping list.

DAISY GOING AHEAD.

The Daisy in the same section has been shipping steadily at the rate of 150 tons a week by wagon to the local sampler, but it is said that the company is in better ore than ever before showed in the workings. It is a sad but true fact that the Daisy has suffered more from stock manipulation than any other company; but since George Wingfield bought a control and placed Superintendent Wilkinson, formerly of the Consolidated, in charge, the physical aspect of the property has undergone quite a change.

One of the greatest drawbacks has been the working character of the ground which has interfered with the operations to an extent that has kept the company on the jump simply trying to keep the working open. It is reported that the 300 level will be abandoned for this reason, and that the ore which exists here in large bodies will be extracted through an upraise from the 400 level. Wild rumors were in circulation this evening to the effect that the Daisy had ordered a forty-stamp mill; but Manager Wilkinson said this was out of the question as the character of the ore would not lend itself readily to milling.

The Diamondfield Black Butte dispute with the eastern stockholders does not seem any closer to a termination and the result is a deadlock that is proving disastrous to the property.

RENEWALS ARE SOUGHT.

On the Atlanta estate there is a stronger inquiry for leases and some of the older firms that held ground on this tract have made application for renewals. In every instance where the leasers have conducted their work to the satisfaction of the Atlanta management, there has not been any difficulty in getting extensions.

One of the latest was that of Wilkie P. Garrison of Pasadena, Cal., who came last week to arrange for a long and deep campaign on the Black Bear claims of the Atlanta. Before he returned home he installed a seventy-five-horse-power gasoline hoist that is capable of exploring to a depth of 1000 feet. The Blake lease on the same ground is looking so well that the leasers expect to come into ore any day after exploiting their ground to a depth of 500 feet. Failing to find any tangible mineral they came back to the 150 level and instantly entered ore but of such an elusive character that it failed to hold values.

IN INYO COUNTY.

The Anna Queen property in Inyo county near Keeler, which is owned by Wingfield and Nixon, is going to be developed if all accounts are true. It is a copper property situated in the Argus range about one and one-half miles north of Shepherd Cañon. Except that a contract has been given for considerable development work no information can be obtained.

BIG POWER PLANS.

From a material standpoint the most important disclosure of the week has been the decision of the Nevada-California Power Company to extend its lines to Ely, Nev., where there is a greater demand for juice than in all the rest of the State combined. The company which generates its power in the White Mountains above Bishop, Inyo county, Cal., on the line of the Owens water power, has more capacity than demand, and without expending another cent can serve double the present service. The management states that if the Ely plans carry through, it will bring a material reduction in the cost of power and light to all the consumers on the desert. This means an investment of at least $1,000,000, and, if carried to consummation, will be in operation by next fall.

TONNAGE FOR WEEK.

The tonnage for last week kept well up to the mark set by the starting of the Consolidated mill with scarcely a chance of the aggregate being reduced by any mishap. The aggregate was 5975 tons of a value of $226,760, of which the Consolidated contributed 4200 tons from both the old and new mills. The Florence improved its report by running thirty stamps and the railroad shipments to the smelters showed some slight improvement. Next week the Great Western and Cotrell mines of Hornsilver have guaranteed to furnish a tonnage that will enable them to appear regularly in the shipments. The former has been sending its ores to Miller's, owing to the fact that their bases were chiefly silver, but with recent changes they have come into such a strong gold value that they can be treated here to advantage.

The Mohawk is credited with an immense strike on the 600 level that has been exaggerated to phenomenal magnitude, but the management of the Consolidated insists that there has not been anything unusual opened on that vast estate since the annual report was issued. The underground resources of the Mohawk are so fabulous that the company aims to suppress figures that might lead the public to believe that it is eager to keep under the spotlight.

COPPER PRICE CUTS OUTPUT.

COSTS ABOUT EQUAL RETURNS FROM MARKET.

Little Likelihood of an Entire Shutdown, But Old Dominion Will Reduce Production and Douglas Smelters Already Have Expense Near Twelve Cents a Pound.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 12.—A good deal of talk is being made of a pessimistic nature around the copper camps of Arizona and there is fear that a very large reduction will be made in the amount of copper produced unless prices get to be materially larger for the product. Occasionally figures are presented that show copper is being produced in Arizona at 10 cents a pound or better, but it is believed that when betterments and repairs and a bit of interest all are figured in, the cost would come very much nearer 12 cents than the figure given. At the prevailing price for copper, it may be seen that the companies are doing only a little better than "breaking even." Inasmuch as there is little or no profit, there is little to be gained by keeping the furnaces hot, except for the retention of the working force and the incidental fact that closure of the mines would mean the loss of support to thousands of worthy miners and their families. So there is no likelihood of entire stoppage of the plants now in operation unless the price of copper should drop considerably below the cost of production, as computed directly upon extraction, smelting and freighting charges.

During February, the Old Dominion at Globe ran four furnaces, producing about 3,500,000 pounds of copper, which is even better than normal. This is to be reduced to 500,000 pounds a month. There is to be retrenchment at the mines by working only five days a week and the ore will be graded somewhat higher than has been done during the winter past. The amount of dead work and prospecting is to be cut also, as the mine is amply developed for supplying all the ore the furnaces will need for many months to come. It is expected that reduction costs will be materially reduced as soon as the new electric power plant is installed. A large number of idle men are in Globe at the present time and more are constantly coming in.

The smelters at Douglas are running at much less than capacity. Only four of the furnaces of the Calumet and Arizona Company are being operated, the ore consumption during February being about 2400 tons a day. It is stated that the output for March will be materially lighter than that of February.

The bullion production of the Greene-Cananea Company's smelter for February was practically that of January, 3,804,000 pounds of copper with 85,000 ounces of silver and 532 ounces of gold.

The bullion production of the Imperial smelter at Sasco for February was 1,500,000 pounds of copper, beside a considerable quantity of gold and silver.

Just made available are the figures of the output of the United Verde smelter at Jerome for the year 1908. The production of copper was 36,201,609 pounds, valued at $4,719,209.17; of gold, 20,937 ounces, valued at $432,747.74; of silver, 480,138 ounces, valued at $253,-656.90; total, $5,405,613.81. The figures of copper production are less than those of several other smelters in the Territory, but it is claimed that during 1908 the United Verde produced more gold and silver than any other mine in the Territory, a claim which will be considered remarkable by those who have thought the United Verde only a copper producer.

During February, 300 carloads of ores and concentrates passed through the customhouse at Douglas, billed to smelters in the United States. These cars carried 12,012 tons, valued at $1,-311,705. By far the heaviest shipper was the Moctezuma Copper Company at Nacozari, which sends its concentrates to the Copper Queen smelter.

At Bisbee last week were held the annual meetings of the Shattuck-Arizona and Denn-Arizona companies. It had been expected that at the meetings would be determined a number of questions concerning more vigorous working of the mines and possibly the establishment of a separate smelting plant. But these features were not touched upon and very little of public interest developed. The management has stated that it is hoped to find some improved type of reduction plant for cheapening the cost of smelting—and so there will be no haste in that direction.

PURCHASE DENIED.

A rumor has been circulated around Bisbee that the Phelps-Dodge company has purchased all the mines at Gleeson except the Shannon Copper Company's. As soon as the Phelps-Dodge railroad is completed from Douglas north to Courtland, the Gleeson district will be tapped, also, and cheap transportation offered for the Gleeson ores to the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas. The report of purchase, however, has been denied by Superintendent Gerald Sherman of the Copper Queen Company.

About 350 men are employed in the mines of Courtland already, on the pay rolls of the Great Western, Calumet and Arizona, Copper Queen and Leadville companies. It is told that 22,000 tons of ore have been piled upon the dumps ready for shipment as soon as the railroad comes.

TOMBSTONE SILVER.

A body of high-grade horn silver was opened last week in the northwest shaft of the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Company at Tombstone. Development is being driven in several shafts. On the Emerald property is being exposed one of the finest copper bodies in the Territory, lying below old silver deposits. The company's great pumps are handling 6,000,000 gallons of water a day, and the pump capacity is being increased to 8,000,000 gallons.

H. H. Dyer, for several years superintendent of the Shannon Mining Company at Clifton, has resigned the place to establish himself in Los Angeles as a mining engineer. He has been succeeded at Clifton by H. A. Collins, who has been connected with the Arizona Commercial Company at Globe.

Forty-five men are working at the camp of the Big Stick Mining Company, twenty miles west of Date Creek station, in Eureka mining district, where Superintendent T. E. Campbell is developing ore bodies from two shafts and is erecting a twenty-stamp mill and a 150-ton cyanide plant. The mill is to be started in about a month.

Work has been resumed on a large scale on the Coronado mine, eighteen miles northeast of Florence, under charge of B. Reed.

DISCOVERY AT YUMA.

Some excitement was caused early in the week at Yuma by report of the discovery near Dome of a large body of tellurium gold ore. The new field is fourteen miles from Yuma and only four miles from the railroad. The discovery was made by W. B. Black, who, after locating all the ground he wanted, sent to Yuma for his friends to come in and share with him. Nearly a hundred accepted the invitation. Ore from Black's mine has been assayed and has been declared tellurium, very similar to that known in Cripple Creek district. Following the receipt at Cripple Creek of some of the ore for assay, two Colorado mining men immediately took train for Yuma to see the spot the rock came from.

Machinery has been ordered to double the milling capacity of the North Star Mining Company, which is handling seventy tons a day. This is the mine sold by Felix Mayhew last year for $350,000. The operating company has installed a mill at the mine and has pumped water to it from a 1200-foot well seven miles distant. Fuel oil is used, freighted from Dome station.

The Milliken group of four claims in the Groom Creek district of Yavapai county has been sold to an eastern company represented by O. J. O'Donnel, for $35,000, payable within a year.

MOHAVE COUNTY.

Added water supply has been brought to the Tom Reed mill by a pipe line from the Pasadena mines. Mill operation was resumed last Friday. Heretofore the mill has run intermittently, but now it is to be operated day and night. It is told that one nine-foot vein carries ore averaging $80 and that in one of the stopes is a three-foot body of ore worth $300 a ton.

Work is being pushed on construction of several large scows being built on the Colorado River, northwest of Chloride, where the Colorado River Dredging Company is gathering machinery for an immense suction dredger, capable of handling 2000 yards of mineralized gravel a day, and has located several thousand acres of gold-bearing gravel in the neighborhood of Eldorado Cañon. The corporation is capitalized mainly in St. Paul, Minn., with Dr. J. V. Quinn as president, and James D. Call as superintendent.

Dr. O. L. Geer, manager of the Arizona Gold Mining Company, has just returned from Los Angeles, where he purchased a new hoist, to be installed on the company's property in the Harqua Hala Mountains.

MAYFLOWER IS WORKING MILL.

LITTLE FIVE-STAMPER GIVES FINE RETURNS.

Old Montgomery Hotel Moved from Rhyolite to Pioneer and Opened With Much Stir and Rejoicing—A Rich Ledge Found Under Foundation, But Building Keeps on.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

RHYOLITE (Nev.) March 12.—The dedication of the little Mayflower five-stamp mill was the feature of the week in spite of the remarkable runs of the Pioneer Leasing Company, which sent out two carloads of ore that ran at the rate of $180. In the Mayflower mill the plates have been cleaned of amalgam every day making a very excellent showing for the trial run. The plates showed the gold in very encouraging quantities with an average saving of $800 to $1000 per day.

The Tobin brothers of the Pioneer lease say they expect to increase their shipments to 100 tons per day as soon as they can install hoisting facilities which they say will be about the middle of the month. The Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad has arranged to build a big bin at Springdale to accommodate the Pioneer shipments and the construction work will be started at once. Last Friday shipments were resumed the ore going out to the Western Ore Purchasing Company to be sampled at Goldfield. Frank P. Keith, the consulting engineer, has ordered a ten-drill compressor plant.

PIONEER DOINGS.

The town of Pioneer is now reported to have a population of approximately 1100 people, and there is no cessation to the rush. During the past week the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad established an auto service from this place to compete with the Tidewater autos from Springdale, and the first day the company reported that forty-five passengers had been handled.

Tomorrow (Monday) will be the red letter day of the camp when Dave Holland will open his hotel of forty rooms that was removed bodily from Rhyolite to the new camp. The town of Pioneer has suffered from a lack of accommodations as there has been nothing more substantial than tent houses for the reception of visitors. The old Montgomery Hotel at Rhyolite stood grand and imposing with its three stories of vacancy when Holland bethought himself of buying "the whole shooting match" and moving it to the site of the new camp. He succeeded without any drawbacks and proposes to celebrate Monday by running special trains from Tonopah, Goldfield and this place to give fitting éclat to the opening. Ten extra roulette dealers have been engaged for the occasion and the opening will be uproarious and joyous. The hotel scheme almost failed in its inception through the intervention of a vein of high-grade that was found in digging the foundations. The ore panned rich and caused a temporary halt in the work, but Dave Holland decided to go ahead and finish the hotel and then if advisable to follow the ledge from the basement of the hostelry.

PIONEER MINE'S SHOWING.

The latest and most authentic report from the Pioneer is that the company has a twelve-foot ledge that will break better than $100 per ton in gold or better, and that fifteen inches of the rock will not fall short of $1100 per ton which, if maintained, will make this the best property in the world. During the week drifting was started either way on the ore which remains continuous in both.

Tex Rickard, who left Goldfield broke three weeks ago, has come into one of the richest leases of the camp, and is employing between sixty and eighty men in cutting a road to the railroad so that he can ship his ore which runs at the rate of $80 per ton, eighty feet from the surface. His claim is on the Conservative, adjoining the Pioneer, and unless he is apexed, which is threatened by the Pioneer people, he will be able to offer the biggest purse in the world for the Jeffries-Johnson fight. A twenty-five-horse-power gas engine has been ordered to the property, and as soon as it arrives, a permanent shaft will be started. A. V. Childs, the discoverer of the Pioneer, who is now employed to pan samples from the leases on the Pioneer ground, says that he has secured free pannings from the Rickard lease that rival the best of the original lease. The quartz exposed in the tunnel pans gold, as does the material from three other points in the block. The plan is to sink a deep shaft and prospect the ledges at depth sufficient to get the ore.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY AND CHEMISTRY.

To Correspondents:

This department is not conducted for pay. Its object is to convey reliable information of interest and value to the public, and it is not for the private benefit of any miner, collector, speculator or prospector. Correspondents are particularly cautioned to take careful note of the statements and injunctions contained in the paragraphs below.

(1.) Specimens must be small and bear a tag giving name and address of sender, and the general—not exact—locality from whence the specimen was taken, also the name of it as nearly as the sender knows. Send, also, with the specimen a clearly-written letter briefly describing the find and what the finder wishes done with it. The letter must be properly dated and plainly signed.

Letter and specimen must be in one package, not in separate inclosure.

(2.) No attention will be paid to anonymous letters or to letters signed merely with initials.

(3.) No examinations of samples or specimens will be made in cases where The Times may decide that the specimen and inquiry are not of public interest. This office does not undertake to perform the work of an assay office.

(4.) Inquiries relative to matters of purely personal interest will not be answered.

(5.) When no response to an inquiry made or specimens sent appears in these columns, the inquirer will understand that his inquiry does not come within the purview of this department.

(6.) It is impossible to return specimens, as they must necessarily be destroyed or impaired in the process of analysis.

Address invariably, The Times.

Carnotite and Science.

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am sending you a sample of the new mineral Radio-Thor; recently discovered by a noted scientist of one of our Hahnemann Colleges. The substance occurs in Colorado, and may be of interest to your mineralogical editor.

I am fully aware that The Times is not a scientific journal, and as a rule, I do not contribute anything of moment to the daily press.

Yours respectfully, G. C. A., PhD.

ANSWER: Accept our thanks for the mineral Radio-Thor(?) We recognize it as an old relic—of many years acquaintanceship—Carnotite (a double Vanadate of uranium and potassium) which occurs plentifully in the sandstone measures of the Unaweep country—some sixty miles from Grand Junction Colo.—and also, near Price, Vernal, and at other points in Utah. Did you forward the right sample?

Papers, all over our country, have been publishing a number of scientific hallucinations, as it were, during the past few weeks, relating to the elements thorium and uranium; and the minerals of uranium—pitchblende and carnotite—as, also "Radio-Thor."

It is claimed that "Radio-Thor" will cure cancer; and that it will produce a radio-active photograph through a stove-lid." Carnotite will yield such a photograph also.

The New York Times of February 13, publishes a correspondent's "stuff" as follows: "One of your correspondents writes of a deposit of pitchblende near Danbury, Ct. It has also been found in three other places in this State and in North Carolina. Dana in his manual says it is found "on the north shore of Lake Superior."

It will be noted that the correspondent referred to, is "off color" on exact localities. He does not state which Dana's manual is referred to. Both of the Dana's—in separate works—give exact localities in other States of the Union which failed to be observed by the correspondent referred to.

Fine deposits of pitchblende of high percentage (uranium values) occur in Colorado; notably so at the Wood, Kirk, and other mines, near Central City.

On "Science" let us refer for a moment to "Professional Paper No. 62," issued by the "United States Geological Survey;" we quote: "According to the quantitative classification, this rock belongs to monzonose, the sodipotassic subrang of the dormalkalic rang of the perfelic order of dosalane." Is this a reflection of Radio-Thor?

Wouldn't such idiotic phrases be "congenial" to use, as it were, with the mining boys in the hills? "Absent treatment" answers—nit b'gosh!

Congressional committees often hesitate to increase appropriations for such work and fail to create a National Bureau of Mines to be governed by so child-like a (and unbusiness-like) body of scientists.

It is noted, that, as a rule you "do not contribute anything of moment to the daily press;" that's true, indeed, in this instance.

The editor of this department joins heartily with the "Mining and Scientific Press," in its able editorial on "Professional Paper No. 62," of issue February 27, 1909, and from which editorial we quote these words: "But, coming to plain talk, is it not an impertinence to inflict the average citizen with such sesquipedalian verbal gymnastics?"

Science and truth should be synonymous. The Times ever seeks and aims to publish truth, and therefore is a scientific journal.

We again thank you for the Carnotite, and would be glad to have a specimen of "Radio-Thor."

Galenite Kidneys.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will you please name this pebble-like, heavy mineral from San Bernardino county? Yours truly, G. C. W.

Good Concentrating Ore.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Enclosed please find two samples of ore taken from a depth of thirty-five feet below the surface from a "blind ledge" uncovered while sinking a shaft for "assessment work." A crosscut shows the ledge to be twenty-four feet four inches in width, and samples are the general average of the ore. There is but little surface water in that section, but there is some water coming in through the ledge which lies between a schistose-slate and limestone formation. Assays show small values in silver and from $2 to $8 in gold. Will you kindly tell me through your "In the Earth" what minerals I should have this ore tested for if any other than gold and silver. It is located in the eastern part of San Bernardino county, California. Similar ores have been found in this same vicinity, and any information you will be kind enough to give, will be appreciated by the miners in that section.

I am sincerely yours, C. A. G.

ANSWER: Water is the most desirable solid needed in the section referred to. The ores are A1 concentrating sulphides of iron, with traces of chalcopyrite (yellow copper ore) and arsenopyrite present. From your statement ($2 to $8 per ton gold)—twenty-five tons of the ore can be concentrated into one ton, and worth—at lowest assay values—$50. If water is not obtainable it is a great detriment to the property. There are "dry concentrators" galore, however, which "guarantee" to save all values. On such ore as you submit the saving qualities of such concentrators are doubtful.

Ores of Silver.

HART, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am sending you some specimens of rock. If you will be kind enough to let me know what they contain you will do me a great favor.

No. 1 is from Hart district; I believe it carries gold or silver, and possibly tungsten. The lead is 100

"It's the same old Goldfield, save that it has outgrown the crudeness of its beginning and has taken on some of the luxuries of a metropolis." The following day I learned my mistake. My first violent jolt was when I stopped before a street news-stand, filled with papers from all parts of the country. I thought I must be dreaming; there in most conspicuous position was the greatest newspaper of them all. The Los Angeles Times was actually for sale in Goldfield, openly, peacefully and abundantly, for the pile was quite large. There was no gore upon the sidewalk. No raging mob was seeking the life blood of the newsdealer. I purchased a copy and was not assassinated. What could it mean? Across the street I saw, almost under the eaves of the sacred temple of the Miners' Union, a sign, "Shine 15 Cents."

I went in and partook of the privilege of the place. A venerable darky, wearing the badge of the grand army, proceeded to illuminate my extremities and as he polished he talked. He began talking of the old slave days and how Lincoln had set him free, and was about to give a detailed history of his life on the tented field, when I told him that what most interested me was the fact that he was still in the flesh and shining shoes at 15 cents per. I asked him if he was doing well. He replied: "It is better than loafing, boss. There don't seem to be so powerful much money around now." I asked him if any attempt had been made to burn him at the stake. He couldn't seem to remember any such experience. I pinched myself and counted my pulse and resorted to other tests practiced by those who wish to prove that they are awake.

UNIONS AND POLITICS.

I walked up the street and met my old friend, J. F. Bradley, wearing the Sheriff's badge. Bradley told me that Goldfield is at peace, and what I had seen myself proved that he told the truth. Later I learned from others, that Bradley, although an ardent Republican, had been elected in Esmeralda, a Democratic county, against William A. Ingalls, the candidate of the Democratic party and the supposed choice of the unions. I was also told, and it seemed reasonable, that he was elected by the votes of the union men themselves. This seemed to prove what I have always contended, that the vast majority of the union men do not countenance the extremist and the violent agitator; that, excepting in exceptional cases, they desire law and order and the right to work, and are good citizens.

TRIUMPH OF LAW.

To my mind Goldfield offers to the nation the most convincing proof that the vast majority of our people are good citizens at heart; that when they follow off temporarily after strange gods they soon see their mistake and come back if given a fair deal. The open shop prevails in Goldfield. The possession of a union card or the lack of it cuts no figure. Men are judged by their work and no questions asked. No union man has been deported, no outrages committed in the name of law or at the instance of fanatical mine owners. The walking delegate has lost his graft. Our American system of government has triumphed over the designing and vicious disturber and an object lesson has been created.

Your local correspondents keep you advised about the mining development, but I wish emphatically to express my belief that Goldfield will revive and be forever the center of mining operations in this wonderful State. Its local mines will produce for years and years. New discoveries will swell the local output. Every new camp opened within a hundred miles of Goldfield will contribute to its prosperity. Two phenomenal new discoveries have lately been made in the field of which Goldfield is the center; one at Helena, by the Broken Hills Company, and the other at Pioneer, by the Pioneer Leasing Company. I visited Pioneer and saw the same symptoms which three years ago I witnessed in Goldfield. A dozen automobiles in public service were darting back and forth between Pioneer, Springdale and Rhyolite. Already the vanguard of enthused visitors was pouring in, new buildings were going up, new leases were starting work, new shingles were being put out. The lawsuits and rumors of lawsuits which always come with rich finds were bringing joy to the lawyers. Three new newspapers were bidding for popular favor and pulling legs for advertising. It was the old story of gold and the excitement which its lure and promise always bring.

RHYOLITE AWAKENING.

Rhyolite, which during the recent financial depression, went down into a Rip Van Winkle slumber, showed unmistakable symptoms of awakening. The old Montgomery-Shoshone mine, which rumor had reported a gigantic fizzle, has got the knockers on the run and promises to be a gigantic mine. It is already producing 4500 tons a month, which is converted into bullion in its own mill at handsome profit on every ton. The costly stone buildings which Rhyolite erected during the boom don't look half so much like monuments of folly as they did twelve months ago. In another twelve months Rhyolite will forget entirely her time of travail and will commence building some more stone structures.

LAS VEGAS.

Las Vegas, which by act of Legislature, has just been made the county seat of the new county of Clark (J. Ross Clark and Senator W. A. Clark provided the name) is preparing to jump square into the limelight. The Western Ore Purchasing Company is going to erect a sampler at Las Vegas and make it an ore-purchasing center. The Salt Lake Railroad is going to immediate build there repair shops which will employ three or four hundred men at the start. Her artesian wells are a success, her soil and climate with the water thus assured will make that broad valley a garden like unto the Imperial Valley. Truly Las Vegas may feel that things are coming her way fast.

Fifty miles above Las Vegas, on the Salt Lake Railroad, Moapa feels the thrill of life, because it is the business and residence center for the Muddy Valley with its 50,000 acres of marvelously fertile soil, now eagerly sought because people are beginning to realize that such places are rare and soon none will be left.

Of mining developments Fredellen, a new camp down near the Colorado River twenty-five miles from Las Vegas, gives great promise. It is being opened by Fred J. Seibert, an eminent mining engineer, recently of Los Angeles, and his associate, George Wingfield.

Caliente has a sure enough gold mine. I saw it yesterday. There is a belt of fissuring at least a hundred feet wide in porphyry. Through it run, mainly parallel to the axis of fissuring, veins of quartz-carrying gold. Much of the ore is rich, with plenty of gold visible to the eye. That Caliente is on the verge of a gold boom seems assured.

I will only say at this time of Pioche that it seems to me to be in better shape from a business standpoint than any other town I saw on my trip. Of its particular mines I must speak at another time.

The pertinent feature of all this to Los Angeles is that most of it can be her exclusive field if she will have it so and all will contribute in some measure if she will reach for it. Wherever I went, from Pioche to Reno and Carson City, there were unmistakable evidences that the panic is over, that mining activity is beginning again and that another mining boom is scheduled. Los Angeles wants to get into the game, and get the worth while prizes and not the boobies.

JAMES W. ABBOTT.

RAWHIDE.

Seventy-five-Thousand-Dollar Sale of Claims Has Just Been Completed.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

RAWHIDE (Nev.) March 7.—There have been a number of strikes the past week at good depth that prove the permanency of the fissures in their north and south strike. At the 137 foot in the Marigold the winze sunk on eight inches of high-grade ore is proving to be a wonderful strike. The winze is down eight feet and the fissure of icy-quartz shows absolutely true and in place for eighteen inches. Two tons are being broken and sacked per day. Assays show screenings alone of a net value of within a fraction of $9000. The middlings over an inch and a half screen give returns of $11,000 per ton, while the quartz without sorting is better than $2000.

The Queen Bethania, Crystal Queen No. 1 and Crystal Queen No. 2, comprising over fifty-two acres, were sold to Col. John B. E. Bell and associates for $75,000. A substantial cash payment has already been made, the balance in ninety days.

The new owners have incorporated as the Bethania Mines, Incorporated, and will start a 1000-foot compartment shaft, with air drill July 15.

General Manager Klinker of the Klinker Syndicate received a letter from his associates in Los Angeles today saying that the first consignment of machinery for the new 100-ton milling plant will be in Rawhide before the first of April. It has been definitely decided to locate the plant near the King Heisner mill.

Another big strike has been made on Kearns No. 1, known as the Original Rawhide. Three feet of high-grade ore was opened on the ninety-foot level in the old workings. It is the same vein that is producing quite a tonnage of good shipping ore at the fifty-foot level. Assays show that the drift on the ninety-foot level will average $85 a ton. Superintendent Fletcher states that the vein shows absolute permanency at the ninety-foot level. There is on the dump awaiting teams a shipment of seventy tons of ore that will net $100 per ton.

The scarcity of teams to haul ore to mills outside of the home plants is causing hardship among many of the big leasers, but this is being remedied rapidly. Every blacksmith shop in town is working overtime constructing ore-wagons and overhauling most everything on wheels that can be made of service in the carrying of ore.

Baryte.

SANTA MARIA, Feb. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The piece of rock, enclosed herein, was taken from a large ledge of the same material about twenty miles east of the town of Garey, in Santa Barbara county. Will you please tell us in the columns of your paper what the substance is, and whether it has any commercial value? It has been said to be a sulphate of barium, but whether it is that or something else is not known here.

Yours truly, P. D. J.

ANSWER. The sample is a very impure "heavy spar," and mineralogically named at subheading—known also as barium sulphate. It is too poor a grade for paint (pigment) purposes. Why not prospect the locality for a whitish and more pure grade? Very low traces of lead are present in the mass.

MADE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
PATRONIZE HOME MANUFACTURES

Soda Fountain, Show Case and Store Fixtures Manufacturers

An enterprise of which Los Angeles can feel justly proud is the Soda Fountain, Show Case and Store Fixtures factory of the WESTERN WHOLESALE DRUG COMPANY, located at 1148 San Pedro Street. Up to two years ago all soda fountains used in this territory were manufactured and shipped here from the East. The WESTERN WHOLESALE DRUG COMPANY realized the fact that soda fountains could be built to advantage at home, and the enterprise displayed by this firm in starting the plant has been rewarded with great success. They are in position to design, build and install anything in the way of a soda fountain from the cheapest to the most elegant outfits in wood, onyx and marble, either on the ice or iceless plan. In Show Cases, their factory turns out attractive and practical cases of every design and description. The designing and building of fixtures for Drug and Confectionery stores is a specialty which the WESTERN WHOLESALE DRUG COMPANY offers to its customers. Some of the beautiful stores in Los Angeles and adjacent territory have been designed and built by this company, best proof that they can do all of this work in the best and most efficient manner.

To The Women of Los Angeles--Greeting!

FOR a number of years it has been our pleasure (and we esteem it a privilege) to select for the fashionable women of Southern California the styles which are, in the truest sense, the best that the Eastern and foreign metropolitan centers have to offer. How far success has attended our efforts, we leave it to you to say. However, the marvelous growth of this business from year to year, and the constantly increasing number of stylish women who depend wholly upon us for correct attire on every occasion, are arguments too conclusive to admit of discussion.

We reached the place where expansion became a necessity, and all the smaller departments were dispensed with to provide more space for our garment business and for the most magnificent Millinery Salon on the whole coast of California. Every phase of the millinery question has been carefully considered, and every possible need has been amply and adequately provided for, and we are now radiantly ready with the new Spring styles, comprehending to the fullest extent all that is implied by this broad assertion.

Dainty Favors For Milady's Handbag

AS a little memento and a pleasant future reminder of this occasion, we have provided beautiful little beveled mirrors of a convenient size to slip into your hadbag.

Costumes of Superb Beauty for the Spring of 1909

NOT long ago a famous artist painted a picture of a woman—a woman so mysteriously beautiful that men and women gazed spellbound at her marvelous perfection of face and form. Noted critics pronounced the woman a phantasy created by the brain of the artist in some moment of inspiration. But the artist said, "Not so! To produce this vision of loveliness I have simply blended together the most faultless features of the fairest women I have ever met."

So it would appear that the far-famed artists who design the exquisite costumes which are the wonder and delight of the fashionable world of today, have stolen the most bewitching features of the charming styles of every period and woven them into creations which are the very embodiment of art and style. Models possessing a queenly grace and a certain sumptuous elegance hard to define, for they have retained a quaint air of distinction caught in the courts of kings, and (in spite of the apparent simplicity of the long artistic lines, half revealing, half disguising the slender form of the wearer) there still clings to these rich gowns a hint of the old world romance when fair ladies listened smiling to the flowery compliments of gallant knights.

Smartest Tailored Models First Shown Here

THE cleverest of the new Spring styles show most decidedly the influence of the latest Paris ideas and are made up in the finest of the new imported light weight wool fabrics, in soft, beautiful half tones. They are distinctly new in cut, which gives them a striking individuality. Many are copies of models by noted Parisian designers, modified so as to be practical and at the same time preserve their inimitable French effect. The plain tailored styles are much favored, with a touch of trimming here and there to give an added dash and tone. These stunning suits represent a perfection of tailoring undreamed of a year or two ago; in fact, one could not find a detail to improve upon, from the beauty of the coat line, the cut of the skirt, the fineness of the silk lining to the tiniest button. The price range is complete, and runs as follows:

$25.00, $29.50, $37.50, 45.00, $55.00 and Up to $85.00

Charming New Lingerie Costumes

THESE delightfully dainty little gowns seem the very symbol of Spring in their attractive tints of rose, pale blue, while, lilac and tan, and the fluffy freshness of their exquisite lace trimmings. The assortmen includes an immense variety of extremely attractive styles, and the prices will certainly prove no impediment to their possession, varying from $15.00 to $45.00.

Silk and Net Gowns for Spring

EQUALLY appropriate for either afternoon or evening wear are these elaborate costumes of messaline, plain and novelty foulard, voiles, new grenadines and Bengalines; shown in many new shades, including the beautiful pastel shades. Also net gowns very richly and effectively adorned with handsome laces. It is impossible to give an accurate description of the constantly changing display of these fascinating costumes in our French Room, at $19.50, $25.00, $32.50, $45.00, and up to $75.00.

Fashion's Favorites The 3-Piece Suits

WE are showing a vast array of those ultra fashionable styles in stunning new coat effects, new colors and new trimmings. The more elaborate French models are handsomely braided and embroidered. The materials are serges, English worsteds, satin striped Princilla cloths, venetians and broadcloths. Every new Spring shade is here—olive, wistaria, mulberry, black, navy, tan, myrtle and gray. Prices $37.50, $45.00, $55.00, $67.50, $75.00 up to $185.00.

Our Glove Department
Offers Pleasing Suggestions for Spring

SEARCH where you will, it is impossible to find a more reliable and satisfactory place to buy gloves. Probably the most important factor in the remarkable prestige acquired by this department is the fact that one can always depend upon getting latest shades and the most approved styles. Everything new for Spring in street and evening gloves; suedes and glace; $1.50, $2.00 and $2.25.

Spring Has Arrived
With a Wealth of Pretty Waists

THE chic new tailored waists, with perhaps a touch of hand embroidery in white or dainty color effects, have many admirers, but the fascinatingly beautiful waists of lingerie mull, with their tempting profusion of finest lace trimmings, seem to have gained the strongest hold on the affections of womankind. The new arrivals in this department leave nothing to be desired in way of variety and price reasonableness.

New Coats for Spring
Delightfully Stylish and Clever in Effect

FOR dressy wear there is nothing more effective than the richly braided coats now being shown for Spring. The exceedingly popular white serge coats, with all the deft little touches of originality which lift them above the commonplace, are among the most favored of the new styles.

Dainty Ribbons and Veils
Were Never Shown in Such Profusion

IN fact, the designers of these charming dress accessories seem to have been fairly inspired by the beauty of the new Spring costumes, and have contrived to originate weaves and color effects which reveal new possibilities and will be sure to attract much favorable notice.

Our Windows the Style Criterion
For the Women of Southern California

THE new styles introduced and approved by this store, as displayed from day to day in our beautiful Broadway windows, determine what the smartest women in the city will wear. Indeed, you have only to keep in touch with this matchless panorama of the latest novelties to become acquainted with all the charming variations in which Dame Fashion indulges to satisfy the whims and caprices of her most ardent devotees. As a clever play is more interesting than the brightest of books, so this beautiful, moving style exhibit is far more illuminating than any article ever written on this most engrossing subject.

One of Pecan's Impo

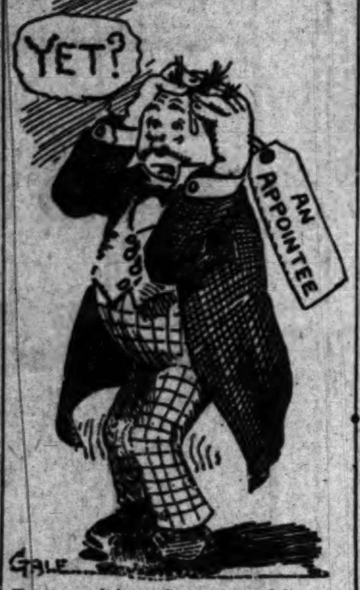
GOWN of petite pois voile of th transparent texture, made over a foundation of satin. The entire lavishly braided in rich scroll scroll pattern of braiding forming closely clinging skirt.

They looked perfectly shocked at every new extra edition.

The little newsboys contributed to the alarm with devilish ingenuity. They didn't know what it was all about, but they learned that if they yelled something about "resignation," and almost anybody's name, it "went fine;" so they had everybody resigning, from E. Tobias down to George Alexander.



Just waiting for something to drop.

Every new name stabbed some policeman to the heart. They went tient, whispered inquiries, "Is there any Mayor yet?" and wondering how the critter would stand on inspectors. Chameleons waiting for a hunch on the right color.

In divers rooms and committee halls, inspectors and others officeholders sat around and told one another that they always done their duty as they seen it.

"Very unfortunate," they murmured, "but they can't say we ever done anything wrong."

Every footstep that fell might be a Mayor! Each time that some new truth seeker entered the room they started and shuddered.

It's awful to know that you don't know whether your hair ought to be short or long, and one of the two dashing around trying to find an extra to fit the cries of the boys; no extra over an hour old was accepted as legal tender.

Over at the "tomb of reputations" on Broadway, scared attachés wandered around forlornly, making paways it is all to the bad.

With these terrified ones, came others—wan ghosts who have been hiding for a season or two; but who, at the resignation of Harper have ventured to come out and see how the munching is at the trough. These were the ones who guessed wrong at the last election.

For a day or two, at any rate, this this will be a town without a Mayor. Should the situation last long, it will be an asylum for insane job holders.

"AYE" VOTERS.

PARCELS-POST THEIR THEME.

ADVOCATES OF THIS SYSTEM TO HOLD CONVENTION.

It Is Contended That Its Adoption Would Add Twenty Millions to Uncle Sam's Revenues and Be of Great Advantage to Rural Residents.

Many advocates of the proposed parcels-post system will attend the meeting of the California branch of the National Postal League, tomorrow afternoon, in the Chamber of Commerce building, when, it is stated, the proposition will be discussed at length.

The organization favors the adoption of the system along the rural delivery routes, contending it would be of great advantage to persons living in the country and would add about $20,000,000 a year to the revenues of the postal department.

G. L. Beach, editor of the Scientific American, and president of the league, has been in the city several days, perfecting arrangements for the convention. He believes that there should be a revision of the postal tariffs, and expects that the subject will be taken up during the session of the Sixty-first Congress. It is claimed that the $17,000,000 deficit in the Postoffice Department last year, can be wiped out by proper legislation.

In connection with the convention, Edward Berwick of Pacific Grove, president of the State organization, calls attention to the following argument in favor of parcels-post:

"The first postal need of today is a rural service on a paying basis, with the elimination of the postal deficit of last year. A cheap general parcels-post will follow. Our immediate work is to secure the enactment into law of the House of Representatives resolution No. 16,641 as amended, providing for a local service.

"This service includes collecting and delivering all mail matter from door to door within the different routes. The standard is about the size of a suit case, a box 6x12x24 inches, or a peach basket with a weight limit of twenty-five pounds. The rate should be a dime for a standard pack; 5 cents for the half-stand d, and 1 cent on a packet 1x6x12 inches.) Boxes of heavy cardboard carrying the printed names and numbers of rural delivery routes should be furnish.d at cost by the government.

"The posting of one 5-cent packet a week by the average farmer to and from the town where he sells his produce and buys his supplies, will insure a postal income of $10 a week per average route—more than $20,000,000 a year for the entire service.

Owing to present prohibitive rates, the average load of the carrier today weighs perhaps twenty-two pounds; the matter collected about two pounds. If the resulting income should be $10.64 a month, the average loss, after paying the carrier's monthly salary of $75, would be $64.36 a month for each route, or $30,000,000 a year for the 39,000 routes in operation."

Willis H. Booth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is to make an address of welcome.

BUSINESS MEN PAY.

Contribute to Agent of "Protective Association" and Afterward Suspect They've Been Stung.

R. A. Edwards, Master of Paradise Lodge, No. 74, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, yesterday issued a statement warning the public against agents of "The Train and Enginemen's Protective Association."

The association was organized in Los Angeles last November and has offices in the Mason building. In connection with its business it runs a small paper, and according to the statements of Edwards, it has collected a considerable sum of money from various politicians and business men in Los Angeles who supposed they were contributing to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which asks no money or aid from any one outside its ranks.

Edwards stated yesterday that agents of the association represented themselves to be affiliated with the Brotherhood of Trainmen in Los Angeles, and for that reason were able to make the collections. He further stated that the association is connected in no way with the lodge, and that any representation to that effect is false. He has the names of a number of business men who contributed and believe they were imposed upon.

GUNBOAT SAVER?

Little Man Arrested on Intoxication Charge Says Lincoln Complimented Him Highly.

"Abe Lincoln said I was the bravest man in the world," said a diminutive German arrested yesterday morning on a charge of intoxication. He gave his name as August Baker, and said he is a national character.

When the officers tried to put him in jail he fought with wonderful vigor, considering his small stature and age, and had to be carried to the tanks.

Baker told the officers that he saved one of the Federal gunboats from destruction at the risk of his life in 1862, and that President Lincoln complimented him for the courageous act.

BEAUTIFUL BUST

50c Package FREE to Any Woman Who Lacks Full Development

The great physical charm of woman is a firm, full, well-developed bosom and nothing is so humiliating and makes her so self-conscious as a thin, flat, undeveloped figure.

One of the leading women physicians in New York State, trying to overcome the defects of her own figure, fortunately found a new principle or rather a happy combination of tissue-building elements that increased her bust some four inches, made her arms round and shapely, and her neck and shoulders plump and symmetrical. This prescription was a real discovery, on far different lines from the ordinary, figure-developing treatment, and this explains its great success.

Dr. Catherine Kelly not only gained a beautiful form by her own prescription, but used it successfully with many of her patients. To show you why Dr. Kelly's Form Developer succeeds where the ordinary treatments fail, we want to send you a 50-cent package free of charge, feeling sure that it will prove that the Developer does all that is claimed for it. Women, this is a personal message from a physician of your own sex, and all we ask is the opportunity to show you, without any expense on your part, that her Developer will give you a perfect figure, beautiful complexion, and improve the general health.

TALKS ON TEETH

BY THE REX DENTAL CO. (Incorporated.)

WANTED— First-Class Dentistry

The most expensive thing in the world is poor dentistry. An ignorant dentist can do more harm in one hour than all the good dentists in the land can repair in a lifetime.

The trouble is that when the harm is done, or when teeth are gone, they are gone forever. There is no such thing as repairing the damage, or feeling sorry or trying all over again.

Dentistry must be done well in the beginning.

The great specialty of this company is known as the "Alveolar Method" (supplying missing teeth without the aid of plates.)

In almost every instance we get the desperate cases. We are the court of last resort.

In a majority of cases we are asked to restore a full set of upper or lower teeth when there are but two teeth left in either jaw to work from.

Suppose we were to bungle such work! When we put this work in the mouth it is in to stay. The Alveolar teeth are as solid as a rock, otherwise they would not work.

Is not ours a dental office that calls for first-class dentistry?

Assuredly yes.

Our business has grown from one office to where at the present time we have magnificently appointed offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, and more in prospect in other cities.

Did this great dental business come by accident, or through giving first-class dentistry to those who trusted themselves to the care of our specialists?

Certainly the latter. Read the following letter, which bears out all we have said before:

BETTER THAN NATURE'S TEETH.

Jan. 25, 1909.
The Rex Dental Co., 203 Severance Bldg.
Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen: About eight months ago I called upon you and you placed some of your Alveolar teeth in my mouth. They have been more than satisfactory, and it gives me great pleasure to tell you of the comfort they have afforded me. They are in perfect condition, and I should not be able to do without them. They look and feel just like my own, and I appreciate what you have done for me by your Alveolar System.

Gratefully yours,
MRS. ELINOR MANSFIELD,
2151 Maple Avenue.

We do not ask our readers to take our unsupported testimony for the work we do.

Every operator in all of our offices is a specialist, therefore your work will be done more quickly and with more comfort to you than you have ever experienced before in any dentist's office.

We invite you to call and allow our examining dentist to look your teeth over. Do not get the idea that by so doing you must have some work done. We cannot tell you what we can do for you until the examination is made. Then it rests entirely with you as to whether or not you will employ us.

The "Alveolar Method" you cannot obtain elsewhere. We own that method.

There is no other plan of restoring missing teeth without plates or ordinary (painful) bridge work, but the "Alveolar Method."

It is wonderful. The next best thing to growing a new set of natural teeth.

If you can't come to see us at this time send for "Alveolar Dentistry," our illustrated book which tells all about the new method. We send it free.

But by all means come and see us if you are near enough.

That is the best plan.

a graduate of the Boston "Tech." He is in the local engineer service.

ARMY BACHELORS.

One of the few bachelors of the local army set is Lieut. Arthur Ehrnbeck, also in the engineer service. Speaking of bachelors reminds one of Col. Biddle, who has charge of the engineering department of the whole western coast, from Alaska to San Diego, and is said to be the most notable bachelor in the United States Army. Col. Biddle's occasional visits to Los Angeles are social events, welcomed by the whole army contingent, though he is past the heyday of youth. He is a member of the aristocratic Biddle family of Philadelphia, and a great favorite in Washington. Col. Biddle was best man at the wedding of Miss Helen Chaffee early in the season, and one would scarcely like to ask him how many times he has acted in this capacity.

One of the few army girls in this city this winter is Miss Eleanor Green, daughter of Col. Frank Green of the Signal Corps, stationed at Atlanta. Mrs. Green and her daughter are at the Loomis Hotel. Miss Green is a delightful type of the western army girl, with a wholesome vitality which survived one of the most dangerous adventures ever experienced on Mt. Wilson. Miss Green slipped and fell 1500 feet down the sheer mountain side a year ago, and had only a sprained ankle.

Maj. and Mrs. Elon Wilcox are again in Los Angeles, living on Halldale avenue. Mrs. Wilcox is glad to turn her back on the tropics, for while in Jolo, among the fierce Moros, she faced danger and possible death. Her book of experience is a full one. She was a great favorite in the Philippines. She and her small son count their admirers from the pock-mocked Sultan to the army striker.

SEVEN GENERALS.

"We are seven," say the brigadier-generals, retired, and living in Los Angeles at present. They are: Gens. George H. Burton, John G. Chandler, Argalus G. Hennisee, James E. Macklin, Theodore F. True, Charles D. Viele and Palmer G. Wood. Next September there will be eight. Then Col. Owen Jay Sweet will be retired with the rank of brigadier-general, and will come to make his home in this city where his wife and daughter are already located.

In speaking of this officer the St. Paul Pioneer Press says:

"Next September Col. Sweet, most popular officer that Uncle Sam ever sent to this State, will be mustered out of the service after forty-seven years of duty. Veteran of one hundred battles, he is today the senior colonel of the infantry in the army, and has had longer commissioned service than any man on the active list, except Gen. MacArthur. He has passed through every commissioned grade in the army up to his present rank, during all of which time has never filed an application for advancement and since the day the Union troops were mustered out in 1865 has never visited Washington."

"When the opera bouffe promotions and appointments made in 1898 and the years immediately succeeding the Spanish War are recalled, this man's record seems like a draught of clean air."

Col. Sweet intends to build a home in Los Angeles. There is to be a beautiful music room in it, for he has promised this to his daughter, Mrs. Marie Sweet Baker, as a tribute to her marked musical talent.

ROYAL ADMIRER.

Mrs. Baker will be remembered as the girl to whom the Sultan of Jolo proposed. He fell in love with her picture which the Governor, her father, had with him in those far-off and newly-acquired possessions. The royal lover sent two splendid pearls to the seventeen-year-old American girl by way of a declaration, and when his suit failed to prosper, his mother sent one of her own hats to help the situation. Mrs. Baker still has the hat, but she has never worn it.

Heading the list of retired notables here is Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, highest ranking officer. His chief aide, the gracious little lady who is his life partner, is the social arbiter of the army circle in Los Angeles. When Miss Helen Chaffee was married a short time ago there was a great gathering of the clans, and more gold lace and epaulettes than had been seen here in many a long day.

There was one disappointed officer however, on that occasion. Gen. Theodore E. True, who was retired as a brigadier-general, thought to don the uniform of his rank for the first time in honor of Gen. Chaffee's popular daughter. But the fates were against him, for the uniform arrived minus the epaulettes. Search was made throughout the city for a pair of general's epaulettes, but not even the theatrical costumers had any but tarnished specimens, and the officer attended the wedding in civilian clothes.

ON THE RETIRED LIST.

In calling the roll of superior officers retired and living in this city, Gen. George H. Burton is first on the alphabetical list, and one of the late comers. His daughter, Mrs. Wells, is living with her parents on Elden avenue. The other daughter, a rarely beautiful girl, married the son of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, who is stationed at Ft. Riley. She was greatly admired during her recent visit to Los Angeles.

Every one knows and loves Gen. John G. Chandler, financial secretary of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral.

Gen. and Mrs. Palmer G. Wood are spending the winter in Los Angeles and are located on West Washington street. Since the loss of their home in San Francisco, and the sadder loss of two sons in the service, one in the Philippines and the other in Cuba, Gen. and Mrs. Wood have spent conter, Mrs. Eugene Swift, whose husband is a retired major in the army list.

Gen. and Mrs. Argalus Hennisee are living in Los Angeles, and the rest of the official list includes Lieut. Marshall M. Cloud, Maj. Charles C. De Rudio, Lieut.-Col. William H. Hamner, Lieut.-Col. William Hawley, Lieut. Samuel V. McClure, Capt. Edward I. Grumley, Chaplain Henry H. Hall, Chaplain Orville J. Nave, Capt. John A. Payne, Maj. W. I. Sanborn and last but not least, Maj.-Gen. John Story.

ARMY HOME.

The home of Gen. and Mrs. Viele is one where every army officer, his wife and remotest connection may find sympathy and hospitality. The pink-cheeked youthful little lady who always wears the crossed sabers of the First Cavalry, bearing a great topaz pendant with the cavalry color deep in its heart, is head of the local branch of the Army Relief Society.

This society was organized just after the Spanish War to aid the families of the men who suffered, and prominent women in New York and Washington took the initiative. The annual football game between West Point and Annapolis nets a certain amount for this relief work, and the branches all over the country pay dues. The yearly tea of the local branch at the Viele home is a delightful reunion of army women, for only army women have remained faithful to the work.

There is another form of relief which knows Mrs. Viele, for she spends two days each week with the little ones at the Children's Hospital. She is as well-beloved among the suffering little people as she is in the larger world of the church and society.

Gen. Story is a frequent visitor at the Viele home, where he confides to this lover of children the latest news from Belgium, where his daughter, formerly Carrie Story, lives. She is married to a Belgium officer of high rank, and has five little sons of her own, so of course there is much to talk about.

Among the retired forces here are the widow of Maj. Wilkinson and her family. Maj. Wilkinson was that good soldier and friend of the Indians who was treacherously slain by a redskin before the last great Indian battle near Ft. Snelling in 1898. There are Gen. and Mrs. Rodney at Hollywood, also well known in army circles. Their son, George A. Rodney, has written many stories of army life.

One is not properly a member of the retired list until he has obtained a diploma from Mrs. William L. Edgar of West Washington street. This quaint little lady lost her husband many years ago when he was on the high road to become surgeon-general of the United States army. Since that time she has adopted all army people for her own and is a military blue book worth consulting.

NIGHT MAIL TO WESTLAKE.

Late Postal Delivery Extended to the Fourteen Hotels of That Section of City.

On account of the popularity of the night delivery recently installed in the downtown and hill district, it was decided to extend that service to the Westlake district, and the service was instituted Friday evening. The carrier will make night delivery to all the leading hotels in the Westlake district.

This has proven one of the most popular innovations the postoffice has made as it gets to our eastern visitor his mail which does not arrive in this city until after 6 p.m. Owing to the train service, the carrier will leave the office about 9 p.m.

Following is the list of hotels in the Westlake district to which this night service has been extended: Westmore, Fulton, Netherlands, Cabria Union, Pepper, Burlington, Westlake, Alvarado, Leighton, Lake View, Hershey Arms, Ingraham Apartments, Bixel Apartments, and Loomis Apartments.

BURGLARS RIDE LOOT.

Select Best Motorcycles in Store, Steal Gasoline Also, and Travel Swiftly Away.

The A. T. Hamilton Company's store at No. 981 South Main street was entered by burglars shortly before daylight yesterday, and motorcycles, valued at several hundred dollars, were taken.

the automobile line is evident from the fact that they selected the best motorcycles in the house, and rode swiftly away on them. They also stole enough gasoline to run the machines.

Entrance was obtained by breaking in a panel in the rear door. The noise made by the burglars was not heeded by neighbors, and the loss was not discovered until the store was opened yesterday morning.

NEBRASKA REUNION.

The Nebraska Society of Southern California will hold a reunion picnic at Redondo next Saturday. All Nebraska people are invited to bring their lunch and have a good time. Tickets will be on sale in advance at the office of the secretary, M. M. Davison, No. 206 Wilcox building. Special cars will leave the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway station, No. 217 West Second street, at 9:30 a.m. A programme has been arranged and there will be speaking and music.

SECURES SHOE EXPERTS.

The new shoe firm of Hollander & Funke has secured the services of experts in its store. One of these is Edward Difani, thirteen years manager and buyer for Cummings, and another is A. S. Loud, who was eight years in the same store.

[illegible] this is for the man [illegible] the full measure of [illegible] to cut out of his [illegible] industrial [illegible] the results of that [illegible] to Mother [illegible] of her bounties.

"Own Your Boss and Have a Job for Life" must be the motto that shall guide him.

He must own a piece of land where his home can be permanently established and where he will never be disturbed by a rent collector.

That solves the problem of SHELTER.

He must produce from his own land as the result of his own labor the larger part of everything needed as food for the family.

That solves the problem of FOOD.

From the disposition of the surplus product of his land he will easily provide means to clothe his family.

That solves the problem of RAIMENT.

The public school system solves the problem of EDUCATION.

In any well organized and closely settled community the public schools will give every needed educational training.

An intelligent, industrious and thrifty man, in a well-organized community of garden farmers, after all this has been provided, can make from his "Homecroft" a net annual profit of from five hundred to fifteen hundred dollars. This he can accumulate from year to year as an insurance against accident and accumulate a competence in his old age.

Why do not more men adopt this plan of life, instead of being contented to be mere cogs in the wheels of industry, living from hand to mouth on wages that barely furnish a subsistence for a family?

The reason is not far to seek.

They lack the training, the skill, and, above all, the power of organization to transform a tract of land into a community of Homecrofters.

Raw land is like the crude iron ore from which the locomotive was finally evolved.

Land ready for cultivation, in an irrigated country, provided with a complete irrigation system, and an assured water supply, is by comparison in the same class as the manufactured iron and steel from which the locomotive builder made the locomotive.

The Value of Organization

The value of the Garden Farm or "Homecroft" lies, primarily, not in the land. It lies in the knowledge, the intelligence, the thrift and the power of organization of the Homecrofter who cultivates it, and in the capacity for co-operation of the Community of Homecrofters of which he is one.

The entire Community of Homecrofters—the co-operative colony as a whole—is the thing that should be likened to the splendid and powerful modern locomotive when compared in value with the iron ore or the iron and steel from which it was finally evolved by the locomotive builder.

The raw land with no one to till it is practically valueless.

The land made ready for cultivation, and provided with a complete irrigation system, has only a prospective value.

Five acres of land that will furnish shelter, food and raiment for a family, and over and above that enable its owner and cultivator to lay by from $500 to $1500 a year, proves the slogan that—

"Five acres beats five dollars a day."

Wages or a salary equivalent to five dollars a day means an income, if the employment is steady and continuous, of $1500 a year.

From this income, rent must be paid, and all the food consumed by the family must be bought by those who live in cities.

A capital of $20,000, yielding a net interest or revenue of 6 per cent. per annum would produce an income of $1200 a year.

A Garden Farm or Homecroft yielding an income of $500 to $1500 a year over and above all family living expenses is worth to the man who owns and cultivates it as much as a capital of $20,000 would be worth to a man who made his living by loaning out his money and lived on the interest on that amount of capital.

But nine-tenths of the value of the Garden Farm would lie in the man who cultivated it and in the co-operative community of which he was a member.

There are tens of thousands of men in the United States with capital enough to buy the land and completely establish a Homecroft on a five-acre garden farm who lack only initiative and leadership to transform a capital of $2000 in money into a combination of Land and Brains and Labor having a value to them equivalent to a capital of $20,000, an increase of ten times the original amount.

[illegible] at work, filling the canal with 250 inches of [illegible] water from an inexhaustible underground source

A Rural Settlement Project

The Rural Settlements Association proposes to furnish that initiative and leadership, and the opportunity to secure the land and create the Co-operative Community that will increase tenfold the value of his capital for the man who has $2000 with which to establish himself in a home of his own on a five-acre garden farm.

The plans of the association are the result of many years of study and investigation. The location for the first demonstration has been chosen in a section of the west that has greater possibilities of future growth and development than any other section—the Salt River Valley in Arizona.

The irrigated area of all of Southern California, outside of the Imperial country, is not greater than the area that will be made irrigable by the completion of the great government irrigation system now under construction for the Salt River Valley. That system will bring at least 250,000 acres under irrigation in that valley. The country is now sparsely populated and in the infancy of its development. Those who come to it now will see the marvels that have already been worked in Southern California duplicated in the Salt River Valley.

Government Irrigation Works

The great Salt River reservoir, with the Granite Reef diversion dam and the canal system and electrical power plants and transmission lines, are being rapidly pushed to completion by the United States Reclamation Service, and will be completed within two years. Twenty-six thousand electrical horse power will be developed. The Salt River reservoir will form a lake covering 16,329 acres of land, the largest artificial lake in the world. On this great work the national government is expending about six million dollars, which will be repaid by the land owners under the irrigation system. When repaid in ten equal annual payments without interest, the land owners will own the entire works and system. The average acreage charge will be about $40 an acre. On five acres this would be a total of $200, or $20 a year for ten years. Then the Homecrofter becomes a co-owner forever in the whole great system of irrigation and electrical power originally constructed by the national government.

A drop in the Canal which forms the northern boundary of the Homecroft Acres Tract. This Canal is one of the oldest in the Valley, and is now a part of the Government Irrigation System supplying water for Homecroft Acres.

The Salt River Valley lies in the central part of Arizona. Phoenix, the capital of the Territory of Arizona, is the principal city of the valley. It is reached by the Santa Fe railroad system from the north by way of Ash Fork and Prescott. On this railroad two trains daily from and to Phoenix connect with the regular overland trains of the Santa Fe route, east bound and west bound, at Ash Fork. On the Southern Pacific system connection is made with the regular overland trains at Maricopa. The completion of extensions now building by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroad systems will place Phoenix on a through overland line.

Fertility of the Salt River Valley

The Salt River Valley is one of the most fertile regions of the earth. Every known product of the temperate zone can be produced there, as well as many semi-tropical fruits and crops. Citrus fruits flourish and mature so early in the season that Arizona oranges bring the highest price in the eastern market. The date palm is successfully cultivated. The olive industry, including both olive oil and pickled olives, is well established. There are several large ostrich farms in the valley and the success and profitableness of that industry have been demonstrated beyond question. All kinds of deciduous fruits yield bounteous crops. The country is peculiarly adapted to successful dairying. Alfalfa is probably the leading staple crop of the country. Small fruits, berries, asparagus, potatoes, celery, sugar beets, cantaloupes, water melons and practically every kind of garden vegetable are successfully grown. The beet sugar factory at Glendale furnishes a market for the sugar beet growers of the valley. Bee keeping is an established industry, and the honey raisers of the valley work together through a well organized association. The success of poultry raising by the few who have embarked in that industry has made it a most attractive one for newcomers to the valley. The local production is far below the local demand, and no section of the country offers greater inducements to the poultry raiser than the Salt River Valley.

The "Homecroft Acres" Tract

About four years ago, as soon as it was definitely and positively known that the great Salt River reservoir would be constructed by the national government, a representative of the Rural Settlements Association examined the lands of the valley from one end to the other, and selected with great care a quarter section of land as being the land best adapted for the culture of berries, small fruits and vegetables to be found in the valley. The land is located one mile east from the end of the car line, at the eastern end of Washington street, the main street of the city of Phoenix. The Southern Pacific Railroad from Phoenix to Maricopa runs along the northern line of the quarter section. It is generally understood that the cars are now being built and will be ready for operation in the spring for a railroad gasoline motor car service over these tracks from Phoenix to Mesa. This will establish a local service that will bring "Homecroft Acres" within ten minutes of the center of the city of Phoenix, and the property will become suburban property within a year, although it was originally purchased without any reference to this fact. The advantage of this motor car service, however, largely enhances the desirability of the location as a place of residence. The schools, churches, public library and finely stocked stores of the city of Phoenix, in every line of trade, are brought within a few minutes' trip from the home on "Homecroft Acres," without even the trouble of "hitching up to go to town."

The most convenient point for the location of the station for the railroad motor service for this section of the country will be at the northwest corner of the quarter section comprising "Homecroft Acres." The county road which there crosses the railroad is a section line road, extending clear across the valley from the Salt River to the mountains. On the northeast corner of "Homecroft Acres" is located the pumping plant on the property, hereafter described. Across the road from the southeast corner is the celebrated Black strawberry farm, and just across the road at the southwest corner is the public school, a well built brick structure.

Rich Garden Land

The land itself is an alluvial loam, rich in every quality necessary for the most successful production of berries, fruits and vegetables. It is in the section known as the "Garden Belt," where several successful garden and berry farms have long been established.

In the past, any large development of the gardening industry or of berries or small fruits on a large scale has been held in check by the shortage of summer water under the old irrigation systems taking water directly from the Salt River. Under the old canal system, water for irrigation is furnished once in eight days. This is not often enough for gardening or berry culture during the summer months. The government reservoir will remove that obstacle to the enlargement of these industries in the valley. The completion of that reservoir within two years is absolutely assured. Actual construction work has been under way for fully three years. The government has taken over and now controls the entire canal system of the valley and has recently completed the great diversion dam at Granite Reef.

The Homecroft Acres tract has appurtenant to the land one of the very oldest and best water rights in the valley. The canal from which this right entitles the land to water runs along the northern boundary of the land between the railroad track and Olive avenue, which has been opened from the county road at the northwest corner of the land to the pumping plant on the northeast corner. The transmission line for electrical power from the government power plant at the reservoir is now being built from the reservoir dam to Phoenix. The great steel poles, each set in its bed of concrete, have been erected clear into the city and the line of their construction follows the county road, which is the southern boundary of Homecroft Acres. This great development of electrical power will make possible its adaptation to the inexpensive operation of pumping plants in those sections of the valley having an underground water supply. The abundance and cheapness of electrical power will undoubtedly in the future stimulate the construction of trolley systems in different parts of the valley. A new trolley line from Phoenix to Mesa, running south of "Homecroft Acres," is now being surveyed and promoted.

Abundant Water Supply

When the Salt River reservoir is completed, the original canal right belonging to "Homecroft Acres" will be supplemented by the reservoir right issued by the national government to each and every acre of land in the tract. In the interval pending the completion of the reservoir and to make it possible to begin now and without any delay the development of a colony of garden farmers on the Homecroft Acres tract, a pumping plant has been built that will furnish an abundance of supplemental water, not only for Homecroft Acres, but for three additional quarter sections, in all 640 acres. A group of three large bored wells was sunk to a depth of 150 feet. A pump pit was excavated to a depth of twenty feet, at which level the wells are connected by a tunnel so that the pump draws from all three wells simultaneously. The average water level when the pump is in operation is thirty-two feet from the surface of the ground. The pump is operated by a Fairbanks-Morse gasoline engine of sixty-horse power. It pumps 250 inches of water from an inexhaustible source of supply. That source of supply is the underflow from the Salt River.

The construction of this pumping plant makes the water supply for "Homecroft Acres," in any amount that may be needed, and at any time it may be needed, night or day, summer or winter, an absolutely assured fact. The value of this to the gardener, the berry grower and the small fruit raiser can hardly be overestimated. There are few sections of the West where so complete a guarantee of a sufficient and abundant water supply for all purposes, at all times, can be found.

Co-operation

The success of the five-acre farmer depends so largely upon co-operation, particularly in the marketing of products, that careful consideration has been given to this subject in the plans for the colony at "Homecroft Acres." One of the first difficulties that confronts the five-acre farmer in establishing his place is the necessity for the use of the larger tools and implements that he needs to use but rarely. To overcome this obstacle, a large central barn is now being built, where horses, wagons, plows, harrows, disks and practically all the larger farm implements may be hired by the colonists from a co-operative association, of which they themselves will comprise the membership. This association has been regularly incorporated. One share in the association will go with each acre of ground. All the tools which have been used in cultivating the land, leveling the fields, building the ditches and laterals, putting in the borders and grading the avenues during the last three years will go with the land to this co-operative association. A strip of two acres of land, centrally located, has been reserved as an industrial center for the operations of this co-operative association. It is designed that through it the colonists will unite and work together in the purchase of supplies, seed, plants and trees for planting, and in conducting through well established and successful co-operative methods the disposition to the very best advantage of the products of their garden farms. In this way milk, butter, eggs, berries, asparagus, fruits, both fresh and dried, and in fact every product of the garden farm can be disposed of to better advantage and at a better profit than is possible for a single farmer or producer of that class.

Diversified, Intensive Gardening

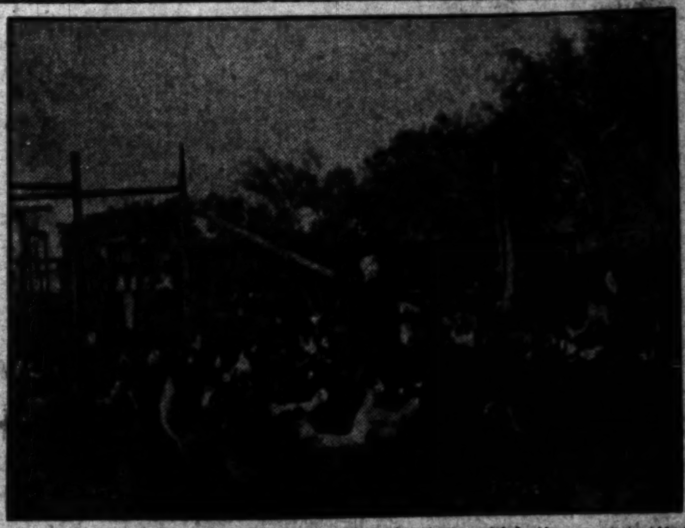
Every member of the colony will, of course, be free to plant and raise whatever he chooses, but the effort will be made, with every assurance of success, to furnish the necessary guidance and instruction to the colonist in the selection of what they will raise that will be most profitable and for their best interests. The first thing to be considered should be the supplying of the home table with fruits, berries, vegetables, honey, butter, milk, eggs and poultry. The garden and the orchard should be made to furnish their greatest diversity of products extending through the year, for home consumption. And in this connection the fact should not be overlooked that in the climate of the Salt River Valley, one crop may follow another, and several different crops may be raised on the same piece of ground in the same year. When the question of supplying the home table with everything needful through every season of the year has been fully worked out, the next thing is to decide what staple crops the Homecrofter shall plan to produce on his five acres. Experience has demonstrated that strawberries, blackberries, asparagus, deciduous and citrus fruits, vegetables, alfalfa and poultry are prolific and profitable crops. The estimates here given of acreage production are much below the actual results accomplished by men who have such crops now growing in the valley.



Poultry Farm of D. C. Warren, near Phoenix, from which the owner netted in 1908 a profit of $800 from 300 hens.

Attractive Profits

The following is suggested as an outline of a plan for the diversification of the products of a five-acre homecroft which will scatter the labor of the owner through the seasons so as to equalize it to best advantage from the beginning to the end of the year. That is the fundamental secret of success for the garden farmer. The man who plans his work so as to utilize his own labor to the very best advantage through the year will earn the largest profit from the five-acre farm. One acre in strawberries should produce a yearly profit of over $500. One acre in blackberries, $500. One acre in asparagus, $250. One acre in orchard of selected deciduous and citrus fruits, $250. This leaves one acre for house and outbuildings, with vegetable garden and for a cow and poultry yard, with a plot of alfalfa, from all of which at least $250 more should be annually earned, making a total of $1750.

The foregoing estimates are over and above everything that the family would consume on their own table, and are conservative estimates. A poultry yard with 250 hens may be kept, and a hive of bees should furnish honey for the family. One horse and one cow are enough for such a place, and so much of the time the horse would not be needed for the garden work that the same horse would serve all ordinary needs of the family for a driving horse. The bicycle would take the place of the horse on many occasions. The center of the city of Phoenix may be reached from Homecroft Acres in fifteen or twenty minutes on a bicycle.

Local Improvements

The work of improvement on the land comprising the Homecroft Acres tract has gone steadily forward ever since its purchase. A county road bounds the land on the west and south. On the east an avenue has been opened, the co-terminus owner giving one-half of the necessary land. On the north line of "Homecroft Acres," parallel with the canal and the railroad, Olive avenue has been opened and graded and planted with palms and olives. Through the center of the tract and parallel with Olive avenue, a sixty-foot avenue called Palm avenue has been opened and also planted with alternate palms and olive trees. The owners of adjoining lands for half a mile on the east and a mile on the west have expressed their desire and intention to open Olive avenue and Palm avenue through their lands, which will extend these beautiful driveways for a distance of two miles to a point where they will connect, after crossing the railroad, with Washington street and Jefferson street at East Lake Park, the present terminus of the Phoenix street-car line.

A complete group of buildings for the use of the co-operative industrial association—barn, vehicle shed, carpenter and blacksmith shop, agricultural implement and wagon sheds and a superintendent's house and quarters for the men employed on the place—are now under construction and will soon be completed.

Price of the Land

A domestic water supply system, from which domestic water will be furnished to every five-acre tract, will be completed during the coming summer. A system of tanks will be erected with elevation sufficient to furnish fire pressure. The water will be piped to every five-acre tract. The pumping plant already constructed, with all rights to the water from the wells for irrigation and domestic use, and the domestic water supply plant, tanks, pipes, etc., will be owned by a co-operative water association, with 640 shares, one for each acre. One share of stock in the co-operative water association and one share of stock in the co-operative industrial association will go with each acre of land sold in "Homecroft Acres" and be included in the price of the land.

The price of the land in the Homecroft Acres Tract, with all improvements, including the cost of the domestic water supply system and also including the acre-shares in the co-operative water association and the co-operative industrial association, and all water rights now appurtenant to the land under the old canal system, and the right to acquire the reservoir right from the government, on completion of the reservoir, will range from $250 to $300 an acre. It is safe to say that nowhere in the whole Southwest can better value be found in the purchase of land, for the purposes to which this tract has been devoted, than at this particular location in the Salt River Valley.

Any further details or information regarding the property may be had by addressing or calling personally on the Rural Settlements Association, 632 Pacific Electric Building, Los Angeles, California.

Some Reasons Why

The Value of Your Investment in the "Homecroft Acres" Tract Will Double in Two Years, and Quadruple In Five Years

BECAUSE a family can live comfortably and independently and lay up money besides, on five acres of this "Homecroft Acres" garden land by raising berries, fruits, vegetables and poultry.

BECAUSE a five-acre tract in "Homecroft Acres" which can now be bought for from $250 to $300 an acre, will be selling for $500 an acre within two years in one-acre tracts for Suburban Homes in what will then be a close-in and highly developed suburb of the rapidly growing City of Phoenix.

BECAUSE the National Government has already expended $5,850,000 in building the most magnificent irrigation system in the world, for the irrigation of the Salt River Valley, and will expend between two and three million dollars more in its completion within the next two years. With the great National Irrigation Dam at Tonto Basin and the Granite Reef Diversion Dam, it will irrigate from one source of supply and with one vast irrigation system, and furnish electric power for an area in the Salt River Valley larger than the whole irrigated area of Southern California outside of the Colorado River Country.

BECAUSE the lands of the Salt River Valley are of surpassing fertility and the climate has all the mildness and fascination of the climate of the Southern Shores of the Mediterranean. It is a land of almost perpetual sunshine, where life may be lived out of doors all the year around.

BECAUSE the health-giving and health-restoring miracles that have been worked by that climate, coupled with the splendid National Irrigation Reservoir and Irrigation System now under construction by the National Government, will make the Salt River Valley world-famous, and attract a dense population to till its fertile lands. The marvelous growth of Southern California will be repeated in the Salt River Valley, which is now in the pioneer stage of its development.

The purchase price of a five-acre tract at "Homecroft Acres," including all improvements and appurtenant water rights and five acre-shares in the pumping plant and domestic water supply system, is $1250 to $1500, payable one-fourth cash and balance in one, two and three years, with interest at seven per cent. on deferred payments. No land will be sold except to purchasers who intend to improve and make a home on the land.

OLDEN TYPES GAIN FAVOR.

Our Architecture Drifts Toward the Classical.

Strong Tendency Is Noted in That Direction.

More Liberal Expenditures Make It Possible.

That there is a strong drift toward the pure classical styles of architecture in Los Angeles and Southern California is noted by local architects, who hail it as an omen of better things for the profession. Various reasons are assigned for this tendency. Some speak of it as a "fad," which they liken to the craze for the Romanesque, started by the New York architect, Richardson, which was so popular fifteen to twenty years ago, and of which there are several good examples in this city. The majority, however, regard the present high favor of the classics as a matter of education.

Public taste has been improved, they say, of late years, and they trace it back to the Chicago World's Fair of 1893.

MORE MONEY FOR BUILDINGS.

Another important reason for the tendency to the pure classical styles is seen in the willingness of builders to expend more money and to rear structures of a monumental character. This idea of permanency comes with the gradual settling of conditions in a country which has heretofore been engrossed in the development of its own wonderful resources. For monumental buildings architects generally agree that the classical styles are the only proper ones to follow. No one, it is declared, has been able to improve upon the five original orders—the Tuscan, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian and Composite—and their modifications of the renaissance period.

While the classical styles are not adapted to the general design of buildings for commercial use, they have been freely employed in the ornamentation of many of the best blocks erected in Los Angeles within the last few years. Cornices, columns, pediments and mouldings, correct in details and proportions, are quite common. A notable attempt, however, and which a good many architects agree has been successful, has been made to carry out the classical to its fullest extent in the Pacific Mutual Life building at Sixth and Olive streets. This structure, which was designed for office purposes, is Corinthian, with Roman details in the entablature and the added so-called attic story.

OTHER EXAMPLES.

Another notable example, but not so recent, and which did not offer so many obstacles, is the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank building at Fourth and Main streets, which is also Corinthian. One of the purest examples of this order, however, is the new Christian Science temple now being completed on West Adams street. The Polytechnic High School furnishes one of the best of the Ionic type.

Several palatial dwellings now in course of construction show the drift toward the classical in residence architecture. Among these may be mentioned the H. E. Huntington country mansion on the Los Robles ranch, which is designed in the Italian renaissance.

NATIONAL TEAM WORK.

Discussing this latter-day drift in architectural styles, Myron Hunt, of the firm of Hunt & Grey, who designed the Huntington residence, said: "Any local trend toward classical design in architecture should not be considered a local movement. It is a part of a movement which embraces the entire country. This national architectural movement is merely a part of the growth of the nation as a nation. That which is ordinarily referred to as classical in art and particularly in architecture is always an indication of national team work. The opposite to a classical movement in art is always backed by a spirit of individualism. The romantic schools represent the youth of a nation; the classical schools its maturity.

"The day of a Federal building or a county courthouse which shall boast of a differently shaped tower than any that was ever before conceived, and of a material of which no one ever before dreamed, is past. The nation has come to realize that it is not only strong and wealthy, but that others have been strong and wealthy before it. The people as a nation are consciously and unconsciously studying the arts, the entire philosophy of older peoples. It is only logical that we should make an effort to pick up the momentum of these older nations at the point where they dropped it or to help carry it on from the position where they are still at work."

REGARDS IT AS A FAD.

"The tendency toward the classical might be called a fad," said A. F. Rosenheim, who designed the Christian Science temple on Adams street. "It goes back to the Chicago World's Fair. Classical architecture has been the best, and the revival of interest in it indicates an improvement in the public taste. The movement which is now felt so strongly here started in the East. Larger and better buildings are now being erected and naturally the owners want the very best in architecture."

"It is purely a matter of public taste," said John A. Walls, of the firm of Morgan & Walls, who designed the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank building. "Architects, you know, must necessarily adapt themselves to conditions and circumstances. They cannot shoot over the heads of the people, but must give them what they want. Styles in architecture in these days are as much fads as styles in any other line. Fifteen or twenty years ago there was a rage for the Romanesque."

"The tendency toward the classical styles here is but a reflection of the architectural feeling throughout the country," said J. Parkinson, of Parkinson & Bergstrom. "The Pacific Mutual building is Corinthian, but it is not a pure type of the order throughout, because we had to consider commercial phases in the construction of the building. The attic story is higher than it should be to give the best proportions. Then, the order would call for columns instead of pilasters on the side. The front of the building is, however, pure Corinthian."

DATES FROM WORLD'S FAIR.

"The classic revival in this country dates from the world's fair at Chicago," said F. P. Burnham. "It has spread all over the East, and its influence is now being felt to a marked degree in Southern California. I have designed many public buildings and libraries in recent years, and I have worked principally along classical lines. The Christian Scientist temple now being erected in Pasadena is pure Greek Ionic. The Polytechnic High School building in Los Angeles is also an example of the Ionic. The drift toward the classical styles is due probably to a number of things. First, I should say there is a growing improvement in the public taste. Then the increasing variety and adaptability of building materials has also had its influence."

"Yes, there is no doubt a strong drift toward the classical," said Robert D. Farquhar. "People are willing to put more money into buildings now than formerly, and, of course, that gives the architects greater opportunities, for which they are very grateful. Nothing will ever supplant entirely the English country style so popular for residences, but for the formal home—the mansion, in other words—the Renaissance is now being extensively used."

L. A. Parker sees in the drift toward classical architecture here a reflection of the improvement in the public taste which has spread over the whole country. "For any monumental work the original classical orders are the only proper style of architecture," he said. "No one has been able to improve upon them. The strong drift toward the classical styles is due to an improvement in the public taste, to the fact that available building materials are being used to better advantage, and to the fact that persons desiring to build are willing to spend money to get the best in architecture."

"It is a matter of education, in my opinion," said J. C. Austin. "More money is now being spent on buildings and there is naturally a demand for better architecture, and the classical styles are the best."

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Shakespeare Alumni Entertained.

Members of the graduating class of 1908 entertained the Shakespeare Alumni of the Wednesday Morning Club with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Brown, No. 431 Eastlake avenue, Friday afternoon. The decorations were profuse and effectively arranged, with carnations, violets and ferns. A feature of the function was a quotation contest, beautiful prizes being awarded the successful guessers.

Mrs. Brown was assisted in receiving by Mmes. W. H. Fillmore, C. L. Robertson and A. V. Dunsmoor.

Members of the alumni who were present included: Mmes. C. H. Hubbard, H. C. Gower, H. E. Brett, J. B. Liversidge, W. H. Fillmore, A. V. Dunsmoor, Allison Barlow, C. S. Goodrich, F. M. Bickel, A. E. Hodgson, I. A. Douglas, M. A. Pierce, Frank Caldwell, H. H. Harrison, J. B. Foster, F. W. Fuller, M. B. Pitkin, W. H. Harrison, R. Sharp, Mary Pierce, A. W. Lagrange, F. E. Prior, C. L. Robertson and E. D. Park.

Galpin Shakespeare.

The Galpin Shakespeare Club met during the week in the Shakespeare room of Cumnock Hall. Mrs. Egelhoff-Rundell led the morning's study. The subjects discussed were "Late Elizabeth Literature" and the plays, "Antony and Cleopatra," "Julius Caesar" and "Timon of Athens."

Mrs. E. H. Barmore read an interesting paper on "More's Utopia," written by Mrs. Sherwood. Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald read a clever essay, her subjects being "Shakespeare" and "Bacon," while Mrs. J. L. Atkinson's offering was a good paper, the subject of which was "Life a Failure." Mrs. Juliet Wyman was on the programme for "Current Shakespearian Commentary." Questions and answers were an interesting feature.

The messenger and death scenes from "Antony and Cleopatra" were given by Mmes. J. Kahn, Helen Steckel, D. L. Clampett and Miss Fannie Smith.

Mrs. William Baurhyte made an earnest plea to the women of the club in behalf of the maternity cottage on Rio street, inviting them to look into the work done there, and to do what lies in their power to aid it.

ROOSEVELT CAMP'S BANQUET.

Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, will give a banquet at No. 220½ South Main street, Thursday evening. The G.A.R. Fife and Drum Corps will render patriotic airs.

Judge Wilbur and Dist.-Atty. Fredericks will deliver short addresses. All veterans are cordially invited.

ON "THE LIFE ABUNDANT."

An interesting lecture will be delivered at the Young Women's Christian Association on Monday evening by Mrs. May Wright Sewall on "The Life Abundant." It will be open to association members and their friends.

Two great May poles will be erected and 100 of the playground children will wind the particolored ribbons to the old English tunes played by the combined talent of playground band and orchestra. The afternoon will be devoted to the children's games and contests, and play will begin promptly at 2:15 o'clock, when the Drum and Bugle Corps of the Municipal Recreation Center will sound the call. One hundred and fifty little kindergartners will then march out in full view of the grand stand and will break up into a number of circles to play their prettiest games. The first and second grades will follow with rhythm games, and so on up the grades till the two local high schools will present athletic drills and marches, and various gymnastic stunts.

The Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association, Occidental College and the University of Southern California have been asked to take part. The evening will be given over to the grown people. The grounds will be brilliantly lighted, and a fifty-foot platform, decked with flags of all nations, will be the stage for the folk dances. Old Spanish dances will be presented, field and Mission dances, Russian figures will be given by the members of the local Russian colony. French people will dance the festival dances of that nation; there will be Highland flings to the skirling of the bag pipes, Irish clog dances, Dublin jigs, and many other features. Every nationality has been invited to give a special feature, and the Chinese and Japanese have been specially urged to take part.

This will not affect the production as the company will continue to send its shipping grade to the Western Ore Purchasing Company and have its milling grade treated probably at the Belmont mill. Exploration will be carried on more extensively than ever and the shaft will be deepened. Another report is to the effect that the MacNamara will pool interests with the Tonopah Extension and erect a mill.

A WEEK'S TONNAGE.

The tonnage of the week for the Tonopah mines is an infallible index to their working that reflects any decrease or increase in the number of men employed. Last week the total output was 5557 tons of an estimated value of $139,425, the values being based on $80 per ton for shipping ore and milling ore at $25. Of this amount the Tonopah company sent out 3150 tons, the Belmont 920, the Montana-Tonopah 757, the Midway 100, the MacNamara 250, West End 100 and the Jim Butler 300.

Ever since the Tonopah-Montana mill began operations the product has been in the form of precipitates and concentrates instead of the real bullion. This implied the expense of shipment and smelter charges which have been eliminated from the account on the wrong side of the ledger. The general superintendent has for months been working on a new type of retort which has at last been installed in the mill. It is the second of its kind in the world. This company will, for a time, continue to ship its concentrates which are running several hundred dollars to the ton but the precipitates will, hereafter, be treated on the ground. They run about $6 per pound and the semi-monthly clean up amounts to about two tons.

CHECKING HIGH GRADERS.

The Broken Hills mine at Helena, northeast of Tonopah, is making good at a rate that cannot be discounted. The company does not figure in the shipping list because the management has been devoting so much time to development that it has been compelled to cease taking out rock. The mere fact that the company has suffered losses from the depredations of high graders that will not fall short of $25,000 a month, is sufficient testimony to show what the company has in reserve. For over a month the main interest of the management has been devoted to the detection of the perfidious scoundrels who were enriching themselves at the expense of the stockholders, until now the company believes that it has an invincible check on further operations.

The reports from this property received this evening state that there are between 1000 and 1200 sacks of high grade awaiting shipment to the sampler at Miller's. This ore runs between $100 and $150 per ton and comes from a ledge that averages ten feet in width with pay values running as high as $1500. The latest development was of a phenomenal character. It had been decided to sink a new vertical shaft for economical operation only thirty feet away from the first one sunk. In doing the preliminary work the men ran into a ledge only fifteen feet from the surface where the values ran into the pictures. Some of the ore looked as if it has been taken from a jewelry shop. J. C. McCormack, president of the company, in speaking of the outlook, this evening, said:

"While we had sufficient reason to believe that we had found a good body of ore to warrant us in the further exploration of the ground we had no idea that we had anything such as we recently found which makes us assured of the highest class for regular shipments. The returns from former consignments from the same ground led us to believe that our averages would run in excess of $180 but this recent discovery means that we will be able to keep up this record for some time to come. We are sacking ore on three different places on our ground, and in the surface workings where the big values have been recently obtained we are down twenty-five feet with the values holding out remarkably well."

SEARCHLIGHT.

Leasing System Comes More Into Vogue and Several Are Granted.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SEARCHLIGHT (Nev.) March 12.—Leasing propositions are coming into vogue. The latest, and one that promises to be very important, is on the Quartette Company group at Fourth-of-July Mountain, three miles to the east. This has been taken over by Crittenden and Delameter, both well known locally—the former for his successful handling of the recently expired Duplex lease. Several hundred feet of development has been done on the property in question and some shipments made to the Quartette mill. There is some high grade in sight and this, taken in connection with the reputation of these leasers, leads to considerable expectancy.

Another Quartette group, situated about a mile northeast of town and known as the Boston-Quartette, was leased a few days prior, to Andy Toomey and associates. No work has been done on this for several years but it is known that a good grade of milling ore has been found on the surface.

The leasers on the Spokane continue daily sacking very rich stuff. As yet it is only in small seams but these frequently are fairly plastered with free gold. The deal is proving highly profitable from a wage standpoint and something big is thought to be imminent.

There was hauled through town the first of the week the forty-horse-power hoist and nine-horse-power electric for the Lenape Company—six miles north. Here the mine buildings, proper, are completed and another week will suffice to put the engines on their bases and to start sinking. Compressors, blower and Sullivan drills are already on hand. The management will not yet give out the result of recent experting of this ground by a mining engineer of national reputation, but it is known that for a new property it was quite unprecedented in its favorableness.

LOOKING TOWARD CONVENTION.

Friday night the members of La Grande Lodge Fraternal Brotherhood, had a feast in the banquet hall, and invited the Supreme officers to assimilate the refreshments; President Foshay, Dr. Pierce, Supreme Representatives Post, Neidig and others attended and made brief addresses. Lodge President Harvey Clements responded and promised the Supreme officers that La Grande Lodge will be well represented at the coming convention of the Supreme Lodge, to be held at Goldberg's Hall on the 23rd inst.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Ladies who are afflicted with superfluous hair growths should be careful in choosing a remedy. Always learn first what authorities know about a treatment before using it. Dr. Rhodes, the well-known physician, says: "In regard to DeMiracle, I find it the most satisfactory article for the removal of superfluous growths of hair on any part of the body that I have ever used. I have used it in a great many cases for the removal of objectionable growths of hair on the faces of ladies, and in no case has it ever failed to give me the most perfect satisfaction. It fulfills all the claims made for it by the manufacturers."

Better take a doctor's advice, don't be deceived with fake free treatments. Remember DeMiracle is the only method in the world which is endorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

DeMiracle mailed, sealed in plain wrapper, for $1.00. Your money back without question (no red tape) if it fails to do all that is claimed for it. A place that has been generously planned—in a situation unequaled for beauty and convenience—a place where you can have all the advantages of modern living—yet a place that is not spoiled, will not be spoiled, cannot be spoiled?

Take the Covina car at Pacific Electric station today. Ride 17 minutes on the big comfortable Covina cars.

Get off at Ramona Park.

That is the place.

Large Lots,—Beautifully Improved,—At Moderate Prices

Ramona Park is some 500 feet above the sea level. "Park" is a good name for it—it really IS a residence park. It is laid out to big wide streets—and they are GOOD streets. The lots are good, generous size lots—ranging from 50 feet in width up to HALF ACRES—level lots, ready to build on, some of them already planted with trees—looking out on to the broad streets, with fifteen-foot, tree-lined parkways.

In the distance are the mountains—and there is no other mountain view just like the one you see at Ramona Park. You can look clear into the second range. The view is magnificent.

Cool at Ramona Park in summer. To the south and east is a gap in the surrounding hills. Through it the southwest trade wind sweeps, and you can see the ocean and Catalina itself on a clear day.

Conveniences at Ramona Park are not "coming"—they have arrived. Pure mountain water piped through the Park. Gas in the streets—telephone service available. The Park has a well-stocked store and commodious store building, to which vicinity the business section will be confined.

And handsome residences are already in evidence—lived in by the class of people which makes good neighbors and good neighborhoods.

Lots at Ramona Park can be had at $500 and upward. Terms are moderate; satisfactory building restrictions are in force. Go out today. You will enjoy the trip—the place will impress you. You will find our representative on the ground, if you want information.

South American Water-power.

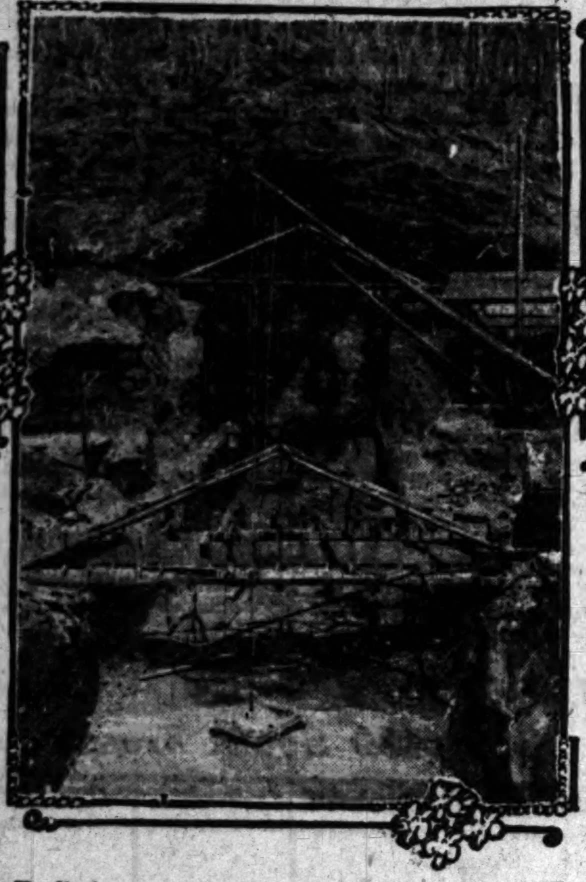
ABUNDANT OPPORTUNITIES FOR ELECTRICAL PRODUCTION IN CHILE.

[SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]



Preliminary work on an Andean power plant.

DURING a recent tour of South America the writer chanced to arrive in the interesting and progressive city of Santiago, at the height of the worst coal famine Chile had ever known. A heavily increased consumption, due to industrial expansion in all directions, and some very questionable tactics on the part of the government railway management in endeavoring to secure control of the local output, had conspired to bring about a big shortage in the country's coal supply at a time when the fierce "northers" that sweep the Chilean coast during the winter made it practically impossible for sailing vessels to venture there. Before a fleet of specially chartered steam colliers brought tardy and costly relief, all the good coal in the country had been completely exhausted, and the wretched pickings from the dumps of the Lota and Coronel mines were selling at the equivalent of $10, and even $12 in United States gold per ton.

In Santiago and Valparaiso electric cars ran on only three or four of the principal routes, and these were stopped early each afternoon in order to save coal to run the dynamos that furnished electricity for the few widely scattered street lights that were still kept burning. In the smaller cities of from twenty to a hundred thousand nihabitants, such as Talca, Chillan, Concepcion and Valdivia, conditions were even worse, passengers being conveyed only in cabs, while at night all the streets were in Stygian darkness.

It was in the midst of this period of Egyptian night that the German company holding the transportation and street-lighting concessions in Valparaiso completed and put in operation a modern installation of turbines, driven by water from a fall near Pañuelos, ten miles distant from the city. Something between five and six thousand horse-power became instantly available, as a result of which the streets and parks of the city blazed forth once more with light, and the trolley service was reëstablished with more cars and faster schedules than ever before. The rest of the country, wrapped in the cloak of darkness for another two months, had ample time to contemplate at leisure the example set for it, and to get the lesson to be learned therefrom well in mind for future reference.

For many weeks the most quoted remark to be heard on the west coast was the closing sentence of a statement made in a newspaper interview by an American engineer who chanced to be in Santiago at the time. After pointing out that Western South America had more favorable opportunity for the generation of electricity from water power than any other portion of the globe, he concluded by saying: "Under the circumstances, therefore, Chile, with all the fuss she has made over her loss and sufferings as a result of the coal famine, has about as much claim to sympathy as a man who stands up to his neck in a pool of clear water and cries for a drink because he is thirsty."

In the generation of electricity from water power the two great essentials are fall and continuity of supply. Given sufficient of both at a place within practicable transmitting distance of the points where the electricity is to be used, power from water may ordinarily be produced cheaply enough to enter into successful competition with that generated in a steam plant, even in such sections as New York State, and Washington, Oregon and California, in the West, where steam fuels of all descriptions may be bought at minimum prices.

If conditions favorable to the generation of electricity from water power exist in a settled country where neither coal nor oil is found, and the price of electricity for lighting and traction purposes is high as a consequence, installations of that character even after giving the country the benefit of lower priced power, will yield the handsomest profits.

The coal production of South America may, for all practical purposes, be considered as an almost negligible quantity. The only mines on the whole continent that are being worked at a profit are those in the vicinity of Lota and Coronel in Southern Chile, mines which turn out so poor an average product that they are often facetiously referred to as stone quarries. Almost all of the coal consumed in South America, therefore, is imported, the bulk of it coming from Cardiff and Newcastle. This coal can be landed at the Brazilian and River Plata ports at a fairly reasonable figure, but when it is required for the west coast, the almost prohibitive insurance incident to the passage of the Horn and the exposure to the deadly "northers" in the unprotected ports of Chile make it an extremely high-priced article.

The expensiveness of steam fuel has been the greatest single industrial handicap that the Pacific coast of South America has had to contend with, yet had the people of that region only awakened to the fact, the best substitute in the world for steam in the capacity of a power generator has been running past their doors ever since there were any doors for the Andean rivers to run past.

It was no thoughtless statement—and the writer is convinced by considerable observation in various quarters, no exaggerated one—that the natural conditions in Chile for the development of electrical power were more favorable than elsewhere. From the thirtieth parallel (north of which for several hundred miles are only the rainless deserts of the nitrate provinces) south to Cape Horn, there is not a city, town or hamlet that cannot be cheaply and efficiently served with electricity generated in most instances not over ten, and in no case over fifty, miles from its center.

The most spectacular single power-development project in Chile is that in connection with the great falls of the Rio Laja in the south-central portion. The Laja is the main branch of the Bio-Bio, the largest of the southwest coast rivers, and its volume may be roughly estimated as something less than that of the Hudson. The falls, which average more than a hundred feet in height, are unfortunately not located within economical transmitting distance of the principal population center of the country, the district lying between Santiago and Valparaiso and including the numerous cities and large towns of the Aconcagua Valley. Concepcion and its port, Talcahuano, with a combined population in the vicinity of a hundred and fifty thousand, and Chillan, with a population of thirty thousand, are the only important places that will benefit materially by the carrying out of the now well-advanced plans for harnessing the Laja, but the building of numerous industrial establishments at favorable locations along the government railway within a short distance of the falls is definitely assured. It is also planned to operate several divisions of the railway, and their branches, with power from the same source.

If the rich and beautiful Santiago-Valparaiso district will not benefit from the Laja proposition, it may still draw power from half a dozen different sources, any one of which could alone supply its rapidly growing demand for many years to come. The most favorable, and likewise the most advanced, project at this point is that of installing a series of water-driven turbines on the upper portions of the Rio Aconcagua, and its principal branch, the Rio Colorado. The former, as its name would indicate, takes its rise and draws most of its flow from the Pacific watershed of the great 23,500-foot peak of Aconcagua, the highest mountain in the Western Hemisphere. This famous mountain—in common with a chain of peaks so lofty that the average altitude of the continental divide for a distance of several hundred miles in either direction is in the vicinty of 18,000 feet above sea level except in the most exposed places, carries a perpetual snow cap which even at the end of summer extends for many thousand feet down from its cloud-piercing summit. Fed from such exhaustless founts, the rivers that rise in the higher Andes, irrespective of what the season may be in the valleys, flow strongly and constantly throughout the year.

In installing one of these water-power plants the expense may be generally reckoned to be in inverse ratio to the natural fall of the river from which water is taken, the minimum expenditure being where the drop is perpendicular, as at a waterfall. There are few falls of great height on the Aconcagua or Colorado, but above their junction, a few miles east of the city of Los Andes, each is so continuous a succession of rapids and cascades that, from bank to bank for miles, their water is as white as the snow in which it has its source. The two streams are of about the same volume, but the Colorado has rather the more precipitous course of the two. In twenty-five miles it falls away more than—12,000 feet, while the drop of the Aconcagua is about 8000 in the same distance. There are few points where a fall of several hundred feet cannot be obtained inside of a mile, and the minimum flow of either is sufficient, if utilized at half of the available points, to amply supply the needs of the adjacent territory for the next fifty years.

The companies which hold the concessions for the water power of these streams are Chilean, but their consulting engineers are American, and their machinery will also come from the United States. The first plant built is in sight of the transcontinental railway, now almost completed between Valparaiso and Buenos Aires, and it is probable that one of the first uses to which the power is put will be in operating the Chilean trans-Andine section of the road. Another improvement—long projected, but never carried out on account of the cost of power—that will spring into being with the completion of these plants, is the electric road between Santiago and Valparaiso. This will involve a hundred miles of costly construction, but, with cheap power, the heavy expenditure necessary will be fully warranted by the great movement of freight and passengers between the Chilean capital and its principal port.

Seabrook-Box Axle in Actu

Service on the Santa Fe Railwa

This is a Picture of the Seabrook-Box Differential Railway Axle Coupler, Which is Now in Regular Service on the Santa Fe Railway

On Tuesday, March 9th, the Seabrook-Box Differential Railway Axles were completed ready for service.

On Thursday, Mch. 11th, the car, equipped with the Seabrook-Box Differential Railway Axle couplers was ordered into regular service, after making a few preliminary tests.

This Device Will Make Millions of Dollars

Will You Participate in These Millions?

It was given emergency brake tests in every possible form. We are pleased to notify the public that the device has proven everything that claimed for it by its most sanguine supporters. The tests were attended by a large number of railway officials and men, and they all agreed that "MADE GOOD" in every way, and it was the consensus of opinion of all the men present that the device will make millions of dollars for the for its owners.

Some of the gentlemen who witnessed the tests on March 11th, were officials of the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company. They were so with what they saw that they immediately entered into negotiations with us for equipping one of their inter-urban cars. We reproduce herewith the our proposition for equipping.

THE SAN BERNARDINO VALLEY TRACTION COMPANY. Office of Manager, San Bernardino, Cal., March 11, 1909.

A. B. Merrihew, Manager.

The Western Engineering Company, 501-3 Herman W. Hellman Bldg., Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen: In answer to your communication of March 11th, we beg to say we will be very glad indeed to accept your proposition, under in the letter, providing you proceed at once with the equipping of the car. Yours very truly, A. B. MERRIHEW,

We have already started on the work of equipping Mr. Merrihew's line. The drawings will be finished tomorrow, and the patterns will be shipped steel castings foundry next week. We should be able to have the car in actual operation in thirty days from the time the castings are received at the Works, in San Bernardino.

We consider this contract especially valuable for the reason that it was given on the strength of what was actually accomplished on the car now of the Santa Fe Railroad, and because we can make very scientific tests, compiling valuable data which can be used in introducing our device to roads throughout the United States. We hope to begin at the earliest possible moment to equip one or two trains on the Santa Fe Railway.

The oil car now equipped will operate between the Olinda Oil Fields and Victorville, which is on the desert just the other side of the Cajon Pass. the car under the most severe service that it is possible to obtain. After the car has run on this division for a time it will be placed between Los Angeles field, where it will run over the Tehachepi Pass. The railway officials are anxious to get these severe tests out of the car at the earliest possible moment, further equipping trains.

If you wish to share in the enormous profits to be derived from this device, we suggest that you make your stock purchase immediately, as small amount of stock for sale at the present price of $1.00 PER SHARE. As soon as this allotment is sold the price will be advanced to $2.00 PER hope that in six months from today the stock will bring at least $5.00 PER SHARE, as we firmly believe that the stock will be worth many times asking for it.

NEW ZEALAND'S LABOR LAWS DO NOT MAKE THE WORKING MAN ANY MORE PROSPEROUS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WELLINGTON (New Zealand) Feb. 8.—I have been a reader of the Los Angeles Times for many years. Some five or six years ago, I read a series of letters in the Sunday Magazine on New Zealand by Mr. Carpenter. Like all his letters, they were very interesting reading. According to all articles I have read in the Los Angeles Times in commendation of the laws passed by the New Zealand government in favor of the workingman (through union labor pressure) a perfect condition existed for the workingman. What are facts—have the laws that have been enacted for the workingman here made his condition better than it is in most new countries? I have been in all the cities and large towns of New Zealand and I find the workingman here does not get as large a wage, as he does in the United States or Canada, and that he has not the opportunities to get ahead. Living is as dear here as in the States. I can live cheaper and better in Los Angeles for the same amount than I can in Wellington. Meat is cheap here. Everything else is dearer. I have met in Auckland and here in Wellington carpenters and other mechanics with families, who are out of employment and in want. According to the unionist idea, with laws enacted in their favor, such a condition should not prevail. New Zealand is strictly an agricultural country, no manufacturing, everything imported from abroad, mostly from England.

Ten years ago times were very bad in New Zealand and it was not until they comemnced to ship beef, mutton and butter by cold storage to England about eight years ago, that prosperity prevailed here. The sole products exported from this country are beef, mutton, butter, wool and wheat, also some Kauri gum dug out of the ground north of Auckland. Richard J. Sedden, a miner, became prominent in political affairs in New Zealand about fifteen years ago. His party (the Liberal party) outnumbered the opposition party by a good majority. The labor unions, at that time, held the balance of power. Whichever party joined with them could be in power, so the Liberal party, which has been in power for a number of years, catered to the labor unions, and the labor laws are the resultant.

I happened to be in the Magistrate Court when a number of employers were fined for trivial offenses, even according to the laws laid down by the labor unions. I spoke to several of the employers after they were fined for not employing union men and I found they were employers in a small way, as most of the employers are in this country, and that the fine of ten pounds imposed on them by the magistrate (who was elected by labor union influence) was a great hardship on them, representing what would take most of them over six months to make outside of living expenses. One of the employers who was fined ten pounds told me it would about break him up in business, as he had been getting behind. He said he would leave the country, if he had enough to get out of it. This man was born in New Zealand. I find discontent among the employers to be a general thing and there is talk in Auckland of the employers forming an association for protection. Any one who has written about the government being a government for the welfare of the people must have been a recipient of a railroad pass or been paid by the leaders in the government party, for there is as pretty a game of politics played here as in any of the boss-ridden cities of the United States.

In the last ten years the government has given in to the labor unions because they held the majority of votes which enabled them to keep in power. The laws they have passed at the dictation of the unions are inflicting a permanent injury to the business man, so much so, that capital is kept out of business as much as possible. The unions, like Oliver Twist, are still asking for more. For seven years New Zealand was booming, prices of the products in England were high, and times were good for the workingman. During the last year there has been a reaction, money is scarce and hundreds of laboring men out of employment. As soon as a sane method can be adopted by the government and labor and capital come together to an adjustment, that is fair to both, prosperity may reign again in New Zealand for all the people and not class distinction, hurting the country as at present, for there is simply war now between capital and labor, and the government is to blame for it.

The Liberal party which has been in power for seventeen years by catering to the labor unions, is now beginning to lose its power. The opposition party is growing stronger and it is only a question of time before there will be a change of party and New Zealand will gain financially by the change.

There has been some greatly exaggerated articles in some of the magazines of the States, which give Americans a false idea regarding conditions. They have only to come here to be enlightened as to the facts. New Zealand has not solved the problem of ideal government; far from it. They have not solved here any problems in government, that other countries could follow with profit. The Dominion, a Wellington newspaper is hitting the government some hard hits and waging a war for a change of party.

Yours respectfully,

E. J. PARTRIDGE.

A Union Strike.

The selfish arrogance of unionism was never better shown than at San Francisco last week. The management of the Pacific box factory posted a notice that employés must be ready for work when they register on the time clock, and register again on leaving work at the end of the day.

It has been the practice of the employés to register upon entering the factory and leisurely make ready for work. At the close of the day they would take ample time in preparing to leave and register upon leaving. The management decided to have them register the time they were engaged in actual work and was ready to confer with the men relative to their objection.

J. W. Wilson, president of the Box Makers' Union, who is employed in the Pacific factory, refused to register and was discharged. His associates demanded that he be reinstated and upon the management refusing to do so, the hundred employés went out last Monday.

On the following day the leaders prevailed upon the thirty-five men employed in the Columbia factory at North Beach and operated by the same company as is the Pacific factory, to join the strikers. Though the employés of the Columbia factory had no grievance, they went out in sympathy with the strikers.

The management of the company has since then been filling the places made vacant by the strikers with non-union labor, and will probably soon hear the charge made that it is discriminating against union labor and is the subject of a boycott. Great is unionism.

Labor Unions Hard Up.

The labor unions of New York are far from enjoying a high degree of prosperity, and are refusing to lend much financial assistance to the striking hatters. At a meeting of the Central Federated Union when a per capita tax in favor of the idle hatters was proposed, Robert Davis of the painters, said that was not fair to the unions, which had a great many idle members and could not afford to contribute. "I object," he said, "to the unions having to advertise their poverty here. Some of the unions are pretty hard up and a per capita tax of 3 cents has been levied on all the international and national unions by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor. While the unions are in sympathy with the appeal some of them may not be able to respond and they do not want their delegates to come here and say they have no money."

Several of the other delegates said that while their organizations would do all they could for the hatters their own unions were in bad shape owing to the exhaustion of their funds by long spells of idleness. Delegate Carmody of the hatters said it was only by the aid of the unions that the hatters could hope to win.

Unions Fight Unions.

Some time since the Chicago Teamsters' Union was formed, as usual for the benefit of the teamsters rather than their employers. About a week ago a strike was called in the barns of the Wisconsin Lime and Cement Company because the teamsters who Brotherhood of Teamsters, refused to secede and join the new Teamsters' Union. Already one of the Wisconsin company's teamsters has been beaten into insensibility by a slugging crew of the new union.

WOULD-BE REFORMERS.

The "Recall" Bunch Are "It."

When we first got out of the mixture and among the peculiars, we innocently expected that a set of good fellows, whom society had kicked into office for the same cause, would feel for each other all the kindness of kindred sentiments and sufferings, and behave themselves accordingly. We expected to get into a brotherhood! Never mind. No matter about the results. But there is one thing interesting about sects, parties and associations, organized for special reforms—they fight like thunder. Each party mounted upon its particular cloud pours its fire into its neighbor cloud, simply because their electricities are not well enough balanced to be quiet, and the hottest is always given to the nearest.

Fighting has some science and symmetry while the parties are fairly opposed, but when they are near enough to embrace each other, if they had a mind to, they get the gripes and go to biting and gouging. Moral repugnance, it seems, like physical repulsion, increases as the square of the distance diminishes. We once saw two cats tied together by the tails, and thrown over a pump handle; you may depend upon it, they made the fur fly. There was a great deal of human nature in that cat fight; and we ought to have expected a little among the special partners in the business of world-mending. We forgot to mention that the "horrible infants" round that pump handle got some rich fun out of the fury which the cats showed in "the glorious cause." It was very wicked, no doubt, but it was a fact, nevertheless. The little rascals felt the arousing sympathy of their rowdy chivalry, and suffered none of the scratching. Some of them wanted to untie the combatants, but that turned out a hard bargain for the pacificators. At last a big bully cut the string with a jack-knife; down they came, each on his own part of the "platform," but although they were both cats as plain as could be, they were cats still, and we left them with some disgust, in the firm belief that they wanted to fight.

Heigh, ho! the analogies of a pump! They seem very marvelous in our eyes. And there is some fun in them, too; for wherever there is any good fun there is a little of that in it.

N. B. In our own proper person we have got next to none of the scratches, and the sport to us is not the least bit curdled.

We have been looking about for something that is universally humored, and strong enough to be serene; something that would comprehend all these segregated severalties, embrace and harmonize them, as integral manhood takes in all its members and keeps them in healthful peace. When we find it, we will let our friends know. If they find it first, we would like to hear from them. In the meantime, let us work as the members of [illegible] time, let us work at it with the feeling that they must all go together at last, and ought to be kept comfortable to that hope.

Grim enthusiasts may be in no doubt about the earnestness of their fanaticism. They are mistaken. It isn't hump-backed, but it is the heartiest [illegible] old "vets" [illegible] laugh at themselves [illegible] we had a chance to [illegible]

[illegible] Members Will Act as Hostesses.

[illegible] consummation of two years [illegible] work on the part of a few [illegible] women, the picturesque home [illegible] Pio Pico, last of the Spanish [illegible] of California, near Whittier, will be thrown open to the public [illegible] Friday.

[illegible] building is adobe, built with [illegible] walls, many of them three [illegible] in thickness, with narrow [illegible], beautiful old oak doors [illegible], and odd little fireplaces [illegible] a distinctly foreign style. [illegible] of the old place, however, [illegible] court, in the center of which [illegible] tree, shading a well of fine [illegible].

[illegible] commentary on the judgment [illegible] Pio Pico, it may be stated [illegible] the city of Whittier was [illegible] of a larger water supply, a [illegible] ago, it could find nothing [illegible] than this, and the city of Whittier [illegible] became the owner of [illegible]. The water supply of [illegible] city is now drawn from [illegible] within a few hundred [illegible] the old don's tree-shaded well. [illegible] opening day the members of [illegible] Historical Society, which [illegible] formed with the sole idea of restoring [illegible] the old place, will keep open [illegible] the old adobe. "Pico Day" [illegible] generally observed at Whittier, [illegible] of both city and [illegible] districts making the Pico [illegible] of their pilgrimages [illegible] day.

[illegible] automobiles have promised [illegible] their assistance in [illegible] to and from the [illegible] which is a couple of miles [illegible] Whittier city limits, on the [illegible] Whittier road. It is expected [illegible] many people will motor [illegible] Los Angeles on that day, as [illegible] from the city to the picturesque [illegible] homestead is a short one, [illegible].

[illegible] OF SPANISH DAYS.

[illegible] the opening day, for the first [illegible] a score or more of years, the [illegible] corridors of the Pico house [illegible] with songs and laughter, [illegible] the swish of silken [illegible] the click of high-heeled [illegible]. A Spanish dinner, to include [illegible] from famous old Spanish [illegible], will be served in the [illegible] by the ladies of the Pico society.

[illegible] will be a nominal one, [illegible] of the celebration being [illegible] what can be and what [illegible] of the old place, rather [illegible] the coffers of the treasury. [illegible] no admission fee [illegible] building or grounds will be [illegible] and the bigger the crowd the [illegible] will be the hostesses.

When the Pico Historical Society was formed, with the restoration and preservation of the ruined and fast-crumbling house as its object, the place was in a deplorable condition. The rooms, which had once served as the setting for stately banquets and for gay dances, were the roosting places for chickens, and a stable for horses and cattle. Once in a while a tramp slept in the place, undisturbed by its traditions, or by the ghost of the faithless Spanish lover who is said to have long ago met his death here at the hands of the jilted señorita.

Vandals had carted away some of the fine old doors and window casings, the oak of which had originally been taken all the way from San Pedro on the backs of Indians. Weeds choked the court, the windows were either gone or broken, the roof was a sieve and the four-foot-thick adobe walls were beginning to crumble.

SPLENDID WORK.

With determination the members of the society went to work, first obtaining from the city of Whittier a long term lease of the property, for the sum of $1. The city has also aided by appropriating money to get the grounds in better shape. The Whittier Board of Trade, the Whittier and East Whittier Woman's clubs and the Landmarks Club have all lent assistance, and as a result the building is saved to the State.

The roof was raised and mended, walls were braced, foundations strengthened with cement, new floors laid to replace those which the horses had kicked and trampled to pieces, and—biggest job of all—the accumulated rubbish of twenty years of misuse was carted away.

One of the pleasantest features of the work was that done on the old court, once gay with rare blossoms. Many of these plants had been brought from Spain, and were the only ones of their kind in California, Don Pio Pico being greatly interested in his gardens, which were justly famed in the olden days. It is hoped, in time, to duplicate with exactness the beautiful old court and corridors.

In their work the historical society has been especially fortunate in having as president Mrs. H. W. R. Strong, whose home was in the old adobe itself for a year or so, while her own home on the near-by "Rancho del Fuerto" was being made ready. At that time the Pico house was at its best, its rooms filled with beautiful mahogany and rosewood furniture, its court and gardens fragrant with bloom. Mrs. Strong has been an indefatigible worker for the society, her memory being a veritable storehouse for this cause.

THOSE WHO HELPED.

The others officers of the society are Mrs. A. C. Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Swain, secretary; Mrs. A. C. Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. I. H. Johnson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. S. W. Barton, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

These officers and the other members of the society have formulated plans for the restoration of the old building, the replanting of the grounds, and the founding, within the old home, of a museum of the older civilization of our State.

Much of the beautiful old mahogany furniture with which the house was originally furnished is still in existence. The present owners of some of the pieces have promised their return to the old home when it shall be made ready for them. Spanish books and papers, curios of the olden time, will, with the old furniture, form a nucleus for a "Pico Museum."

Picturesque Restored Home of Don Pio Pico.

The massive adobe residence of the last of the Spanish Governors of California, which will be opened to the public next Friday.

While many of the plans of the society are still waiting for fulfillment, enough has been done to warrant the encouraging belief of the members that they will be able to reach their goal. And it is to show the progress thus far made that Pico Day has been instituted, and as the work is of interest to all Southern California the celebration will undoubtedly be an unqualified success.

Chinese have a way of tricking hens, so that they assist in the hatching of fish. Fish eggs are carefully placed in an egg shell, which is then sealed and put under an unsuspecting hen. In a few days the spawn is warmed into life and the contents of the shell are then cast into a shallow pool, where the sunshine completes the work.—[Exchange.

SURPRISE PROMISED.

Circus Under National Guard Auspices This Week Full of Striking Features.

It is promised that those who attend the performances of the Greater Norris & Rowe circus, which will begin a four days' engagement at Praeger Park Wednesday afternoon, will see a surprising number of acrobats, gymnasts bareback riders, contortionists, leapers, vaulters, tumblers, expert trick bicyclists, rich costumes, and fine aërial apparatus.

No greater scale of magnitude, says the press agent, has ever been attempted than that which will greet the crowds at the eight benefit performances to be given under the auspices of the National Guard. Of the human acts the most interesting are those of the Peerless Potters and the Four Flying Banvards, aërial athletes; the La Verne Troupe of mid-air bar performers; the Valdon Troupe of Parisian bicyclists; the Stolgofts, a wonderful band of Russian Cossacks; the Whartons, a family of clever slack wire artists; Irene Medford, of the flying staircase; the Honey-Mora troupe of aërial bar performers and many others.

The riding contingent is led by the noted stars Rose Dockrell, whom P. T. Barnum named, upon seeing her ride as a child, "the daintiest little rider in the world;" George Holland, the wonderful bareback somersault rider; Edna Maretta, the only woman who turns a complete somersault on the back of a swiftly running horse; Edward Hoquim, clever American trick rider; Frank Haworth and his wonderful horse, Prince, and trick-riding dog, Fi-Fi, and Mlle. Gorda and Mlle. Berti in a beautiful menage act.

PROGRESSIVE IS BRAWLEY.

First Town in Imperial County Is Prospering.

Hogs Fed on Alfalfa Bring Golden Returns.

Raising Turkeys for a Profit Is a Success.

BY E. C. PENTLAND

When you travel from Los Angeles, southeasterly, 205 miles, to Brawley, which is the first town you reach in the Imperial Valley, in Imperial county, for the first eighty miles you gradually ascend until you reach an elevation of about 2500 feet, when you pass over the divide in the San Jacinto Mountains. Then for about sixty miles you descend, at the rate of over forty feet to the mile, until you reach the Salton Sea, which is now 216 feet below sea level, but before the break in the Colorado River was 267 feet below sea level. As you skirt along the shore of this inland sea, for a distance of about thirty miles, you can see the telegraph poles along the line of the submerged Southern Pacific Railroad still standing, each successive one a little deeper in the water until they disappear, to bob up again at the other end of the sea, about thirty miles distant.

Twelve miles south of the southern end of the Salton Sea is located Brawley, 119 feet below sea level, locally called the "Garden City." It is surrounded by level valley lands on all sides, well-watered from a splendid irrigation system, the farm-land being settled upon by a most desirable class of people, both in morals and intelligence. The residents of Brawley are modest in their claims for population, saying it is only about 1000. The registered vote, at the last election, was 315, which at a ratio of 4 to 1 would indicate a population of 1260, and adding 25 per cent. to this for increase since the November election, would bring the present population up to about 1550. The town is enjoying a substantial growth from year to year. It was not until 1902 that the water of the irrigation system reached Brawley, and since then the lands of the surrounding country have been settling up very rapidly. The conditions of an abundant water supply, fertile soil, and a most delightful winter climate, will all tend to the settlement of the country, and the consequent growth of the town. The ranchers have been successful and made money from the very start. A crop of barley can be sown in November and harvested in May; and this field can be pastured to good advantage for a month or more, without interfering with getting a good crop, and then a summer crop can be planted in June, and matured before time for planting a fall crop.

THE GROWING OF CANTALOUPES.

During the year 1905 only forty-five carloads of cantaloupes were shipped from Brawley; in 1906, 286 cars, and in 1907, 346 cars. It was in this latter year that the profits in cantaloupe growing gave a great impetus to the business, the profits made by the farmers being very large. J. A. Fiedler reported a net return from thirty-five acres of $11,662.14; Hovely & Armage, $10,091 from twenty-two acres, or $458 an acre; Stahl Bros., $16,837 from forty-five acres; J. J. Miller, $12,239 from forty acres; Hovely & Roth, $9396 from thirty acres; D. Wiechmann $11,498 from twenty-eight acres, etc. Last year the acreage was very large, but owing to market conditions the returns were not nearly so satisfactory. In fact, were very disappointing. It is said there was mismanagement of the shipments, the markets being glutted and prices cut to almost nothing. The soil of the valley and the climate are favorable to the production of a superior quality of cantaloupes, equal to those grown anywhere, but the farmers were not organized. They are taking up this matter in earnest now, and exchanges similar to those of the orange growers will be organized. What the farmers should have is an organization wherein only salaried men, under their control, will handle the crop, from the time it leaves the farm until it reaches the retail market. It is the part of wisdom to perfect this organization very soon.

A WONDERFUL RECORD.

According to official figures given me, the railroad shipments from Brawley of cantaloupes last year were 20,400,000, or 1020 carloads (including less than carload lots.) The previous year the total shipments in all of California were only about 700 carloads, while from Imperial county last year the total shipments were over 1900 carloads. The shipments of hogs from Brawley last year were about 16,200. These two items of production alone, if rightly managed, will bring a large revenue to the farmers of Brawley and vicinity.

TOWN OF BRAWLEY.

The plat of the town of Brawley includes a five-acre park, in the center of the town, with wide streets or avenues extending to it, and the city is now planting the park to trees, and otherwise beautifying it. There are other parks provided, one of them being now used as a baseball and recreation grounds. Cement sidewalks are being built along the principal streets, and shade trees planted on the residence streets. There are several good hotels, a bank, newspaper, and about fifty lines of business represented. There would seem to be an opening in Brawley for a steam laundry and an alfalfa mill. The real estate men report 110 town lots sold during the past two months, which shows that the present building record will continue.

ARE PROGRESSIVE CITIZENS.

Among the residents of Brawley and vicinity who are awake to the bright future of their growing city and country tributary are: P. P. Hoyely, Philo Jones, W. D. Hole, W. T. Dunn, J. A. Murray, C. Hauck, D. A. Stormer, E. C. Pound, W. V. Stahl, P. Stewart, H. L. Fulton, F. H. Stanley, E. A. DeBlois, C. H. Wert, P. Walker, D. T. Jones, A. P. Center, C. B. McCullough, J. L. Wade, N. T. Shaw, R. W. Blake, S. M. Gardner, A. F. Lawson, George N. Turner, Nellie Pellet, W. H. Best, T. H. Kellogg, W. W. Hussong, H. Baum, J. L. Coleman, J. L. Cooke, J. W. Yocum, Charles Moore, J. I. French, A. J. Moore, F. E. Moore, Ray Griswold, J. E. Davis, Theo O'Shanna, R. Malan, J. L. Manahan, F. F. Corley, A. R. Gillispie, J. A. Miller, H. F. Beal, J. W. Hart, C. H. Stilliman, J. A. Potter, J. W. Jennings, P. F. Nice, John Cady.

VARIETY OF PRODUCTS.

The greater part of the lands surrounding Brawley are of such a character that they are adapted to all of the more valuable products, such as winter vegetables, early fruit of all kinds, early grapes, early oranges, cantaloupes, tomatoes, asparagus, peanuts, sweet potatoes, peas, cabbages, in fact all kinds of early vegetables; and are also adapted to the growing of all kinds of grain and alfalfa. Poultry does exceedingly well, and there is a great opportunity for raising turkeys, as the climate is so evenly warm during the early part of the year that there is but a small loss of the baby turkeys. The first four weeks after hatching is where the losses occur in the turkey business.

HOG RAISING PAYS.

While in Brawley I met several gentlemen at the hotel from the Middle West, who were looking over the vally with the idea of investing. One of these gentlemen, a banker, an ex-State

[illegible] and a very extensive farmer [illegible] State, said: "I have been [illegible] through the States of Oregon, [illegible] and California. I find the [illegible] valley an exceedingly inter[illegible]. I have spent ten days [illegible] valley visiting every part of [illegible] with water, is exceedingly [illegible]. There is no question in my [illegible] there is enough water to [illegible] in the valley four [illegible] necessary. I do not be[illegible] is any part of the valley [illegible] water will be necessary [illegible] of the valley much less [illegible]. I never saw a country [illegible] or grasses do better, if [illegible]. Alfalfa is the fin[illegible] saw, and while I am not [illegible], I believe from what I see [illegible] gentlemen with whom I [illegible] from the fruit-growing [illegible] of California, tell me, that it [illegible] question of time when the [illegible] Valley will be one of the [illegible] of the leading fruit sec[illegible] great fruit State. And it [illegible] that any young man with [illegible] intelligence and fair energy [illegible] a short time, through his [illegible] become independent even [illegible] amount of land. If I were [illegible] I would not hesitate to [illegible] Brawley and locate. If he [illegible] money I would advise him [illegible] acres or more of improved [illegible] the town; or if he wanted to [illegible] raising of fruit and winter [illegible] exclusively, even ten acres [illegible]. If a young man had no [illegible] which to buy, I would ad[illegible] to rent a piece of land; but [illegible] advice would be, 'Locate [illegible] and develop with the [illegible]

[illegible] people of Brawley are as court[illegible] friendly as I ever met. There [illegible] opportunities on the outlying [illegible] putting them into alfalfa and [illegible] raising hogs. You can buy [illegible] with a share of water stock [illegible] acre, for $50 an acre, upward, [illegible] to the improvements. A [illegible] of this land, with 100 [illegible] alfalfa, will carry 600 head of [illegible] to 200 pounds in weight, as a [illegible] reach that weight in from [illegible] twelve months from birth. At [illegible] time these hogs can be [illegible] for 7 cents a pound; but [illegible] them at 6 cents a pound they [illegible] bring in a gross return of [illegible]. The remaining sixty acres I would [illegible] by sowing fifty acres to bar[illegible] after pasturing in the win[illegible] be cut for grain in June, [illegible] with a crop of corn which [illegible] ready to harvest in Decem[illegible]. I would sow it again to [illegible] another year. In this way [illegible] raise 200 sacks of barley and [illegible] of corn, for help in fat[illegible] hogs. Besides that a man [illegible] the cost of his living, for him[illegible] family, in raising chickens, [illegible] sale of eggs, winter vege[illegible] cantaloupes. He would still [illegible] acres out of the 160 for his [illegible] poultry houses, etc.

[illegible] figures are conservative, com[illegible] those given me by resi[illegible] the valley with whom I have [illegible] but they show what the coun[illegible], if handled rightly. The [illegible] of this country over any [illegible] hog raising, is that the al[illegible] twelve months of the [illegible] support on pasture more [illegible] number of hogs to the [illegible] with the sows raising two [illegible] year, the fall litter will do as [illegible] spring, owing to the warm [illegible]. Furthermore, owing to the [illegible] hogs are kept on green [illegible] a large portion of their [illegible] to hog cholera, and lit[illegible] there will ever be. If a [illegible] raise cattle or sheep, [illegible], I think, make an [illegible] showing."

[illegible] RAISING.

[illegible] in partnership with [illegible] a turkey farm of twenty-[illegible] one-quarter mile from [illegible] has twelve acres in al[illegible] in barley and six acres [illegible] trees, planted last year. [illegible] bronze gobblers and fifteen [illegible] were purchased last July [illegible]. The increase is forty [illegible] hens, which are to be [illegible] 2000 turkeys this year, [illegible] of ten turkeys to each hen. [illegible] will be off in about [illegible] hatching will continue [illegible]. It is expected that there [illegible] turkeys ready for Thanks[illegible] for Christmas. These [illegible] ten to twelve pounds for [illegible] twenty to twenty-five [illegible] the gobblers. The total [illegible] pounds. The price [illegible] to be 18 cents a pound, [illegible] bring in $9000. The cost [illegible] than the alfalfa and [illegible] is expected to be about [illegible] would leave $7000 profit. [illegible] Smith will do all the [illegible] counting their time [illegible] there remains a profit of [illegible] a month. Tobacco stems are [illegible] nests to keep the turkeys [illegible]. The trees were planted [illegible] shade for the fowls during [illegible] weather. The pasture is [illegible] faster than the turkeys [illegible] by watering every two [illegible] eggs are set under a [illegible] loss of 20 per cent. is fig[illegible]. Mr. Smith says he has [illegible] and raised every one. [illegible] feeding is done just be[illegible] turkeys are sent to market, [illegible] better not to be too well [illegible]

[illegible] number of persons in [illegible] of Brawley who are mak[illegible] raising chickens and tur[illegible]. Mrs. W. H. RAISING DATES.

A well-known rancher, living seven miles north of Brawley, has been making a study of the culture of dates for the past several years, and having kept watch of the experiments made on the government experiment farms, has at last decided to make a start on growing them. He has entered into a contract with San Francisco gentlemen to plant for each five acres in dates, and will plant twenty acres for himself. He has agreed to sell each of these gentlemen forty acres of his land for $50 an acre, and set it out as follows: Five acres in dates, five acres in eucalyptus, and thirty acres in alfalfa. They pay for the date and eucalyptus trees and alfalfa seed. He takes care of it for them for five years, and pays them $150 a year. He will plant date seeds, which the government furnishes free, so as to have 1000 trees to the acre. When they are three years old he will thin out all the surplus trees, retaining only fifty to the acre, of trees that have bloomed and will bear. The eucalyptus trees cost from $10 to $15 an acre, and there will be about 1000 to the acre. The alfalfa costs about $3 an acre for the seed. He will take care of the trees and land, and turn it over to his principals at the end of the five years. They will have paid out about $2150 for the land and trees, and have received about 7 per cent. in the rental of $150 a year. At the end of the time it is estimated they will have five acres of bearing date palms, worth $1000 an acre; five acres of eucalyptus, worth $500 an acre, and thirty acres in alfalfa, worth $100 an acre, a total of $10,500 value, on an original investment of only $2150, and which returned nearly 7 per cent. income while being developed. Since he gets all the returns from the land for the first five years, the gentleman thinks he will do very well.

One of the purchasers, J. W. Woodrum, is so well pleased with the proposition that, since visiting his property, he has decided to put up a residence and will make it his home. The reason the name of the gentleman interviewed is omitted is that, I am told, there are a number of persons in the valley who will make a business of planting and taking care of date and eucalyptus groves on similar terms. It is estimated that the date trees, at the end of the fifth year, will produce 1000 pounds of commercial dates per acre, which will be worth 35 cents a pound. These dates are of a superior variety, the parent trees coming from the Sahara Desert, and must not be confounded with the ordinary date in the stores; these Sahara dates are said to be 60 per cent. sugar, and of much finer flavor. At ten years of age these trees will produce 5000 pounds to the acre, which, at only 20 cents a pound would bring in $1000 an acre per year.

I am informed that the government experts here, Messrs. Swingle and Mason, state that the Imperial Valley, on account of climatic conditions, will produce a better quality of dates than any other place in the United States. One of the reasons given is that there are no rains to spoil the date while it is ripening. Imperial Valley has the climate, it has the water, and it has the soil to grow things that cannot be grown elsewhere.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is very strong in the Imperial Valley, having, with its auxiliary organizations, about eight hundred members, and in Brawley there are over 150, Mrs. C. A. Miller of Brawley being the county president.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why they cure Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, and prevent at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach Disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach, or Cancer.

This is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which will putrefy in the entire digestive tract and intestines, and, besides poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

One candylike Triangule, taken after eating, will promptly digest all your food, the same as a strong, healthy stomach would do it.

WANTS GOVERNMENT LINE.

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Establishment of Federal Steamship Route Along Coast.

The Chamber of Commerce is mailing to all its members a copy of the resolution recently passed by the board of directors in favor of a government line of steamers along the Pacific Coast. The resolution sets forth "that the time has arrived in the development of a harbor for our city and the great Southwest, when private enterprise cannot probably meet the needs of the public by a comprehensive scheme such as the government has easily at its command."

The resolution indorses the plan of Senator Bristow for a line of Federal steamers plying between the principal ports of the Coast and connecting with the government railroad at Panama.

All the commercial organizations of the Coast cities will be asked to take similar action and the Pacific Coast Senators and Congressmen will be requested to support the proposed measure.

THEY GO FOR THE MONEY.

Burglars Break Cash Register, Find Nothing, Then Smash Telephone Pay Box.

Failing to find money in the cash register of the Maers & Lemke Company's store at Twenty-fourth street and Vermont avenue, yesterday morning, burglars carried the cash box of the pay telephone to the back yard and broke it.

The burglars gained entrance by breaking out a panel in the rear door. They then attacked the cash register, and after forcing the lock and finding nothing of value they turned their attention to other parts of the store. The place, yesterday morning, when the clerks arrived, looked as though a cyclone had struck it. The intruders had worked leisurely, and had searched every nook and cranny.

From the Sunset telephone pay box they obtained $1.50 in nickels. The police think the work was done by boys.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

DRILLING ON SNAKE RIVER.

Far-Away Oregon and Idaho Seek Petroleum.

Ontario the Center of Oil and Gas Stir.

Los Angeles Ships Supplies for Work.

Cortland Lawrence, who has returned from the new prospect oil and gas field in the Snake River Valley of Eastern Oregon and Western Idaho, says that the Ontario Coöperative Oil and Gas Company has its first well down 2200 feet approximately about a quarter of a mile from the business center of the town of Ontario. It is a corporation of Ontario business men. The rig is a standard.

There is a heavy flow of gas with slight traces of a dark oil about 20 gravity, but nothing approaching commercial quantities. Evidences of gas are abundant right at the surface. It is rather a "sweet" gas. For the last fifteen years or so its presence has been known. A citizen living next door to where the present well is being drilled has a scheme by which he gets the gas and uses it for all domestic purposes. He has a reservoir into which he runs water, then places in it a number of inverted cans, weighted down by iron, and by a complete home-made system extracts the gas from the water in these and pipes it to his residence.

Besides the well at Ontario another is being sunk at Vail, Or., the terminus of a branch railroad running fifteen miles out of Ontario. A third is being drilled at Payette, six miles across the line in Idaho. The enthusiasm is very high.

Mr. Lawrence is of the opinion that there is a prospective field there. Oil will be found somewhere in that region, he thinks, but the valley is very wide and it is, of course, a question whether the present locations are the proper ones. The finding of the anticline is a big job. The coöperative company has some 20,000 acres taken up. Ontario is a town of some 1500 people and is very prosperous, with a fine tributary farming country, two banks with $50,000 and $60,000 capital and everybody seems to have money.

The oil excitement has brought this region, so far away, closer to Los Angeles, as it is here that the rigs have been purchased and shipped for drilling.

Proving McKittrick Belt.

Results of recent drilling in the north of McKittrick lead to doubts as to the continuity of the oil belt. Whether it breaks to the north or to the west is the question. Operations in contemplation will do much to determine this.

The Leader, a company formed by H. S. Williams and others, will drill on 25-29-21, formerly the McKittrick Oil Company's land, more than a mile north of any former work and due north of the producer's furtherest north.

To the west, the North Carolina, a coöperative company formed by drillers and others who pay for their stock chiefly in manual labor, will exploit the south half of 10-30-21, which is further west than the Associated work and a little south of the north line of the proven belt.

Further north, Fred Kimball, who made one failure, has returned and will drill on 3-28-20.

Kerr, Chanslor and Canfield have a tract near the old Bishop well to the McKittrick Amalgamated, a San Francisco company headed by R. V. Ellis.

The Kern River Oil Company's lease on its land on 12-30-21 at McKittrick expires in May, and the property reverts to the original owners, except ten acres which the Kern River has obtained by exchanging it for personal property on the ground. Two strings are already at work on this piece, one down about 800 feet. It is understood that the Associated has bid for the product and it is not decided whether the company will join the Agency or not.

The north half of 22-30-22, McKittrick, recently awarded by the Department of the Interior to George F. Wheeler, is expected to be the scene of busy operations soon. On the south half E. J. Miley and others are also expected to get busy.

On Edges of Kern River.

A. E. Halsey, president of the Los Angeles-Kern Oil Company, reports that its well No. 1, on the north half of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of 25-28-27 at Kern River, is just passing through the first oil sand at 862 feet. The land is just west of the Green & Whittier lease of the Associated on the southwest quarter of 30-28-28 and is the twenty acres of the old Top Knot, a corporation of Santa Ana people, that acquired the land in boom days and did nothing with it beyond putting down a posthole about forty feet.

Besides this tract, the Los Angeles-Kern, which is a close corporation of Los Angeles and Pasadena business men, has the forty acres comprising the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of 36-28-28, on which no drilling has yet been started. This is further west than any attempt has been made to drill.

The Cleveland Oil Company has just put its two wells, the old Vulcan and York Syndicate, on the north edge of 3-29-28, on the pump. Reports say they are good for about seventy-five barrels of heavy oil.

Midway Doings.

Siding No. 4 at the end of the Sunset Western Railroad has been named Fellows.

On section 25, the Paraffine has its third string down 600 feet, and a rig up for the fourth; the Rico's No. 1 down 200 feet, and No. 2 just spudding; the West Side (Wilson & Wheat,) No. 1, is down about 500, and No. 2 starting, while the Twenty-five has the rig up for the eighth.

The G. M. and B., (W. H. Graham, George Monroe and Clarence Berry,) is doing well on the old Fort Wayne property. The old wells have been cleaned and are on the pump. A new one was spudded the latter part of last week.

The Loma Vista at Sunset has shut off oil in its No. 1, and is using it for water, which is sold to other companies. Number 2 is down 1220 feet. It is on higher ground than No. 1, which was finished at 1172.

The California Midway has sixteen feet of tar sand at 900 feet on 32-31-23 in the north of Midway.

Santa Paula Development.

Fred V. Gordon and M. P. Waite of Los Angeles have leased for twenty years for fourth royalty, the West Lake Oil Company property, including 120 acres in the Santa Paula Cañon, with ten wells. Oil of 22 gravity is produced. Development is on the south part. Gordon and Waite expect to develop the northeastern part first, three or four wells a year and hope to discover oil of a lighter gravity. The Clark and Sherman well recently bought in the same locality is producing 300 barrels daily of almost 30 gravity, and greatly enhances the property value.

Standard Pays More.

The Standard has raised its payment for fuel in the Midway to 65 cents, as the smaller companies complained of the expense and annoyance entailed by the leading of tank wagons with small quantities. Hitherto it has paid 50 cents, the same as for that for shipment under contract in large quantities. Its fuel purchases amount to several hundred barrels a day.

St. Bernard Is Sold.

W. T. Carter of Los Angeles has just bought the old St. Bernard Oil Company's seventy acres and 1700-foot hole at Newhall. This company suspended work without finishing the well which is in Pico Cañon and near the Standard's wells. The oil found is a very high gravity. It goes for refining. Mr. Carter will form a company and complete the well.

NEW FRENCH-ONLY CLUB.

A party of French and American men met at No. 334 South Hill street Saturday as an initial step to forming a social club, the members to be acquainted with and to speak the French language. Among the party were Gen. Frank C. Prescott, L. Jacquard Auclair, Capt. A. Rockenstrocly, Leopold Bracony, Marius Hebert, C. J. Fox, Jr., G. M. Chartier, H. Lourdou and Anton Molkenboer, most of whom are prominent members of L'Alliance Francaise. It is understood when the club is formed and in session, nothing but French is to be spoken.

"To Them That Hath"

A SHORT SERMON TO FAT FOLKS

"To them that hath shall be given" is a sentence that applies to fat people very neatly. It is common knowledge that once a human being begins to fatten up, to what they have already is added more than they want until finally a stage is reached where reduction must be made or decided disadvantage results.

Then comes forward the ages-old query, "Reduce—but how?" To the uninformed nothing suggests itself but the (to them) twin evils—less eating—more activity. They contemplate a more or less lengthy siege of dieting and exercising. So it may be said safely that every man or woman in the land now undergoing the fattening-up process has his or her mental eye fixed dubiously on that not far distant day when he or she will have to don the "ashes and sackcloth of reduction."

This is not an enlivening prospect, and so it is with considerable satisfaction that we announce the emancipation of the fat. Nowadays one may reduce much or little, a pound a day if desired, or hold their fat in check, absolutely stationary, without doing a tap of exercise, missing a single meal, doing a particle of harm or causing a solitary wrinkle. All that's required, as hundreds testify, is the taking after meals and at bedtime of one Marmola Prescription Tablet, which tablets are sold by the Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., or any good druggist at the uniform price of 75 cents, this sum being accepted for a case of tablets so well and generously filled that even one produces desirable results

Gossip of Interesting People.

HEREABOUTS.

A. W. MELLON, president of three banks and several street railway concerns in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania generally, was a guest at the Alexandria Saturday. Mr. Mellon traveled from Pittsburgh westward in his private car and was accompanied by Mrs. Mellon and Mr. and Mrs. Percy McMullen, also of Pittsburgh.

Probably more than any one other man, Mr. Mellon has been instrumental in the extension of electric lines throughout Western Pennsylvania. When he was comparatively a young man he inherited about fifty millions, and the presidency of three banks and the presidency of one little streak of rust called a street railway company. This was considered the smallest part of his inheritance. To the surprise of Mr. Mellon's friends he centered his attention on the development of the street railway idea, which was then in its infancy, and from that time on has added several hundred miles in trackage to his holdings, and incidentally increased the Mellon millions several fold. He and his party remained in Los Angeles but one day, and then they started on a short tour farther South. They plan to make a leisurely tour of the Coast before returning East.

Fritz Bon, proprietor of two hotels in Lucerne, Switzerland, accompanied by two friends, has been making a tour of the hotels of Southern California during the last week. He registered at the Van Nuys Hotel.

"We have often heard of the hotels of America and were especially interested in the large hostelries of New York and Chicago," said Mr. Bon yesterday. "It has remained, however, for California to present to me what I think is the perfect tourist hotel. We of Switzerland have resort hotels and we think that we have some very excellent ones, although we operate but four months of the year. The distances are so great here in California that it is hard for one to realize how great things are. We find a hotel with a plantation or grounds that extend several miles in every direction, and instead of the country hotel of a few rooms and indifferent service, we have found that the hotels are really city hostelries, with city service. We have gathered some very important points for our own use, and expect to secure more before we are through. We will go to Santa Barbara, Del Monte and San Francisco before starting on our return East and thence home."

H. F. Thomas of New Orleans, who five years ago spent several weeks in the vicinity of Mombassa, on the west coast of Africa, where former President Roosevelt will first land on his famous hunting expedition, was a guest at the Angelus the past week. Mr. Thomas was for a long time connected with banking circles in New Orleans and has spent many years in traveling into the far corners of the world. He said that Mombassa is one of the best ports through which to enter the British possessions in Africa, and that British rule has brought about so many changes that it is perhaps one of the most healthful portions of Africa.

"There is such an abundance of big game in that section that the most ardent hunter will be satisfied," said Thomas yesterday. "As a good parallel lions and leopards are looked upon somewhat like you people of California look upon coyotes in your own State. They are so plentiful that they are almost a nuisance, and there is no limit placed upon the number that may be killed during any one season." Thomas has the record of several lions and one tiger to his credit. He has drunk from springs of water where the imprints of tigers' and lions' paws were scarcely one hour old. He says he may return to Mombassa during the next year.

EDUCATORS, SCIENTISTS.

PROF. C. STUART GAGER of the department of horticulture of the University of Missouri has been conducting a series of experiments to determine the effect of radium upon plants. By exposing its germ cells to the rays of radium he has already produced an entirely new species of primrose. He expects to go on with his experiments in the production of new varieties of plant life.

Prof. Ernst Heinrich Haeckel, who ranks with Darwin, Huxley and Kelvin as one of the scientific giants of the modern period, delivered his farewell lecture at the University of Jena a few days ago and attained his seventy-fifth year on the 16th of February.

C. William Beebe, curator of birds at the Bronx Zoo, New York, has gone to Dutch Guiana in search of a little bird called the "boatsin." The bird is very rare, and has the reputation of being able to take care of himself as soon as he's hatched, and upon the approach of a stranger he will dive into the water and stay there four or five minutes, like a mermaid or a clam.

Marconi, the wireless telegraph wizard, is only 35 years old. At the age of 22 years he produced the first wireless telegraph capable of sending and recording electric waves across long distances.

Dr. William T. Porter, research professor of physiology at Harvard, is to study the relations between height and weight of school children.

Dr. William Elliot Griffis of Ithaca, N. Y., friend of the Japanese and founder under the Japanese government of the American system of schools in that country, declared recently that the Japanese insist upon social equality with the world and would fight any country of the world to obtain it, not excepting the United States.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

COL. SAM PARKER of Honolulu has come to the United States on his way to Cuba, where he expects to close a deal which will put him in possession of 26,640 acres of sugar and tobacco land. Associated with Parker are several other Hawaiians who have organized themselves into a company with a capital of $175,000.

J. G. Neuffer, one of the wealthiest land owners of the South Sea Islands, arrived in San Francisco a few days ago. Though worth a vast fortune, he traveled second class on the steamer, and carried his own baggage from the ship to an express wagon, on which he mounted with the driver and rode to a hotel.

The oldest letter carrier in Uncle Sam's employ—Charles F. West of Boston—recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his service. Although he is now 75 years old, West still puts in the required eight hours every day, delivering his batch of mail promptly. His associate letter carriers, on Washington's Birthday, marked his anniversary by giving a dinner in his honor.

Charles M. Bowman, a Councilman of Wilkesbarre, has achieved fame by defending theatrical billboards. In a speech which turned the tide in the City Council that seemed setting against these prominently pervasive objects, he said: "Where, I say, where can you get finer art than is on some of the billboards? These pictures excel in beauty the paintings of Benjamin West or the sculpture of Michael Angelo and are a delight to the naked eye."

Hugh Graham, publisher of the Montreal Star, is one of the leading citizens of Canada who were honored by their sovereign last year with knighthood.

Booker T. Washington says he has recently seen an inventory of the old plantation where he was a slave, and his name appeared under a value of $400.

ARTISTS.

E. C. POTTER, the sculptor at Greenwich, Ct., has nearly completed his model of a statue of Gen. Custer, for which the State of Michigan appropriated $35,000. The statue is to be set up in the town of Monroe, Mich., Custer's home. Custer is represented as bareheaded, riding a spirited horse, his long, flowing hair being a distinctive feature. He wears a military cloak, and the whole attitude is one of grace and dignity. Mrs. Custer recently visited the studio, and expressed herself as greatly pleased with the design.

Artist Ziem of Paris, one of the world's most famous painters, lives alone at the age of 88 years, without a single servant, amid jewels, gold, treasures worth millions, utterly oblivious that he would be a most profitable victim of murderous burglars. The police have offered him a guard, but he replies that he will take care of himself.

Sir Hubert von Herkomer, the celebrated English artist, recently described in an address his experience in painting the portrait of Richard Wagner without a sitting. Wagner in 1877 was introducing his music to English audiences, and he permitted the young artist to be with him at his house, see him day by day, and watch him. When Wagner was asked when he intended to sit, he replied, "He sees me all the time." That went on for a month. Then the artist started one Friday on the portrait, worked at it all day at white heat, slept badly all night, and worked again all day Saturday. By the evening it was finished, and the next day he took the portrait, glazed and framed, to Wagner. Then came a change over the great musician. He was delighted.

Charles H. Halberg of Chicago, known locally as the janitor artist, recently received word that one of his paintings had been hung in the Art Museum at Guttenberg, Sweden. Twenty years ago he abandoned the life of a sailor and went to Chicago, where he obtained employment as janitor in the Austin State Bank, the officers of which permitted him to pursue his art studies in a room in the basement of the bank building. Mr. Halberg is 54 years old, and is a member of the Chicago Society of Artists. In the Art Institute are two of his paintings, "The Racing Sun" and "After the Storm," both much admired.

ARMY AND NAVY MEN.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM P. DUVALL, who is now en route to Manila to assume command of the Philippines division, will make soon after his arrival, under instructions of the Secretary of War, an investigation to determine where permanent garrisons for troops should be located in the islands. The report to be rendered by Gen. Duvall will have much to do with the estimates for construction work, which will be submitted to Congress at the next regular session.

First Lieut. Wallace E. Sabin of the medical reserve corps will soon be appointed a member of the medical corps, in order that he may be placed on the retired list of the army when he reaches the retiring age in April. This will be done under that provision of law which specifies that an officer who served as a contract surgeon in the Civil War may be placed on the retired list, although he may not have had continuous service in the army since the war.

Lieutenant-Commander George B. Bradshaw, who has been assistant to Commander William S. Sims in the office of the naval inspector of target practice, and who recently succeeded that officer as inspector of target practice, will have as his assistant Lieut. Henry A. Baldridge. Lieut. Baldridge has been on duty on board the Kentucky of the Atlantic fleet. Later another officer will be added to the office of the inspector of target practice.

Maj. Daniel W. Ketcham, Coast Artillery Corps, has sailed for the Philippines to assume command of Subig Bay and the artillery district of that vicinity. For a long period at the Presidio, San Francisco, he was post adjutant under Cols. Charles Morris and John A. Lundeen, and was especially marked for his unfailing and competent attention to duty.

STATESMEN, POLITICIANS.

GOV. FOLK of Missouri believes that the people would be benefited if the Governors should appoint their own Cabinets, or State officers, instead of having them elected. The failure to properly administer an office could thus be definitely placed, and corruption would come to an end.

Secretary Knox does not sever his connection with the monetary commission by his transfer from the Senate to a Cabinet office. He will not, however, be eligible to any salary in connection with his commission work.

Adlai E. Stevenson, ex-Vice-President, is to retire from his law practice and his coal mining interests that he may establish the La Salle Extension University along the lines which have been proved a success by the University of Wisconsin.

Baron Moncheur, Belgian Minister at Washington, whose wife was Miss Clayton of Arkansas, has been transferred to Constantinople.

Lars Anderson of New York is expected to receive the appointment of Ambassador to Italy. He was very popular at court when he was First Secretary of the Embassy under Wayne MacVeagh.

Ex-Vice-President Fairbanks shattered all traditions by handing the Secretary of the Senate $200 for the handsome silver inkstand specially designed and placed at his disposal when he became Vice-President. The inkstand has heretofore been considered the perquisite of the retiring Vice-President.

PEOPLE OF THE COAST.

ELMORE C. LEFFINGWELL, secretary of the San Francisco Board of Education, has resigned his position that he may go into business for himself. He has recently patented a device which is in effect a respirator and which is designed to protect human life, endangered by fire, from suffocation by smoke. Tests recently held have been successful, and Leffingwell has organized a company, which will manufacture the respirator and offer the same on the market for theaters, hotels, schools, etc.

Belmont P. Jaggard of Berkeley has given much of his attention since graduating from the State University in 1905 to the development of lithographic chemistry. By improving the ink used by lithographers and devising methods for saving time and money in connection with the work he has already saved thousands of dollars for a lithographing company of San Francisco.

Frederick Carpenter, secretary to President Taft, was working in a San Francisco lawyer's office eight years ago, when Mr. Taft, then president of the Philippines Commission, cabled him an offer to become his stenographer, on the recommendation of a friend. Carpenter accepted the offer, went to Manila, and when Mr. Taft became Governor of the Philippines was advanced to the position of private secretary, where he established an enviable record for himself, and proved indispensable to his big chief. When Taft became Secretary of War, Carpenter proved his efficiency, and he will undoubtedly make good in his new position.

A. C. Watkins, a San Francisco bookkeeper, has applied for a patent on a device for automatically maintaining the equilibrium of flying machines. In substance the device is in the shape of an equilateral triangle, with the three sides bending on hinges in three separate flanges. On the slightest variation of the machine from its upright position the flange opposite from the direction of the dip will tilt forward, acting as a rudder and bringing the machine back to an even balance.

E. F. Goodhue of Helena, Wash., has concluded that twenty-five years in the railroad main service is sufficient, and he has therefore forwarded his resignation to the department. During his service he has traveled more than fifty-five times the distance around the world, and has never met with but one accident.

OVER THE SEAS.

REV. S. N. SEDGWICK, rector of the picturesque Hampshire village of Bishopstoke, is a man of varied genius. He writes comic operas—words and music—and superintends their production by his parishioners in the long winter evenings. Mr. Sedgwick is the most popular man in his countryside. The parish hall in which the performances take place was built mainly by his individual efforts; and his series of comic operas has provided the most agreeable entertainment that the new building has sheltered.

Lieut. Gustave von Bohlen und Halbach, who is a cousin of the Philadelphia Bohlens, who married a daughter of Herr Krupp, the gunmaker, has contributed $2500 to the aëronautic professorship recently founded at Goettingen, Germany, and he has pledged an equal sum each year.

Capt. John Sinclair, Secretary for Scotland, who has just been raised to the House of Lords, has, with the permission of the King, assumed the title of Earl Pentland, from the Pentland Hills, which formerly embraced the greater part of the Sinclair property, in the counties of Edinburgh, Peebles and Lanark.

Sir William Eden, Baronet of Maryland, is a direct descendant of Sir Robert Eden, the last Proprietary Governor of the province, who left America in June, 1776, and was rewarded for his fidelity to his King by being created Baronet of Maryland. He married Caroline Calvert, sister of Frederick, the last Lord Baltimore. It is perhaps more generally known that Caroline and Eden streets in Baltimore owe their names to Sir William Eden and his wife.

Emperor Nicholas has given $2500 to the Russian Young Men's Christian Association, founded in St. Petersburg by Anson Phelps Stokes of New York.

SMETANA'S NEW OPERA.

"The Bartered Bride," With Libretto by Sabina, Successfully Produced at the Metropolitan.

"The Bartered Bride," a Bohemian opera in three acts, text by K. Sabina, music by Bedrich Smetana, was given its first American performance, in German, at the Metropolitan Opera House, Friday evening, February 19, says Musical America.

Smetana is known in this country chiefly as the composer of the symphonic poem "The Moldau," which is one of a series of symphonic poems dealing with national subjects, and the overture to the "Bartered Bride," which has been a popular number on concert programmes. The opera Friday evening was a revelation of fresh musical life, of sparkling themes, vivacious and curiously rhythmed dances, crisp and characteristic orchestration. The spirit of it all was freshness, freshness of the spring—everything was bubbling and dancing. It is seldom that one hears an opera which has such a continual fountain-play of melody from first to last.

This work is not music-drama in the sense in which we come to understand that term, but just plain opera. But it catches the modern spirit in that it has very little of what might be called recitative—only a phrase here or there. The treatment is more like that employed by Humperdinck in "Hansel and Gretel," actual songs joined by sections consisting of a fanciful musical by-play.

The opera was an unqualified success. It does not mark any great point in the advance of musical history, but it is impossible to conceive that so delightful a work once placed on the boards could be easily dropped. Mere absence of the strain and agonizing of which we have had so much of late is, of course, only a negative quality, but a negative quality of considerable importance. But the opera is not without many positive qualities of great excellence.

The inexhaustible flow of fresh melody deserves emphasized attention. The orchestral treatment is masterly, and while the effects are not startling to ears trained at the Metropolitan and Manhattan operahouses this season, they are touched with an originality which continually teases the attention.

Emmy Destinn carried off a big share of the honors of the evening. Her voice is not only clear and beautiful, but one feels constantly that it is absolutely dependable. It would be difficult to conceive of a better rendering of the role of Marie than Miss Destinn gave it. Where pleasure in a performance is so great, criticism is disarmed and would be impertinent. Her acting was sufficient for the part, which requires nothing very great. Vivacity, spirit, and occasional pathos, these she supplied in ample measure.

Carl Jörn was very enjoyable as Hans. His stage manner in this part is excellent, and he gives the impression of being much at ease. One feels that he is having a good time, which is a valuable asset in winning an audience.

The Call.

Something calls and whispers, along the city street,
Through shrill cries of children and soft
stir of feet,
Till sunlights slant and dazzle, and airs breathe rare and fine:—
The mountains are calling, the winds wake the pine.

Past the quivering poplars that tell of water near
The long road is sleeping, the white road is clear.
Yet scent and touch can summon, afar
from brook and tree,
The deep boom of surges, the gray waste of sea.

Sweet to dream and linger, in windless orchard close,
On bright brows of ladies to garland
the rose,
But all the time are glowing, beyond
this little world,
The still light of planets and the starswarms whirled.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETT

A woman to be pretty must have pretty hair. locks have a subtle charm, for the poet says, "fair imperial race ensnare." The unpoetic and intensely druff microbe makes the hair dull, brittle and lusterless, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Newbro's destroys this enemy of beauty and enables the hair to natural luster and abundance. Almost marvelous times follow the continued use of Herpicide. Overcomes sive oiliness and make the hair light and fluffy. It grease or dye. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Discriminating ladies who have used Newbro's speak of it in the highest terms, for its almost magical the scalp, and also for its excellence as a regular hair It is delightfully fragrant and refreshing.

"I have found Newbro's Herpicide excellent for the hair. The first application stops itching of the scalp and it leaves the hair soft and silky."

[illegible] to himself, with an uneasy expression upon his handsome face, as if he were fairly moithered by the aggressiveness and initiative of the rising generation. A stranger, noting this expression, might have inferred that Sir Giles was not quite sure of himself; a terrible catastrophe to happen to a Mottisfont, and he the head of the family!

"Joy undertakes too much," said Miss Priscilla.

"She is up to date," said Miss Lavinia.

"I dislike that word. Don't let me hear it in this house!" Sir Giles glared helplessly at his sisters, sensible that Joy would have her own way in the end, and that he was powerless to grapple with a new world in which the new woman was the most conspicuous figure in the landscape. He rumbled on:

"Joy places the responsibility of—of this on—me!"

"On you, Giles?"

"She does, indeed. She upsets me very much, more than I allow her to realize. God knows I have tried to do my duty. I have lived here; I have spent my money amongst my own people. Joy says I rear too many pheasants."

"What has that to do with diphtheria?"

"You may well ask. I have always reared a certain number of birds. We were fortunate this year in escaping the gapes, and there was a very pretty show, if I say it. And I've always cared more about quality than quantity. And you two know that I generally walk with the beaters. It's years since I occupied one of the good stands. And I'm as fond of a high bird as any man, although I don't pull 'em down as I used to. Yes; she throws that in my teeth. Too many pheasants! And this scourge is my fault."

"George Vennable ought to speak to her seriously. Sometimes—I dislike to say it, but, between ourselves—I really think that Joy, without meaning it, is almost blasphemous."

The stout butler, with a voice soft as mayonnaise sauce, announced:

"Mr. Vennable."

The parson accepted a cup of tea from the hands of Miss Priscilla. He had come to the Park for no reason other than to discuss a critical situation, but it would have been a violation of a code dear to the aunts had he plunged indecently into it.

"You walked, George?"

"Yes."

"The roads at this time of year are very muddy."

"True," the parson sipped his tea, thinking of his errand, but from long habit he returned platitude for platitude. "And the motors cut 'em to ribands."

At the word "motors," Sir Giles's face darkened. Motors were a symbol of progress which he abhorred. He regarded them with the same congested eyes with which his father had looked at locomotives. And always he would growl out: "Motors! I won't have one. I hate 'em. Don't talk to me about motors!"

"The roads will be worse before they are better," interpolated Miss Lavinia. "We shall have snow within twenty-four hours, unless I am greatly mistaken."

"The glass is falling," added the elder sister.

"Yes; and there's a case of diphtheria in Hernshaw Magna," said the parson.

"Good gracious!"

"Oh, damn it!" exclaimed Sir Giles.

George Vennable gave particulars in his clear, slightly cold voice. His presentment of facts was admirable, but he allowed Joy, as a rule, to deal with them. The family does indeed become the unit of national life when the daughter practices what the father preaches. When the parson finished, a silence fell on the Mottisfonts. A rambling, inarticulate, vague recital would have provoked a torrent of questions; but the grandson of a Lord Chancellor is likely to think and speak with a truly exasperating lucidity and finality.

"At Pundle Green——" began Sir Giles.

"Yes, yes, Giles; you are the scapegoat, of course. Meanwhile, this disease is raging in your cottages. Joy tells me she screwed fifty pounds out of you this morning."

"I want to speak to you, George, about Joy. You allow her too free a hand——"

"And too free a tongue," added Miss Lavinia, with a significant cough.

"Giles, you must make it a hundred and the rest of us will do what we can. Joy has written to Mollie; I saw the letter. She wrote: 'If you are hard up, sell your diamond and turquoise aigrette.'"

The parson chuckled, the Misses Mottisfont looked down their aquiline noses.

"You permit that?" said Miss Priscilla austerely.

"Mollie will send a cheque."

"The family will do its duty, I trust, George; but I think—we all think—that you allow Joy to usurp your prerogatives. You ought to have approached Giles; you ought to have written to Mollie."

"Tut, tut!" said George Vennable. "In the bosom of this family let it be candidly admitted that I ought to do many things which, constitutionally and temperamentally, my dear Priscilla, I am unable to do. Leave it at that, like a dear, good soul! One more cup of tea, please; and, Giles, make it a hundred."

"I haven't got a hundred!"

"Sell that cabinet."

He indicated, with an inexorable forefinger, a beautiful specimen of Sheraton's best period. Sir Giles gasped. The aunts raised their hands in horror.

"Really, George, you are too absurd!"

"It's worth five hundred pounds, at least," said the parson, lying back and enjoying himself. "And I know a clever little man in Westchester who'll copy it exactly for thirty pounds. The difference will put everything straight, and leave you enough over to buy sherry instead of marsala."

"That cabinet belonged to my great-grandmother."

"This is enough to make her turn in her grave," said Miss Priscilla.

"Tut, tut!" said George Vennable again. "The good soul is wiser now than when she lived in the Forest of Ys."

"Joy gets her ideas from you," said Sir Giles, in a hollow tone. "I knew it—I knew it!"

"You are mistaken, Giles. I get my ideas from her. And, mark you, they are in the air; England is saturated with them. Would you rather see your own people die than sell a cabinet which belonged to your great-grandmother?" His tone became contemptuous, although a pleasant smile tempered it. "Well, well, I'm getting too warm. Joy's young blood has infected me. And it's easier to preach than to practice, which was about the only really adequate reason for my becoming a parson. You will, of course, do as you please."

"If I must make it a hundred, I shall make it a hundred," said Sir Giles, with majestic simplicity. Long ago he had been grieved—and had not scrupled to say so to his sisters—because George Vennable's manner was so unparochial.

"Capital!" said George Vennable. "I'm glad I came up. And you two will help," he smiled pleasantly, rubbing his thin scholar's hands together. "We shall do our duty; we have never tried to disassociate ourselves from what we conceive to be our duty."

"We must pay our bills. Joy says we've been taking things too easy. I dare say we have; our lines lie in pleasant places."

He glanced at the salon in which they were sitting; a fine room, nobly proportioned, and filled with very delightful furniture and portraits. Upon everything rested a sort of bloom—not of youth, but of age. Colors which half a century before may have clashed had now faded to a mellow harmony of tint in which a warm red predominated. The curtains were of genuine Florentine brocade; the gilded wooden frames of the pictures had assumed a quiet and unobtrusive tone. In this room George Vennable, then a distinguished don at Oxford, had met his Alicia. Nothing had changed since then; not a piece of furniture had been moved; the tea equipage was the same. But the people about the octagonal tea table were five-and-twenty years older. During that period the parson had buried his wife and his ambition; and now he had Joy, dear child—dear, good child—and his collections. Poor old Giles had nobody. Of his seven children not one remained to cheer his declining years. Two were dead, three sons were out in the world, the girls had married neighbors; one was the wife of Col. Jalland's eldest son, and the other, not without much consideration, had consented to become the helpmate of the rector of Hagley Marsh, who had abundant private means, and was quite likely to be made a colonial bishop.

"Yes, yes," said Sir Giles, thawing under the geniality of George Vennable's manner. "You are right, my dear fellow; we have had much to be grateful for; and this confounded plague must be fought tooth and nail. We are lucky to have young Tisdale; a very clever fellow, young Tisdale—sound, very sound. I understand he was sent for at once?"

"Joy sent for him," said the parson, smiling faintly, sensible of his own limitations and the limitations of those about him. He knew—none better!—that before God and man this inflated, stupid, kindly, complacent egoist was the murderer of little Nellie Mowland. And he, George Vennable, had been accessory before the fact. Had he chosen to pit his powers of persuasion against the other's obstinacy, the sties would have been swept away long ago. The parson stroked his well-shaven chin and smiled, but in his blue eyes lay shadows. Sir Giles was absolutely assured that he, as landlord, had done all that was possible. George Vennable never wilfully deceived anybody, not even himself!

"Dr. Snelgrove is our medical attendant," remarked Miss Priscilla. "We have more confidence in a man of years and experience."

George Vennable shook his head.

"My dear lady, parsons, doctors and schoolmasters ought to be young and strong and keen." He pushed back his chair. "Good-night, Giles, good-night, Priscilla. We received the parcel of linen, Lavinia. Many thanks."

He was escaping when Miss Priscilla called him back. Such an opportunity for discussing matters of grave domestic import might not occur again.

"One moment, George."

"Certainly."

He turned. Miss Priscilla had risen, but Lavinia remained seated, her mouth open, her eyes protruding, a wrinkle between her arched eyebrows, as if she were wondering what her elder sister was about to say, and doubtful whether she could say it adequately on the spur of impulse. Sir Giles had crossed to the chimney-piece to ring the bell. He, too, paused, standing on the hearthrug, adjusting his pince-nez, staring at his sister with uplifted nose and chin, as if snuffing something unexpected.

"You know, of course, that Esmé Burgess has left the village?"

"We speeded his departure."

"Is it indiscreet to ask if there is any understanding between the young people?"

George Vennable twisted his lips into a whimsical smile.

"There is more true understanding between those two than between all of us put together, but you don't mean that."

"I don't mean that, George, and I don't believe it. You know what I mean. There has been some talk."

"You drive me into a corner. Officially, I know nothing, but I suppose there is what you call an understanding. Joy might do worse."

"She might do a deal better," snapped Miss Priscilla.

"What has the young man got?" said Sir Giles heavily, but with a gleam of interest in his eye.

Marriages of kinsmen were serious affairs, because, if arranged upon lines not sound, the high contracting parties were likely to come to want, and then become an incumbrance upon heads of families. Esmé Burgess had reckless blood in his veins.

"He has five hundred a year," replied George Vennable; "and with his fellowship, and what he makes by scribbling——"

Sir Giles held up his hand.

"No young fellow in his position should marry upon less than a thousand a year." He glanced at the aunts, who never failed him upon these occasions.

"I quite agree," said Miss Priscilla.

Miss Lavinia murmured: "The minimum!"

George Vennable edged nearer the door. His blue eyes were twinkling as he fired a Parthian shot.

"In any case," he said lightly, "I shall give Joy a free hand in the choice of a husband. She must marry to please herself, God bless her! not to please me—or you. Good-night."

He walked home, not quite so briskly as usual, thinking of Joy and the future. He had reason to believe that he would not make very old bones, and tonight his responsibilities as father and parson added a new burden to increasing years. He sighed more than once, and blinked at the stars, which did not seem, somehow, to shine very clearly. Twice he splashed into a puddle, much to his exasperation, because he was scrupulous about the condition of his clothes.

"Dear me!" he muttered. "There are a lot of puddles."

Then the philosophic habit came to his rescue. Mortals, he reflected, had to walk in the dark sometimes, with no better light than stars twinkling behind wracks of cloud; and, pick one's way how one might, a man could hardly hope to escape puddles.

Accordingly, he pushed on with a longer step till he reached the rectory, where Joy was awaiting him, with a smile upon her lips. Invariably, if at home, she welcomed him like this, and perhaps he had come to accept such oblations as a matter of course. But tonight, when she brought his slippers, and settled him into an easy chair by the fire, he glanced at her with apprehension.

"What is the matter?" she asked.

He laid his hand upon her arm.

"As I came home, I wondered what I should do without you."

She laughed gaily.

"You darling old fuss-pot! You don't think that I'm in any danger?"

"Not from diphtheria, perhaps."

"Good gracious! What do you mean?"

"If you should marry the wrong man——"

"The wrong ma?" For an instant she stared at him, almost stupidly. Then she laughed again, bending down to kiss his forehead. With her forefinger she tried to rub a wrinkle from between his eyes, as she said: "Don't worry. I'm not thinking of marrying the wrong man. I say! I hope you screwed a few more pounds out of Uncle Giles."

"I think he'll make it a hundred."

"We shall want double that, now that the disease has spread to Hernshaw Magna. Do you know that Mr. Charters, Esmé's friend, offered to help with money? Wasn't is awfuly nice of him?"

"Awfully," repeated George Vennable absently.

"Beard or no beard, I'm beginning to like that man, which doesn't seem to interest you at all, and you're still frowning. I shall have to tell you my precious secret."

"Your precious secret?" He was alert enough now.

"Yes. I have a golden plover for your dinner. There!"

Presently she bustled away to tell the cook to be sure not to overroast the wonderful bird. George Vennable sat in his chair, not reading the book which Joy had placed ready to his hand. Instead, he stared in the depths of the fire. He was of an age when men come slowly to conclusions, and are loath to abandon them. He had supposed that there was "an understanding" between Esmé Burgess and Joy; and now, with alarming suddenness, conviction seized him that she was heart-whole, although undoubtedly the young fellow was very much the reverse. He smiled, wondering whether he was the most selfish old man in the Forest of Ys.

Joy heard the truth from Frank Tisdale, and all the truth, because he knew what manner of woman she was.

One can best describe him by saying that he was the antithesis, physically and mentally, of Dr. Snelgrove, the medical attendant of the Misses Mottisfont, the Bungays, the Jallands, and the Pundles. Tisdale had an enormous and badly-paying practice in a suburb of Easthampton. Dr. Snelgrove living in Ys, which may be called the heart of the Forest, paid his visits sitting at ease in a comfortable brougham drawn by a pair of gray horses, an equipage which would have been no discredit to Harley street; Tisdale rattled about in a motor, which he steered himself; and it is to be feared that he often exceeded the legal limit of speed. Snelgrove was a type, not an individual. He represented the old school, now almost extinct, and washed his pink face and white hands with more care—so it was said—than he bestowed upon his instruments. His manner, in cases of bereavement (his word) was nicely adjusted to the position and fortune of the bereaved. Lady Albinia Jalland, as the daughter of a marquess, and a Slowshire marquess into the bargain, gave utterance to an opinion repeated by others of less high degree, when she said that "Dear Dr. Snelgrove was a tower of strength in the Hour of Need." If things went very wrong, as they did with poor little Mrs. Bungay, Dr. Snelgrove humbly admitted, with unaffected piety and in half a dozen felicitous phrases, that a greater Physician had taken the case out of his hands. The finite prostrated itself before the Infinite; a beautiful and precious thought, as Miss Priscilla justly observed. A radical dentist, a very common fellow, had the impudence to assert that Snelgrove's success was entirely due to his admirable treatment of the healthy. During times of dangerous illness, full-blooded relatives were discreetly enjoined to nourish themselves properly, and not to allow any falling of the system below par. This solicitude for the living, when less sympathetic practitioners might be too much concerned with the dead, had endeared Dr. Snelgrove to many influential neighbors. In person, he was portly, bland, and pulpy. He wore white whiskers and had a commanding brow.

Compared with this Olympian, Frank Tisdale cut but a sorry figure with a keen, sallow, weather-beaten face, and hard, long lean body. He devoted himself to the sick, fighting disease desperately and to a finish. Unhappily, his treatment of the full-blooded indicated want of tact. He had no hesitation in accusing them of criminal negligence and indifference; he docked them of food and sleep; he told respectable, God-fearing, rate-paying tradesmen that they were too intent upon filling their tills; he stuck pins, so to speak, into the fat, sluggish servants; he had no respect for the cloth of a clergyman of the Church of Enwland unless it covered something more than convention and deportment.

For more than three years Tisdale had been in love with Joy. He was aware that she liked him, and, being an optimist by temperament, hoped that liking would warm into love. Hitherto, his profession had engrossed him; and his income had barely sufficed for his own needs. Of late, however, his practice had percolated into the richer residential quarters of Easthampton, and it was known that he had been highly spoken of by more than one London celebrity. Tisdale knew well enough that the years of lean kine were past.

He knew also that interminable work, the drudgery of an immense practice, had turned him into something approximating to a machine. His very thoughts were automatic. Each case, in daily practice, had to be taken on merit, considered dispassionately, and then pigeon-holed. This pigeon-hole habit fastens itself inexorably upon all very busy men. A leisurely chewing of the cud of pleasant thoughts, dear to true lovers, becomes impossible of achievement. Tisdale kept Joy in a shrine, and gazed at the distracting image furtively, as a schoolboy glances at his watch toward the close of a tiresome lesson. She represented innumerable delights which he had forsworn; the fragrance of spring, holidays, sympathetic human intercourse, romance, the idealties.

The fact that he was a machine did not trouble him much. In an utilitarian age, machines were needed. In fine, it rather pleased him to think of himself and others as complicated pieces of mechanism whom only a skilled workman could keep in perfect order. Also, he held in abhorrence and contempt any interference on the part of duffers and bunglers.

After his inspection of Hernshaw Parva, he said curtly: "There's any amount of trouble ahead. We shall want nurses—and I don't know where to find 'em. The 'flu is raging in Westchester and Easthampton. The hospitals are full. It's not easy to get nurses from London."

"Tell me what to do, and I'll try to do it."

"We must enroll every capable amateur."

Within a week a dozen children were down with diphtheria and three adults. Two hastily-appointed village nurses were being overworked, and the National School had closed its doors. This meant dozens of youngsters at home all day long and exposed to contagion in ill-ventilated, stuffy cottages. Each morning, Sir Giles rode down to the village upon a stout bob-tailed hog-maned cob. He would stare at his pretty, picturesque thatched pesthouses, protruding a dubious under lip. In his too prominent eyes lay that half-furtive, half-frightened expression of which mention has been made. What he really thought could only be matter for surmise; no word escaped him except a few inarticulate interjections. However, as chairman of the Board of Guardians, he called a special meeting, and made a rambling speech, standing rigidly upright, with his left hand tucked into his waistcoat; a pose adopted in the portrait presented to him by grateful Foresters upon his resignation of the Ys Hounds. When he finished no one was much the wiser, but the board understood vaguely that the issue lay in the hands of providence, and that they, accordingly were relieved of further responsibility. Tisdale heard of this from Joy, next day.

"Damn them," he said with a singular intemperance. "Damn them!"

He quite forgot that he was addressing the niece of the chairman.

"Thank you," said Joy demurely.

"You say they have done—nothing?"

"An intercessory prayer will be offered up on Sunday."

"Good Lord deliver us!"

Joy looked at him; then she said quietly: "I am quite sure that He won't. We must deliver ourselves."

"Yes, yes, and a temporary hospital is the first thing. The board could have ordered that."

"Who pays?"

"It comes out of the rates, of course."

"I see," said Joy, frowning. "Sir Giles paid most of the rates."

"We must find some sort of a place," said Tisdale.

"Sarah Owbridge has a large cottage." Then, suddenly speaking with an impulse which she did not have time to analyze, she added: "I wish you would talk things over with Mr. Reginald Charters. He knows all about cholera and yellow fever."

"Does he? What is he doing here?"

"He is a licensee, and he lodges with Sarah."

Tisdale's upper lip curled. He liked a day's shooting as well as any man, but undivided energies given to sport in any form provoked his contempt. He had no wish or intention of talking to Charters; but he thought he could deal with Sarah Owbridge, at whose door his motor presently stopped. Just outside the porch a tall man with a closely clipped, pointed beard was taking game from another man, whom Tisdale recognized as Tom Henbest.

"You're Dr. Tisdale?"

"Mr. Tisdale. Am I speaking to Mr. Charters?"

"Yes. Are things mending?"

"Things are worse," growled Tisdale. The sight of Hugo, cool, strong, capable, exasperated him. The fellow had been shooting all day. Some feeling escaped when he added, looking at the game: "You seem to have rather a good bag."

"May I offer you a couple of snipe?"

"No, thanks. If you would send them up to the Rectory——"

"Certainly, with your compliments. I don't know Mr. Vennable."

"But you know his daughter?"

"I have met her—twice," said Hugo tranquilly. "Have you called to see Mrs. Owbridge or me?"

Tisdale opened his eyes. Did this licensee read thoughts? Had he divined that he, Tisdale, had suddenly changed his mind, and meant to take a stranger in his confidence.

"I want to see you and Mrs. Owbridge," he said, after a moment's hesitation.

Hugo led the way into the sitting-room, which looked particularly warm and cosy. Mrs. Owbridge appeared with tea things.

Tisdale refused a chair, declared that he never touched tea, and began to state his errand with very unprofessional bluntness.

"We must have a hospital," he said. Then he looked hard into Sarah Owbridge's small gray eyes, which twinkled dully. "Would you let us have this house, Mrs. Owbridge?"

"I have a lodger, sir," she added shrewdly, "and a very good one."

Poetry and Otherwise.

BREATH OF THE WORLD. By Starr Hoyt Nichols. G. P. Putnam Sons, New York. (Price, $1.25.)

EACH IN HIS OWN TONGUE, and Other Poems. By William Herbert Carruth. G. P. Putnam Sons, New York. (Price, $1.25.)

William Archer divided poets into two classes:

Class I. The poets who write before they think.

Class II. The poets who think before they write.

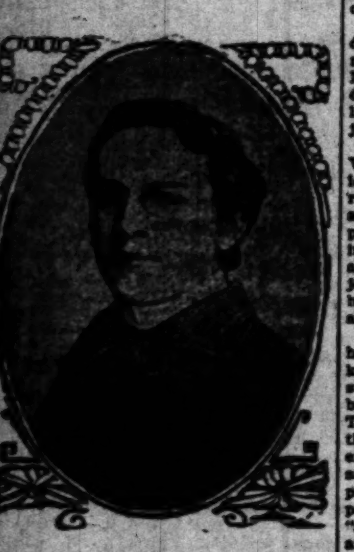
Some cynic, no doubt, will observe pessimistically that only the first class exists, because if they stopped to think they wouldn't write poetry. But there are many poets today who think first, and clearly, and then write, much to our profit. Here is a partial list, selected at random: William Stanley Braithwaite, John G. Neihardt, Ludwig Lewisohn, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Bliss Carman (sometimes: being poet-laureate, he must let others think for him—just as Tennyson's genius ran aground on the sandbar of popular sentiment,) and George Cabot Lodge (when he forgets his collar-and-cuff culture.)

The second class is very popular with magazine editors, Richard G. Badger, and published by the author, Clinton Scollard, Madison Cawein and R. W. Gilder are the president, vice-president and secretary of this branch, and their poetry is mostly like the following, with a few variations:

O joy! a rose
All a-doze
In a garden close!
Ah me,
I can see
A bumblebee.
O glee!

(ad. lib. on any object in nature, flowers, bugs, birds, shrubs, weeds, trees, pebbles, etc.)

Now, Mr. Carruth and Mr. Nichols belongs to Class I. These gentlemen undoubtedly thought before they wrote. Mr. Nichols has even formulated a philosophy and proceeded to build up his house of rhyme on a definite basis. He apparently has thought about everything that comes within the scope of human intelligence. He has thought on so many different subjects that I fail to see how he has had time to write of them. We have a segregated index, covering thirteen pages, which embodies everything in the material sensations and the cosmic consciousness. Under the caption, "The Republic," the poet sonnetizes on all phases of our democracy from elections to the pension list; he has written a sonnet version of the works of Darwin, Huxley and Spencer; he discusses, through the sonnet, the modern crafts, from the mariner's compass to electricity; he devotes a sonnet each to all the craftsmen; through seventeen sonnets he elucidates on property, warning us against the unscrupulous real estate agent, etc.; the sports, from bicycle riding to football, are set forth in sonnet form; virtue's vices, from economy to celibacy, and vice's virtues, from extravagency to divorces, are recounted a la sonnet; the divagations of philosophical research from woodcraft to metaphysics, are here set to the sonnet; all the phases, pathological and speculative, of sleep and death are treated, sonnetly speaking; under "Schoolmen," all the worshipers from the Buddhists to the Agnostics (including Shakers and liberal Christians) get treated by the fourteen-line method; then the poet soars into the spirit world and the supernatural to the extent of twenty-seven sonnets; and love and friendship are analyzed with as many more; "Life"—is the title of a series of sonnets dealing with such themes as conversation, lawsuits and classic universities; another section is devoted to animals; another to birds; still another to flowers; the poet has his innings with nature to the extent of twenty-four sonnets; then, as if to make sure that nothing animate or inanimate will take offense at an omission, the author adds thirty-four miscellaneous poems on unclassifiable subjects.



Upton Sinclair,
author of "Good Health and How We Won It."

William Herbert Carruth has not the ambition of Mr. Nichols, and, while there is not as much thought in his work, it is far more readable. He has the true gift of lyricism and is capable of as exquisite visualizations as the following:

"A haze on the far horizon,
The infinite, tender sky,
The ripe, rich tints of the cornfield
And the wild geese sailing high."

The book is full of "pretty" things (Mr. Carruth is content to hang to the middle ground,) and I can hear a dear old lady I know reading poem after poem in "Each in His Own Tongue," and pausing after many of them to remark, "Isn't that sweet?"

Diffuse Criticisms.

SOME NEW LITERARY VALUATIONS. By William Cleaver Wilkinson. Funk & Wagnalls Company, New York. ($1.30.)

Prof. Wilkinson's new literary valuations are, in short, as follows:

William Dean Howells as a man of letters was clever, "extraordinarily clever," and this cleverness did not prevent his being great. Nevertheless, both intellectually and morally, he seemed constituted to be a greater writer than he was, but he was handicapped by his cleverness.

Matthew Arnold, as a critic and as a poet, has been greatly over-rated; this influence is far greater than it ought to be, and, furthermore, it is not a good influence, either as to style or to critical analysis.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, author of "In the Valley of the Shadows."

Tennyson, despite the fact that, as a poetic artist, he had his faults, on the whole, was "the greatest artist in lyric verse that, thus far, has ever appeared in the world."

Edmund Clarence Stedman is given, it seems to me, much unwarranted space. The result of forty-seven finely printed pages closes thus: "Edmund Clarence Stedman, the gentle, the generous, the beloved, succeded, against great obstacles, in writing himself enduringly into the history of nineteenth-century American literature. Besides this, and, perhaps, not less than this, he bequeathed to that history a gracious personal tradition of value not easy to overestimate."

Examining the work of John Morley as a critic of Voltaire and Diderot, Prof. Wilkinson finds Morley an involuntary noble example of the "Inseparable and irresistable mischievous moral tendency" of atheistic views. He does not endeavor to confute Mr. Morley as to either Voltaire or Diderot, but, from the evidence in Mr. Morley's own work, he finds him untrustworthy as a critic of these two great atheists.

In an estimate of Tolstoi, the author declares him to be one of the greatest minds ever encountered in literature. Nevertheless, he adds that this great devotee of "sandals and simplicity" lacked final soundness and justness of judgment.

Of course we cannot accept Prof. Wilkinson unreservedly in these opinions, but his conclusions are not the result of rash thinking or superficial analyses. The scholarly research, the persistent critical coldness of his testing and weighing, could provoke only admiration. That he "knows his subject" and that he has endeavored to be fair to the point of self-abnegation are apparent on every page.

The excellence of the book is marred, however, by the fact that Prof. Wilkinson talks too much. He is constantly afraid of offending some one by his differences or by his phrases. The book abounds in such depressing things as "if you will forgive me the expression," "may I be permitted to say," "if I may be allowed the rather proletarian phrase," etc. Here is a passage on page 293: John Morley was "an influential man of letters, and—an atheist, I was about to say, but anti-atheist let me say, rather, to avoid a natural effect of opprobrium in a word, an effect by no means desired or intended. Mr. Morley's character as atheist—if I may now use the more familiar term purged of opprobrious effect—Mr. Morley's character as atheist is inextricably blended with his character as man of letters." It is tiresome, uphill work to get anywhere, as you can see, and his style reminds me of that childhood pole problem about climbing up three feet and falling back two.

Interesting Complications.

THE DELAFIELD AFFAIR. By Florence Finch Kelly. A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago. (Price, $1.50.)

When I finished reading "The Delafield Affair" I felt as though I had been the victim of a practical joke—not the kind that makes one angry, but the kind in which the jokee takes also much delight. In fact, more such jokes would help much to counterbalance the mass of white-cotton-night-cap fiction which emanates from along the northern Atlantic Coast. The book is not funny, and I would not imply so, but its ingenuity of climax is of so startling a character that one feels oneself the victim of some huge, intricate and delightful practical joke.

New Mexico is the stamping ground of the numerous and intricately-related characters. The hero has all the mental perspicuity of Nicholas Carter, the sang-froid of Jesse James, the daring of Jack Sheppard, and the get-away powers of Houdini. He has been dipped into a protective river, and not even his heel went unsubmerged. When he deliberately stands and lets an expert knife-thrower, who has been hired to kill him, hurl the steel blade at him, merely leaning quickly to one side to let the knife whizz by where his throat had been, one's hair really bristles. This is not all. Mrs. Kelly makes Curtis Conrad go through many hair-breadth escapes, and so really remarkable are they and so well does she extricate him that, mingled with one's gasping, there is a sense of keen admiration.

The story, a most complicated affair and involving the most delicate handling and a hand on a hundred and one strings, is most admirably treated. I would say it is too well worked out. One pauses, distracted from the story, to admire the skill of execution and the complete mastery of situations. Delafield has ruined Conrad's parents financially, from which blow both died. Conrad determines to find and kill Delafield. This revenge becomes the one great passion of his life; it is interfibred with his very being, and when the reader learns that Delafield is Conrad's best friend (though the latter does not know it) and that Conrad is in love with Delafield's daughter, the situation becomes tense. The skill used in handling the characters so that the people round, but not Conrad, know the truth, gives proof of Mrs. Kelly's narrative ability. It is worked out very much on the order of Cooper: when a climax is about at hand, new developments are introduced which tangle the tale up further and send it off in a new direction, more intricate than ever.

No one will find the book dull. It is full of the outdoors, of the plains, of lariats, pistols and fistic encounters, or horses and rough talk, of blackmailing, and death, and—lest one be disappointed—love.

Unconvincing Dietetics.

GOOD HEALTH AND HOW WE WON IT. By Upton Sinclair and Michael Williams. Frederick A. Stokes, Publisher, New York. (Price, $1.20.)

Dear Anderson.—I see by the book you sent me that Sinclair has foresworn muck-raking and has devoted his time to telling about how he got his health back. I should think Sinclair would have had need of some recuperating systems after having written "The Jungle," "The Metropolis" and "The Moneychangers," shouldn't you? I nearly lost my health just reading them.

But let us see, Andy.

Michael Williams is Mr. Sinclair's collaborator, this gentleman formerly having tried the abbreviated menus herein prescribed, without serious injury. These gastronomic simpletons both, I think, are a trifle dilletante in the complexities of the simple life, for, apparently, they will eat and recommend anything that is difficult to masticate and tastes like sawdust. Don't you think so? I could find no proof of the efficacy of the foods. Could you? Now, any one who can eat zweibach and grapenuts exclusively and survive—nay, more, grow healthy on them—has not proved that these foods are agents for vigor; all one has proved is that the consumer had a pretty good peritoneal coating and unlimited gastronomic endurance. Lobscouse and lollypop would probably have had the same effect, and certainly would have given the experimenters pleasanter sensations of taste than the dried strands of triscuit. If by accident I should shoot a neighbor, Andy, and he should survive and prosper, physically, I certainly would not expect any one to believe, as a corrolary, that buckshot and gunpowder had any therapeutic efficacy. Rather, I should say my neighbor grew strong despite the bullets; rather, I should say Sinclair and Williams grew healthy despite the appalling and awesome foods they ate. Also, I am inclined to think that a good natural, carniverous bill of fare would have done even more for them than their semi-digested pabulum.

It sort of seems like as if Sinclair could have made a clearer case of it by putting in half the time in Bermuda eating rationally and the other half eating fanatically, and tabulating the results. However, do you know, I was thinking we really ought not to find any fault with this book, because, after Upton's trilogy of sociological philippics, there hangs about this new work a peace passing words.

Anyhow, thanks for the book.

Yours,
WRIGHT.

A Romance of Tennessee.

It is always interesting when a man, publicly known and as near to us as is Mr. Woolwine, lapses into a line of work totally different from that which he has been wont to follow, and, when it was found that Mr. Woolwine had written a love-idyll, the people of this city waited with eagerness for his story. The author has not disappointed us in "The Valley of the Shadows," which is an entertaining book, though unduly brief.

He has constructed his book on two very interesting subjects—feud and love. The love theme runs throughout as an undercurrent of motivation, and the feud furnishes the action. The mountains of Tennessee are the setting, and the descriptions of the valley and ranges indicate that the author feels very keenly the beauty of the country he describes.

Bettie Taylor and Nath Gentry love each other, but a feud of long standing exists between the families. The fathers of each of the lovers kill each other, but in a terrific fight in the snow between Nath and Andy, Bettie's brother, Nath, having gotten his antagonist at his mercy, spares his life. The lovers in the end are united, and the climax, while fraught with much pathos, has a certain amount of simple beauty.

The book is written with considerable charm and tenderness, and the elemental natures of the simple people are brought out clearly and with skill.

Corroding Gossip.

THE WORLD AND HIS WIFE. By Charles Frederick Nirdlinger. Mitchell Kennerly, New York.

Over fifty years ago a Spaniard, José Echegaray, wrote a drama called "El Gran Galeoto," and from this drama Mr. Nirdlinger adapted his play, "The World and His Wife." It is in many places a strong work, despite the occasional cant, and Ernesto's eloquent tirade at the close makes a climax concentrated and powerful. The theme is the insidious and penetrating power of gossip, and the conception is natural and good, but the motivation, which is objective throughout, lacks frequently in subtlety.

Moving in the diplomatic circles of Madrid are Don Julian and Donna Teodora, husband and wife, and Ernesto, a young poet, who has a great affection for Donna Teodora. Gossip begins its work, and Julian loses an appointment as Ambassador to the United States. Ernesto decides to go from Madrid, but on the eve of his departure he has an altercation in the Alcazar Café, resulting from insults about his relations with Donna Teodora. A duel is to be fought, but Julian, hearing of it, declares that it is rightfully his duel, that with him lies the vindication of Teodora's honor. As a result of the duel he dies. Teodora approaches her husband's death room, but Severo, the chief motivator and gossiper, tells her she has no more right in the house and bids her go. As she hesitates he approaches her as if to force her out, and Ernesto steps between them "in a quivering frenzy of wrath."

Ernesto: If you dare! If you dare so much as touch this woman! Since death itself cannot shame you—nor stop you. You've had your way—your dull, stupid, cruel, pitiless way. In your ignorance, your folly, your vileness, you dared dishonor Julian's wife. You shall not dishonor mine. . . .

Severo (turning triumphantly to Mercedes: You hear—"mine!" No more need of lies now.

Ernesto: Yes, because now, now, for the first, it is the truth! And, wonder of it all, your lies have made it the truth. . . . Come! Now you are mine. Mine! mine! mine! . . . Never until this moment was there thought of love between us. This woman's soul was pure as the sunbeams—my heart as clear as the skies. Teodora loved none but Julian. I was his loyal friend, ready to serve him to the death. . . . When the life warmth fled from the body of the slain Julian it kindled in our hearts the flames of the accursed passion. Go! Cry it from the windows and the housetops to all your neighbors—you and your kind. . . . And when they ask you who has wrought this—this marvel and infamy—you may answer them, 'You have done it—and I, and that man there, and that one and that one—all of us, everywhere. We mixed the subtle poison and scattered it to the winds so that these two might breathe it in—to stifle conscience and stain the soul.' Yes, the triumph is yours—and you've done your hellish work well. Come, Teodora; they have given you to me, my sacred love, my eternal life. Henceforth you will rest in my arms, that strain to clasp you. They willed it so. They willed it so—and may all righteous heaven judge between them and us.

(Curtain.)

WHAT THE PUBLISHERS HAVE IN STORE FOR US.

In April, Little, Brown & Co. will bring out Mr. Rowland Thomas's first book of fiction, under the title, "The Little Gods; a Masque of the Far East." Mr. Thomas is a well-known magazine writer, who came under widespread notice when his story "Fagan" won the famous Collier prize of $5000. "Fagan" forms the initial chapter of "The Little Gods," which is a transcript of various phases of life in the Philippines. Mr. Thomas has a personal acquaintance with the islands, and writes with a sure knowledge and a skilled style. The book is one of the leaders on Little, Brown & Co.'s list for the year.

Warner's "American Charities" is reported by its publishers, Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., to be in press for a new printing. This work, first published ten years ago, has had a remarkable sale for a work on economics. Recently a new revised edition was issued, which was exhausted within a few weeks after publication.

For early spring publication the Putnams promise the "Memoirs of Baron de Frenilly," a book which seems likely to be of uncommon historical interest. The Baron was born in the reign of Louis XV and died in that of Charles X. He was old enough to remember the last days of the ancien régime, and as a young man he witnessed the Revolution, and was made a peer of France at the Restoration. He lived, therefore, through the most dramatic period of modern French history, and mixed freely in the brilliant society of his time. He was a shrewd, accomplished, cultivated man, and fortunately he put down on paper his impressions of events. The book, which is to be published shortly, contains an introduction by M. Arthur Chuquet, Membre de l'Institut.

In April the Macmillan Company will publish a new novel by Frank Danby. The appearance of another story by the author of "The Heart of a Child" and "Pigs in Clover" will be eagerly welcomed by the army of readers won by the previous books.

Justus Miles Forman has recently been engaged on the manuscript of a new novel. Mr. Forman has been hard at literary work in New York during the present season and has written some short stories, several of which have appeared or will shortly appear in Harper's Magazine. At the winter's end, probably this month, he will follow his rule of quitting New York every half-year for the other side of the water, and will sail, with no fixed itinerary for his travels, first to Italy.

Moffat, Yard & Co. announce the near publication of "The Emmanuel Movement," the new book by Elwood Worcester, D.D., Ph.D., and Samuel McComb, D.D., two of the editors of "Religion and Medicine." This is a volume of the utmost importance, in one sense a report of the progress and accomplishment of the great medical and religious movement which it describes.

It is not usual that a publisher finds it necessary, in this day of short-lived books, to reprint within a month three titles which are more than twenty years old. This, we are told, has been the experience of The Baker & Taylor Company, who have just reprinted editions of "The Salt Box House," by Jane de Forest Sheldon, "A Natural Method of Physical Training," by Edwin Checkley, and "The Regicides," by F. H. Cogswell. These books were popular two decades ago, and are still in demand.

Messrs. Henry Holt & Co. will follow Sternberg's "Life of a Fossil Hunter," which they are just issuing in the American Nature Series, with another volume in that series—the long-announced fish stories by Charles F. Holder, author of "The Log of a Sea Angler," and David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University and author of "A Guide to the Study of Fishes." The authors' reputation should disarm the incredulity that is often expressed regarding fish stories. They give their book the rather amusing title: "Fish Stories: Alleged and Experienced, With a Little History, Natural and Unnatural." Besides accounts of some of the authors' most interesting actual fish experiences, the volume contains some they heard of when the East wind blew, or the chairs on the club porch were in a snug circle. Humor seems to be among the qualities that the latest two issues in this series have in common.

The New York State Library at Albany is printing a special limited edition of Jennette Lee's "Uncle William," in embossed points, for the use of libraries having departments for the blind.

Word comes from Paris that Mrs. Elinor Macartney Lane is completing a new novel in that city, the first that she has written since "Nancy Stair."

Among historical works, the following have just been prepared in new editions by the Messrs. Harper & Brothers: Benson J. Lossing's "Pictorial Field Book of the War of 1812;" Richard Hildreth's "The History of the United States, From the Settlement of the Country to the End of the Sixteenth Congress," and "The German Struggle for Liberty," by Poultney Bigelow.

Madame Novikoff's Reminiscences, edited by W. T. Stead, are now in press for early publication under the Putnam imprint. These reminiscences will be one of the most interesting books of the spring. The two volumes will contain hundreds of letters from Gladstone, Froude, Kinglake, Freeman, and other notables. Madame Novikoff was a charming woman, cultured, intellectually acute, with rare social gifts, a generous nature, and a finished diplomat, who, without official standing in London, was enabled to do her country yeoman's service at many critical moments. Her attractions of person and manner drew many distinguished men about her, and, though herself above reproach, lighted fierce fires of jealousy in the bosoms of many a daughter of Brittania.

SOME BRIEF WORDS ABOUT NEW BOOKS.

BUT STILL A MAN. By Margaret L. Knapp. Little, Brown & Co. (Price, $1.50.)

Pope's line, "A minister but still a man," furnishes the title for this story of a young man's first parish in a country village and his defeats and victories there.

THE CLIMBER. By E. F. Benson. Doubleday, Page & Co. (Price, $1.40 net.)

Lucia Grimson, the "climber," gains her goal at the expense of all that is best and truest in life, and pays the penalty.

SHELBURNE ESSAYS: Sixth Series. By Paul Elmer More. G. P. Putnam's Sons. (Price, $1.25 net.)

Some essay titles: The First Philosophy of India; Saint Augustine; Sir Thomas Browne; Socrates; The Apology, Plato.

THE APPRENTICESHIP OF WASHINGTON, and Other Sketches of Significant Personages. By George Hodges, D.D., D.C.L. Moffat, Yard & Co. (Price, $1.25 net.)

Besides the title essay, there are accounts of the hanging of Mary Dyer, the education of John Howard, the adventures of Miles Standish, and the forefathers of Jamestown.

CONTEMPORARY FRANCE. By Gabriel Hanotaux; translated by John Charles Tarver. Vol. IV, completing the work; 1877—December 31, 1900. G. P. Putnam's Sons. ($3.75 net.)

Contains, like other volumes of this important work, new documents and new explanations of diplomatic problems. It is indeed a record of the inner diplomacy of Europe during the past thirty years.

LOADED DICE. By Ellery H. Clark. Bobbs-Merrill Company. (Price, $1.50.)

A tale of mystery and strange adventure against heavy odds.

BY THE SHORES OF ARCADY. By Isabel Graham Eaton. Outing Publishing Company. (Price, $1.25.)

Love, art and the joy of living outdoors among real people, are the chief interests of this little idyl.

LETTERS OF A JAPANESE SCHOOLBOY. By Wallace Irwin. Doubleday, Page & Co. (Price, $1.50.)

These funny epistles have been delighting the readers of Collier's Weekly for the past year or more.

ARAMINTA. By J. C. Smith. Moffat, Yard & Co. (Price, $1.50.)

Araminta is the second daughter of the "Rev." Aloysius Perry, and "in his humble opinion the most attractive of those with which it has pleased Providence to endow him." Because her dog is fat and her companion tiresome, the old Countess of Crewkerne adopts Araminta, who knows how to use an opportunity.

GARDENS PAST AND PRESENT. By K. L. Davidson. Charles Scribner Sons. (Price, $1.50 net.)

In three parts, the first tracing the evolution of gardens in England, the second discussing a dozen different phases of modern gardening, the third suggesting garden opportunities for the four seasons.

THE WORKS OF THEODORE PARKER. Centenary Edition. New volumes: The Transient and Permanent in Christianity; Sermons of Religion; Historic Americans. American Unitarian Association. (Per volume, $1 net.)

Three volumes of the new library edition of Parker's sermons and essays, to be complete in fifteen volumes, of which six are now ready.

GREECE: A Handbook for Travelers. By Karl Baedeker. Fourth revised edition; with maps and plans. Charles Scribner's Sons. (Price, $2.40 net.)

The 1909 edition of Baedeker's guide to Greece, a country much visited at present by tourists.

THE MAN-EATERS OF TSAVO. By Col. J. H. Patterson. The Macmillan Company. (Price, $1.75 net.)

Cheaper reprint of a book published a year ago. It is a stirring tale of real adventure with man-eating lions in East Africa.

THE PILGRIMS' MARCH. By H. H. Bashford. Henry Holt & Co. (Price, $1.50.)

The hero is a likable youth with artistic tendencies and a gay-hearted, natural way of living, in contrast with the self-conscious Puritanism of some of the other characters.

THE GORGEOUS BORGIA. By Justin Huntley McCarthy. Harper & Bros. (Price, $1.50.)

A new historical novel by the author of "If I Were King," the hero being the terror and tyrant of fifteenth-century Rome.

THE BRIDGE BUILDERS. By Anna Chapin Ray. Little, Brown & Co. (Price, $1.50.)

Conservative English Quebec furnishes a striking background for Jessica West, the new-rich child of an Arizona mining camp. The fall of the Quebec bridge has a place in the story.

A Disagreeable Phrase.

Of all methods of making another person angry and disagreeable the worst is to tell him that he will "have to" do something. How often do we hear "You will have to go to the other window," "You will have to go into the other car," "You will have to wait an hour," "You will have to write the general passenger agent or superintendent," and the like. Primarily we are all free agents and don't "have to" do a darned thing. We may find it expedient or necessary to a certain end, but we don't even "have to" eat if we don't want to.

How easy to put the direction in another manner, such as "The other window, please," or "Will you kindly take the car ahead," or "The rules require;" a short, very short explanation of why a certain thing is necessary will always work wonders in avoiding trouble.—[The Railroad Employé.

Many of the most beautiful birds are caught and skinned alive, because there is a popular belief among the hunters that death dims the bright beauty of the plumage.

Our beautiful sea gulls, the bay scavengers, useful as well as beautiful, are going fast, because of the great demand for their wings and breasts. Added to this, their eggs are being consumed daily in restaurants, and soon our shores will lose half their beauty, because fashion's demand has decreed the gull must die.

The latest statistics estimate that 200,000,000 birds are killed every year for millinery purposes alone. One London dealer admitted, long before fashion was so pitiless as now, that he sold 2,000,000 small birds every year. In one year the same number were killed in Venezuela alone. In the short period of four months, 70,000 birds were supplied to New York dealers from one village. A New York taxidermist makes up 200 skins daily. In Florida during the winter of 1891, one party killed 130,000 birds. All over the world the most beautiful birds are almost extinct, several species are entirely gone. But a few of the snowy heron are left in Florida. The beautiful Paradise bird is almost extinct. John Burroughs says that the blue bird has almost vanished from New York.

One pair of blue birds have been known to raise twelve birds in one season, making three nests. Before the year 1598, the Malay traders called the Paradise birds, "God's birds," because of their wonderful plumage. Helen Keller, the wonderful blind girl, passing her sensitive hand over one of these birds in a museum, said: "It is a cloud of glory." The distant islands of the Malayan archipelago, in the South Pacific Ocean, is the home of these radiant birds. All the early specimens were footless, and it was discovered that the natives cut off the feet of all the young birds and buried them as a propitiation to the gods.

The nightingale is an English bird, and sings its best at midnight. Its song is so sweet, sad and plaintive that people thought that it leaned its breast against a thorn and tuned its melody from anguish. Its music is so beautiful that many stay awake to hear it, and a poet wondered what music must be provided for the angels in heaven, when such music was given to men on earth.

"Birds make the choir of the heavens and should be protected," says Cardinal Gibbons.

As long ago as before 1888, a writer in "science" shows that, on the most moderate calculations, 5,000,000 song birds are annually required to fill the demand for the ornamentation of the hats of American women. Oh! women of America, our loved land of the brave and the free, it is not the murderous man or boy, but it is you—gentle woman, tender mother of a free-born race—who, with eyes that see not, ears willfully not hearing, is creeping through the wondering trees, creeping toward the unconscious messenger of God, that incarnation of joy, that living, thrilling, happy life, full of the very ecstasy of being, and, in a moment, robbing him of that life, and the world of the good he is doing, in his way, in God's way. If it be true that even a sparrow may not fall to the ground without the knowledge of its Creator, think, smiling, happy, loving women of our land, think of the procession of slaughtered innocents of the air that have passed in review before the eyes of God—that your bonnets might be adorned.

Truly, the world's ideals of true womanhood are in imminent peril.

John Ruskin says that women can move the world to good deeds; that if they so decide, there will never be another war. Is it not worth much that such a man should hold so high an ideal? Let us learn to "love the wood rose, and leave it on its stalk." Let us influence the children to look at the eggs and leave them in the nest. To influence the children—how much that means—the future citizens of this nation that shall be great and mighty, a leader among the nations of the earth, if the children are influenced for good and not evil. Let us practice, and teach the children, Ruskin's rule: "I will not hurt or kill any living creature needlessly, nor destroy any beautiful thing, but will strive to save and comfort all gentle life and guard and protect all natural beauty on earth."

"Back East"—"Out West."

(A nonsense rhyme written by bits while lunching and talking, when connected or deep thought was impossible.)

Back East it snows
In March, and blows,
And nips one's nose
When out one goes;
And one is froze
From ears to toes
In flannel clothes
And three-ply hose.

Joy's quick pulse slows—
At best life's prose.
The coal bill grows,
The rent one owes,
No rest one knows;
Woes pile on woes
Till folks suppose
E'en mankind foes.

How can one care
Or bear—
Or dare!—
To live back there?

March-time bestows
"Out West" the rose.
The sun bright glows,
And warm beams throws
On maid who rows
Or walks with beaus
Or happy sews
On furbelows.

The idlers doze
Where brooklet flows;
The tourist tows
In pomelos;
Ah! sweet's repose
When day doth close!
Wisdom he shows
The West who chose.

Is is no jest—
Far best,
By test,
The sunny West.

A Splendid Suggestion.

Mrs. A. J. M. of Riverside county, is anxious for a "Robin" letter from the Would-Be Authors. She writes as follows:

"I have not had a word to say for so long I imagine I am forgotten. I am a member of the Chapter of Would-Be Authors. I have been looking for that little Robin, but he did not call on me. I have never had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the Each and All Girls, as I live sixty miles from Los Angeles, away out in a cañon, a beautiful place but so lonely. I have the country postoffice, so see everybody that there is to see. Some of the nicest people in the world are found out in this little obscure place; city people who have tired of the rush of the city and have moved out of it; and country people who are so good and kind that you do not care whether they ever saw a street car or not.

I have lived in several large cities of the East and also in Los Angeles, and my heart has always gone out to the girl who has to work there, day after day, and if given a summer vacation she cannot always afford to accept it. I have found this class of women wherever I have been, and have always prayed to be able to do something for them, but alas, that time has never come. However, right now, right here at this place, there is a glorious opportunity for us as a club to do something. Now listen, this was expected to be a city once upon a time. Some people put up a large building here, about twenty rooms, fitted it up as a small hotel. It was piped with water, everything fixed nice, but it did not pay. The windmill blew down, and left the fine well of water to be pumped by hand; plastering fell off in some places, and a few window panes are broken. But the great big rooms with their high ceilings are there yet. It is a delightfully cool place in summer. Near the mountains and the Santa Ana River, both are charming. Now could we not get some help to make this a shop girls' retreat? The building belongs to a dear old gentleman who, I am sure would let it on such terms that it would mean very little. I live within the shadow of it, and how happy I would be to have the dear girls there; then our walking girls could come out some time and what tramps we could have. Think it over, summer will soon be here."

EACH AND ALL MOTTO.

Golden thoughts, golden deeds,
Rid life's garden of its weeds.

OUR PLEDGE:

"To make one another happy, to lighten one another's burdens, to share one another's cares, to be lifters, not leaners, to make the world a little sweeter place to live in, to be mutual encouragers, never discouragers of any one, to start songs, not complainings, and to do every day something beautiful, some kindness which will cheer and strengthen another."

The acceptance of this pledge and sending of name and address to the Each and All department of The Times entitles any girl to the privileges of this society. There are no dues of any kind whatsoever. The official pin of The Times Each and All Society, represents the California poppy. Any chapter may be joined by sending stamped envelope with letter in order to put the applicant in communication with the chairman of the chapter.

It would be splendid if this place you speak of could be secured for the city workers to get a rest from the noise and grime for a while. We should stimulate interest in our girls to work this idea into shape for it is a splendid suggestion.

An Appreciative Letter.

Mrs. Sara Haggard Payne sends this letter of appreciation to the Each and All girls:

"Please let me come in just a moment and sit by your fireside and chat a while. I want to tell you how surprised and delighted I am to receive such kindly notice in many ways since I wrote my tearful little poem "A Barren Field." I have received letters, 'phones, cards and words in the Each and All columns that filled my heart with hope and my eyes with tears of joy. We are society cousins: E. and A., A. A. Chapter, W. B. A. Chapter, "Sunshine Club," and now my new babies, "The Sunbeam Brigade" and "The Gleaners" may I bring up in the ranks my rescue band and brigade to help fight Satan and win victories for King Jesus? My Gleaners will work in the field raising the fallen and cheering the faint, and the Sunbeams will scatter sunshine to cheer the poor, tired Gleaners. Please pray for these two newly-launched societies, for we feel a little shaky, like the poor ignorant country girl who visits the city for the first time, just a little lonesome and bewildered.

"I want to thank you, each and all, for your kindly interest, especially 'Smiles,' who spoke of the songs and the symphony concert. After all, God was good. He gave me brain children, sweet songs, heart stories and thought pictures to help me lift humanity up to Him. My lifelong friends were very much grieved over my sorrowful verses, never dreaming of such a heart condition, but I, like the mother of Christ, kept these things hidden in my heart. Of course, I enjoyed all my friends, but I was always missing the sweet prattle of the little ones. I have many lullabies I love to sing to my dream babies, but I love best to sing to the old, the poor, the heart-broken.

"Good-by and God bless you,
Dear Each and All;
May bright angels guard you,
Aye, great or small.
Some day I will meet you,
If you will try
To live to reach heaven in the Sweet by and by.
"RUTH, the Gleaner."

"Persistent Peggy."

Here is a letter from some one in El Cajon, San Diego county, who signs herself "Persistent Peggy," and who is very anxious to keep in touch with the Each and All girls:

"There used to be an old saying I often heard quoted, 'Three times is a charm,' and it was firmly believed in, in my superstitious childhood, but truly I have lost my faith in it. Why? Because thrice, nay, four times have I (within the last six months,) knocked at the door of your club for admittance to the Mothers Chapter, but where, oh, where, is the Round Robin Letter I have been expecting so long? Has this chapter or the letter part of it been abandoned? I faithfully inclosed stamped envelopes for reply, but——

"I don't believe you folks up there really like this 'neck of the woods,' very well; would it make any difference if I should move to Los Angeles?

"I'd like to join the Invalid Cheer department, also, if I may. And please may I have the address of the Union City invalid, who counts the flowers in the wall paper, poor soul? I do hope the paper has a pretty pattern.

"I keep thinking about the pathetic little verses of Mrs. Payne. Motherhood is the most wonderful thing in all the world, and my little folks are more precious to me than anything in this world could ever be. But Mrs. Payne is a true 'Heart Mother' and sometimes—no, often—the heart mothers are wiser, more capable and with a deeper sympathetic understanding of the child heart than their own mothers seem to have. Some way, I think of Mrs. Payne and the little cripple in Francis H. Burnett's exquisite story, 'The Land of the Blue Flower,' at the same time. The poor lad, who wept because his garden was flowerless, yet in the end became 'the King's chief gardener.'

"I would like to write to the paralyzed girl too, should I get her address.

"If I don't hear from this letter, I don't believe even then I will give up, but will write again and again as becomes a
"PERSISTENT PEGGY."

Dear "Persistent Peggy:" Your letter should be an incentive to our chairman of Mothers' Chapter to again take up the work of this chapter, and I am sure it will.

The addresses wanted will be forwarded.

A Linen Shower.

T.S.S. wishes to interest the girls in a "linen shower" for our shut-in of Union City, Mich.

"I have a letter from the brave sufferer in Union City, Mich. From it I learn that she is without attention after her husband leaves in the morning until he returns at night. She has not asked for any help, but as her bed linen is giving out and needs frequent changing, I have taken the liberty of starting a linen shower for her.

"I have sent a new sheet weighing two pounds by mail for 22 cents postage. I hope to soon send a pair of slips.

"If any of the members can spare a new sheet or pair of slips, or used ones in good condition and pay postage on them, a great deal of good can be done. I hope that our Each and All linen shower may be a success and give as much pleasure as the Valentine party."

This shower should, by all means, be made a success. I think if the girls would pack up their linen and send it all in one bundle by express it would cost much less to send it.

The above writer's address will be sent to any one wishing it.

A Lonely Stranger.

"Lonely Lady" is the writer of the following letter:

"I take the pledge, for it is a noble one, and I hope to get a pin later. I have been in this beautiful city several months, but I am so lonely. I am cultured and refined, but a very great sorrow has left me, like a stranded ship—high and dry, out of the waters of happiness. I have many spare hours, and I need money; there is much I would gladly do in those spare hours to help all I can, to all I can—and also to earn a little money. I can dress dolls better than many. I can amuse children perfectly, because I love them. I can arrange entertainments, plan amusements, good reader or nurse. I will be so glad to help in any way I can, so let me come among you—and perhaps in your genial circle, cease to be as I am now—and have been—for months, a
"LONELY LADY."

There should be many calls for such services as you are able to render, and I trust here it may reach the notice of those who are in need of them.

Will Work With Authors.

G. L. asks to become a member of the Would-Be Authors Chapter of Each and All Society. Here is what she says in her letter:

"I have learned of the Each and All Society, and the Would-Be Authors Chapter, and would be pleased to become a member. I have written a little poetry and some stories heretofore, but through the suggestion of an acquaintance, who was formerly dramatic critic on one of the New York papers, have become more deeply interested in literary work, from a dramatic standpoint. The Southern California chairman of the Would-be Authors Chapter, has requested me to be director of the ten-minute study of dramatic writing, at each meeting of the chapter. For the third Friday in March, "Comedy" will be the topic for consideration. We shall take a brief glance at the rise and development of comedy, and speak of modern writers of comedy. At future meetings we will consider other dramatic lines. To all who are interested in this work a cordial welcome is extended."

You are very welcome as a member of Each and All Society. Your experience in story writing will be of much benefit to the members of your chosen chapter.

With the Would-Be Authors.

The Chapter of Would-be Authors held its regular meeting with Mrs. L. S. Mitchell, Friday, March 5. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Tracy, who then turned it over for the afternoon to the Southern California chairman, "Marguerite Winnifred." Many new lines of work were planned and much business was accomplished. Mrs. Buhlinger was requested to resign her office as secretary and treasurer in order that she might be appointed vice-chairman of the chapter, which office she now holds. Mrs. Scott was appointed to fill the office of secretary-treasurer.

Six subcommittees were formed for special lines of study with the following directors in charge: Story study, Mrs. Tracy; poetry, Mrs. Buhlinger; dramatic study, Mrs. Gertrude Allyn Long; article study, Mrs. Scott; criticism, Mrs. Mitchell.

The first and third Friday of each month was named as the regular day for meeting. In the future the work will be divided, one hour being devoted to each of the different studies, the other hour given over to general work of the chapter. Next meeting, March 19, at No. 345 Clay street, at 2 p.m.

A New Member.

"Dollie Lee" has adopted the Each and All pledge, and asks to become a member:

"I would like to join the Each and All Girls' Club and will try to live up to the pledge. I would also like the addresses of Bee and S. M. of Monrovia, and the paralytic girl of whom Mrs. Payne spoke."

We are, indeed, pleased to make room for you, Dollie, at our great "round table." The addresses you want shall be sent to you as early as possible.

Calendar.

Invalid Chapter will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 16, at No. 289 North Avenue 20.

Would-be Authors' Chapter will meet at 2 p.m. Friday, March 19, at No. 345 Clay street.

A New Member.

"Apple Blossom" likes the work of the Each and All girls. She will help and asks to be helped, too. She writes thus:

"I wish very much to join the Each and All Society. Aunt Jane sent me a kind invitation to attend the meeting of last week. I wrote Aunt Jane some time ago. I am a dressmaker, and have two children, and if I could get a little assistance I would thank the girls very much. I wish to take the pledge of the society. I wish you would thank Aunt Jane for her kindness to me."

You are admitted as a member of the Each and All Society. It is safe to say the girls of the society will be able to help you to secure sewing.

Renews Allegiance.

Mrs. Wm. C. S., again writes to the Each and All girls:

"Several months ago I wrote to this department expressing a wish to become a member, and saying that I would like to join the Would-be Authors' Chapter. I received an answer from Mary H. Lehr, saying: 'We should like very much to enroll you in our chapter,' and inclosed a printed slip which would give me some idea of the plan of work. I have just answered her letter, after waiting so long, but trouble came so thick and fast I felt I could not live up to the pledge.

"I enjoy reading the Each and All page and accept the pledge, and hope every day I may be able to live up to every sentence it contains."

Dear child, when you most needed the sympathy and cheer the Each and All girls would gladly have given you, you remained silent, so how were they to know that you needed them? We shall not permit you to be lost sight of again.

Every one, it seems, has been anxious to help with this novel idea, and so the lumber for the tables, the dishes and lovely and cheery looking big gas stove have all been gifts sent to the kitchen, and even the gas fixtures and water connection have been arranged through the efforts of untiring friends of the children, who love them and wish to help them with proper nourishment to grow up into strong and healthy girls and boys. Tickets on which will be printed "Penny Lunch" will be provided by the teachers to the scholars, and as much soup and as many rolls as can be eaten will be supplied to each child; there will be no limit as to quantity. The penny kitchen movement has been started by the women of the Civic Association, with the approval of the Board of Education, and if it proves a success, as it undoubtedly will, other penny kitchens will be established in other schools.

Mrs. N. E. Wilson is the chairman of the special committee who has charge of the opening of the kitchen next Tuesday.

Members of the Civic Association who are on the special committee are Mmes. C. Q. Stanton, C. C. Noble, Oliver C. Bryant and Chalmers Smith.

A fourteen-year-old boy of North Yakima, Wash., George Rankin by name, has just completed the construction of an automobile. The machine was built entirely by him, with the exception of the engine, which is a small second-hand gasoline affair.

In the construction of this automobile the boy has brought into use bicycle wheels, two or three pieces of gas pipe, some iron bars from an old bed, a milk can and a soap box. The machine has been tested, and works without a hitch. Young Rankin is the son of one of the leading capitalists of the valley. He has been giving his friends free rides about the town, and finds that he is the most popular boy in North Yakima. Every boy in the town is now claiming him as a personal friend.

Helene and Marjorie Nutting are two little girls of Pasadena, who love outdoor life, and whenever they get the chance they go with their parents to outdoor entertainments. Last Sunday they visited Schuetzen Park to witness the rifle match between a team of the Southern California Rifles and the Bisbee Rifle Club, and they showed much interest in the marksmen.

Capt. A. C. Freeman, one of the members of the Rifles team, is godfather to the little girls, and they think he is one of the greatest men who lives. They are very proud of the handsome captain, and his skill as a marksman and rider, and it is their especial delight to be near him and look after his guns, ammunition and equipment. They handle the heavy rifle with great care, for the captain has the sights adjusted with great precision, and they know that if they disarrange them their hero will not be able to make a good score.

The little girls are quite expert with the small .22 caliber rifle, and one of their ambitions at present is to shoot straight like their dear captain when they get old enough to handle the big guns. They watched some of the women shoot in practice, after the big match was over, and they were almost brave enough to ask leave to fire the rifles themselves, but their parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Nutting of Pasadena, advise them to let their accomplishments grow with their years, and never attempt a physical feat which their strength will not warrant.

Nine of her best little friends helped to make the third birthday anniversary of little Katharine Louise Smith a very jolly event. "Bobbie" is the pet name of this charming and lovable little girl, who is just like a California flower—a perfect specimen of sturdy and happy babyhood.

This little girl was just 3 years of last Monday, and in honor of the event, a party was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert C. Smith, at their home, No. 433 West Fifty-second street. Jolly games were played by the little folks all the afternoon, and then they were marched into the dining-room, which had been converted into a bower of beauty and fragrance. In the center of the dining table a beautiful birthday cake stood, all decorated with icing, frosting and candles, and Bobbie's name was written on it, while the three lighted candles told the little guests that "Bobbie" was just 3 years old that very day. The little hostess cut the cake herself, and served her young playmates with a generous slice, who enjoyed everything so much that they wished some one would invite them to a birthday party every day.

Helene and Marjorie Nutting, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Nutting of Pasadena, watching the rifle match at Schuetzen Park last Sunday, in company with their godfather, Capt. A. C. Freeman, member of the Southern California Rifles team.

The little folks who were at Bobbie's party were Dorothy Rowell, Frances Anton, Aileen Smith, Albert Anton, Alice Pabst, Grantland Quick, William Pabst, Wendell Smith and Frances Smith.

Fun from the Tots.

The Parson (making a call:) And are you the eldest?

Little Elsie: No, sir; there are two older than me.

The Parson: And what are their names?

Little Elsie: Papa and mamma.

Teacher: Several of your examples in arithmetic are wrong, Johnny. Why didn't you ask your father to help you?

Johnny: 'Cause I wasn't looking for trouble; that's why.

"When I grow up I'll be a man, won't I?" queried small Edgar.

"Yes, dear," replied his mother. "That is, if you are industrious at school and learn how to behave yourself."

"Why, mamma," said Edgar, "do bad and lazy little boys become women when they grow up?"

Little four-year-old Allen had been given a "Noah's ark" on his birthday. One day he put the animals all in, shut the door and sat silent for some time.

"What are you waiting for, Allen?" asked his mother.

"Waiting for it to rain," he replied.

It was the geography lesson in the infants' class, and the patient teacher was doing her best to instill into the minds of the littles ones the meaning of the word "desert."

"So, you see, children," she said, "a desert is a great place where nothing will grow. Now, Johnnie Tomkins, I don't believe you were listening."

"Yes, I was, teacher."

"And do you know what a desert is?"

"Yes, teacher—a place where nothing will grow."

"That is correct. Now, give me an instance of one of the world's deserts."

"My daddy's head, teacher!" ventured Johnnie.—[Detroit News Tribune.

During an arithmetic lesson in a Wilmington school the teacher was endeavoring to make one point clear when she said:

"Now, boys and girls, in order to add, subtract or multiply, it is necessary that the things must always be of the same denomination. For example, we couldn't take three orange from four apples, or multiply nine horses by two cows."

Whereupon Sammy Stilson evinced signs of uneasiness. "What is it, Sammy?" asked the teacher.

"Why, ma'am," asked Sammy, as he stood up, "can't you take five quarts of milk from four cows?"—[Harper's Weekly.

LONDON TREASURE HOUSES.

Mansions That Are Crowded With Works of Art and Valuable Antiques.

[Town and Country:] The men who built the great mansions of London which endure to this day prepared them for the reception year after year of the most beautiful objects, so that now hardly anything remains to add to them. There are a hundred great houses in London of which the least important could be taken to any other town and proclaimed as a wonderful museum.

Dorchester house, the present home of the American Ambassador; Bridgewater house, Chesterfield house, built by the great author of polite letter writing; Apsley house, the home of the Duke of Wellington; Devonshire house, Grosvenor house, the custodian of a vast treasure in pictures, manuscripts and sculpture; Lansdowne house, with its great gallery of busts and statues; Stafford house, whose great staircase alone is worth a king's ransom; Wimborne house—these are only a few of the number. There are many other houses of minor importance which would be starred in the first line if they were anywhere else.

There, for instance, in Arlington street, a small, narrow thoroughfare close behind the Ritz Hotel, where Wimborne house casts its great shadow, are a dozen mansions which contain treasures almost beyond belief. The Marquis of Salisbury lives there in a magnificent palace—magnificent as to interior, insignificant as to exterior.

Sir Alexander Henderson, a great railroad magnate, hides the nobility of his possessions behind a modest street frontage. At No. 17, a house built 150 years ago by Lord Carteret, and now owned by Lord Yarborough, lives H. Gordon Alfridge, late of Chicago. It is a simple-looking London residence, but the vast interior, spreading out as you progress, is a perfect storehouse of beautiful objects of antiquity.

Here are the most wonderful Van Dycks, Greuzes, Rembrandts, Reynoldses, Lelys and Gainsboroughs; gallery after gallery, room after room filled with them; books of great rarity, bindings that would make the curators of most museums giddy with delight and furniture that one only finds usually surrounded by chains to keep off the curious public; and this is only one of the dozens upon dozens of old London houses.

As a matter of fact, this does not apply to London alone. All over the country, north, east, west and south, there are strewn country houses dating back to other centuries where great treasures are stored and jealously guarded. There is no other country in the world which contains so many.

The French chateaux suffered too much during the troublesome times of the revolution. They were burned and sacked and hacked and their treasures scattered to the four winds.

Germany never had many. The Italian works of art were kept mostly in cities like Venice, Florence, Verona and Genoa and in its numerous monasteries. But in England, where the country houses have hardly been disturbed since the time of Cromwell, the work of collecting has gone on unmolested generation after generation. There are still many undiscovered finds scattered about here and there in spite of the cry that nothing more is to be purchased.

THE USEFUL CAMEL.

Still Used in Asia Minor for Transporting Articles in Competition With the Railroads.

[Consular Reports:] Throughout Asia Minor camels or dromedaries are used only as beasts of burden, while in Syria many are broken to the saddle and used as riding animals across the deserts. Upon the great caravan route between Trebisond, on the shores of the Black Sea, and Tabriz, in the heart of Persia, it is said one often meets with as many as a thousand loaded camels in a single drove.

While, as the time passes, the camel will not be able to withstand the keen competition of the new railways, which are piercing every part of Asia Minor, yet, thanks to the power of tradition overo the Turkish inhabitants of the country and their fondness for these animals, the caravan routes today are still able to hold their own side by side with the Anatolia, Cassaba, and Aidin railways. Hundreds of camels pass over the caravan bridge into the city of Smyrna every day, and in the market place in front of the mosque of Mohammed, at Constantinople, many camels may still be seen.

A camel is never relieved of its load from the beginning of the journey to its end. It eats, walks and sleeps under its burden, often for weeks at a time. The training of a camel is no easy matter, as it takes about three years to teach it to bend the knees in order to be loaded and unloaded. This animal can carry a burden of nearly 600 pounds and withstand a march of ten days without drink. Its hair is used for clothing and tents. Its milk and flesh are healthy. It exists on the most miserable food, such as grass and thistles.

Wolf for a Watchdog.

When F. W. Albian, who owns a junk yard in Armourdale, leaves his place of business to go home at night he knows that everything will be as he left it when he returns in the morning. Albian has a large timber wolf for a watchdog. The wolf will allow no one to touch a thing except its master. "Dhen I turn Jack loose in the junk yard at night I fear no intruders," Albian said. "I've had Jack ever since he was 3 weeks old. Yes, he could jump the fence, but he is perfectly tame and doesn't want to get away."—[Kansas City Star.

Animals That Eat Stones.

Sir James Ross in the course of his travels noted a curious fact with regard to the penguin, namely, the habit of swallowing stones. In one specimen he found ten pounds weight of quartz, granite and trap. Other animals, reptiles, fishes and mammals exhibit the same strange fancy. In a paper contributed to the proceedings of the Bristol Naturalists' Society W. H. Wicks, has collected a number of facts connected with such stomach stones. The fact noted by Mr. Wicks that the pebbles are usually white quartz is interesting, but does not appear to throw any light on the strange habit.—[London Globe.

Be sure you are at Brent's—712, 714, 716, 718 S. Main.

Month in and month out this great store dictates the furniture prices of Southern California. If Brent's were to go out of business, furniture prices all over the city would rise 20 per cent. This store thrives on the policy of doing an immense volume of business and making only a very small profit on each sale.

No matter how cheaply we buy goods, we give our customers the benefit of all we save. You will make a serious and grave mistake if you get sidetracked into a "fancy price" store. Brent's carries nothing but the highest grades of furniture in each line. Save money and get better quality at Brent's.
